ADVERTISEMENT.

THE Board of Publication in presenting to the Church for the first time a Presbyterian Almanac, cannot but flatter themselves that the offering will be kindly received, and that such favour will be extended to it as will encourage to future exertion. It is to be presumed that each subsequent attempt, aided by experience and the suggestions of judicious friends, will render the Presbyterian Almanac still more worthy of public acceptance; and that it will not only answer the ordinary purposes of such a manual, but be made the vehicle of valuable agricultural and ecclesiastical intelligence. As it is designed to offer the Almanac at a very low rate, it must be rapidly and widely circulated to secure the institution from loss. The astronomical calculations are, by permission, taken from the Family Christian Almanac.

BEQUESTS.

Form of a Bequest to the Board of Publication.

I give, devise, and bequeath to ALEXANDER W. MITCHELL, M. D. of the city of Philadelphia, in the state of Pennsylvania, his heirs, executors, administrators, and assigns, the sum of _____ in trust nevertheless for the Presbyterian Board of Publication, constituted by the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, at their session at Philadelphia, in the state of Pennsylvania, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and thirty-eight, to be applied by the said Board to the uses and purposes for which the said Board was so as aforesaid established.

Form of a Bequest to the Board of Education.

I give and devise to the Trustees of the Board of Education of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, the sum of _____, to be applied by said Board to the Education of pious and indigent young men for the Gospel Ministry.

Form of a Bequest to the Board of Foreign Missions.

I bequeath to my Executors the sum of _____ dollars in trust to pay over the same, in _____ after my decease, to the person who, when the same shall be payable, shall act as Treasurer of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, to be applied to the uses and purposes of said Board, and under its direction, and the receipt of the said Treasurer shall be a full and legal acquittance of my said Executors for the same.

Form of a Bequest to the Board of Missions.

To the Trustees of the Board of Missions of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, and to their successors and assigns, I give and bequeath the sum of _____ or I devise a certain messuage, and tract of land, &c. to be held by the said Trustees, and their successors for ever, to and for the uses, and under the direction of the said Board of Missions of the said General Assembly, according to the provisions of their charter.

☞ When bequests are made to the respective Boards, let the foregoing forms be carefully observed. Legacies are often lost to the cause which the testator designs to aid, by a defect in the will. When real estate or other property is to be given, let it be particularly described.

NOTES TO THE READER.

The Calendar page in this Almanac is adapted for use in every part of the United States. It is based on the fact, that, in the same Latitude, that is, on a line running due East and West, the Sun and Moon rise and set at the same moment by the clock or Almanac, not only throughout the United States, but around the world—the variations being so small as to be of no importance for ordinary purposes. Thus, if on any day the sun rises at Boston at 5 minutes past 6, it rises at 5 minutes past 6 on the same line of Latitude westward throughout the States of Massachusetts, New York, and Michigan, and so on to the Pacific Ocean.

Hence, a Calendar adapted to Boston for New England, is equally adapted, as to the rising and setting of the sun and moon, for use in Northern New York and Michigan. A Calendar for New York city is adapted for use in the States of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois. A Calendar for Philadelphia is adapted for Virginia, Kentucky, and Missouri. And a Calendar for Charleston will answer for North Carolina, Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama, and Louisiana.

Wherever, then, the reader may reside, by looking for the State at the top of the Calendar page, he will find underneath the rising and setting of the sun and moon sufficiently accurate for all practical purposes.

The changes, fulls, and quarters of the Moon, however, are governed by another principle, and are essentially the same for all places on the same Longitude, that is, on any line extending due north and south. Thus, the moon's phases for Charleston suit Pittsburgh, &c. Any phasis takes place at the same instant of absolute time; but the local time is earlier at the westward, and later at the eastward, at the rate of four minutes for each degree of Longitude; or at the rate of one minute for every 12 miles 273 rods in the latitude of Boston; 13 miles 60 rods in the latitude of New York city; 13 miles 143 rods in the latitude of Philadelphia; and 14 miles 199 rods in the latitude of Charleston.

NAMES OF THE DAYS OF THE WEEK.

The names of the various days of the week were originally taken from the planetary system of Claudius Ptolemy. Thus Saturn, Jupiter, Mars, Sol, Venus, Mercurius, Luna; but they are derived by us through the Saxon. Tun, Woden, Thor, and Friga were deities of the Pagan Saxons. Thor was their God of Thunder as well as the ancient Jupiter; and Friga was their goddess the wife of Woden. The following may be useful.

Latin.	Saxon.	English.
Dies Saturni	Saturn's day	Saturday.
Dies Solis	Sun's day	Sunday.
Dies Lunæ	Moon's day	Monday.
Dies Martis	Tun's day	Tuesday.
Dies Mercurii	Woden's day	Wednesday.
Dies Jovis	Thor's day	Thursday.
Dies Veneris	Friga's day	Friday.

ORIGIN OF THE NAMES OF THE MONTHS.

JANUARY was called Januarius by the Romans, in honour of Janus, their god of time, an idol with two faces; one old, as if wise by experience of the past, and the other young, as looking with hope to future years. The Jews called this month Shebet, signifying a "staff," or "sceptre," which was the fifth month of their civil, and the eleventh of their sacred year.

FEBRUARY was called by the Romans Februarius, from Februa, a title of Juno, the goddess of purification; from februo, to purify: as is in this month her festival was held on behalf of the deceased, when lustrations of the people were customary. It was the sixth civil and the twelfth sacred month of the Jews, and called by them Adar, signifying a "magnificent mantle;" probably from the profusion of plants and flowers which then begins to clothe the earth in warm climates.

MARCH was called Martius by the Romans, in honour of Mars, their god, of war; by the Jews it was named Abib, signifying green, from the green ears of corn about the vernal equinox. The seventh of their civil, and the first month of their sacred year, was called, after the captivity in Babylon, Nisan, signifying "flight," because in this month the Israelites were brought out of Egypt.

APRIL was called Aprilis by the Romans, from the Latin word aperio, to open, as the earth in this month opens in beauty with varied vegetation.

This was the eighth of the civil, and the second of the sacred year of the Jews, who called it Iyar, signifying "beauty," from the beautiful appearance of the trees in blossom; and also Zif, signifying "glory" or "splendour," to recall to mind the laying of the foundation of Solomon's temple at Jerusalem, which occurred in this month.

MAY was called Maius or Majus by the Romans, in honour of the Maiores, or senators, who assisted Romulus when he was elected king; though some think it was so named to honour Maia, the mother of Mercury. This was the ninth month of the civil, and third of the sacred year of the Jews, who called it Sivan, signifying a "bramble," perhaps on account of the withering heat of the weather in Palestine and Chaldea.

JUNE was called Junius by Romulus, as a compliment to the Juniores, or younger members of his infant legislature; or, as others suppose, it was so named by the Romans in honour of their goddess Juno. This was the tenth month of the civil, and fourth of the sacred year of the Jews, who called it Thammuz, signifying "concealed," as is supposed, in honour of an idol, the Phœnician Adonis, who was described as a beautiful youth, beloved by Venus, and killed by a wild boar on Mount Lebanon.

JULY was called Julius by the Romans, in honour of their first emperor, Julius Cæsar, who was born on the 12th of this month, B. C. 100. His power and splendour amongst the nations was compared to the sun, which this month shines forth in the fulness of his strength. This was the eleventh month of the civil, and the fifth month of the sacred year of the Jews, who called it Ab, signifying "father," probably to suggest the idea of pre-eminence.

AUGUST was called Augustus by the Roman senate, in honour of Octavius Cæsar, to whom, in compliment of his splendid deeds, they gave that title, when they chose him to be emperor of Rome. This was the twelfth month of the civil, and the sixth of the sacred year of the Jews, who called it Elul, signifying "mourning," probably because it was the season of preparation for the great day of atonement, or the tenth day of the seventh month.

SEPTEMBER was called thus by the Romans, as the seventh month of their calendar, from septem, seven, and imber, a shower, as this was regarded the beginning of the rainy season. This was the first month of the civil and the seventh of the sacred year of the Jews, who called it Tisri, or anciently Ethanim, signifying "harvests," 1 Kings viii. 2, as the late fruits were gathered in this month.

OCTOBER was called thus by the Romans, as the eighth month in their calendar, from octo, eight, and imber, a shower, as a part of the rainy season. This was the second month of the civil, and eighth of the sacred year of the Jews, who called it Marchesvan, but anciently Bul, signifying "decay," as seen in the falling of the leaves. 1 Kings vi. 38.

NOVEMBER was thus called by the Romans, as the ninth month in their calendar, from novem, nine, and imber a shower, it being part of the rainy season. This was the third month of the civil, and ninth of the sacred year of the Jews, who called it Chisleu, signifying "chilled," as the weather was cold, requiring a fire. Zech. vii. 1. Jer. xxxvi. 22.

DECEMBER was called thus by the Romans, as the tenth month in their calendar, from decem, ten, and imber, a shower, it being part of the wet season.

3d month.

This was the fourth month of the civil, and the tenth of the sacred year of the Jews, who called it Zebeth, signifying "miry," probably on account of the difficulty of passing on the roads. Esth. ii. 16.

HISTORICAL NOTICES RELATING TO THE CALENDAR.

TIME.—The measure of duration is divided, by the revolutions of the celestial bodies, into days, months, and years; to which weeks have been added, by the positive institution of the Lord our God.

The year properly is the solar year, containing 365 days, 5 hours, 48 minutes, 51 seconds, 6 decimals, and is called the astronomical year. This, however, has not always been correctly understood, nor till very recently even in Europe. Moses might perhaps have correctly understood astronomy, but the Jews were not perfectly accurate in their computations of time; they reckoned twelve moons in a year, which included 354 days, and every third year added a month to Adar, which they called Ve-Adar, or the second Adar.

Various modes of computing the year were observed by the Egyptians, Chaldeans, Persians, Greeks, and Romans. Romulus is said to have introduced the calendar soon after the foundation of the city of Rome; commencing the year about the vernal equinox, and dividing it into ten months; Martius, Aprilis, Maius, Junius, Quintilis, Sextilis, September, October, November, and December, containing 304 days.

Numa Pompilius reformed the Roman calendar, after the Grecian model, adding two months Januarius and Februarius, which he placed before Martius, beginning the year on the 1st of Januarius. Julius Cæsar, by the aid of a celebrated Egyptian astronomer, Sosigenes, fixed the solar year at 365 days, 6 hours, ordaining that while the year ordinarily was reckoned at 365 days, every fourth year should consist of 366 days; that year being called Bissextile.

Quintilis was called Julius, in honour of Julius Cæsar; and Sextilis was named Augustus, in honour of Augustus Cæsar. This measure of the year, however, was about eleven minutes too much; and the error having been discovered, Pope Gregory, by the advice of the astronomers Cavius, Ciacconius, and Lilio, ordained that 10 days should be abated in the year 1582, by having the 11th of March called the 21st; thereby making March to consist of 21 days only, and that the year beginning a century should not be Bissextile, to perfect the scheme. Some nations not acknowledging the Pope's authority, long resisted this order of Rome, and England did not adopt the Gregorian or New Style until the year 1752; when it was settled by Act of Parliament that the corrections should be admitted; the commencement of the year to be reckoned from the 1st day of January, instead of the 25th day of March. The new style is used by most of the nations professing Christianity, except the Russians.

The year of the Hebrews commenced on the 1st day of the month Tisri; but for sacred purposes, commemorating the redemption of Israel from Egypt, their ecclesiastical year commences in the month Abib, corresponding with March. Exod. xii. 2. Dates of the years were commonly made, by most nations, from the foundation of a chief city, as was the practice of the Romans; or from the reigns of their kings, as we see by the Scriptures. 1 Kings xv. 1. Neh. ii. 1. The reign of the sovereign was the customary mode in England, until the time of the Protectorate, under Cromwell, when the present was adopted. Anno Domini, or year of our Lord.

THE BAROMETER.

Changes of weather are indicated in the barometer, not by the actual height of the mercury, but by its change of height. One of the most general, though not absolutely invariable rules is, that where the mercury is very low, and therefore the atmosphere very light, high winds and storms may be expected. The following rules may be relied upon, at least to a certain extent. 1. Generally, the rising of the mercury indicates the approach of fair weather; the falling of it shows the approach of foul weather. 2. In sultry weather the fall of the mercury indicates coming thunder: in winter, the rise of the mercury indicates frost: in frost, its fall indicates thaw, and its rise indicates snow. 3. Whatever change of weather suddenly follows a change in the barometer, it may be expected to last but a short time. Thus, if fair weather follow immediately the rise of the mercury, there will be very little of it; and in the same way, if foul weather follow the fall of the mercury, it will last but a short time. 4. If fair weather continue for several days, during which the mercury continually falls, a long continuance of foul weather will probably ensue; and again, if foul weather continue for several days, while the mercury continually rises, a long succession of fair weather will probably succeed. 5. A fluctuating and unsettled state of the mercurial column indicates changeable weather.

ANTIDOTES AND PRESERVATIVES.

SUSPENDED ANIMATION IF APPARENTLY DROWNED.—Cautions. 1. Lose not an instant in sending for medical assistance. 2. In the mean time avoid all rough usage. 3. Never hold the body up by the feet. 4. Nor roll the body on casks. 5. Nor rub the body with salts or spirits. 6. Nor inject tobacco-smoke or infusion of tobacco. Restorative means.—I. Convey the body carefully, with the head and shoulders supported, in a raised position, to the nearest house. II. Strip the body, and rub it dry; then wrap it in hot blankets, and place it in a warm bed in a warm chamber. III. Wipe and cleanse the mouth and nostrils. IV. In order to restore the natural warmth of the body: 1. Move a heated, covered warming-pan over the back and spine. 2. Put bladders, or bottles of hot water, or heated bricks, to the pit of the stomach, the armpits, between the thighs, and to the soles of the feet. 3. Foment the body with hot flannels; but, if possible, 4. Immerse the body in a warm bath as hot as the hand can bear without pain, as this is preferable to the other means for restoring warmth. 5. Rub the body briskly with the hand: do not, however, suspend the use of the other means at the same time. V. In order to restore breathing introduce the pipe of a common bellows into one nostril, carefully closing the other and the mouth; at the same time drawing downwards, and pushing gently backwards, the upper part of the windpipe, to allow a more free admission of air: blow the bellows gently, in order to inflate the lungs, till the breast be a little raised; the mouth and nostrils should then be set free, and a moderate pressure made with the hand upon the chest. Repeat this process till life appears. VI. Electricity to be employed early by a medical assistant. VII. Inject into the stomach, by means of an elastic tube and syringe, half a pint of warm brandy and water, or wine and water. VIII. Apply self-volatile or hartshorn to the nostrils.—On restoration to life, a teaspoonful of warm water should be given; and then, if the power of swallowing be returned, small quantities of warm wine, or weak brandy and water, warm; the patient should be kept in bed, and a disposition to sleep encouraged.

The above treatment, recommended by the Royal Humane Society, is to be persevered in for three or four hours.

TO EXTRICATE PERSONS FROM BROKEN ICE.—Let a rope or ropes, or handkerchiefs tied in strong knots, be held by two or more persons at each end; and let this be stretched over the broken ice, that the drowning person may catch hold of it.

TO PREVENT DROWNING.—Sinking in the water is occasioned by holding the arms above water, the unbuoyed weight of which depresses the head. When a man falls into deep water, he will rise to the surface, and continue there if he does not elevate his hands. If he move his hands under water, in any manner, his head will rise high enough to allow him liberty to breathe; and if he move his legs, as if in the act of walking up stairs, his shoulders will rise above water, so that he may use less exertion with his hands.

Note.—The chances of preservation and recovery are vastly against those cases in which the person is intoxicated at the time of the accident; and it is well worth considering, how many dreadful accidents are occasioned by drunkenness.

PRECAUTIONS AGAINST INFECTIOUS FEVERS.—Infection generally originates in close, crowded, and dirty rooms. Those persons, therefore, who make a practice of admitting the fresh air, at some convenient time, every day, and of frequently cleansing their apartments, bedding, furniture, etc., may reasonably expect to preserve their families from malignant fevers, as well as from other diseases.

FUMIGATION IN NEIGHBOURHOODS AFFECTED WITH FEVER.—Take an equal quantity of powdered nitre and strong vitriolic acid, or oil of vitriol, (about six drachms of each are sufficient:) mix them in a tea-cup, stirring them occasionally with a tobacco-pipe, or piece of glass: the cup must be removed, occasionally, to different parts of the room, and the fumes will continue to arise for several hours.

Poisons.—When poison has been swallowed, either by design or accident, send instantly for medical assistance. Until such assistance arrive, the following antidotes should be diligently employed:—

If the poison taken has been—

Corrosive sublimate.—Administer the whites of eggs beat up in water; or milk, if eggs cannot be procured.

Arsenic.—An emetic, which may be made by mixing a large table spoonful of flour of mustard in a tumbler of warm water. The mustard pot may be used if the flour of mustard is not ready. After the emetic, and while it is preparing, take milk.

Oil of vitriol, or aqua-fortis, or oxalic acid, (called also salt of lemons, and easily mistaken for Epsom salts.)—Chalk, or magnesia, mixed in water. Or, if these be not at hand, soap-suds.

Laudanum, or any kind of opium.—The mustard emetic, same as arsenic. Do not suffer the patient to sleep; make him walk about; or rouse him by dragging him about, and by dashing cold water on his face and head.

Prussic acid.—Dash cold water freely on the head, face, and chest, and give the mustard emetic, same as arsenic.

Carbonic acid; or, the fumes of burning charcoal, the foul air of wells, pits, graves, brewers' vats, cellars, etc.—Remove the sufferer into pure fresh air; and dash the head, face, and chest freely with cold water.

Poisonous mushrooms, or fish (as mussels.)—The mustard emetic, same as arsenic.

In any case, if the surface of the body be cold, apply warm flannels, or, what is best of all, put the body into a warm bath.

THE ERA OF PRINTING.

It is perhaps not known to many in our day, that it was to a young man, at the early age of about twenty-five, that we stand indebted for the first New Testament printed in the English tongue, though not in England. This was William Tyndale, assisted by his companion, John Frith.

The art of printing was invented at Mentz, in Germany, about the year 1440. They first printed with wooden blocks, and metal types were not employed for ten or twelve years afterwards. But when contemplating this noble art at its commencement, the inhabitants of England are found to occupy very humble ground. There is no room whatever for congratulation or boasting, as to taking the lead, or being the first to move in Europe, very far from it. To say nothing of other works, the Bible itself may be noticed in proof.

The first Bible ever printed was in Latin, at Mentz, by Gutenberg and Faust, between the year 1450 and	1455
The first Bible printed in any modern tongue was in German, by Faust, in	1462
The first in Italian, de Malermi's, was printed at Venice, by Le Spira, in	1471
The first in Dutch, author unknown, at Cologne, in	1475
The first in French, Macho and Farget's, at Lyons, by B. Buyer, in	1477
The first in Spanish, Ferrar's, at Valencia, by Ferdinez, in	1478
The first in Bohemian, author unknown, at Prague, in	1488
The first in Lower Saxon, author unknown, at Cologne, in	1490
The first Hebrew Bible, A. Ben Chaim, at Socino, in Italy, in	1488
The first Greek Testament published, Erasmus's, at Basil, by Froeb,	1516
The First English New Testament, by Tyndale, was printed at Cologne by Peter Quentell, and finished at Worms, in	1525
The first Bible in Helvetian, Leo Jude's, was printed at Zurich, in ..	1529 hundred original drawings, or vignettes, by Louthenburg. The prints and etchings include the works of Raffaele, Marc Antonie, Albert Durer, Callot, Rembrandt, and other masters, consisting of representations of every fact, circumstance and object mentioned in the Holy Scriptures. There are, moreover, designs of trees, plants, flowers, quadrupeds, birds, fishes, and insects, such, besides fossils, as have been adduced in proof of a universal deluge. The most authentic Scripture atlases are bound up with the volumes. This Bible was the property of the late Mr. Bower, the publisher, who collected and arranged the engravings, etchings, and drawings, at great expense and labour; and he is said to have been engaged upwards of thirty years in rendering it perfect. It was insured in the Abion Insurance Office for £3000.

MARTYRS.

According to the calculation of some, about 200,000 Christian Protestants suffered death, in seven years, under pope Julian; no less than 100,000 were massacred by the French, in the space of three months; Waldenses, who perished amounted to 1,000,000; within thirty years, the Jesuits destroyed 900,000; under the duke of Alva, 36,000 were executed by the hangman; 150,000 by the Irish massacre, beside the vast multitude of whom the world could never be particularly informed, who were proscribed, starved, burned, assassinated, chained to the galleys for life, or immured within the walls of the Bastile, or others of their Church or State prisons. According to some, the whole number of persons massacred since the rise of Papacy, including the space of 1400 years, amounts to 50,000,000.—Buck's Expositor.

WICKLIFFE.

John Wickliffe, styled the "Morning Star of the Reformation," was born in 1324, at Wickliffe, in the north-west of Yorkshire, on the Tees. He was the first who opposed the authority of the pope, and the first who translated the Scriptures of the Old and New Testament into the English language. He was pastor at Lutterworth, where he died, in 1385. His bones, by a decree of the pope, were disinterred and burnt, and their ashes thrown into a neighbouring brook. The chair on which he expired, and part of his pulpit are still preserved in the town.

AGRICULTURAL ITEMS.

CABBAGE.—The Cabbage is a biennial plant, a wholesome and agreeable food when boiled. From the Cabbage the preparation called Sour Krout is made; this is prepared by chopping the heads very fine, and strewing it in layers in a barrel; with alternately a handful of salt mixed with a few caraway seeds till the barrel is filled. A heavy weight is next to be placed on the mass, and a fermentation soon commences. After this has subsided, the weight is removed and the barrel is headed for use. This preparation is highly relished by those accustomed to it, when boiled with beef. It is a powerful antiscorbutic, and should form an article in the sea stores of all ships sailing on distant voyages. Cabbages set in spring produce excellent sprouts.

The Red dutch is used for pickling. It is first salted forty-eight hours, then pickled in vinegar. The Tree and Drumhead are the most profitable kinds to raise for cattle.

The Savoy is highly prized, and deemed nearly equal to Cauliflowers. For a very early crop, some recommend to sow in September, three inches asunder every way, to protect the young plants by a frame during winter, and set them in May. But generally they are sown in March, in a hot bed, and transplanted in May. For late cabbages sow in May and stamp the ground hard. Transplant into a very rich and highly prepared soil, the smaller kinds in rows two feet apart, and two feet distance in the row. The larger kinds three feet asunder each way. Hoe frequently.

CAULIFLOWER.—These should be sown late in August and September for early ones next spring—in April and May for late—treated generally like cabbages—should be transplanted three feet apart, in a very rich and rather a moist loam; a rich soil is indispensable for their successful culture. In order to blanch them handsomely, the leaves must be closed together at top and tied gently. This delicious vegetable, as well as the Broccoli, is deserving of more general cultivation. The heads or flowers of the plants, when boiled in a clean linen cloth, and served up with melted butter, form a most delicate vegetable dish. It is a great favourite in Europe. Dr. Johnson observed, "Of all the flowers of the garden give me the Cauliflower."

TOMATO.—Used in soups and sauces, to which it imparts an agreeable acid flavour; it is also stewed and dressed in various ways, and considered as a very wholesome vegetable. It should be sown in a warm border, in April and May—or on hot beds in March, and transplanted about the first of June. Tomatoes do best on poor soil, being there more fruitful than on a rich soil, where they run to vine with less fruit.

CELERY.—Sown in April and May. Celery seed seldom vegetates under four or five weeks after sowing. The best method is, to sow the seed in mellow, rich earth, in a situation shaded, or covered by boards, till the seed has vegetated—and observe to keep the ground always moist, and the soil pressed hard upon the seed when sown. Afterwards plant out in trenches for blanching.

OKRA.—Sown in the beginning of May—used as an ingredient in soups, and a beautiful ornamental plant. It is cultivated extensively in the West Indies. Its ripe seeds, burned and used like coffee, can scarcely be distinguished therefrom. It should be planted an inch deep, and hoed two or three times like peas.

NASTURTIIUM.—This is deserving of cultivation on account of its beautiful orange coloured flowers, its excellence in salads, and its use in garnishing dishes. The grain, berries, or seeds of this plant, which it produces abundantly, make an estimable pickle: in the opinion of many, preferable to capers. It is sown in drills in April and May, nearly an inch deep. When about six inches high, it should have sticks placed to climb upon—or they may be planted by the side of fences, palings, &c.

ASPARAGUS.—A delicious, wholesome, perennial esculent plant, of the most hardy species. The young plants are cut in the spring beneath the surface and prepared by boiling. Sow the seeds in spring in a rich soil an inch deep in rows eighteen inches asunder; keep the ground well cultivated, and in two or three years they will be fit to transplant. In its native state it is a low dwarfish plant, but to raise it in perfection and of large size, the ground must be made exceedingly rich, to the depth of fifteen inches. In such a prepared soil, the plants may be set fourteen inches asunder. In autumn spread over the surface a coat of manure, which must be dug in with a fork early in the spring.

PRESERVATION OF GRAIN.—A correspondent of the Farmer's Cabinet, says, that "in a late visit to a branch of the Cooper family in New Jersey, he observed that the grain of different descriptions was stowed away in large strong iron bound casks, and in these the wheat, &c. was preserved for any period, no matter how long, without fear of weevil, grain worm, vermin, damp, or mouldiness. The grain is introduced by a funnel through the bung hole, and when full, the cask is carefully closed, and made air tight, and kept in that state by occasionally driving the hoops. The casks are laid on sleepers so high that a bushel measure can be placed under them, when it is necessary to draw the grain."

It is evident this plan would only answer where the grain was thoroughly dried, as if damp when deposited, entire mouldiness, or even decomposition would ensue. In those parts of France, where grain is kept in vaults prepared in the earth, or in the limestone rocks, the grain is fully dried, then the vaults are filled, and afterwards hermetically closed. The suggestion that this method of packing in good casks, where grain is to be transported by sea, and afterwards used for seed, would be preferable to packing in bags, we think just, provided the grain was in a fit state at the time of deposit in the casks, and was aired as soon as possible after its arrival at its destination. Every farmer is aware that but a slight degree of heating is fatal to the germinating qualities of grain, and must be sedulously guarded against, when grain for seed is to be transported to any distance, in a confined or damp situation. Many of the specimens of wheat imported into this country from Europe, have either wholly or partially failed from want of attention to this matter.

REMEDY FOR INSECTS ON PLANTS.—MR. D. HAGGERSTON, of Watertown, Massachusetts, has claimed the premium offered by the Massachusetts Horticultural Society for the most cheap and effectual mode of destroying the Rose slug or bug. The remedy is "Whale oil soap dissolved at the rate of two lbs. in fifteen gallons of water." Mr. H. states that as there is much difference in the strength of this soap, it will be better to begin with this quantity, and if it does not kill the insects to increase the strength, which may be done without injury to the plants. Dissolve the soap in a small quantity of boiling water, and strain it through a fine sieve, then add the proper quantity of cold water, and apply it with a watering engine or syringe.

The cost is about four mills per gallon. Mr. H. also states that this preparation is also an effectual remedy for other troublesome insects, such as the Thrips or vine fretter, the Aphis or plant louse, the Black fly that infests the young shoots of the cherry, &c., the Acarus or red spider, and some insects that infest evergreens, such as the balsam of fir, and others. "The disease Mildew, on the gooseberry, peach, grape vine, &c., is checked and entirely destroyed by a weak dressing of this solution." If this solution of whale soap is as efficacious as is represented, Mr. H. deserves the thanks of the public as well the offered premium, for bringing it to the notice of the public. There can be but little doubt it will be found useful in many cases not specified by him, and it will also be beneficial in promoting the growth of plants.

SUN FLOWER OIL.—We have had some inquiries as to the method of making sun flower oil; and the quantity a bushel of seed will make; and the uses to which it can be applied.

1. Method of making. The same as that of linseed, except that the seed must first be hulled, or its hard envelop taken off. This is done by machinery with great ease. If ground with the hull, not half the quantity of oil can be obtained as when it is hulled. Any press that will extract the oil of linseed, will do for sun flower seed.

2. Quantity per bushel. Mr. Mann made some experiments which are recorded in the N. E. Farmer, in which only half a gallon per bushel was obtained, and the project was abandoned. He did not hull the seed, hence the failure. C. A. Barnitz, near Baltimore, on the contrary, obtained a gallon of fine oil from a bushel, but his seed was hulled, and none was lost by the saturation of the dry covering. When well managed, a gallon may be counted upon with certainty.

3. Uses. It makes very good oil for lamps, burning clearly and without offensive smell. It is found to be well adapted for painting, spreading smooth and drying with facility. For the table, most prefer it to olive oil, being cheaper, and having a more agreeable flavour.

We may add here, that the quantity of seed produced on an acre will vary much, having ranged from twenty to seventy-five bushels. The editor of the Baltimore Farmer thinks that the average on good corn land may be stated at fifty bushels.

We have no data from which to answer the inquiries of our correspondent at Canton, in regard to the quantity of oil produced by hemp seed. Hemp seed oil possesses many of the qualities of linseed oil, and doubtless might be extracted with equal facility.

SUBSOIL PLOUGHING.—Subsoil ploughing is intended to move the earth to a much greater depth than can be done with the ordinary plough, and to effect this without bringing the lower earth moved to the surface. It renders the surface more dry, gives a greater range for the roots of plants, admits a free passage to water and air, and gradually converts the sterile subsoil into fertile mould. The implement is a strong iron plough, with a stout share, but no mouldboard. It is generally used by first turning a furrow with the common plough, and the subsoil plough follows in the furrow so made, moving the earth to the depth of from ten to twelve inches, breaking up the dense soil or hard pan, but not throwing it upon the surface; and the earth so moved is covered by the next furrow slice of the common plough. The subsoil plough requires a strong team. The depth will of course depend on the two ploughs; if the common plough cuts six inches in depth, and the subsoil ten, then the earth is moved to the depth of sixteen inches.

CANADA THISTLE.—"Take any piece of stubble land, pea or oats stubble is preferable, as it has less sward. I then if needful manure it well, and plough it carefully on the 20th of April. About the 15th of May, I drag it thoroughly. On the 25th of May, I cross plough, and in the middle of June I again drag it, being careful to harrow cross-wise of the furrow. On the 28th or thereabouts, I plough and sow one bushel of buckwheat to the acre. At this season, buckwheat will vegetate very rapidly, and in two weeks will completely cover the ground. The thistle, by former ploughings being checked, the buckwheat will in ordinary seasons thoroughly subdue them. I have tried various methods of destroying the thistle, and I find this the best."

POULTRY.—"When," says M. Bose, "it is wished to have eggs during the cold season, even in the dead of winter, it is necessary to make the fowls roost over an oven, in a stable, in a shed where many cattle are kept, or to erect a stove in the fowl house on purpose. By such methods the farmers of Auge have chickens fit for the table in the month of April, a period when they are only beginning to be hatched in the farms around Paris, although further to the south. It would be desirable that stoves in fowl houses were more commonly known near great towns, where luxury grudges no expense for the convenience of having fresh eggs." It is worthy of remark, that the Irish peasantry, whose poultry occupy at night a corner of the cabin, along with the cow, pig, and the family, frequently lay very early, in consequence of the warmth of their night quarters; and there can be no doubt, that this is the chief secret for having new laid eggs in winter, paying at the same time due attention to protect the hens from wet, and to have them young, or at least early in moulting.—From the Poultry Yard, by Peter Roswell.

PRESBYTERIANISM.

VIEW OF THE PRESENT STATE OF PRESBYTERIANISM THROUGHOUT THE WORLD.

Some Presbyterians, comparing the limited population of Scotland with the far superior numbers of England, may be apt to imagine that Presbyterianism is a very limited form of ecclesiastical polity—that Presbyterians are a small, as they often are a despised people. But no idea can be more unfounded. To advert to a few facts in this connection:

The Church of Scotland, which is an Established Presbyterian Church, has—exclusive of preaching stations, and in some quarters double churches—1282, or nearly 1300 congregations, and is rapidly increasing. Above 200 additional places of worship have been projected in seven years, and 175 are built or building. She has between 200 and 300 ministers or missionaries settled in the colonies of Great Britain, and is yearly adding to the number. During the last year, there was an addition of seventeen. Her labours in the cause of Sabbath observance, education, the conversion of the Jews, and of the heathen, as well as special revivals in particular parishes, indicate growing progress and strength. It may be added, that intelligent attachment to her principles and constitution as a Presbyterian Church is decidedly on the increase among her office-bearers and members. In addition to the above, there are five hundred Presbyterian congregations in Scotland, not in connection with the Church—making together eighteen hundred. It is believed, that since recent discussions connected with doctrine in one of the bodies, there has been a revival of Presbyterian attachment. These churches have also a considerable number of ministers and missionaries in different parts of the British dominions abroad. In the mean time the Episcopal congregations of Scotland are about eighty; and the Independents, deducting their vacancies, have little more. There are also some smaller divisions, as of Baptists, who are congregational in their views of Church government, but the whole combined constitute but a very limited number. As nearly as can be ascertained, the different branches of Presbyterians in Scotland have, during the last ten years, increased by above two hundred and seventy congregations, while in the same period the Episcopalians have added fourteen to their number,—little more than one a year, and not one-half the number of congregations which the Presbyterians have, in the same period, collected in England. The Independents, twenty-three; and the Roman Catholics, nineteen. This indicates the decided and growing Presbyterianism of Scotland with the increase of her people, and the vanity of any attempt to thrust an opposite form of ecclesiastical government and worship on her national acceptance.

Crossing the Irish Channel, we find the Presbyterian Church of Ireland. It has nearly five hundred congregations. During the last twelve years it has increased by one hundred and twenty, and is rising from year to year, by ten congregations. Already it divides the Protestant population of Ireland, and is reviving not only in numbers, but in purity, and educational zeal, and missionary spirit. It is also rising in attachment to the Presbyterian system.

Turning to England—the very head-quarters of Prelacy—we find the Presbyterian Church reviving. Owing to not acting on an organized system, and other causes, the ancient Presbyterians of England, who once constituted a half of the English Church, had sunk into Congregationalism—yea, heresy. But Presbytery, and that in strict organization, is making decided progress. It now numbers, in its different branches, above one hundred and sixty congregations, many of them the growth of the last ten years. It is understood also, that there is an increasing conviction among pious and intelligent men in the south, both in the Establishment and among the Congregationalists and Methodists, that an adoption of some of the leading principles of Presbytery is essential to meet the defects of their own systems of ecclesiastical government. In addition to those above described, the Calvinistic Methodists may be enumerated. They prevail in Wales, numbering, according to the most recent information, five hundred and thirty-six places of worship, one hundred and twenty-two stated, two hundred and ninety-eight occasional preachers, besides twelve hundred and seven elders. They are of sufficient importance to have a theological institution for the due training of their young men for the office of the ministry.

If, from the British isles we pass to Holland, the asylum of the suffering in days of persecution, we behold an Established Presbyterian Church, with fourteen hundred and fifty ministers, and a Presbyterian population of one million five hundred thousand. Of these, five hundred thousand are communicants. The places of worship are multiplied according to the increase of the population. While there is a growth in numbers, what is far better, there is growth in evangelical piety. The hatred of popery, and the missionary spirit which have appeared in fresh vigour of late years, indicate a favourable progress.

France could once boast of a Presbyterian Church of two thousand congregations. It is well known to what protracted and merciless persecution she was subjected—a persecution which slew the servants of God by tens of thousands, and drove more than a million to foreign shores—in not a few cases, to plant Presbyterian Churches in the American wilderness. Never was a Church more fearfully oppressed. This Church of many martyrs still survives, having four hundred congregations belonging to the Reformed, as distinguished from the Lutherans, who have about two hundred—together, the charge of nearly two millions of professed Protestants. There is a rapid and extensive revival, in numbers and spirit, conspicuous throughout France.

In Switzerland, the Established Church is also Presbyterian. The population of the country amounts to above two millions, and the great mass of the people belong to the national Church. Its ministers are estimated at eight hundred to one thousand. It is well known that a remarkable revival of true religion has appeared of recent years in many of the Protestant cantons. Along with this has arisen a growing attachment to the ancient constitution and discipline of the Church. “The History of the Reformation,” by D’Aubigné, a work which seems destined to give an impulse to the cause of true religion, not only in Switzerland, but throughout the world, is the work of a Presbyterian minister in Geneva.

The remains of the long-persecuted Waldenses, like their fathers, are Presbyterians. They have thirteen pastors among twenty-two thousand people, and are rising in their religious character and zeal. Nay, a Protestant and Presbyterian Church, including of Reformed and Lutheran, nineteen hundred ministers, is to be found in Hungary among a population of nearly two millions. Here, as in most Prelatic Churches, there is a loud call for the spirit of revival—but there is the organization of Presbyterianism and faint symptoms of life.

In Germany it is difficult to ascertain the proportion of the Protestant population which may be accounted Reformed, as distinguished from Lutheran; but both Churches may fairly be reckoned in this enumeration as Presbyterian, inasmuch as the Lutherans do not hold the doctrine of “Apostolic Episcopal succession,” and have superintendents only from human expediency. The great Reformer, whose name they bear, maintained from Scripture that Presbyter and bishop are identical, and that all pastors are equal in office. This is the grand point of distinction between Presbytery and Episcopacy. The body too, which, according to recent arrangements, manages the affairs of the Evangelical Church of Prussia, (the most important of the German Protestants,) is an ecclesiastical Synod or General Assembly. The revival of evangelical religion in this country of late years has been conspicuous. One-third of the ministry in Berlin, the Prussian capital, is evangelical; and there are few of the many Protestant universities of Germany, where several of the professors are not men of the same sentiment and character.

With regard to the northern kingdoms of Norway, Denmark, and Sweden, though not claiming any unbroken prelatic succession, on the contrary, holding only Presbyterian ordination, they may perhaps be reckoned as, de facto, Episcopalian in ecclesiastical constitution. They are governed by bishops and archbishops. Though among them, too, there is progress, it is slight; the reign of cold formalism, where there is not heresy—it is understood, is wide-spread and desolating.

Crossing to the United States of America, we find Presbyterianism in great strength. The states were originally peopled to a large extent by emigrants from England, Scotland, Ireland, Holland, France, and Germany. The greatest number were Presbyterian. Twenty thousand Presbyterian Puritans emigrated from England alone in a few years. We need not wonder, therefore, to learn that the different religious bodies which may be classed under the head of Presbyterian, form, according to the most recent statistics, five thousand three hundred and forty-four ministers, to seven thousand one hundred and forty-six churches.* These constitute a large proportion of the whole ministry and congregations of the United States. As a proof of progress, it may be mentioned that in 1789, when the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church was first regularly organized (having subsisted under the form of a synod before,) there were only one hundred and seventy-seven ministers among four hundred and nineteen congregations. In 1839, being fifty years, the year of jubilee, there were in the same body two thousand two hundred and twenty-five ministers, and two thousand eight hundred and seven congregations; in other words, in fifty years it had multiplied by eleven times.

The Methodists and Moravians, constituting honoured and useful churches, both in Europe and in the New World, do not seem to admit of being precisely classed under any of the great divisions of ecclesiastical government. Some points they hold in common with Presbyterians, others with the opponents of Presbytery; but it is well known that both disallow the exclusive claims of Episcopacy, and boast only of Presbyterian ordination.

From the rapid sketch which has been given, it is obvious, that Presbyterians are not—as some are apt to imagine—a small isolated party; that, on the contrary, they are great in numbers, and in the general intelligence, morality, and religion of the countries which they occupy. They are vastly more numerous than Episcopalian Protestants, or the Congregationalists of the Old and New Worlds combined. Moreover, it appears that they are not withering into decay before the formidable pretensions of modern Episcopacy to an exclusive apostolic origin; but are growing rapidly, perhaps more rapidly than many, in numbers, and, with the revival of evangelical zeal and liberality, are growing also in warm attachment to the principles, constitution, and forms of the Presbyterian Church. There is, then, this consolation for Presbyterians, that if they are in error, they are in error with more than half of Protestant Christendom, and with nations of highest reputation in the world. This should save them from the contempt with which they are often spoken of by parties who, comparatively speaking, can boast of a mere handful, and these without any superiority in mind, morals, or religion to their neighbours. We may safely say that there is no chance of Presbyterians or their principles dying out.

The above numbers, and any others which may yet be adduced, are given on the authority of the most recent and accredited documents to which I have had access—generally those of the religious bodies themselves. I am persuaded that any inaccuracy is immaterial. On such questions a close approximation to the truth is all that can be looked for.—Lorimer's Manual of Presbytery.

* The author evidently includes the Congregational Churches in this estimate. The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church comprises fourteen hundred ministers; the New-school Assembly about twelve hundred, and the other Presbyterian bodies but a few hundred more, making in all about three thousand Presbyterian ministers. The Congregationalists are not Presbyterian in name or in fact.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

The First Presbyterian Church in the United States was organized in the city of Philadelphia, about the year 1698; and the churches of Snowhill, Rehoboth, Monokin, and Wicomico, on the eastern shore of Maryland, were organized about the same time.

The Presbytery of Philadelphia was organized in the beginning of the year 1705, and consisted of seven ministers. This was the first Presbyterian judicatory established on the continent.

In the year 1716, the Presbytery had so much increased that it became necessary to divide it into four subordinate judicatories, which constituted the Synod of Philadelphia which held its first meeting in Philadelphia in the year 1717.

The Synod of New York, which comprised the Presbyteries of New York, New Brunswick, and New Castle, held its first meeting in the year 1745, and in the year 1758 was united with the Synod of Philadelphia under the style of the Synod of New York and Philadelphia.

The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church held its first meeting in Philadelphia in the year 1789, at which time there were sixteen Presbyteries, and one hundred and seventy-seven ministers.

In the year 1837, the General Assembly disowned four of their Synods for errors in doctrine and practice, and in the following year a large body, sympathizing with the Synods, seceded from the Presbyterian Church. This body now numbers about twelve hundred ministers.

In the year 1842, the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, notwithstanding the above mentioned diminution, embraced fourteen hundred ministers, and about two thousand and twenty-five churches.

GENERAL VIEW

OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA FOR 1842.

For the present year some of the Statistical Reports from Presbyteries are defective, and from the following Presbyteries no reports at all have been received, viz. Sangamon, Muhlenberg, West Tennessee, North Alabama, Charleston, Georgia, Flint River, Clinton, Arkansas; of these, Arkansas has not reported for several years. The neglect of so many Presbyteries is almost unprecedented, and it is to be regretted as it renders the Statistics of the Church in every department incomplete.

During the past year, the Presbyteries of Long Island and Long Island 2d, have been amalgamated, and are now known as the Presbytery of Long Island. Four new Presbyteries have been formed by their respective Synods, viz. Holly Springs, by the Synod of Mississippi; Clarion, by the Synod of Pittsburgh; East Alabama, by the Synod of Alabama; and Maumee, by the Synod of Cincinnati; and three new Presbyteries have been formed in Northern India, agreeably to the direction of the Assembly, viz. Lodiana, Furrukabad, and Allahabad; in all seven new Presbyteries during the past year.

During the year also the Synod of Wheeling has been organized agreeably to the directions of the General Assembly of 1841, embracing the Presbyteries of Washington, Steubenville, St. Clairsville, and New Lisbon. The Synod of Northern India, has not been, from peculiar circumstances, formally organized, but it is from convenience inserted in the list of Synods.

There have been reported one thousand three hundred and sixteen ordained ministers; one hundred and ninety-two licensed preachers; two hundred and twenty-nine candidates for the ministry, and one thousand nine hundred and four churches. If to these be added, the numbers given in the last reports of the nine Presbyteries which are recorded above as delinquent, the numbers would be, one thousand three hundred and ninety-nine ordained ministers; two hundred licentiates; two hundred and thirty-seven candidates; and two thousand and twenty-five churches. Exclusive of the nine delinquent Presbyteries, the number of communicants reported, is one hundred and forty thousand four hundred and thirty-three, and the sum collected for religious objects is one hundred and sixty-two thousand five hundred and twenty dollars.

As far as reported, there have been sixty-four censures; sixty-eight ordinations; forty-four churches organized and received; eighty installations; and the following twenty-one deaths of clergymen reported, viz.

This Eclipse will also be visible throughout Mexico, Texas, West Indies, Great Britain, Ireland, and Iceland; together with the southern part of Greenland, the northern part of South America, and the western parts of Europe and Africa. It will be central and annular on the meridian in latitude 25 degrees 21 minutes north, and longitude 74 degrees 31 minutes west from Greenwich, or 30 minutes west from the meridian of New York. Magnitude at London, 3.32 digits.

II. There will be an Eclipse of the Sun on the 20th of October, at the time of New Moon, in the morning, invisible in America. This Eclipse will be visible through the greater parts of Africa, the Indian Ocean, and Australia. The central Eclipse (which will be annular, exhibiting a very brilliant ring) will commence in Africa in latitude 6 degrees 44 minutes north, and longitude 0.32 west from Greenwich, and terminate in Australia in latitude 23 degrees 51 minutes south, and longitude 126 degrees 5 minutes east. In its progress it will cross the northern part of Madagascar, and be central and annular on the meridian in latitude 19 degrees 22 minutes south, and longitude 53 degrees 41 minutes east. Magnitude of the Eclipse at the Cape of Good Hope, 1.69 digit on the Sun's northern limb.

Religious Institutions of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America.

BOARD OF FOREIGN MISSIONS.

Abstract of the Eighth Annual Report, for 1845.

RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES.—The receipts, as acknowledged in the Treasurer's Accounts, in the year ending May 1, 1845, were $84,513 95, to which add the unexpended balance from last year of special contributions for the China Mission, $4,355 63, making the sum of $88,869 58—of which $3000 were received from the American Bible Society, and $1300 from the American Tract Society. From the above sum of $88,869 58 should be deducted $200 12, the balance against the Treasury in the current accounts of last year, and $5,996 62, the unexpended balance of Indian funds for a manual labour boarding-school among the Iowas, leaving the sum of $82,672 84 for the service of the year now reported. The expenditures of the same period have been $81,469 71—showing a balance in favour of the Treasury of $1203 13.

PUBLICATIONS.—The Missionary Chronicle is now published both in Newspaper and Pamphlet editions, and 6240 copies are circulated, of which nearly one-third are sent free of charge.* Of the Foreign Missionary, 14,200 copies are published. It is stated in the Report, there are more than six hundred congregations, not including those that are "vacant," in which no copy of the Chronicle is taken, excepting the copy of the minister.

AGENCIES.—The Rev. I. N. Candee has continued in the Western and South Western Agency, and the Rev. W. S. Rogers has spent six months as an agent in the western part of Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois. The Rev. W. H. Foote declined a re-appointment as Secretary and General Agent of the Central Board of Foreign Missions in October last.

NEW MISSIONARIES.—Nine ordained Ministers, three of them married, proceeded to various fields of labour during the last year, whose names and designation will appear in connexion with their missions respectively.

MISSION IN TEXAS.—Four Ministers were connected with the Board in Texas: the Rev. H. Wilson at Independence, and as an Evangelist in that part of the country; the Rev. W. C. Blair at Victoria; the Rev. I. J. Henderson at Galveston; and the Rev. J. W. Miller at Houston. Mr. Miller reached his field of labour in December last. Mr. Wilson declines a re-appointment, intending to restrict his labours to Independence, and two other places, and to take charge of a school; which is greatly needed in that region. At all these places the brethren have been faithfully employed in the Lord's work, and their labours have had manifest proofs of being attended with the Divine blessing. Texas, viewed as a missionary field, loses none of its interest in the progress of political events, and the door is widely open for an enlarged and more vigorous prosecution of the work of supporting the ministry of the gospel and founding Christian institutions.

MISSION AMONG THE CREEK INDIANS.—The Rev. Messrs. R. M. Loughridge and J. Limber are connected with this mission, Mr. Limber having reached the station in December last. Mr. Crawford, mentioned in the last Report, owing to a change of circumstances, did not join the mission. A boarding school has been commenced, with buildings capable of accommodating twenty pupils. Larger buildings will be erected, so as to enable the missionaries to receive twice that number. A church has been organized, and two persons admitted to its communion on examination; several others were receiving instruction as catechumens. The prospects of this mission continue to be very flattering.

MISSION AMONG THE IOWA, SAC AND OTOE INDIANS.—The Rev. S. M. Coon and wife have been appointed to this Mission, and the Rev. W. Hamilton, Mr. S. M. Irvin, teacher, Mr. F. Irvin, farmer, and their wives, continue in its service. The leading feature in the proceedings of this mission, during the last year, has been the commencement of a manual labour boarding school on a large scale. A building is under contract, which will accommodate from 75 to 100 pupils, being 102 feet long by 36 deep, and three stories high. The Indians have appropriated of their annuity funds $4675-67, and the United States Government $2000 towards this institution; and the Indians will make annual payment of $1440 of their school funds for the support of thirty of their children as pupils. It is expected that this school will exert a favourable influence on all the interests of the Iowa and Sac tribes. The day school formerly established has been attended at intervals by 50 scholars. Several small works have been issued from the press, and a part of the New Testament has been translated, and is ready for the press.

It is the intention of the Board to form a station in connexion with this mission among the Otoes, as soon as practicable. They are a neighbouring tribe to the Iowas and Sacs, and understand their language. Once the Otoes were numerous and powerful, but their numbers have been greatly reduced by the small-pox, wars with other tribes, and that great enemy of the Indians, spirituous liquors.

MISSION AMONG THE CHIPPEWAS AND OTTAWAS.—The Rev. P. Dougherty, Mr. H. Bradley, and their wives continue at their station on Grand Traverse bay, and are still encouraged in their labours. The school has been attended by from 35 to 55 scholars, the number varying with the seasons of the year. The church contains 16 native members. The Indians are becoming more industrious, more comfortable in their mode of living, more skilful in cultivating their small farms, and thus are affording testimony that godliness has the promise of the life that now is, as well as of that which is to come.

MISSION TO WEST AFRICA.—In the Kroo country there are stations at Settra Kroo and King Will's town, the Rev. J. M. Connelly, who joined the mission during the last year, and Mrs. Connelly (formerly Mrs. Sawyer) being at the former place, assisted by two native teachers, and the Rev. J. M. Priest and wife at the latter. A boarding school of forty scholars at Settra Kroo gives much satisfaction to the missionaries. A day school and a night school are also taught. Religious services are conducted at both these stations.

In the Colony, the Rev. J. Eden is the pastor of the church at Monrovia, and upwards of one hundred scholars are taught in two schools, one of which is in Monrovia, and the other in a neighbouring village. The Rev.

T. Wilson is at Sinoe, where he conducts religious services and has charge of a school.—Cecilia Vantyne is in this country on account of her health.—The general aspect of these missions continues nearly the same as was reported last year.

♣ MISSIONS IN NORTH INDIA.—LODIANA MISSION: stations at Lodiana, Saharunpur, Sabathu, and Merath, cities in the north-western part of India, of which Lodiana is the most distant from Calcutta, (1170 miles); missionaries, the Rev. Messrs. J. Newton, J. R. Campbell, J. Porter, J. M. Jamieson, J. Caldwell, and L. Janvier, all of whom are married, excepting Mr. Porter; Golak Nath, native licentiate preacher, and five native catechists and assistants: Mr. Reese Morris, printer, and family, are on their return to this country, on account of his health. The station at Sabathu, which the last report mentioned would probably be relinquished, has been re-occupied under favourable circumstances.

ALLAHABAD MISSION: the station at Allahabad is 475 miles north-west of Calcutta, on the Ganges; missionaries, the Rev. Messrs. J. Wilson, J. Warren, J. E. Freeman, J. Owen, J. Wray, and their wives; Miss Vanderveer, teacher, transferred to this mission from the Furrukhabad mission; one native catechist.

FURRUKHABAD MISSION: stations at Futtehgurh, on the Ganges, about 750 miles north-west of Calcutta, Furrukhabad, and Mynpoorie; missionaries, the Rev. Messrs. H. R. Wilson, M. D., J. L. Scott, J. C. Rankin, W. H. McAuley, J. J. Walsh, and their wives; the Rev. Gopee Nauth Nundy; three native assistants.

The schools connected with these three missions embrace about eight hundred scholars, of whom nearly two hundred are boarding pupils, and a large part of the others are taught in schools of a high order. The printing presses at Lodiana and Allahabad have issued about 7,850,000 pages of the Scriptures and religious tracts, in four different languages. Some new works have been prepared for the press, and translations are in progress. [The painful intelligence of the loss of the Lodiana press by fire has been received since the Report was made.] There are churches at Lodiana, Saharunpur, Futtehgurh and Allahabad, to most of which additional members have been admitted during the year. The native licentiate, Gopee Nauth Nundy, has been set apart to the work of an Evangelist, having been ordained by "the laying on of hands" by the Presbytery of Furrukhabad.* Extensive tours have been made for the express purpose of preaching the gospel, and distributing religious publications. A greater willingness to attend to Christian instruction, and less opposition have been manifested by the natives generally than in former years. Amongst the great multitude of pilgrims at Hurdwar, 25,000 copies of tracts and portions of the Scriptures were distributed, and for seventeen successive days large congregations attended with seriousness the preaching of the missionaries. A vast field, embracing many millions of pagans and Mohanmedans, is perfectly open to the labours of Missionaries; but though the harvest is truly plenteous, the labourers are few. "Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he will send forth labourers into his harvest."

MISSION TO SIAM.—This mission is for the present suspended, the Rev. W. P. Buell having been constrained to withdraw from Siam by the ill health of Mrs. Buell. The Rev. R. Q. Way and wife, mentioned in the last Report as designated to this field, proceeded to China. The Board express the hope that this mission will soon be resumed.

* This is the first instance, it is believed, in modern times, in the entire East, including all of Asia, of Presbyterian Ordination. Several native young men, of hopeful piety and good talents, are preparing for the Gospel Ministry.

MISSIONS TO CHINA.—The CANTON MISSION, for the province of Canton; missionaries, the Rev. A. P. Happer, M. D., and Mr. R. Cole, printer, and wife; stations for the present, Hong Kong and Macao; printing press, with metallic types in successful operation at Macao, 881,000 pages of the Scriptures having been printed in a short time.

The AMOY MISSION, for the province of Hokeen: missionaries, the Rev. Messrs. J. Lloyd and H. A. Brown; J. C. Hepburn, M. D., and wife; station at Amoy.

The NINGPO MISSION, for the provinces of Che Keang and Keang Soo; missionaries, the Rev. Messrs. W. M. Lowrie, R. Q. Way and wife, A. W. Loomis and wife, M. S. Culbertson and wife: D. B. McCartee, M. D.

Messrs. Way and McCartee had reached the station at Ningpo, and spent some months there; the other brethren probably proceeded to that city from Macao in January last. Of the missionaries to China, the Rev. Messrs. Loomis, Culbertson, Lloyd, Happer and Brown, sailed from this country during the last year, and all had arrived except Mr. Brown, who left the United States at a later period in the year.

These missions are yet in their infancy, but have been commenced and thus far established under favourable circumstances, and the prospect of their future usefulness continues to be of the deepest and most encouraging interest.

As a Church we cannot be too grateful for permission to bear a part in this great work, and for being allowed to see so many approved brethren now actively engaged in it. They should be often and earnestly remembered in the prayers of the people of God.

MISSIONARY OPERATIONS IN PAPAL EUROPE.—A correspondence has been opened with the Evangelical Societies of France and of Geneva, in virtue of which the churches, through the agency of the Board, can take an efficient part in promoting the spread of pure Christianity in some of the Roman Catholic countries of Europe. The excellent Directors of those Societies have cordially entered into this correspondence, and will take the charge of whatever funds may be remitted to them by the Board, employing therewith ministers, evangelists, colporteurs, or teachers, and causing due reports to be made of their labours. In this way the Board has every guarantee for the judicious appointment and supervision of missionary labourers in Europe, the directors of those Societies being best acquainted with the methods of proceeding in their own countries, and being moreover men who hold the same views of doctrine and church order with ourselves, and men also who enjoy the confidence of their own churches, and of the churches in other lands. The Board is competent to engage in missionary operations in any foreign country, and can take the charge of funds for the European missions without any additional expense for collection or transmission.

Various considerations are presented in the report, showing the importance of giving a liberal aid to our Protestant brethren in Europe, in their labours to promote the influence of a pure gospel,—considerations growing particularly out of the present position, in the world at large, of the Roman Catholic controversy. For these views, we must refer our readers to the Report itself. In the few months that have elapsed since the above mentioned correspondence was opened, the Board has remitted to the Evangelical Society of Geneva, $1825.00, and to the Evangelical Society of France, $1225.00. It is considered important greatly to enlarge the appropriations for this field of labour, in the present year.

PROPOSED MISSION TO THE JEWS.—A mission to the ancient people of God is mentioned in the Report, as having strong claims on the Church. Such a mission should not be undertaken at the expense of existing missions, but there is ample ability in the churches to support a Jewish mission; and it is hoped that the growing feeling of interest on behalf of the children of Israel will enable the Board without delay to engage in this important and good work.

BOARD OF MISSIONS (DOMESTIC).

Abstract of the Annual Report for 1845.

Another year of our labours to spread the gospel through our land has now closed, and we present the churches here, with an abstract of the annual report of their Board of Missions. This abstract embodies some of the more immediate effects of their labours; the ultimate results can be known only to Him who "sees the end from the beginning." The year now closed has had its embarrassments and trials; but viewed as a whole, its history will be found to contain much to awaken gratitude, inspire hope, and encourage new effort. A vast amount of good has already been accomplished, and trains of influences have been set in motion, whose results Omniscience alone can know, or fully estimate.

The whole number of missionaries in commission during the year has been three hundred and forty-seven, and the number of congregations and missionary stations supplied, has been about one thousand. One hundred and ninety-eight were in commission at the commencement of the year, and one hundred and forty-nine have been new appointments during the year. A large number of the new appointments have been active young men, who have but recently entered the ministry, and are important accessions to our ministerial strength. In no previous year has there been so large a number of new missionaries sent into the field; and the whole number of missionaries, with the number of stations occupied, are considerably in advance of any former year.

Of the whole number of missionaries in commission, two hundred and ten are located west of the Allegheny Mountains, and one hundred and thirty-seven are east of the mountains, including the Northern and Middle States, and the whole South to the Gulf of Mexico. Of the new appointments, ninety have been west of the mountains, and fifty-nine have been east and south.

There have been added to the churches, so far as reported, on examination, about fifteen hundred; on certificate, about one thousand; making a total of two thousand five hundred.*

It is difficult to state precisely the number of strictly itinerant missionaries. A very large proportion of the whole number have supplied several stations, and extended their labours over large districts, and the whole field of labour has been considerably extended during the year.

Sabbath Schools and Bible Classes have increased both in number and interest, and there has been a very decided and most encouraging increase in the attention paid to catechetical instruction.

The Temperance cause during the former part of the year, from causes noticed by the missionaries, was evidently on the decline. The friends of this cause were alarmed at what they witnessed, and were made to feel the necessity of adopting wise and energetic measures to check the evils with which they were threatened, and we rejoice in being able to state, that a most salutary change has taken place. This good cause we believe is again advancing, and we hope, on principles which will not so easily be shaken.

Much time has been devoted to pastoral labour, and preaching the gospel from house to house; and prayer-meetings, weekly and monthly, have been established and maintained with increasing interest, and to the spiritual benefit of many souls.

The benevolent institutions of the church have shared in the liberality of our mission churches; and there have been a number of instances in which these feeble churches have set a noble example in making sacrifices for the spread of the gospel; instances in which their "deep poverty has abounded unto the riches of their liberality."

Religious tracts and books have been extensively circulated, and have been of essential importance to the missionaries in their work; and we would again earnestly call the attention of the friends of this cause to the great importance of having the invaluable works of the Board of Publication more extensively circulated on missionary ground. The demand for these works in the missionary field is great and pressing. The missionaries greatly need them, and the people need them. Their circulation through the whole missionary field, it is confidently believed, would accomplish an incalculable amount of good.

In the observance of the Sabbath, it is our privilege to report a very general and delightful improvement, and a very decided improvement also in the attendance of the people on the means of grace, and in the interest manifested in a preached gospel.

It is not our privilege to report numerous and powerful revivals of religion during the past year. Revivals have been rare in our churches generally. There have been however, a few interesting revivals, even in this year of almost universal coldness and declension; and within the last few months there has been a very general and most encouraging change. There is evidently a reviving influence in many of these churches. In the language of very many of our missionaries, there is going forward at this time, a work of preparation. There is a waking up, and a very general expectation that God is about to revive his work. While then it is not our privilege, as in some former years to report powerful revivals of religion, nor very large accessions to the churches, we can report, that the labours of the church in this important department of her work, have been owned and blessed of God. An incalculable amount of good has been accomplished; many valuable men have been sent into the field; much new ground has been occupied; and it is confidently believed, the cause of Domestic Missions as connected with our own church, has never before been in so vigorous and prosperous a state as at the present time. Certain we are, there has never been a period in our history as a church, when united and vigorous action was more imperatively demanded, and never a time when the friends of this cause had greater encouragement to labour than at the present.

* The reports on this subject were not full when this was written; the number is doubtless much larger.

FUNDS.—The whole amount of funds, at the disposal of the Board during the year, including about twenty-five hundred dollars raised, and disbursed by the Synod of Mississippi, exceeds fifty thousand dollars. The amount paid out, including what was paid by the Synod of Mississippi, exceeds forty-seven thousand dollars, leaving a balance on hand, at the close of the year, of about three thousand dollars. But little expense has been incurred in the collection of funds; the great amount of the whole has been expended in the support of missionaries. The whole amount is an increase over the last year of nearly, or quite nine thousand dollars.

In conclusion, we would remind the pastors in our churches, and all the friends of this cause, of their great and constantly increasing responsibility in relation to Domestic Missions. It cannot be too often repeated, that the work of supplying this country with gospel privileges is committed to American Christians; it is a special trust to the churches in this land; and for the wise and faithful discharge of this all-important trust, God will unquestionably hold us to a strict accountability. This is truly a great work, requiring all our energies and resources, and every year this work is increasing, both in magnitude and importance. Think for a moment of the vast extent of the missionary field in this land, and the immense moral wastes found in all portions of this vast country. Look at the amazing rapidity with which our population increases, and the constant spreading of that population to take possession of new lands. Ponder well the peculiar obligation resting on Christians in this land to furnish the whole population with the means of knowing the way of life. Look at the alarming spread of the most dangerous and destructive errors, which threaten to sweep away every thing that is valuable to us, both in Church and State; and bear in mind, that for these alarming evils, the gospel furnishes the only effectual remedy; and that the same gospel can alone secure to our people the invaluable blessings of civil and religious liberty here, and prepare them for a blessed immortality. Look at the great contest which is now going on, in this land, between the powers of darkness and the kingdom of light, and the peculiar interest the Presbyterian Church has in this contest. Think seriously of the present alarming crisis in our land, and of the incalculable value of the present time in the work of Domestic Missions; and in view of all these momentous considerations, with the eye of our redeeming God upon us, and the realities of the judgment before us, let each decide for himself what is expected of him in this work.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Abstract of the Annual Report, May, 1845.

This General Assembly terminates the twenty-fifth year of the Board of Education. Since the last report, seventy-one new candidates have been received upon the funds, making the whole number aided from the beginning; just FIFTEEN HUNDRED.

The number under the care of the Board during the last year, has been FOUR HUNDRED AND ELEVEN. Of these there have been,

In their Theological course,	137
In nineteen Colleges,	162
In their Academical course,	68
Under the immediate care of Presbyteries, and stage of study not reported,	13
Teaching to procure funds,	31

Total, 411.

No less than FIFTY-FIVE of these have now finished their course of studies with credit, and gone into the field of active usefulness.

The Board have steadily carried out their determination to raise the standard of requirement both as to talents and piety, so as to present to the churches for their support, only such as may be relied upon as worthy of full confidence. Thirteen young men have consequently ceased to receive aid, not because they were destitute of qualifications, but merely because they fell short of the present elevated standard. The fixed policy of the Board is to withdraw their support, and throw them upon their own resources, whenever a serious doubt is raised as to their fitness. In nearly every case where this has been done, during the last four years, the candidates had been taken up during the first stage of their studies, and generally quite early in life. It deserves to be specially remarked, 1, that the number of these is so small, that two cents out of every dollar, will cover the whole loss arising from this source: and 2, that the education thus imparted is worth far more than it costs, even where the individuals never enter the ministry at all.

In regard to the character of those who have been introduced, into the sacred office, through the agency of the Board, the report contains the following remarkable facts. 1. While they are filling some of the most commanding positions in our Church, they have furnished about two-thirds of our Foreign Missionaries, and more than one-half of those who are toiling in the same service among the destitutions of our own land. 2. While they have aided in all fifteen hundred young men, and from thirty-five to fifty-five have entered the ministry annually for the last ten years, yet of all the ministers without charge in our connexion, as shown by the Minutes of the Assembly, only nine were ever aided by the Board at all; and of these nine, only two received over $200.

The amount of resources at the command of the Board during the year, as shown by the Treasurer's Report, was $34,062 61. This is exclusive of the receipts of such Presbyterian and Synodical Education Societies, as do not report through the Board. It is also exclusive of a large amount of funds raised and paid to beneficiaries by individuals and churches, over and above the allowance fixed by the rules of the Board. Besides these two items, there are scholarships for the benefit of candidates for the ministry, in connexion with several of our Institutions, which yield from four to six thousand dollars a year. These are all part and parcel of the Education scheme of the Presbyterian Church. And still further, large sums have been collected during the last year, for the endowment of Professorships in our Institutions, with a view to the same objects, viz. to bring the expenses of ministerial education within the reach of the pious and gifted among the poor. The total amount contributed during the past year for all these purposes, bearing directly upon the same object, must have exceeded one hundred thousand dollars.

BOARD OF PUBLICATION.

Abstract of the Annual Report, for 1845.

During the year ending March 30, 1845, the Presbyterian Board of Publication have added to their catalogue twenty-eight new books, amounting in all to 53,000 copies, varying in size from royal-octavo to 32mo., and in price, from $4 to 4 cents. Of these works, eighteen are Sabbath School books, peculiarly suited in style, size and price, for the use of children.

They have also printed 71,500 volumes of new editions from stereotype plates.

From the above statement, the Assembly will perceive that a majority of the works issued during the year have been of the smaller kind, and designed more especially for children and youth. So great has been the demand for books of this description from the beginning, that the Board have deemed it their duty to increase the number as fast as they could obtain such as, in their opinion, were suited to this purpose.

Among their late selections for the juvenile reader, will be found some of the most attractive, as well as useful, that have appeared on their list.

The beautiful edition of Bunyan, which was announced in the last Report as then about to be issued, has been received with the highest favour by the public. Gratifying testimonials of its acceptance have been given not only by the commendation of the press, but in the ready sale of between two and three thousand copies. They have also in the press an elegant quarto edition of this popular and useful work.

At the suggestion of some friends of the Board, they published a cheaper edition of this and of several other works on their catalogue, to bring them within the reach of those whose restricted means would preclude them from obtaining books in the better and more costly form.

But the limited demand for the cheaper and inferior volumes has confirmed the Board in the opinion, that they have best consulted the taste and judgment, as well as the advantage of the church in the superior character and style of their publications, notwithstanding the small additional expense.

The amount of moneys received during the last year, including a balance in the treasury at the date of last Report, is $37,527.71.

From the report of the Treasurer, the Assembly will be happy to learn that the financial department of the Board is still managed with prudence and fidelity. Since the date of the last Report, they have leased for a term of years a large and commodious edifice in the vicinity of their former location. The fitting up of this building involved some expense, but the increasing business of the Board had made enlarged accommodations indispensable; and the new building is admirably adapted to the purposes of the Institution.

The Reports of both the Publishing Agent and the Treasurer will show that the labours of the Board have been attended with success.

By a rigid adherence to the terms of sale which were early adopted and widely circulated, while their business has greatly increased, they have been enabled to obey the injunction of a former Assembly, to preserve their funds from loss, and also to keep on hand such a capital as will enable them to manage their concerns to the greatest advantage. It is still a subject of regret, however, that a more extended and cordial obedience has not been rendered to another most important resolution of the same Assembly, namely, "That it be earnestly recommended to every Presbytery, or at least to every Synod, to establish a depository, which shall be their own property, by collecting on such a plan as they may deem best, a sufficient sum of money to fill the depository on the principle of cash purchase."

The Board would reiterate in this Report the sentiments of their last: that the only feasible mode in which the usefulness and efficiency of this Institution can be best promoted, is by systematic, vigorous, and persevering efforts in doing what this resolution commends.

The Board moreover would respectfully invite the attention of the Assembly to another subject very closely connected with the pecuniary interests of the Institution. By their want of corporate capacities they are liable to losses of money which might come into their hands, had they legal authority to recover and hold it.

They would therefore suggest to the Assembly the expediency of authorizing them to apply, at such time as they may think proper, to legislative authority for corporate powers, in such form as may by them be thought advisable, to receive and collect legacies bequeathed, and other gifts made to the Board.

With regard to the recommendation of the Assembly of 1843, on the subject of "publishing the Minutes of the Assembly from its first meeting in the year 1789," the Board have only to state, that the responses to their circular letter sent to all the Presbyteries requesting their opinion and co-operation, are not such as to justify them in undertaking a work which must absorb so large a portion of their funds, without any reasonable prospect of their being recovered for years to come, if at all, from the proceeds of its sale.

The Board would again take occasion to express in behalf of the church, their grateful acknowledgments to those benevolent friends by whose continued and increasing liberality, they have not only been furnished with the means of publishing many valuable works at a greatly reduced cost, but have been enabled to supply gratuitously more than twenty-three congregations with libraries, comprising the whole or a part of the books which they have hitherto issued.

In conclusion, while the Board would recognize with gratitude the signal favour of God during another year of prosperity, they would solicit for themselves as well as for the Institution entrusted to their management, an habitual remembrance in the prayers of the Assembly. The number of volumes published by the Board is 186, which may be purchased for $96, or with the discount for cash, for $73.

CHURCH EXTENSION.

Abstract of the First Report, for 1845.

The last General Assembly committed a new work to their Board of Missions—to aid feeble churches in the erection of houses for worship.

As soon as was practicable after the adjournment of the Assembly, the Board called a special meeting, and adopted prompt and energetic measures to carry into full effect the order of the Assembly on this subject. A separate Committee on Church Extension was appointed, and a strong appeal was made to all our Presbyteries and churches. A number of the Presbyteries have taken order on the subject, and have appointed their committees. But we have to regret that the churches have almost totally failed in furnishing means for carrying forward this work. To a very few individuals, of distinguished liberality; has the Church Extension Committee been indebted for the means of doing any thing for this cause. The Committee have prosecuted their work with vigour; a vast amount of valuable information has been obtained; and in proportion to the means at command, much good has been accomplished.

The whole amount of funds received for this object during the year has been $3670.50. Of this amount, there was contributed by the churches $67.50. Appropriations have been made to aid forty congregations in the erection of church edifices. The Committee have also had prepared plans and estimates for church buildings of four different sizes.

The short experience which the Board have had in this work has been sufficient to satisfy them, that if the churches generally would take an interest in the object, and furnish the necessary means, a vast amount of good might be accomplished. Their correspondence on this subject has clearly developed this important fact, that in most sections of our country, and more especially in our new States, the growth and permanent establishment of churches depend essentially on their having convenient houses in which to assemble for the worship of God. This work, therefore, if prosecuted with vigour, cannot but be viewed as an important auxiliary to the missionary work; at the same time, it should be distinctly understood, the work cannot be prosecuted to advantage unless a much more general and a much deeper interest is taken in it by the churches. On the present plan, it is believed a vast amount of good might be accomplished, if pastors and the churches generally would engage heartily in the work; and, for the present, the plan which has been adopted is probably as good as any which could be suggested.

From the report of the Church Extension Committee made to the last Assembly, it is gratifying to observe that a commencement has been made which augurs favourably for the future. The success of such an enterprise must necessarily be gradual. Time and effort are required to bring it fully before the churches. The Committee have not been negligent; they have acted with spirit, and if properly supported, they will make this one of the favourite schemes of the Church. The amount contributed by churches for this fund has indeed been nominal, but with the aid of some generous donors, a number of feeble congregations have been assisted in erecting houses of worship. We wish to revive attention to this enterprise, and we earnestly urge our churches to sustain it. During the present year let collections be made in all our churches, and however inconsiderable the amount from each, the aggregate sum will enable the Committee to accomplish a vast amount of good. It should be recollected that the amount given to any one feeble church is just sufficient to stimulate their efforts, and not enough to induce them indolently to rely upon the help of others. We hope the religious papers of our Church will lend their influence to this cause, the success of which will so materially tend to enlarge the borders of our Zion.

SUMMARY VIEW OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH FOR THE ECCLESIASTICAL YEAR 1844—45.

During the last ecclesiastical year the three new Presbyteries of Buffalo City, Fort Wayne and New Orleans, have been organized and duly recognized.

There have been added to the Church during the same period, seven thousand three hundred and twenty-nine communicants on profession of their faith, and five thousand and seventy-six on certificate, making the whole number of communicants at present one hundred and seventy one thousand, eight hundred and seventy-nine.

There have also been reported :

Baptism of Adults,	-	-	-	-	-	1929
“ of Children,	-	-	-	-	-	9608
Licensures,	-	-	-	-	-	69

John L. Montgomery,	Louisiana.
Horace Beach,	“
A. W. Kilpatrick	Chickasaw.
James M. Covington,	Potosi.
Robert G. Barret,	“
Alexander Boyd,	Northumberland.

This mortality among the Clergy is nearly double of last year.*

*Since the above list was prepared the following deaths have occurred.

Robert B. Bellville,	New Castle.
Edw. Pharr,	Hopewell.
Samuel Martin, D. D.	Donegal.

The whole number of ministers now in the Presbyterian church is fifteen hundred and sixty-two; the whole number of Churches, two thousand two hundred and twenty-nine.

The amount collected for different benevolent objects as far as reported is two hundred and seventy thousand two hundred and eight dollars.

It is necessary again to state that from the defective character of many of the reports these several totals are only to be regarded as an approximation to the true state of the facts. Thus, as a single item, upwards of eighty thousand dollars have been received for Foreign Missions, as seen by the report of the Board, while less than fifty-two thousand are reported in the statistical tables of the Presbyteries.

PRESBYTERIAN FREE CHURCH OF SCOTLAND.

The Free Church of Scotland have had in the two years of their organized existence, a success altogether unprecedented. In that period three millions six hundred and twenty-five dollars have been subscribed, paid, and expended by this Church in its various religious schemes. This does not include $305,000 subscribed for building school houses, and for the endowment of their new college, which would swell the amount to nearly four millions! Where can a parallel be found? The Scotsman newspaper gives the following summary of the financial affairs of the Church.

"In the short space of two years, 530 churches have been erected, at an expense of L.335,000 of which L.235,000 is already paid. There are 70 other churches in progress, which will be completed in the present year; and it is assumed, that 140 in addition to these will ultimately be wanted, raising the whole number of congregations in connexion with the Free Church to 740. This is exclusive of 42 quoad sacra churches, possession of which is disputed by the Establishment. The whole sum collected for church building is L.320,000. Last year the Sustentation Fund produced L.52,500, yielding the ministers then employed about L.100 a year each. In the present year the produce of the fund is L.75,500, yielding each clergyman L.122. This allowance from the Central Fund is a guaranty to the ministers of the weaker congregations against extreme poverty, but each congregation is expected to add to, or "supplement," the allowance in proportion to its means, and the duty is rarely neglected. Indeed, we believe that most of the clergymen in towns are as well paid in the Free Church as they were in the Establishment, though their brethren in thinly peopled districts are of course less fortunate. In addition to the sums mentioned, about L.100,000 has been raised for missions in the two years, and L.120,000 more for what is called the Congregational Fund. Altogether the sum

Thy Lamb's full glory, and the light
Poured from the King of kings !
How soft on veiling wings it falls
Of those celestial choirs,
That stand around the throne, and burn
With Love's seraphic fires.

There Love reigns in its utmost bliss,
For God is all in all ;
They love and praise, nor ever cease,
Nor feel distracting thrall ;
But in and out thy gates of pearl,
They shining do appear ;
Their songs float o'er the jasper walls
All ravishingly clear !

How happy shall I be, O Lord,
If, when this body dies,
To that Celestial Harmony
My blessed soul may rise !
If I may hear the Hymns of Praise
To their Eternal King,
Which troops of Angels and of Saints
For ever there do sing.

There the melodious Angel-bands,
Sweet fellowship of Heaven !
There the triumphant souls to whom
The Crown of Life is given !
O joyful pomp, when from their tears,
And trials of the way,
The exiles do return from Earth,
Home to their native day !

O goodly fellowship of saints !
O prophets taught of old !
The blessed twelve Apostles there,
The leaders of Christ's fold !
The Martyrs' noble army there,
In glorious array,
The Holy Virgins, in white robes,
All fairer than the day !

O glorious Metropolis !
Thou Holy Mother dear !
My soul is ravished with thy bliss,
How can I linger here ?
O mother dear, Jerusalem !
My soul longs after thee,
When will my Captain take me up,
Thy glorious grace to see !

PLENARY INSPIRATION.

Inspiration, absolute, plenary, and perfect, is attributed to the sacred writings in every part; it was promised to the Apostles, is invariably asserted by them, and was necessary in the discharge of the trust confided to them. "I will give you," said the Saviour to them, "a mouth and wisdom." (Luke xxi. 15.) "It shall be given you in that same hour what ye shall speak."—(Matt. x. 19.) "The Holy Ghost shall teach you what ye ought to say." (Luke xii. 12.) "It is not ye that speak, but the Holy Ghost." (Mark xiii. 11.) Of the many things which Jesus had "yet to say," (John xvi. 12,) the Holy Ghost was to tell them; He was to "speak what he should hear," (ver. 13,) to "guide them into all truth," to "bring all things to their remembrance," (John xiv. 26,) and "abide with them for ever." (ver. 16.) We accordingly find them speaking "as the Spirit gave them utterance," (Acts. ii. 4,) and preaching "the word of God with all boldness" when filled with the Holy Ghost. If this inspiration was necessary to render the Apostles infallible teachers, the qualification was equally requisite, in the written rule left to supply their presence, as in their personal ministry; and by this means we have their verbal instruction still. If commissioned absolutely "to bind and to loose," with the promised ratification of their every decree, we find that it is equally "the word spoken by Christ," (John xii. 48,) and "the gospel" preached by his Apostles, (Rom. ii. 16,) according to which mankind are to be ultimately judged; as in their oral instruction, (Luke x. 16,) so we find concerning their written directions, (1 Thess. iv. 8,) that "he who despiseth, despiseth not man but God;" solemn denunciations against corrupters of the permanent code left to the Church, are annexed to every part of it, (Deut. iv. 2, Prov. xxx. 6. Rev. xxii. 18,) while it is declared, (Matt. iv. 4,) that man liveth "by every word which proceedeth out of the mouth of God." We find the Apostles, then, appealing to what they taught in what they wrote, and placing their entire instructions upon the same footing with the sermons and writings recognized by our Saviour as forming the Canonical Scriptures of his ancient Church. It was to stir up the minds of Christians that St. Peter wrote his second Epistle, (c. iii. 2,) that they might be mindful of the words spoken before by the holy prophets, and of the commandment of the Apostles;" the secret mystery was made manifest (Rom. xvi. 26,) by Paul's Gospel, and "by the Scriptures of the prophets," while the unteachable and unstable wrested his writings (i. e. the writings in which were contained the things wrested, some being hard to be understood—the writings of both Peter and Paul,) like the other Scriptures, to their own destruction. (2 Pet. iii. 16.) They assert, moreover, the full inspiration of their office. Paul spoke "according to the wisdom given him," (2 Pet. iii. 15,) not in "words which man's wisdom" taught, (1 Cor. ii. 13,) but "the wisdom of God," (v. 7,) "which the Holy Ghost teacheth." It was by reading that the disciples (Ephes. iii. 3,) were to understand his knowledge in the revealed mystery of Christ,—that Gospel which he "was taught only by revelation." (Gal. i. 12.) He had "the mind of Christ, (1 Cor. ii. 16,) "spoke in the person of the Lord Jesus, (c. v. 4, and 2 Cor. ii. 10,)—gave commandments in his name, (1 Thess. iv. 2,) exhorted to "hold fast the form of sound words which had been heard," (2 Tim. i. 13,)—declared "that he wrote no other things" than the disciples acknowledged; and when they sought "a proof of Christ's speaking in" him, (2 Cor. xiii. 3,) bid them believe that he was the same in word by letters, and in deed when present,

(c. x. 11.); making it a proof of spiritual discernment, (1 Cor. xiv. 37,) to receive the things written by him as "the commandments of the Lord." Thus it was that the Apostles spake and wrote when the Lord breathed his Spirit upon them, and they had received the Holy Ghost; "the Spirit of truth" could not be given to lead the Church into error; "the word of God came to" the churches, (1 Cor. xiv. 36.) and hence it is said, in the first apostolic letter, (Acts xv. 28,) "it seemed good to the Holy Ghost and to us;" in short, their proceedings were by "the commandment of God," (1 Tim. i. 1.) God spake by them, as "by the mouth of all his prophets" since the world began, (Acts iii. 18.); no prophecy of Scripture is of private starting, (2 Pet. i. 19,) "all" that "Scripture is given by inspiration of God," (2 Tim. iii. 16.); "holy men of God" ever "spoke as they were moved by the Holy Ghost." (2 Pet. i. 21.)

We come, lastly, to consider the evidence to be adduced to this important subject from the records of the Old Testament. "I will be with thy mouth and teach thee," was the promise of God to Moses and Aaron, (Exod. iv. 15.) "The Spirit of the Lord spake by me, and his word," saith David, "was in my tongue," (2 Sam. xxiii. 2.) God uttered words by his mouth, (Acts iv. 25.) He spake "in Spirit," (Matt. xxii. 43.) "by the Holy Ghost." (Mark xii. 36.) When the prophets delivered instruction, it was because "the word of the Lord came" to them, (1 Kings vi. 11; xvi. 1. Hos. i. 1. Zep. i. 1. &c.), "the burden of the word of the Lord," (Mal. i. 1.); and hence they preface their message with the assurance of "Thus saith the Lord," and "the Lord hath spoken." (Is. i. 1.) If Balaam spoke as well as his beast, it was because "the Lord put a word in his mouth," (Num. xxiii. 5,) as he also "opened the mouth of the ass;" (c. xxii. 28,) "the word which I speak unto thee," said God, "that shalt thou speak," (v. 35,) "the word that God putteth into my mouth," said Balaam, "that shall I speak." (v. 38.) "I have put my words in thy mouth," is the testimony of the Lord to Jeremiah's prophecies. (Jer. i. 9.) "I will make my words in thy mouth fire." (c. v. 14.) "Is not my word like a fire and like a hammer?" (c. xxiii. 29.) "All my words which I shall speak unto thee, receive," and "speak with my words unto them," (Ezek. 10 and 4,) was the commission of Ezekiel. As "the Holy Ghost spake by the mouth of David," (Acts i. 16,) and "by the prophet Esaias," (c. xxviii. 25,) so it was God who spake by the mouth of all his prophets, (Luke i. 70. Acts iii. 11,) what was spoken by them was "spoken of the Lord;" (Matt. ii. 15, i. 22,) it was "the Spirit of Christ" which testified in them," (1 Pet. i. 11,) they "spoke moved by the Holy Ghost."

Agreeably to this, we find the written Scripture quoted by our Lord as of equal authority with his own divine declarations, (John v. 47,) and referred to synonymously with him from whom it originated. "Scripture saith," "what saith the Scripture," "Scripture foreseeing that God would justify the heathen through faith," (Gal. iii. 8.) "The Scripture had concluded all under sin," (c. iii. 22.) "Two, saith He, shall be one flesh." (Matt. xix. 5, and 1 Cor. vi. 16.) "He saith also in Hosea," (Rom. ix. 25.) "Of the Angels He saith," (Heb. i. 7—13,) "as the Holy Ghost saith," (c. iii. 7.) "He" (God) "saith in another Psalm," (Acts xiii. 35.) "He saith" when he ascended up on high, (Eph. iv. 8.); in short "Scripture" is referred to as "the oracles of God," (Rom. iii. 2,) a complete thing, every particle of which must be fulfilled, (John xv. 25, and Luke xxiv. 44,) not "a jot or tittle" of which can fail, (Matt. v. 18,) which "cannot be broken," (John x. 35,) of which nothing can be altered, seeing that whole arguments depend upon its separate words. (Gal. iii. 16, Heb. xii. 27, ii. 8.) It is that which in its fulness, is rendered effectual to the salvation of saints, and that by which sinners shall be at last condemned. It is "perfect and pure, converting the soul;" (Ps. xix. 7, and cxix. 140,) "of his own will begat he us with the word of truth," (James i. 18,) "believers are born of the incorruptible seed, by the word of God," (1 Pet. i. 23,) which word endureth for ever." "The sword of the Spirit," (Eph. vi. 17,) "the word which is sharper than any two-edged sword," ere it proceeded out of the Redeemer's mouth (Rev. i. 16,) was placed there by the Father. (Deut. xviii. 18.) "I will raise them up," it is written, "a Prophet, like unto thee, and will put my words into his mouth, and he shall speak unto them all that I command him." He declared this fact himself in his mediatorial character when upon earth; "the words which I speak unto you, I speak not of myself;" (John xiv. 10; xii. 49; xvii. 8,) my doctrine is not mine but his that sent me." (John vii. 16.) "I speak to the world those things which I have heard of him." (c. viii. 26.) They were the revealed words of the Godhead; the same God who in times past spake by the Prophets in the last days "spake by his Son," (Heb. i. 1,) he left "many things to say," (John xvi. 12,) which he told them the Spirit of truth should declare, "speaking not of himself but what he should hear," (v. 13) it is the same God, then, who addresses us by the Apostles, it is a continuation of the same word which was revealed through the Prophets, and which emanated from the Godhead during the days of the Redeemer's sojourn upon earth, the word of God is one, all Scripture is given by inspiration, and holy men of God ever spake moved by the Holy Ghost.

FEAST OF ATONEMENT, AT JASSY.

Early next day (Sept. 18) we sought out the synagogue again. The Jews came up to the solemnity of the atonement from the country, as they did to Jerusalem in former days. We visited twelve of their synagogues, and found all crowded with men, women, and children, in the same manner as the previous night. At one of them we saw many mothers with their children at the breast or in cradles, sitting on the outside dressed in their finest clothes. It reminded us of the fast described by Joel, "Assemble the elders, gather the children, and those that suck the breasts."* As there was not sufficient room within, many men were sitting under the shade of the walls, looking with their faces towards Jerusalem, and praying along with those inside. The floor of the synagogue was for the most part strewn with straw or hay, to add to the comfort of the worshippers in their long service; for most of them put off their shoes, the day being so holy. All day the synagogue is full of immense lighted candles. Each family provides one, and each member has a thread in the wick of the candle. These represent the soul of each person according to their interpretation of the Proverb, "The spirit of man is the candle of the Lord."† On so solemn a day as this, no Jew will touch one of these candles, even were it to fall and endanger the safety of the synagogue. To do so would be accounted servile work, and therefore they employ a Gentile servant, who is called in when any lights require to be trimmed.

In the prayers, they go over the greater part of Lev. xvi., in which the sacrifices of the day of atonement are described. The rest of the service consists in reading a Hebrew poem, of which we were assured that most of the worshippers scarcely understood one word, because it is most difficult Hebrew. Yet all were engaged in reading it aloud. Sometimes they came to a chant, when the deep bass voice of the chanter was contrasted with the tenor voices of a few young men; the effect was often very plaintive, and sometimes ludicrous. Again and again the whole congregation broke in with "Amen," pronounced "Omain." Many of the men seemed already quite wearied with their worship, or rather with their bodily exercise, and many had their eyes red and swollen with weeping; a good number of the married men wore the halukah, or white shirt of the rabbis. Among the women, some were weeping, and others sobbing aloud. A few boys were as seriously engaged as their elders.—Jewish Mission.

* Joel ii. 16.

† Proverbs xx. 27.

PROCESSION OF THE LAW IN THE JEWISH SYNAGOGUE AT JAGLINSKY.

At length the service began. The room by this time was crowded to excess; and the glare and heat of the large candles became very unpleasant. After a short prayer, the persons were called up who were to engage in the procession, to each of whom was entrusted a roll of the Law, which he carried in his arms. They are called up according to the alphabetical order of their names, he who presides using these words as he names each, ten kavod letorah, "Give honour to the Law." The first company being thus called up and arranged, and all the copies of the Torah in the ark being placed in their hands, the old rabbi began the dance. The signal for commencing was given (somewhat profanely) in the words of Exodus, "Speak unto the children of Israel that they go forward."* Immediately they began to move slowly round the synagogue, all present chanting a prayer. Soon the singing became louder, and the movements of the worshippers more rapid. They clapped their hands, shouted, and finally danced with all their might, dandling the roll of the Law in their arms. The old grey-haired rabbi danced with the most vehement gestures, while all sung, leaped, and clapped their hands, till the whole synagogue was one scene of indescribable confusion. When one company had danced till they were weary, others were called up to form a second, until all the members of the synagogue had shared in it. Such is a specimen of "The procession of the Law"—tekuphath Torah, intended to give honour to the Word of the Living God. But the chief joy is reserved for the morrow. What a caricature is this on David's "dancing before the Lord with all his might!" and what a contrast to David's calm delight in the word of God, "O how love I thy law, it is my meditation all the day." A religious service more silly or childish could scarcely be imagined. We were again reminded of the sure word of prophecy, "I will give children to be their princes, and babes shall rule over them."*—Jewish Mission, published by the Board of Publication.

* Exodus xiv. 15.

BEQUESTS.

FORM OF A DEVISE OR BEQUEST TO THE BOARD OF PUBLICATION.

I give, devise and bequeath to Alexander W. Mitchell, M. D., of the city of Philadelphia, in the state of Pennsylvania, his heirs, executors, administrators and assigns, the sum of _____ in trust nevertheless for the Presbyterian Board of Publication; constituted by the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, at their sessions held at Philadelphia, in the state of Pennsylvania, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and thirty-eight, to be applied by the said Board to the uses and purposes for which the said Board was so as aforesaid established.

FORM OF A DEVISE OR BEQUEST TO THE BOARD OF EDUCATION.

I give and devise to the Trustees of the Board of Education of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, the sum of _____ to be applied by said Board to the Education of pious and indigent Young Men for the Gospel Ministry.

Form of a Devise or Bequest to the General Assembly's Board of Missions.

To the Trustees of the Board of Missions of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, and to their successors and assigns, I give and bequeath the sum of _____, or I devise a certain messuage, and tract of land, &c. to be held by the said Trustees, and their successors for ever, to and for the uses, and under the direction of the said Board of Missions of the said General Assembly, according to the provisions of their charter.

FORM OF A BEQUEST TO THE BOARD OF FOREIGN MISSIONS.

I bequeath to my Executors the sum of _____ dollars in trust to pay over the same, in _____ after my decease, to the person who, when the same shall be payable, shall act as Treasurer of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, to be applied to the uses and purposes of said Board, and under its direction, and the receipt of the said Treasurer shall be a full and legal acquittance of my said Executors for the same.

When bequests are made to the respective Boards, let the foregoing forms be carefully observed. Legacies are often lost to the cause which the testator designs to aid, by a defect in the will. When real estate or other property is to be given, let it be particularly described.

Eclipses in the Year 1847.

There will be two of the Sun and two of the Moon.

1. Moon eclipsed at the time of full Moon, March 31, in the afternoon, invisible in America. Visible in the Eastern Hemisphere. Magnitude, 3.43 digits on the Moon's northern limb.

2. Sun eclipsed at the time of New Moon, April 15, in the morning, likewise invisible in America. Its chief visibility will be in the Indian Ocean and the adjacent regions of the Southern Ocean, extending to 30° of south latitude. It will be visible (wholly or in part) at the Cape of Good Hope, Madagascar, Australia, New Guinea, Borneo, Sumatra, Java, and the lesser neighboring islands. It will be central and total on the meridian, in long. $59^{\circ} 58'$ east from Greenwich, and lat. $24^{\circ} 29'$ south. Magnitude at the Cape of Good Hope, 6.73 digits on the Sun's southern limb.

3. Moon eclipsed September 24, at the time of Full Moon in the morning, invisible eastward of the Rocky Mountains in America. The beginning may be seen in California and Oregon; and at Alaska, as likewise in Asia, the whole Eclipse will be visible. Magnitude, 5.64 digits on the Moon's southern limb.

4. Sun eclipsed on Saturday, October 9th, at the time of New Moon in the morning, invisible in America, excepting the north-eastern coast of Greenland, where the ending may be seen shortly after the rising of the Sun. It will be visible in Europe, the greater part of Asia, and the northern part of Africa. It will be central and annular on the meridian in longitude $47^{\circ} 11'$ east from Greenwich, and latitude $31^{\circ} 22'$ north. It will be annular in the south parts of Great Britain and Ireland, and in the north of France. The centre of the penumbra will pass very little south of Cardigan, about 15 miles south of Exeter, in England, and about the like distance north of Brest, in France, while the annular phase of the Eclipse will extend more than 100 miles on each side of each of the centre. Thus it will be annular at Limerick, Wexford, Waterford, Cork, and Kinsale in Ireland; at Cardigan and Swansea, in south Wales; at Bristol, Gloucester, Dover, Portsmouth, and Plymouth, and other towns in the south part of England; and at Calais, Boulogne, Havre, Honfleur, Caen, and Cherbourg on the neighboring coast of France. Magnitude at Baltimore, 10.87 digits on the Sun's southern limb; at Brest, 10.87 digits on the northern limb.

Word on Eclipses.

The Moon, in an Eclipse, is really deprived of light by falling into the shadow of the Earth, and therefore the quantity and duration of the Eclipse are precisely the same for all places that have the Moon at the time above their horizons. There is no difference except in the local time. But in Eclipses of the Sun there is a difference in absolute time, in duration and magnitude, &c. between different places. One place may have an annular or total Eclipse; another, with the Sun high in the heavens, may at the same time have no Eclipse at all, and none during the day.

Notes to the Reader.

The Calendar page in this Almanac is adapted for use in every part of the United States. It is based on the fact, that, in the same Latitude, that is, on a line running due east and west, the Sun and Moon rise and set at the same moment by the clock or Almanac, not only throughout the United States, but around the world—the variations being so small as to be of no importance for ordinary purposes. Thus, if on any day the Sun rises at Boston at 5 minutes past 6, it rises at 5 minutes past 6 on the same line of latitude westward throughout the States of Massachusetts, New-York, and Michigan, and so on to the Pacific Ocean.

Hence, a Calendar adapted to Boston for New England, is equally adapted, as to the rising and setting of the Sun and Moon, for use in Northern New-York and Michigan. A Calendar for New-York city is adapted for use in the States of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. A Calendar for Baltimore is adapted for Virginia, Kentucky, and Missouri. And a Calendar for Charleston will answer for North Carolina, Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama and Louisiana.

Wherever, then, the reader may reside, by looking for the State at the top of the Calendar page, he will find underneath the rising and setting of the Sun and Moon sufficiently accurate for all practical purposes.

The changes, falls and quarters of the Moon, however, are governed by another principle, and are essentially the same for all places on the same Longitude, that is, on any line extending due north and south. Thus, the Moon's phases for Charleston suit Pittsburgh, &c. Any phasis takes place at the same instant of absolute time; but the local time is earlier at the westward, and later at the eastward, at the rate of four minutes for each degree of Longitude; or at the rate of one minute for every 12 miles 273 rods in the latitude of Boston; 13 miles 60 rods in the latitude of New-York city; 13 miles 143 rods in the latitude of Baltimore; and 14 miles 199 rods in the latitude of Charleston.

The Sun's declination, as masters of coasting vessels will observe, is adapted in this calendar to the Meridian of New-York city. The declination varies most rapidly about the time of the equinoxes; but even then, it changes but 1' while the sun is passing from the meridian of New-York to that of New Orleans or St. Louis. The column of sun's declination is therefore designed, like the days of the week and month, for general use throughout the country.

Clock Time—Predictions of the Weather.

This Almanac shows the rising and the setting of the Sun, &c. according to a clock that keeps accurate time throughout the year. As the Sun is alternately fast and slow of clock, the forenoon will of course be, by clock, longer or shorter than the afternoon. Some observing this, think they have found an error in the Almanac; but it is no error. The Table, "Sun on the Meridian," at the head of the Calendar pages, shows at what moment the sun, according to a true clock, is on the meridian, or strikes an accurate noon-mark. The London Nautical Almanac, and a large portion of the Almanacs in our country, are now adapted to true, or clock time.

Predictions of the Weather.—It ought to be known that predictions of the weather are inserted in Almanacs according to the convenience of the printer, not by the Astronomer. No man can minutely predict the state of the weather for the coming year.

The Sabbath not a gloomy day.

There are some who think the Sabbath a morose and gloomy day. But what a mistake. What is there gloomy in contemplating the work of creation, commemorated by the Sabbath? What is there sad or morose in the day that reminds one of the resurrection of our Lord Jesus Christ from the dead, and his exaltation to his mediatorial throne? How can that day be gloomy which is devoted to the study of infinite beauty, revealing itself to our gaze in order to win our admiration? How can the worship of God in his purity, love, wisdom and goodness be sad? How can that day be sad which brings to us the most precious promises, and is itself the type of heaven?

Is it sad to rest from six days of toil, confusion and trouble, and appropriate one to bodily repose and wholesome intellectual and spiritual refreshment? Is it sad to be warranted by the voice of God, and the general voice of society, to leave the cares and anxieties of life, and rise to the dignity and delight of healthful leisure? Is it sad to have the domestic altar and hearth surrounded by happy families, or to throng the sanctuary with neighbors, relations and fellow-citizens?

The Sabbath kept according to its real design is not a gloomy day, but a day of joy for all people. Then "the wicked cease from troubling, and the weary are at rest." It is a friend of the fatherless, and makes the widow's heart sing for joy. Its light is like the fruit of that mysterious vine which maketh glad the heart of God and man.

The Progress of Invention.

It is but about half a century since Robert Fulton first applied the wonderful agency of steam to the propelling of boats. Now it is stated that the entire European capital in steamboats is $140,000,000. Of the English 1,300 boats, not fewer than 700 are sea-boats. It is less than thirty years since the first steamer navigated a German river. The steam navigation of the Rhine did not begin till 1827, nor that of the Upper Elbe till 1837. How significantly does the progress of society in the arts, and the means of intercommunication foreshadow the coming of the day when "many shall run to and fro, and knowledge shall be increased!" Ours are times full of the seeds of future wonders. How thoughtfully should the influence which we may exert after we are dead, be put forth at such a time.

Not Ready!—A pastor states that during the closing service one Sabbath, his eye rested on a lovely youth. He soon approached him, and exhorted him to repentance and faith on the Lord Jesus Christ. He replied, "I am not ready now, but in two weeks I am resolved to seek the salvation of my soul." A few days after his minister was summoned to visit him upon a bed of sickness. He said to the minister, "I was invited to the Savior at the meeting of the Sabbath, I replied that I was not ready then, and now I am not ready to die." On a subsequent visit the dying youth exclaimed, "I was not ready to seek God at the meeting, I was not ready to die when the message came, and now I am not ready to lie down in hell! My two weeks have not yet elapsed, when I hoped to have made my peace with God, and sickness, death and hell have overtaken me, and I am for ever lost."

Cost of War.

Some idea of the enormous waste which war occasions is to be obtained by the expenditures of Great Britain during sixty-five years of war, in which she has been engaged in modern times. She borrowed, in seven wars, which occupied the 65 years, £834,000,000. In the same time she raised by taxes £1,189,000,000, thus forming a total expenditure of $8,982,120,000 in our currency. This enormous sum, extorted from the taut-strained sinews of labor, would have constructed a railroad around the globe, allowing $25,000 per mile! To raise another such sum would require a tax of $10 on every human being on the globe! The interest of this sum for one month, at five per cent, exceeds the whole amount contributed by the whole christian world for preaching the Gospel to the heathen for the last thousand years!

Be Liberal.

Let it be remembered that the patriarch Abraham gave one-tenth of all his possessions to religious uses, and so did Jacob, and many of the other Old Testament worthies. And it is worthy of notice that the Jews, who, as a nation, gave more to religious purposes than any other people, were, as a nation more prosperous and wealthy than any other that ever existed. Even the heathen—the Arabians, according to Xenophon and Herodotus—gave no less than a tenth part of every thing to sacred uses. And shall the christian do less for God than did the Jews under the old dispensation, or the heathen for their idols?

A Lake of Blood.—Dr. Dick estimates the number of those who have perished directly or indirectly by war, at 14,000,000,000. Elihu Burritt, the learned blacksmith, has taken the estimates of Dr. Dick, and estimating the average quantity of blood in a common sized person, states that the blood in the veins of those fourteen thousand millions would fill a circular lake of more than seventeen miles in circumference, and ten feet deep, in which all the navies of the world might float.

Lawful Plunder.—The poet Tasso once being told that he had an opportunity of taking advantage of a bitter enemy—"I wish not to plunder him," said he; "but there are things which I wish to take from him—not his honor, his wealth, nor his life, but his ill will."

A Scene to be encountered.

What a scene, exclaimed the pious Legh Richmond, does eternity present!—the years of life past—early connections dissolved—the secrets of all hearts laid open—souls saved or lost—Christ a frowning Judge or a welcome Savior—all mistakes and errors in religion at an end—every false foundation undermined—a world in flames, and consumed as though it had never been—time itself no more—eternal ages of ages rolling on in ceaseless bliss or woe—who is sufficient to speak even, on these things?

Home, Sweet Home!

Home! it is the paradise of Infancy, the tower of defence to Youth, the retreat for Manhood, the city of refuge for Old Age! Recollections, associations, cluster round it—O, how thickly! Enjoyments are tasted there whose relish never dies from the memory. Affections spring and grow there, through all the turns and overturns of life, and which last on, stronger than death. The thought of its early innocence has kindled anew the flame of virtue—almost smothered beneath a heavy mass of follies and crimes. The vision of Home has come upon the soul of him who was dying in a foreign land, and made him feel that he would die willingly could he breathe his last breath in the midst of the familiar looks and tender voices of Home. The thought of this one spot has put a courage into the heart, a power into the arm, that has driven back the invader from the land; or else led men, freely, to moisten with their blood the soil they could not save.

An Honest Rum-seller's Notice.

If the man who takes a license and opens a house for the sale of intoxicating liquors, were truly and honestly to set forth the nature and effects of his business, like any other honest tradesman, what a singular advertisement would he present. It would apprise the public of some solemn and frightful things, like the following:

I shall open a shop for the purpose of making drunkards, paupers and beggars, for the sober industrious and respectable part of the community to support. I shall deal in that which will excite men to deeds of riot, robbery and blood. I shall diminish the comforts, augment the expenses, and endanger the welfare of the community. I shall prepare victims for the asylum, the poor-house, the prison and the gallows. I shall dispense the cause of more accidents, diseases, failures and deaths than any other that can be named. I shall aim to deprive men of reason, property, peace, home, respect, life and heaven. I shall do that which will turn fathers into fiends; wives to widows; children to orphans, and all to mendicants. I shall corrupt the minister of religion; obstruct the progress of the Gospel; defile the purity of the church; tempt, deceive and ruin souls; and spread abroad temporal, spiritual and eternal death.

This would be an honest announcement of his aim and influence—for such undeniably is the general tendency of that traffic which seeks gain at the expense of all that is good in the life that now is or that which is to come. But who would dare to look such a business in the face and still continue in it?

Mile-stones of Piety.

Life goes rapidly on; does it show the evidence that it is leading to heaven and to God? Is it a mere passage, or a real progress? Are you growing really and radically better as you grow older? Are you more penitent and kind; more meek, humble, obedient; more diligent and self-denying; more anxious about being what you ought to be? Are you better able to stand against scorn and contempt without; and against fretfulness and despondency within? Are your views of truth clearer and more consolatory; your love of God and the Savior stronger and more abiding; your longing after holiness more intense; your hatred of sin more ardent and pervading? Does truth seem more precious; heaven more desirable; God's law more lovely? Is labor for Christ more pleasant; the sanctuary more attractive; God's people more agreeable? Is your charity enlarged; your service more single-eyed; your life more pure; your example more holy; your hope brighter? If the christian's path shines brighter and brighter as it advances, such should be the experience of every child of God. And if an honest something finds no favorable response to queries like these, ought there not to be great searchings of heart? Be not deceived, God is not mocked.

Never be behind-hand.

The old maxim is, "Strike while the iron is hot." Thousands of fortunes have been lost, lives sacrificed and souls ruined by neglecting this simple rule, never to be behind-hand. Some men are always in arrears. Their house-rent, pew-tax, butcher's bill, every thing pertaining to business, duty, interest, is put off till its performance becomes irksome, or difficult or impossible. Some treat their souls with the same indifference—putting off the day of preparation till repentance becomes impossible, and their eternal doom is fixed. Let the man just starting in life settle it as one of his cardinal principles of action—never to postpone till to-morrow what ought to be done to-day. To-morrow may never come. It belongs to God, and you have no right to reckon on it. When the opportunity presents to buy the article you need, accept it at once: to-morrow it may be worth double.

"The old Scythians

Painted blind Fortune's powerful hand with wings,

To show her gifts come swift and suddenly,

Which if her favorite be not swift to take,

He loses them for ever."

Deceive not yourself by hopes of the future, but take hold firmly and promptly on present duty. There is no other way to insure success; no other to escape certain ruin. Where one dollar is gained by neglect, thousands are lost. Where one golden opportunity for repentance is gained by delay, thousands of souls are ruined and are left to deplore, amidst the blackness of darkness for ever, the misery and folly of their neglect.

The Treasures of the Wicked.

Every man is treasuring up stores for eternity:—the good are laying up “treasures in heaven, where moth doth not corrupt;”—the evil and impenitent are “treasuring up wealth against the day of wrath.” What an idea is this! Treasures of wrath! Whatever the impenitent man is doing, he is treasuring up wrath. He may be getting wrath; but he is treasuring up wrath. He may be getting fame; but he is treasuring up wrath. He may be forming pleasing connections; but he is also treasuring up wrath. Every day adds something to the heap. Every oath the swearer utters there is something gone to the heap of wrath. Every lie the liar tells there is something gone to the heap of wrath. Every licentious act the lewd man commits there is something gone to the treasure of wrath. Every day he lives in sin the book of God’s remembrance records it against him. The impenitent man has a weightier treasure of wrath to-day than he had yesterday; he will have a weightier to-morrow than he has to-day. When he lies down at night he is richer in vengeance than when he rose in the morning. He is continually deepening and darkening his eternal portion. Every neglected Sabbath increases his store of wrath; every forgotten sermon adds something to the weight of punishment. All the checks of conscience, all the remonstrances of friends, all the advice and prayers of parents will be taken into the account, and all will tend to increase the treasures of wrath, laid up against the day of wrath.

Rev. J. A. James.

Going to Law.—Dr. Johnson compared plaintiff and defendant, in an action of law, to two men ducking their heads in a bucket, and daring each other to remain longest under water.

A rich Imposture.—The Greek patriarch, at Constantinople, has a revenue of about £500,000 a year from the donations of pilgrims to the Holy Sepulchre. This revenue is called the treasure of the Holy Sepulchre, and makes the Greek patriarch of Constantinople decidedly, whilst he holds the office, the richest man in the world. What would be thought if men paid for truth and salvation at that rate?

Never Speak Cross.

The parent can be assured that he never gains any thing by a harsh word. What if your boy breaks a pitcher, or glass, do you mend either by applying harsh epithets to him? Does it make him more careful in future? Does he love you better? Hark! he is murmuring. What says the boy?—"I'm glad of it; I don't care how much I break." He talks thus to be even with his master. It is very wrong in him, we know, but it is human nature, and the example has been set before him by you.

Say to the careless boy, "I am sorry; you must be more careful in future," and what will be his reply? "It was an accident, and I will be more careful." He will never break another pitcher or glass, if he can help it; and he will respect and love you a thousand times more than when you flew into a rage and swore vengeance on his head. Remember this, ye who get angry and rave at a trifle.

Be not over anxious.—Almost all men are over anxious. No sooner do they enter the world than they lose their taste for natural and simple pleasures, so remarkable in early life. Every hour do they ask themselves what progress they have made in the pursuit of wealth and honor? And on they go, as their fathers went before them, till weary and sick they look back with a sigh of regret to the golden time of their childhood.

British Benevolence.

The number and resources of the various charitable and benevolent institutions of Great Britain are far greater than is generally supposed, and reflect great credit upon the liberality and zeal of the christian public of that highly enlightened and favored Isle. There are of all kinds more than eight hundred different institutions expressly originated for and devoted to the various objects of charity in the United Kingdom, some of which are of immense magnitude and employ large resources. They may be classified with sufficient accuracy as follows:

Beginning with those devoted to the physical improvement and benefit of men, there are three hundred and eighty institutions for general charitable purposes; fifty of these belong to the various city companies, the privileges of which pertain to freemen, or the members of the city, and derive their principal resources from the municipal treasury; while the remainder, with a few inconsiderable exceptions, are wholly dependant on voluntary contributions for their means. Of these voluntary Societies eighty-five are devoted to medical relief, of which thirty are hospitals admitting patients; and forty-seven are infirmaries and dispensaries for special medical relief. There are three societies for the protection of life; eleven for the relief of the distressed; two for the preservation of public morals; and six for the reformation of criminals and of discharged convicts; four societies are devoted to the protection and aid of female servants; and five are devoted to the aid of the destitute. There are one hundred and six pensionary and benevolent associations, of which forty-two are of a general nature; twenty-seven connected with various trades, and thirty-seven connected with professions; and with these are connected seventeen asylums for the aged and distressed. There are eighty-two other alms-houses, most of which are supported by private munificence.

If we turn from the field of charity, strictly so called—institutions designed for the relief of bodily pains and ills—we find three hundred and six educational establishments, of which twenty-five are what are termed foundations, eight are colleges, and thirteen grammar schools, all sustained by private endowments, and devoted to the instruction of the indigent classes. There are forty-four educational establishments for the indigent, of which sixteen are for orphans; nine school societies; fifteen that are termed charity school establishments, and one hundred and twenty-four charity schools, besides others conducted on a different principle.

British benevolence in religious affairs is not less conspicuous and creditable. There are seventy religious associations in the kingdom, of which sixteen are missionary societies for propagating the Gospel among the heathen; four are Bible societies; six are societies for the aid of feeble and destitute churches; nine are properly home missionary societies, for supporting the Gospel in destitute parts of the kingdom; six are for the benefit of Jews and Syrians; four are for the defence and diffusion of Protestantism; fourteen are for religious and theological education; two are temperance societies; four for extending christian civilization; five for the abolition of slavery.

Besides these, there are sixteen visiting religious societies for the relief of the poor, (one of which has forty others connected with it,) and three for improving the habitations of the poor. Thus in that small island there may be summed up the grand total of EIGHT HUNDRED AND SEVENTEEN institutions, devised by christian love, and sustained by christian liberality, devoted to the physical, moral, intellectual and religious improvement of mankind. As great as the list is, it does not embrace all.

Death and Sin.

Death and sin have an indissoluble connection. Sin the invariable antecedent, death the invariable consequence. Sin the cause; death the effect. The demerit of the one produces the desolation of the other. Sin formed the volcano, the earthquake, the hurricane, the pestilence, which now devour the population of cities and kingdoms. Sin inflicts every pang that human nature suffers. Sin nerves every death-throb that is endured. Sin stains and blanches every corpse. Sin weaves every shroud. Sin shapes every coffin. Sin writes every epitaph. Sin sculptures every monument. Sin feeds every worm. The waste and havoc of centuries that are gone, and the waste and havoc of centuries yet to come, all attest the truth that death has passed upon all men, because all have sinned.

Rev. J. Parsons.

War.

O War, War! what pencil can portray thy deformities—what skill can calculate thy horrors! Gigantic evil! preceded by terror, followed by devastation, fed by cursed pride, nourished by human wo. Gigantic evil! diffused by tears, by groans, and by blood, the shrieks of widows, and the pangs of the fatherless. Gigantic evil! thou art never satisfied; thy triumphs are those of death, thy carnival is in the grave.

Rev. J. Parsons.

Patience under Abuse.—A Scotch divine, noted for his patience under abuse, was upon a time passing on his way, when one of a group of drunkards said to his companions, "There goes a man who cannot be made angry." "I can make him angry," said another. "No, you cannot," replied the first; whereupon a wager was laid between them. He who was to attempt the fiend-like business took up a stone, with which he struck the good man in the face, and broke out several of his teeth. Wiping the blood from his mouth, and casting a wishful look upon his assailant, he exclaimed, "O man, I would give all the teeth in my head for the salvation of thy soul!" This reply, it is said, was blessed to the poor drunkard's hopeful conversion.

Too true.—Bishop Hall has remarked, in his pithy way, "Heaven hath many tongues that talk of it, more eyes to behold it, but few hearts that rightly affect it."

What is it to be Polite?

Politeness is a trait which every body admires, and which confers upon its possessor a charm that does much to pave the way of life with success. But it is very much misunderstood. Politeness does not consist in wearing a white silk glove, and in gracefully lifting your hat as you meet an acquaintance—it does not consist in artificial smiles, and flattering speech, but in sincere and honest desires to promote the happiness of those around you; in the readiness to sacrifice your own ease and comfort to add to the enjoyment of others. The man who lays aside all selfishness in regard to the happiness of others, who is ever ready to confer favors, who speaks in the language of kindness and conciliation, and who studies to manifest those little attentions which gratify the heart, is a polite man, though he may wear a home-spun coat, and make a very ungraceful bow. And many a fashionable, who dresses genteelly, and enters the most crowded apartments with assurance and ease, is a perfect compound of rudeness and incivility. He who has a heart flowing with kindness and good-will towards his fellow-men, and who is guided in the exercise of these feelings by good common sense, is the truly polite man—and he alone.

A True Gentleman.—No well bred person will be insolent to his inferiors. On the other hand, he will observe a scrupulous tenderness of manner towards them—a care of word and action that shall lighten their burden as much as possible. This refinement of heart is the most prominent characteristic of a high and noble spirit. It is the only mark of a lady or gentleman that is wholly unequivocal. When we see a person very choice of his words, and very dainty at the table, yet capable of insulting the unfortunate, or ridiculing distress, we always think of the ass in the lion's skin.

The Scriptures.

BY SIR WILLIAM JONES.

Before thy mystic altar, heav'nly truth,
I kneel in manhood, as I knelt in youth.
Thus let me kneel, till this dull form decay,
And life's last shade be brightened by thy ray:
Then shall my soul, now lost in clouds below,
Soar without bound, without consuming glow.

Things Lost for Ever.—Lost wealth may be restored by industry, the wreck of health regained by temperance, forgotten knowledge restored by study, alienated friendship smoothed into forgetfulness, even forfeited reputation won by penitence and virtue. But who ever again looked upon his vanished hours, recalled his slighted years, stamped them with wisdom, or effaced from the record of eternity the fearful blot of wasted time?

Benefit of Newspapers.

The celebrated astronomer, Sir John Herschell, says, of all the amusements that can possibly be imagined for a hard-working man, after a day's toil, or in its intervals, there is nothing like reading an entertaining newspaper. It relieves his home of its dullness or sameness, which in nine cases out of ten, is what drives him to the alehouse, to his own ruin and his family's. It transports him into a gayer and livelier, and more diversified and interesting scene; and while he enjoys himself there, he may forget the evils of the present moment fully as much as if he was ever so drunk; with the great advantage of finding himself the next day with his money in his pocket, or, at least, laid out in real necessities and comforts for himself and family, without a headache. Nay, it accompanies him in his next day's work, and if the paper he has been reading be any thing above the very idlest and lightest, gives him something to think of besides the mechanical drudgery of his every-day occupation—something he can enjoy while absent, and look forward with pleasure to return to.

Depend on Yourself.—Most young men consider it a great misfortune to be born poor, or not to have capital enough to establish themselves at their outset in life, in a good business. This is a mistaken notion. So far from poverty being a misfortune to them, if we may judge from what we every day behold, it is really a blessing; the chance is more than ten to one against him who starts with plenty of money. Let any one look back twenty years and see who began business at that time with abundant means, and trace them down to the present day; how many of these now boast of worth and standing! On the contrary, how many have become poor, lost their places in society, and are passed by their own boon companions with a look which plainly says, I know you not!

Rumselling brings Sorrow and Trouble.

A tavern keeper in Rensselaer Co. New-York, had abandoned the traffic in Alcohol after having been several years engaged in it. Whenever the subject of his selling liquor was referred to, he was observed to manifest feelings of deep regret and sorrow. A friend one day inquired the cause. "I will tell you," said he, and opening his account book he said, "here are forty-four names of men who have all been my customers, most of them for years—thirty-two of these men to my certain knowledge now lie in the drunkard's grave! ten of the remaining twelve are now living, confirmed sots! These are the fruits of this dreadful and degrading business." Who would be willing to engage in it for the paltry wages of a few pence? Can a man follow this traffic and be a christian?

Good Manners.—Good manners are the blossom of good sense, and, it may be added, of good feeling too; for, if the law of kindness be written in the heart, it will lead to that disinterestedness in little as well as great things—that desire to oblige, and attention to the gratification of others, which is the foundation of good manners.

Mourning Apparel.—In Europe, black is generally used because it represents darkness, unto which death is like as it is a privation of life. In China, white is used, because they hope the dead are in heaven, the place of purity. In Egypt, yellow is used, because it represents the decaying of flowers and trees, which become yellow as they decay. In Ethiopia, brown is used, because it denotes the color of the earth from whence we came, and to which we return. In some parts of Turkey blue is used, because it represents the sky, where they hope the dead one is gone; but in others blue and violet, because being a mixture of black and blue, it represents, as it were, sorrow on the one side, and hope on the other.

What if calamities do come: they never take all that we have, and often only take that of which we are better deprived than possessed. Jeremy Taylor once on suffering an utter deprivation of his worldly goods by sequestration, cried out, in the midst of his calamity, "What have they taken? Let me look about me! They have left me sun and moon, fire and water, a loving wife and many friends to pity me, and some to relieve me, and I can still discourse; and, unless I list, they have not taken away my merry countenance, and my cheerful spirits, and a good conscience; they have still left me the providence of God; all the promises of the Gospel, and my religion, and my hopes of heaven, and my charity to them, too. And still I sleep, and eat, and drink, and digest. I read and meditate; I walk in my neighbor's pleasant field, and see the varieties of natural beauties, and delight in all that in which God delights, that is, in virtue and wisdom, in the whole creation, and in God himself."

Woman's Sphere.

The celebrated Fontenelle said, that women have a fibre more in the heart, and a cell less in the brain, than men. This aptly suggests the true sphere of woman's action and the true source of her power.

As the dew lies longest and produces most fertility in the shade, so woman in the shade of domestic retirement sheds around her path richer and more permanent blessings than man, who is more exposed to the glare and observation of public life. Thus the humble and retired often yield more valuable benefits to society than the noisy and bustling satellites of earth, whose very light and unconcealed enjoyment deteriorates and parches up the moral soil it flows over.

God offended by Presumptuousness.—A late eminent judge of Virginia once happened to be crossing a ferry with the late Dr. John H. Rice. On account of the shallows, the boat could not be brought to land, and they were carried to the shore by the black ferrymen. One of these was so careless as to suffer Judge H.'s clothes to become wet, and the latter expressed his anger by an oath. Dr. Rice, without saying a word, turned on him his large, speaking eye, with a sorrowful expression. "I never so felt a reproof (said the judge) in my life; and instantly begged his pardon. 'Ask pardon of God,' said Dr. Rice. I shall never forget it."

Death of Children.

Leighton thus wrote on hearing of the death of a child:—"Sweet thing, and is he so quickly laid asleep? Happy he! Though we shall have no more the pleasure of his lisping and laughing, he shall have no more the pain of crying, nor of being sick, nor of dying. Tell my dear sister that she is now so much more akin to the other world; and this will be quickly passed to us all. John is but gone an hour to bed, as children use to do, and we are undressing to follow. And the more we put off the love of the present world, and all things superfluous, beforehand, we shall have the less to do when we lie down."

Sincere Confessions.—It is to be feared that many persons utter expressions of penitence for sin to which the heart makes but a feeble response. He who confesses himself a great sinner, ought to show a little humility; and he who acknowledges his weakness, should not show presumption. Charles Wesley once tested the pretended penitence of a professor of religion, who came to him with the expression on her tongue, "I am the chief of sinners—the worst of transgressors—utterly lost and helpless." "I have no doubt," he coolly replied, "that you are bad enough." She instantly flew into a passion, declaring she was no worse than her neighbors; scolded the preacher as a slanderer, and it is thought would have boxed his ears if he had not quitted the apartment.

The Way to Hear the Gospel.

The celebrated Rowland Hill was once reminded by an old man that he heard him preach sixty-five years before, and well remembered the sermon. "You told us," said the old man, "that some people were very squeamish about the delivery of different ministers who preached the same gospel." You said, "Suppose you were attending to hear a will read, where you expected a legacy to be left you, would you employ the time when it was reading in criticising the manner in which the lawyer read it? No, you would not; you would be giving all ear to hear if any thing was left to you, and how much it was. That is the way I would advise you to hear the Gospel."

The Good Choice.—The pious bishop Arrowsmith once exclaimed: Let Diotrephes say it is good for me to have the pre-eminence. Let Judas say, it is good for me bear the bag. Let Demas say, it is good for me to embrace the present world. But do thou, O my soul, say, with David, it is good for me to draw near to God.

Humility.

BY MONTGOMERY.

The bird that soars on highest wing
Builds on the ground her lowly nest,
And she that doth most sweetly sing,
Sings in the shade when all things rest;
In lark and nightingale we see
What honor hath humility.

The saint that wears heaven's brightest crown,
In deepest adoration bends,
The weight of glory bends him down
The most, when high his soul ascends;
Nearest the throne itself, must be
The footstool of humility.

The Cost of Rum.—Noah Webster, in one of his early essays, in which he gives "advice to Connecticut folks," shows them from statistics which he exhibited, that their "government, their courts, their lawyers, their clergymen, their schools and their poor, did not all cost them so much as one paltry article which did them little or no good, but is as destructive of their lives as fire and brimstone."

Why Not.—"Stay, coachman," said a passenger to him as he was ordering the horses water at the half-way house, "these animals have all the work; do give them a little of your brandy; how can you expect them to do much work on nothing but cold water?" The coachman hem'd and haw'd, but attempted no argument in reply.

Pay as You Go.

The eccentric John Randolph once surprised Congress by jumping up from his seat and screaming at the top of his shrill voice, "Mr. Speaker! I have discovered the philosopher's stone that turns everything into gold. It is—Pay as you go!"

John Randolph never uttered a wiser or truer saying, so far as thrift and success are concerned.

"Pay as you go," and you need not dodge sheriffs or constables.

"Pay as you go," and you can walk the streets with an erect back and manly front, and you have no fear of those you meet. You can look any man in the eye without flinching. You need not cross the highway to avoid a dun, or look intently into the shop windows to avoid seeing a creditor.

"Pay as you go," and when you laugh, it will be a hearty, honest one.

"Pay as you go," and you will meet smiling faces at home—happy, cherry-cheeked smiling children—a contented wife—a cheerful hearth-stone.

Shun a Tattler.—If you do not wish to speak ill of any, do not delight to hear ill of them. Give no countenance to busy-bodies, and those that love to talk of other mens' faults; or, if you cannot decently reprove them on account of their quality, then direct the discourse some other way; or if you cannot do that, by seeming not to mind it, you may sufficiently signify that you do not like it.

The Unruly Member.—There are but ten precepts of the law of God, says Leighton, and two of them, so far as concerns the outward organ and vent of the sins there forbidden, are bestowed on the tongue, (one in the first table, and the other in the second table,) as though it were ready to fly out both against God and man, if not thus bridled.

The End of the Sabbath Breaker.

Lucian Hall, who was lately executed in Connecticut at the early age of twenty-eight for a most atrocious and unprovoked murder, the very recital of which makes the blood run cold, attributes his whole career of vice to a want of proper religious instruction in early life, and particularly to the crime of Sabbath-breaking, to which he was greatly addicted. His last words were:—

“I wish to warn all young people against the course I have taken. Beware how you reject good advice, or break the Sabbath. If you have religious friends and religious privileges, value them more than anything else; receive the advice of such friends; improve these privileges while you have them. I wish with my last breath to warn all the young against the neglect of religion and the Sabbath, which have brought me to ruin. I have suffered a great deal, and enjoyed myself very little, and have found that ‘the way of transgression is hard.’”

How do You Spend Your Evenings?

We wish to ask the young man this question; and according as he answers it shall we be enabled to tell him what his future character will be. More depends upon the manner in which this important season is passed than upon almost any thing else. Whoever has been an observer of men and things, can point out many a youth who has caused weeping and sorrow to his family, disgraced his name, and become an outcast in the world, or sunk to a dishonored grave, who commenced his career of vice when he broke away from wholesome restraint and spent his evenings in the company of the abandoned. Young man, listen to us. We would not deprive you of a single pleasure, or debar you from any innocent amusement. We entreat you to be particular where and how you pass your evening hours. If you lounge about the bar-room, partaking of the vulgar conversation that is introduced, and join the ribald song, or stand at the corners of the streets using profane and indecent language, you will soon habituate yourself to low blackguardism and vile conversation, so that no young man who respects himself will be found in your company.

The Christian Mother.—The christian mother with her child is the loveliest vision that rises out of the troubled waters of our nature. The great master of christian painting delighted to represent the mother of Christ and her spotless child under every aspect of tender communion; making it the aim of his life to portray the ineffable graces, the meek self-oblivion, the rapture of devoted love which belong to the christian mother.

O Jesus! I do this for Thee!

It is said of Mrs. Comstock of the Burmah mission, that when she was called upon to part with her two children, that they might be brought home to America to be educated, she took one in each hand and led them down to the ship which was to bear them away. She paused on the shore; her face grew pale; her lips quivered; she raised her hands and said, “O Jesus! I do this for thee!” and then quietly returned to her missionary work. The sacrifices of the missionary are deserving the sympathy and prayers of all who love the Lord.

Milton an Early Riser.—This famous poet rose at four in the morning during the summer months, and at five in the winter. He studied in the forenoon, exercised in the afternoon, and in the evening sang, accompanying himself on some instrument. He had a fine voice, played well on several instruments, and understood harmony; and judging from his Paradise Lost, he must have been passionately fond of music and the perfume of flowers. He usually retired at nine, and composed awhile in bed.

Cheap Ornaments.—When Dr. Franklin was in Paris, his daughter, Mrs. Bache, wrote to him for a supply of feathers and thread lace. The Doctor declined it in the following characteristic note. "If you wear your cambric ruffles as I do, and take care not to mend the holes, they will come in time to be lace; and feathers, my dear girl, may be had in America from every cock's tail."

The Power of a Mother's Influence.

The mother writes with a pen of steel on the tablet of the young heart of her child, and these characters are deep, original, and indelible. Next to the divine efficiency, her influence is all pervading and most powerful. Such is the pious mother who has made right impressions on the minds of her babes, and been to them the messenger and minister of God. For weal or for woe, she writes a page, teaches a lesson, and moulds the mind into durable forms. Such, says a clergyman, was the mother of my children. Her influence is still visible, palpable, controlling. Her image is vividly present. Her lessons are written in living lines, and "the sentiments of my mother" are the law of her children. They regard her as now in heaven. What an inspiring motive to seek an inheritance there! They read her Bible, and have received it from her as the infallible rule of life. The highest earthly influence they can feel, thus comes in aid of the Divine. They remember her prayers. How hallowed the recollection of such a mother! How controlling the rules she gave! how well remembered and deeply treasured in their hearts!

Starting in the World.

Many an unwise parent labors hard and lives sparingly all his life, for the purpose of leaving enough to give his children a start in the world, as it is called. Setting a young man afloat with money left him by his relatives, is like tying bladders under the arms of one who cannot swim; ten chances to one he will lose his bladders and go to the bottom. Teach him to swim and he will never need the bladder. Give to your child a sound education; let him sincerely embrace the Gospel of Christ, which will secure good morals; see to it that his mind is cultivated, and his whole nature made subservient to the laws which govern man, and you have given what will be of more value than the wealth of the Indies. You have given him a start which no misfortune can deprive him of.

A Great Smoke.—In the year 1843 eight million one thousand four hundred and forty-nine pounds one shilling and four-pence was spent by the people of Great Britain in tobacco! a tolerably round sum to “end in smoke.” If the weed had been worked into pigtail rather more than half an inch thick, it would have formed a line 99,470 miles long—long enough to go more than four times round the world.

“I will, by and by.”—Ah! yes. When will you do it? “By and by” never comes. Why will you not fix upon a day when you will perform your duty? We like men that we can depend upon—who will decide upon a course, or when to do a favor or a duty, and when they have decided, will perform. The longer you put off, the longer you will.

“O how many deeds
Of deathless virtue and immortal crime
The world had wanted, had the actor said,
I will do this to-morrow!”

Infidelity cured by a holy life.—A celebrated French infidel, being introduced to the pious Fenelon, and spending some time in his society—witnessing the loveliness of his manners and conversation, was constrained to say to a friend, “I must not stay in the presence of this holy man; if I do I shall be compelled to renounce my infidelity; so much purity, so much amiableness, proves religion to be of heavenly origin.”

Every Christian a Missionary.—It ought to be proclaimed from the pulpit, and taught in the Sabbath-school, it ought to be written on our door-posts, that every christian is designed to be, in some sense, a missionary. He should first inquire whether he is called personally to enter the field. If this is not expedient or feasible, let him go by his representative, whom he helps to support. Let him go in prayer, in the spirit, and in sympathy, with those who can go to labor and die in heathen lands; and let him labor at home for all who come under his influence.

Uses of trial.—When a founder has cast his bell he does not presently fix it in the steeple, but tries it with his hammer, and beats it on every side to see if there be any flaw in it. So Christ doth not, presently after he has converted a man, convey him to heaven; but suffers him first to be beaten upon by many temptations, and then exalts him to his crown.

Bunyan and the Quaker.—It is said, that towards the close of Bunyan's imprisonment a Quaker called upon him, saying, Friend John, I am come to thee with a message from the Lord, and after having searched for thee in all the prisons of England, I have found thee at last. "If the Lord had sent thee," returned Bunyan, sarcastically, "you need not have taken so much pains to find me, for the Lord knows I have been a prisoner in Bedford jail these last twelve years."

The Way to be Miserable.

We know of no specific more promising for securing a thoroughly miserable temper, than the following:

• Sit at your window and look over the way to your neighbor's excellent mansion, which he has recently built and paid for, and sigh out, "O that I was a rich man!"

Get angry with your neighbor and think you have not a friend in the world.

Sign a note for a friend and never forget your kindness; and every hour in the day whisper to yourself, "I wonder if he will pay that note?"

Think every body means to cheat you. Closely examine every bill you take, and doubt its being genuine, till you have put the owner to a great deal of trouble. Believe every shilling passed you is but a sixpence crossed, and express your doubts about your getting rid of it if you should venture to take it.

Put confidence in nobody, and believe every man you trade with to be a rogue.

Never accommodate, if you can possibly help it. Never visit the sick or afflicted, and never give a farthing to assist the poor.

Buy as cheap as you can; screw down to the lowest fraction. Grind the faces of the unfortunate.

Brood over your misfortune—your lack of talents, and believe that at no very distant day you will come to want. Let the workhouse be ever in your mind, with all the horrors of distress and poverty.

Then you will be miserable to your heart's content, if we may so speak; sick at heart, and at variance with all the world. Nothing will cheer or encourage you—nothing throw a gleam of sunshine or a ray of warmth into your heart. All will be as dark and as cheerless as the grave.

Expensiveness of War.

War, it has been well said, is a game of kings, at which if the people were wise, they would not be allowed to play. Our government is one of the most peaceful on the globe; yet during fifty-six years of its existence, its expenditures have been for the military service $286,998,357; for the naval service $179,933,124. Thus, this most christian nation, in something less than a lifetime, has paid nearly seven hundred millions of dollars, directly for the cost of war, or more than twice the cost of all its public service beside. Besides this, the real expenses of war, including the destruction of property, the cessation of industry and improvement, and the blocking up of our coasts and our harbors, have, probably, been not less than two thousand millions of dollars during these fifty-six years of almost unbroken peace. What would be the cost of a seven years' war at this rate! How trifling in comparison have been all our expenditures for religious, benevolent and philanthropic purposes. What untold good might have been conveyed to the nations by the sums thus sacrificed to war?

The Benefit of Keeping Hens.—An intelligent farmer lately published the following result of his experience in keeping fowls. He kept 36 hens last year, and they yielded him 350 dozen, or 4,250 eggs besides 125 chickens. The net proceeds of the sales was $59 37, the family having had, of course, what eggs and poultry they wanted for their own consumption besides. The whole cost of the grain for keeping the hens was a fraction over $3, leaving a clear profit of $55. A profitable branch of husbandry certainly.

Sublimity of the Scriptures.

An obscure Scotch peasant, calling on business at a gentleman's house in Edinburgh, saw a bust of Shakspeare, and these lines from the Tempest inscribed beneath it:

"The cloud cap't towers, the gorgeous palaces,
The solemn temples, the great globe itself,
Yea, all which it inherit shall dissolve,
And, like the baseless fabric of a vision,
Leave not a wreck behind."

The gentleman, seeing the peasant's eyes attracted by these lines, asked him if he had ever seen any thing equal to them. His reply was just and striking. "Yes, I have. The following passage from the book of Revelation is more sublime.

"And I saw a great white throne and Him that sat upon it, from whose face the earth and the heaven fled away, and there was no place for them."

The Blessings of a Good Temper.

Good temper is like a sunny day; it sheds a brightness over every thing. It is the sweetener of toil, and the soother of disquietude. Every day brings its burthen. The husband goes forth in the morning to his business; he cannot foresee what trial he may encounter, what failure of hopes, of friendships, or of prospects may meet him before he returns to his home; but if he can anticipate there the beaming and hopeful smile, and the soothing attention, he feels that his cross, whatever it might be, will be lightened, and that his domestic happiness is still secure.

Killing by Kindness.

One's worst enemies often come in the guise of friends. The fond mother who feeds her infant with alcohol under any of its disguises, however much it may be diluted or sweetened, is a more dangerous enemy to her child than the assassin who plots against its life, for he may be discovered and secured; but an appetite for intoxicating drinks acquired in childhood is rarely destroyed except by death.

The parent who lends his child into company, and indulges in his presence in the cup of exhilaration, is a more dangerous enemy to his son than a gambler.

The young man, whose associates are the quaffers of champagne, and who frequents at midnight eating and drinking shops and cellars, is more to be feared than the duellist.

The parent who dissuades his child, or the man his friend, from adopting the pledge of total abstinence, is a worse enemy to its future prospects than the incendiary.

A father of six sons laughed to scorn the great principle of total abstinence—his six sons all became drunkards, and five of them died drunkards.

Parents, whether in the higher or the more humble walks of life, think well of the example you set your children.

Duty to get Married.

Old bachelors are sometimes to be pitied, but more often to be blamed. Marriage is God's institution, and the appointed way for man's happiness; and he who despises this arrangement of Providence will usually attest in his own experience the wisdom of his Maker and his own folly. Besides happiness it is also a source of health and longevity. It has been established by good statistics, that for every forty-one bachelors who attain the age of forty, there are seventy-eight married men who do the same. As age advances the difference becomes more striking. At sixty there are only twenty-two unmarried men alive, for ninety-eight who have been married. At seventy there are eleven bachelors to twenty seven married men, and at eighty there are nine married men for three single ones. Nearly the same rule holds good in relation to females. Married women at the age of thirty, taken one with another, may expect to live thirty-six years longer; while for the unmarried, the expectation of life is only about thirty years. Of those who attain the age of forty-five, there are seventy-two married women for fifty-two single ladies.

Portrait of a Good Wife.

The quaint old Dr. Fuller thus pictures some of the more prominent features of a good wife:

She commandeth her husband in an equal matter, by constantly obeying him.

She never crosseth her husband in the spring-tide of his anger, but stays till it be ebbing water. Surely men, contrary to iron, are worst to be wrought upon when they are hot.

Her clothes are rather comely than costly, and she makes plaid cloth to be velvet by her handsome wearing it.

Her husband's secrets she will not divulge; especially is she careful to conceal his infirmities.

In her husband's absence she is wife and deputy husband, which makes her double the files of her diligence. At his return he finds all things so well, that he wonders to see himself at home when he was abroad.

Her children, though many in number, are none in noise, steering them with a look whither she listeth.

The heaviest work of her servants she maketh light, by orderly and seasonably enjoining it.

In her husband's sickness she feels more grief than she knows.

ECLIPSES IN THE YEAR 1849.

There will be four Eclipses this year: two of the Sun, and two of the Moon.

I. Sun eclipsed February 22, at the time of New Moon in the evening, invisible. It will be visible in the eastern part of Asia, the North Pacific Ocean, and Russian America. The Eclipse will be central and annular on the meridian in longitude $153^{\circ} 9'$ east from Greenwich, and latitude $41^{\circ} 22'$ north.

II. Moon eclipsed on Thursday, March 8, in the evening, visible; and chiefly visible in the United States, as follows:

PRINCIPAL CITIES.	Moon rises.		Eclipse begins.		Middle of Eclipse.		End of Eclipse.		Magnitude at rising. Digits.

Austin, Texas,	6	0	.	.	6	24	7	54	7.97

Magnitude at the middle of the Eclipse, 8.86 digits on the Moon's southern limb.

III. Sun eclipsed at the time of New Moon, August 18, in the morning, (17th, in the evening, in the western states,) invisible. This Eclipse will be visible in most of the Indian Ocean, in the south-east part of Africa, in Madagascar, and in the southern parts of Australia. It will be central and total on the meridian in longitude 91° east from Greenwich, and latitude $36^{\circ} 8'$ south.

IV. Moon eclipsed September 2, at the time of Full Moon in the afternoon, (morning in the western states,) invisible. Visible in the opposite hemisphere. Magnitude, 7.09 digits on the Moon's northern limb.

A WORD ON ECLIPSES.

The Moon in an Eclipse falls into the shadow of the Earth, and the quantity and duration of the Eclipse are therefore precisely the same for all places where the Moon is visible. But in Eclipses of the Sun there is a difference in absolute time, in duration, magnitude, etc. One place may have an annular or total Eclipse; another, with the Sun high in the heavens, may have no Eclipse during the day.

NOTES TO THE READER.

The Calendar page in this Almanac is adapted for use in every part of the United States. It is based on the fact, that, in the same Latitude, that is, on a line running due east and west, the Sun and Moon rise and set at the same moment by the clock or Almanac, not only throughout the United States, but around the world—the variations being so small as to be of no importance for ordinary purposes. Thus, if on any day the Sun rises at Boston at 5 minutes past 6, it rises at 5 minutes past 6 on the same line of latitude westward throughout the States of Massachusetts, New York, and Michigan, and so on to the Pacific Ocean.

Hence, a Calendar adapted to Boston for New England, is equally adapted, as to the rising and setting of the Sun and Moon, for use in Northern New York and Michigan; a Calendar for New York City is adapted for use in the States of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois; a Calendar for Baltimore is adapted for Virginia, Kentucky, and Missouri; and a Calendar for Charleston will answer for North Carolina, Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama, and Louisiana. Wherever the reader is, look for the State at the top of the Calendar page, and underneath is the rising and setting of the Sun and Moon sufficiently accurate for all practical purposes.

The changes, fulls, and quarters of the Moon, however, are governed by another principle, and are essentially the same for all places on the same Longitude, that is, on any line extending due north and south. Thus, the Moon's phases for Charleston suit Pittsburgh, etc. Any phasis takes place at the same instant of absolute time; but the local time is earlier at the westward, and later at the eastward, at the rate of four minutes for each degree of Longitude; or at the rate of one minute for every 12 miles 273 rods in the latitude of Boston; 13 miles 60 rods in the latitude of New York city; 13 miles 143 rods in the latitude of Baltimore; and 14 miles 199 rods in the latitude of Charleston.

CLOCK TIME.

This Almanac shows the rising and the setting of the Sun, etc., according to a clock that keeps accurate time throughout the year. As the Sun is alternately fast and slow of clock, the forenoon will of course be, by clock, longer or shorter than the afternoon. Some, observing this, think they have found an error in the Almanac; but it is no error. The table "Sun on the Meridian," at the head of the Calendar pages, shows at what moment the Sun, according to a true clock, is on the meridian, or strikes an accurate noon-mark. The London Nautical Almanac, and a large portion of the Almanacs in our country, are now adapted to true, or clock time.

RISINGS AND SETTINGS OF PLANETS AND STARS.

The reader should understand that these are not materially affected by the longitude of a place: and also that when the hour is less than 6, it is in the morning; and when greater than 6, it is in the evening.

PREDICTIONS OF THE WEATHER.

It ought to be known, that predictions of the weather are inserted in Almanacs according to the convenience of the printer, not by the Astronomer. No man can minutely predict the state of the weather for the coming year.

INFLUENCE OF THE MOON.

That the Moon affects the tides, and in like manner attracts the water of the clouds, all ought to know; but if any think it exerts a controlling influence over the weather, or the growth of vegetation, it is well to remind them of the results to which the late Dr. Olbers, the distinguished Astronomer of Germany, who discovered the planets Pallas and Vesta, was led by an examination founded on careful meteorological observations for fifty years in different countries. "I believe," he says, "that I have demonstrated that the influence of the Moon upon the weather is so small, that it is totally lost amid the great variety of other forces and causes which change the state of our atmosphere;" and that "its pretended influence on men, animals, or plants, is all of it due to illusion and prejudice."

Almighty Power ! Thine are the suns which light
 The countless systems that unceasing roll
 In boundless space. Thine all-sustaining might Supports the vast, the universal whole ;
 Rolls on days, weeks, and years, from age to age :
 In earth and heaven, how wondrous, how divine
 Thy works ! And more, thy word, our heritage, Revealing all thy grace, and Jesus' love benign !

THE OLD AND NEW YEAR.

FORTY-EIGHT ! Old year ! So thou
 Hast for aye departed now :
 All thy fitful hopes and fears,
 All thy transient smiles and tears,
 All thy many anxious schemes,
 Now appear like fading dreams.
 Such as owed to time their birth
 Have but proved themselves of earth
 Born to dazzle and to die,
 Linked not with eternity.

FORTY-NINE ! The year's begun !
 Hail'd by many ! known to none !
 Gladsome bells, with merry peal,
 Thine auspicious birth reveal :
 Who may hear thy parting knell,
 God, and he alone, can tell !

Joyous tongues around express,
 For thee, hopes of happiness :
 Sober'd hearts, too, here and there
 Greet thee with a voiceless prayer.

But thy glory and thy gloom
 Still are in the future's womb :
 Whatsoe'er of good or ill
 Shall be giv'n thee to fulfil,
 May we look to Him alone
 Who can make that good our own ;
 Who can guide us from each ill,
 While we seek to do his will ;
 And when we from time must sever,
 Take us to himself for ever !

BERNARD BARTON

RETROSPECT OF A YEAR.—BY REV. JOHN NEWTON.

TIME by moments steals away
 First the hour and then the day !
 Small the daily loss appears,
 Yet it soon amounts to years :
 Thus another year is flown,
 And is now no more our own,
 (Though it brought or promised good,)
 Than the years before the flood.

But each year, let none forget,
 Finds and leaves us deep in debt ;
 Favors from the Lord received,
 Sins that have the Spirit grieved,

Mark'd by God's unerring hand,
 In his book recorded stand :
 Who can tell the vast amount
 Placed to each of our account ?

We have nothing, Lord, to pay,
 Take, O take our guilt away :
 Self condemn'd, on thee we call,
 Freely, Lord, forgive us all.
 If we see another year,
 May we spend it in thy fear ;
 All its days devote to thee,
 Living for eternity.

The year rolls round, and steals away
 The breath that first it gave ;
 Whate'er we do—where'er we be,
 We're travelling to the grave !

Great God ! on what a slender thread
 Hang everlasting things !
 Th' eternal state of all the dead
 Upon life's feeble strings !

Eternal joy, or endless woe,
 Attends on every breath !
 And yet how unconcerned we go
 Upon the brink of death !

Awake, O Lord, our drowsy sense
 To walk this dangerous road ;
 And if our souls are hurried hence,
 May they be found with God.

DEATH.—One of the fathers saith, “There is but this difference between the death of old men and young men; that old men go to death, and death comes to young men.”

Trust in a prince—his word shall fail;
 In friends—and they shall die;
 In health and wealth, the world's regard—
 Alas, how soon they fly!

Trust thine own heart—'tis faithless all;
 Thy life—'tis insecure;
 But he who trusteth in the Lord,
 For ever shall endure.

MY MOTHER'S EXAMPLE.—“I recollect a young gentleman,” says Dr. Alexander, “who, although he had an uncommonly pious mother, broke over all the restraints of his education, and became a professed infidel and the advocate of licentiousness in its vilest forms; but a gracious God heard the unceasing prayers of his mother, and by means somewhat unusual, he was converted from the error of his ways. In speaking of his former career, which he evidently did with shame and humility, he said, ‘I could get over all arguments in defence of religion but one, and that I never could obviate, which was, the pious example and conversation of my mother. When I had fortified myself against the truth by the aid of Bolingbroke, Hume, and Voltaire, yet, whenever I thought of my mother, I had the secret conviction which nothing could remove, that there was a reality in religion.’”

THE WISE MAN.—A wise man practises the three following things: He abandons the world before it abandons him; he builds his sepulchre before the time of entering it; and he does all with a design to please God, before entering into his presence.

INJURIES.—If a bee stings you, will you go to the hive and destroy it? Would not a thousand come upon you? If you receive a trifling injury, do not go about the streets proclaiming it, and be anxious to avenge it. Let it drop. It is wisdom to say little respecting the injuries you may have received.

UNHAPPY DISPOSITIONS.—“Envy's memory,” says John Foster, “is nothing but a row of hooks to hang up grudges on. Some people's sensibility is a mere bundle of aversions, and you hear them display and parade it, not in recounting the things they are attached to, but in telling you how many things and persons they ‘cannot bear.’”

EXAGGERATIONS.—Never to speak by superlatives is a sign of a wise man; for that way of speaking wounds either truth or prudence. Exaggerations discover the weakness of the understanding, and the bad discerning of him that speaks. Excessive praises excite both curiosity and envy; so that, if merit answer not the value that is set upon it, as it generally happens, general opinion revolts against the imposture, and makes the flatterer and the flattered both ridiculous.

GOING TO LAW.—Losing a cow for the sake of a cat. This is the Chinese interpretation of going to law.

TRUE.—Sir Samuel Romilly says, “There is nothing by which I have through life more profited than by the just observations, the good opinions, and sincere and gentle encouragement of amiable and sensible women.”

PAUPERISM.—A writer in Blackwood's Magazine says the number of paupers in Great Britain is four millions, or a seventh part of the population of the empire : in Ireland 2,300,000, England 1,500,000, Scotland 200,000. Since 1815, the people of England have been taxed £200,000,000, or one thousand millions of dollars, for the relief of the poor. At the same time, there are 70,000 persons whose annual revenue is $200,000,000, or $2,857 each, in England.

Never was there a man of deep piety who has not been brought into extremities—who has not been put into the fire—who has not been taught to say, “Though he slay me, yet will I trust in him.”

A GOOD TOAST.—The Temperance Army: The only army ever known where each volunteer is a Regular, and every private an Orderly. May it soon become the “army of occupation” throughout the world.

WHAT PLEASURE IT IS TO PAY ONE'S DEBTS.—I remember to have heard Sir T. Lyttleton make the same observation. It seems to flow from a combination of circumstances. In the first place, it removes that uneasiness which a true spirit feels from dependence and obligation. It affords pleasure to the creditor, and therefore gratifies our social affection. It promotes that future confidence which is so very interesting to an honest mind ; it opens a prospect of being readily supplied with what we want on future occasions ; it leaves a consciousness of our own virtue ; and it is a measure we know to be right, both in point of justice and of sound economy. Finally, it is the main support of a business reputation.

Shenstone.

MEDITATION.—“It is easier,” says Philip Henry, “to go six miles to hear a sermon, than to spend one quarter of an hour in meditating on it when I come home !”

THE SABBATH-SCHOOL.—“It is like a stream which has no cataracts to astonish us with their magnificent thunder, but which winds along the tranquil valley, asserting its existence only in the life and verdure which appear along its course.”

RETIREMENT.—Retirement prepares us for all other services. Judge Hale, in his letter to his children, makes no scruple to say, “If I omit praying, and reading a portion of God's blessed word in the morning, nothing goes well with me all the day.” Dr. Boerhaave said, that his daily practice of retiring for an hour in the morning, and spending it in devotion and meditation, gave him firmness and vigor for the business of the whole day. He who goes forth from God, after inquiring his will, and committing himself to his care, is the best fitted for all the successes and disappointments of life.

A COMPLIMENT TO THE SEX.—During the progress of a protracted meeting, held in Johnstown, Ohio, by the Rev. Mr. C—— of the Methodist Episcopal church, it so happened that most of the persons who came forward to the altar for the prayers of the church, were females; which induced some objectors to say that weak-minded persons generally were the first to seek religion, which came to the ear of Mr. C——. The next evening of the meeting, he took occasion to notice their objection as follows, as near as I can remember.

“Well, friends, we have had a very profitable meeting to-night. I wish to notice a little objection I heard of to-day concerning our meeting. Some persons have said that this is not really the work of the Lord, because nearly all the seekers are females; they, moreover, challenge us to tell why there is so large a proportion of the weaker sex engaged. Now, sirs, I will not answer you directly, but see here: Two years ago, I had occasion to go to preach to the prisoners in the Ohio penitentiary. Now, how did it happen that there were more than four hundred males, and but about half a dozen of the weaker sex? When you answer this, I will be prepared to speak to your question.”

DANCING.—Says Cowper, in one of his letters, “I could never find that I could learn half so much of a woman’s character by dancing with her, as conversing with her at home, when I could observe her behavior at table, or at the fireside, and in all the trying scenes of domestic life. We are all good when pleased; but she is the good woman who wants not the fiddle to sweeten her.”

NEVER ALONE.—A pious cottager residing in the centre of a long and dreary heath, being asked by a visitor, “Are you not sometimes afraid in your lonely situation, especially in the winter?” replied, “O no; for Faith shuts the door at night, and Mercy opens it in the morning.”

THE BIBLE.

This little book I’d rather own,
Than all the gold and gems
That e’er in monarch’s coffers shone—
Than all their diadems.

GOOD ADVICE.

If thou wishest to be wise,
Keep these words before thine eyes—
What thou speak’st, and how, beware,
Of whom, to whom, when, and where.

TIME.—Spend your time in nothing which you know must be repented of. Spend it in nothing on which you might not pray for the blessing of God. Spend it in nothing which you could not review with a quiet conscience on your dying bed. Spend it in nothing which you might not safely and properly be found doing, if death should surprise you in the act.

Baxter

THE CHRISTIAN MINISTRY.—“The Christian ministry,” says John Newton, “is the worst of all trades, but the best of all professions.”

DILIGENCE AND PRAYER.—“Christian,” says the late Dr. Mason, “remember you are at the door of eternity, and have other work to do than to trifle away time. Those hours which you spend in your closets are the golden spots of all your time, and will have the sweetest influence upon your last hours.”

LINES ON GENESIS 2: 21, 22.—BY CHARLES WESLEY.

Not from his head was woman took,
 As made her husband to o'erlook ;
 Not from his feet, as one designed
 The footstool of the stronger kind ;
 But fashioned for himself, a bride,
 An equal taken from his side :

Her place intended to maintain,
 The mate and glory of the man ;
 To rest, as still beneath his arm,
 Protected by her lord from harm,
 And never from his heart removed,
 And only less than God beloved.

ONE DROP AT A TIME.—“ Life,” says the late John Foster, “ is expenditure: we have it, but as continually losing it; we have the use of it, but as continually wasting it. Suppose a man confined in some fortress, under the doom to stay there until his death; and suppose there is for his use a dark reservoir of water, to which it is certain none can ever be added. He knows, suppose, that the quantity is not very great; he cannot penetrate to ascertain how much, but it may be very little. He has drawn from it, by means of a fountain, a good while already, and draws from it every day. But how would he feel each time of drawing, and each time of thinking of it? Not as if he had a perennial spring to go to; not, ‘ I have a reservoir, I may be at ease.’ No; but, ‘ I had water yesterday—I have water to-day; but my having had it, and my having it to-day, is the very cause that I shall not have it on some day that is approaching. And at the same time I am compelled to this fatal expenditure!’ So of our mortal, transient life! And yet men are very indisposed to admit the plain truth, that life is a thing which they are in no other way possessing than as necessarily consuming; and that even in this imperfect sense of possession, it becomes every day less a possession!”

SACRED MUSIC.—The late Dr. Chalmers, speaking of eternity, remarks, that “ one of the most essential preparations for it, is, delight in praising God; a higher acquirement,” he adds, “ I do think, than even delight and devotedness in prayer.”

PARENTS.—Parents must never put away their own youth. They must never cease to be young. Their sympathies and sensibilities should be always quick and fresh. They must be susceptible. They must love that which God made the child to love. Children need not only government, firm and mild, but sympathy, warm and tender. So long as parents are their best and most agreeable companions, children are comparatively safe, even in the society of others.

INTEMPERANCE.—Father Matthew stated, at a public meeting in Cork, that not a single tetotalter had fallen a victim either to the famine in Ireland, or to the fever so extensively connected with it.

One reason why God has scattered up and down several degrees of pleasure and pain, in all the things that environ and affect us, and blended them together in almost all that our thoughts and senses have to do with, is, that we, finding imperfection, dissatisfaction, and want of complete happiness in all the enjoyments which the creatures can afford us, might be led to seek it in the enjoyment of Him, with whom there is fulness of joy, and at whose right hand are pleasures for evermore. Locke.

They that will not hear Christ say, Come to me, in a day of grace, shall hear him say, Depart from me, in a day of judgment.

JOHN NEWTON.—Two or three years before the death of this eminent servant of Christ, when his sight was become so dim that he was no longer able to read, an aged friend and brother in the ministry called on him to breakfast. Family prayer succeeding, the portion of Scripture for the day was read to him. It was taken out of Bogatsky's Golden Treasury: "By the grace of God I am what I am." It was the pious man's custom, on these occasions, to make a short familiar exposition of the passage read. After the reading of this text he paused for some moments, and then uttered the following affecting soliloquy:

"I am not what I ought to be! Ah, how imperfect and deficient! I am not what I wish to be! I abhor what is evil, and I would cleave to what is good. I am not what I hope to be! Soon, soon I shall put off mortality; and with mortality, all 'sin and imperfection. Yet, though I am not what I ought to be, nor what I wish to be, nor what I hope to be, I can truly say I am not what I once was—a slave to sin and Satan; and I can heartily join with the apostle, and acknowledge, By the grace of God I am what I am! Let us pray!"

THE NOBLER AND GREATER MOTIVE.—A French officer, who was prisoner under his parole at Reading, met with a Bible. He read it, and was so struck with its contents, that he was convinced of the folly of sceptical principles, and the truth of Christianity, and resolved to become a Protestant. When his gay associates rallied him for taking so serious a turn, he said in his vindication, "I have done no more than my old school-fellow Bernadotte, who is become a Lutheran." "Yes, but he became so," said his associates, "to obtain a crown." "My motive," said the Christian officer, "is the same; we only differ as to place. The object of Bernadotte is to obtain a crown in Sweden; mine is, to obtain a crown in heaven."

HOLINESS.—Holiness, as I wrote down some of my contemplations on it, appeared to me to be of a sweet, pleasant, charming, serene, calm nature; which brought an inexpressible purity, brightness, peacefulness, and rapture to the soul. In other words, that it made the soul like a field or garden of God, with all manner of pleasant flowers; all pleasant, delightful, and undisturbed, enjoying a sweet calm, and the gently vivifying beams of the sun.

Jonathan Edwards.

TEA.—The export of tea from China to the United States in ten months of 1846-7, was 19,648,273 lbs. Into Great Britain, 39,826,516 lbs.

THE DRUNKENNESS OF PASSION.—An Arabian merchant, having hired a waterman's-boat, refused to pay the freightage. The waterman, in a violent passion, appealed several times to the government of Muscat for justice. The governor as often ordered him to come again; but observing him one day present his petition with coolness, he immediately granted his suit. The waterman, surprised at this conduct, demanded a reason why he did not sooner grant his request. "Because," said the judge, "you were always drunk when I saw you." But the waterman declaring he had not been overtaken with wine for many years, the judge replied, "The drunkenness with which you were overtaken is the most dangerous of all—it is the drunkenness of anger."

PRAYER.—“There is no way,” says Dr. Alexander, “in which we can more surely increase mutual love than by praying for one another. If you would retain warmth of affection for an absent friend, pray for him. If you would live in the regards of another, beseech him to pray for you. If you would conquer enmity in your own soul towards one who has wronged you, pray for him. Dissension or coldness cannot abide between those who bear each other to God’s throne in supplication. It is what we meet to do in family worship. Often has the tenderness of a half-dying attachment been renewed and made young again, when the parties have found themselves kneeling before the mercy-seat. Every thing connected with such utterance of mutual good-will in the domestic worship tends to foster it, and thus the daily prayers are as the dews of heaven.”

COTTON MATHER’S ADVICE TO HIS SON.—It may not be amiss for you to have two heaps, a heap of unintelligibles and a heap of incurables. Every now and then you will meet with something or other that may pretty much distress your thoughts; but the shortest way with the vexations will be, to throw them with the heap they belong to, and be no more distressed about them.

BIOGRAPHY.—“There are remains of great and good men,” says Matthew Henry, “which, like Elijah’s mantle, ought to be gathered up, and preserved by the survivors: their sayings, their writings, their examples; that as their works follow them in the reward of them, they may stay behind in the benefit of them.”

THE SAVIOUR’S BIRTH.—ISAIAH 9:2, 6, 7.

The people that in darkness lay	The Everlasting Father he,
Have seen a great, a glorious light;	The Mighty God, the Prince of Peace.
For lo! a Star hath crossed their way,	Upon the throne of David, he
To dissipate the gloom of night.	Shall sit, and hold perpetual reign;
For unto us a Child is born,	Shall rule with truth and equity,
And unto us a Son is given;	Till all the kingdoms he shall gain;
Whose genial beams eclipse the morn;	Till scattered tribes devoutly meet,
Whose love descends as dew from heaven.	And pay their homage at his feet.
He Wonderful shall called be;
His government shall never cease:

CLEANLINESS.—A neat, clean, fresh-aired, sweet, cheerful, well-arranged house, exerts a moral as well as physical influence over its inmates, and makes the members of a family peaceable, and considerate of each other’s feelings and happiness. The connection is obvious between the state of mind thus produced, and habits of respect for others, and for those higher duties and obligations which no laws can enforce. On the contrary, a filthy, squalid, noxious dwelling, in which none of the decencies of life can be observed, contributes to make its inhabitants selfish, sensual, and regardless of the feelings of others. And the constant indulgence of such passions renders them reckless and brutal; and the transition is natural to propensities and habits, incompatible with a respect for the property of others, or for the laws.

POISONED LITERATURE.—It has long been the policy of the devil to keep the masses of the world in ignorance; but finding at length that they will read, he is endeavoring to poison their books.

GOD'S EXISTENCE.—Galileo, the most profound philosopher of his age, when interrogated by the Inquisition as to his belief of a Supreme Being, replied, pointing to a straw on the floor of his dungeon, that from the structure of that object alone, he would infer with certainty the existence of an intelligent Creator.

DWELLERS ON THE SEA.—The Sailor's Magazine estimates the number of men "whose home is on the deep," at between two and three millions. In the vessels of the United States there are supposed to be about 275,000 sailors. In consequence of the peculiar exposure to which this class of men are subjected, it is found that the length of a generation is but about fifteen years, and that some 6000, on the average, every year perish by shipwreck.

SOLEMN THOUGHT.—We see not in this life the end of human actions. Their influence never dies. In ever-widening circles it reaches beyond the grave. "The ball once in motion, rolls on and on down the steps of eternity forever. The train is laid in time, the explosion is in eternity." We talk much of the solemnity of dying. With hushed voice and almost pulseless heart, we gaze upon the pallid cheek, the quivering lip, and heaving bosom of a dying friend. It is a solemn scene. But let us think more about the solemnity of living. Death removes us from this to an eternal world. Time determines what shall be our condition in that world. "Every morning as we go forth to act, we lay the moulding hand upon our destiny; and every evening when we have done, we have left a deathless impress upon our character." "We touch not a wire but vibrates in eternity—not a voice, but reports at the throne of God." Our characters will attend us through eternity. If good, they will follow us like friendly angels through our lives, shed light in our graves, and illuminate our immortality. If bad, they must accompany us in life, haunt us in death, and torment us in eternity. Let youth especially, "think of these things," and regulate their conduct accordingly; let every one remember, that in this world where character is in its formation state, it is a serious thing to think, to speak, to act.

YOUNG MEN AND THE SABBATH.—There is no safety to the young man who does not keep the Sabbath. He has forsaken God, and turned from his ways. He is on the devil's ground, tempting that old murderer to tempt him, provoking God to leave him in his hands to eat the fruit of his own way, and to be filled with his devices.

THE IDOL.

Whatever passes as a cloud between
The eye of faith and things unseen,
Causing that brighter world to disappear,
Or seem less lovely, and its hope less dear,
This is our world, our idol, though it wear
Affection's impress or devotion's air.

Proud men never have friends; neither in prosperity, because then they know nobody, nor in adversity, because then nobody knows them.

INFIDELS IGNORANT.—When the celebrated Dr. Samuel Johnson was asked why so many literary men were infidels, he replied, “Because they are ignorant of the Bible.” Were they truly acquainted with its contents, they must acknowledge it to be from God. And the truth of the remark is confirmed by the fact, that several of the most distinguished advocates of Christianity took up the Bible to oppose, but ended by believing and defending it.

SABBATH ANECDOTE.—There are a class of people that find a vast amount of “works of necessity” upon the Sabbath; and it is common for such in hay season to have more or less to do with their hay upon that day. A colored man who lived with a farmer of this character, saw, or thought he saw a determination on the part of his employer to follow up his labor upon this day of sacred rest. Sabbath morning, however, he was not up, as usual, at breakfast. The farmer’s son called him, but he said they need not wait for him, as he did not wish for any breakfast. “Why, Cæsar,” said he, “we shall want you as soon as the dew is off, to help about the hay.” “No,” said he, “I cannot work any more on the Sabbath; it is not right.” “Not right,” said the young man; “is it not duty to take care of what Providence has given us?” “O there is no necessity for it,” said he, “and ’tis wrong to do it.” “But would you not pull your cow or sheep out of a pit upon the Sabbath, Cæsar?” “No, not if I had been trying all the week to shove them in; I would let them lie there.”

NEVER OFFENDED.—The late Mr. Hardcastle, on one occasion being charged rather uncourteously, as well as unjustly, with finesse and artifice, he replied, “On entering the Missionary Society, I, in the strength of the Lord, made this resolution, never to be offended; and I have, by the grace of God, endeavored to maintain it. I shall, therefore, take no notice of the remarks just made, but proceed to the business before us.”

A WISE ANSWER.—A boy six years old was offered an orange, if he would tell where God is. “Tell me,” said the boy, “where he is not, and I will give you two.”

EDUCATION VS. CRIME.—One of the most fruitful causes of crime is undoubtedly a lack of proper education. An English paper has the following paragraph respecting ignorance and crime in England.

“England saves the expense of public schools, and the saving costs her fifty millions of dollars a year in courts’ penalties, and poor-rates, not to reckon ruined hopes, broken hearts, blasted characters, and the wretchedness of tens of thousands living in shame and agony, a living death, whom free-schools would have brought up to honor and happiness and a useful life. England has left the public morality to take care of itself, and the comment is heard in groans and written in blood.”

Those who in the day of sorrow have owned God’s presence in the cloud, will find him also to be in the pillar of fire, brightening and cheering the abode as night comes on.

THRILLING INCIDENT.—At a Temperance meeting in Philadelphia, some years ago, a learned clergyman spoke in favor of wine as a drink ; demonstrating its use, quite to his own satisfaction, to be scriptural, gentlemanly, and healthful. When he sat down, a plain, elderly man rose, and asked leave to say a few words. “A young friend of mine,” said he, “who had long been very intemperate, was at length prevailed on, to the great joy of his friends, to take the pledge of entire abstinence from all that could intoxicate. He kept the pledge faithfully for some time, struggling with his habit fearfully ; till one evening, in a social party, glasses of wine were handed around. They came to a clergyman present, who took a glass, saying a few words in vindication of the practice. ‘Well,’ thought the young man, ‘if a clergyman can take wine, and justify it so well, why not I?’ So he also took a glass. It instantly rekindled his fiery and slumbering appetite, and after a rapid downward course, he died of delirium tremens—died a raving madman.” The old man paused for utterance, and was just able to add, “That young man was my son, and the clergyman was the Rev. Doctor who has just addressed the assembly !”

Spirit of the Age.

THE MOTHER OF NAPOLEON.—Madame Letitia had the greatest power over Napoleon, who tenderly loved her. This superior woman devoted herself to the education of her children with a zeal as remarkable for its rare judiciousness as for its devotedness. To great good sense, and an elevated mind, she united extraordinary energy of character. Resigned in misfortune, prosperity never dazzled her. In the midst of the triumphs of Napoleon, when her children were dividing amongst themselves the thrones of Europe, she let fall this characteristic expression : “Who knows but that one day I may be obliged to give bread to all these kings?”

Christianity is the good man's text : his life the illustration.

DELAY.

Of all our losses, those delay doth cause
Are most and heaviest. By it we lose
The richest treasures, knowledge, wealth, and power,
And oft, alas, the never-dying soul !
Like Felix, we intend to hear the call
Of God and duty, at some future time ;
At some “convenient season,” which, alas,
May never come. And thus we madly waste
Probation, forfeit heaven, and heedless sink
To endless death.

RELIGION IN SOCIETY.—A man who puts aside his religion because he is going into society, resembles a person taking off his shoes because he is about to walk upon thorns.

THE MOTHER.—Sheridan wrote, “Women govern us ; let us try to render them perfect. The more they are enlightened, so much the more we shall be. On the cultivation of the minds of women, depends the wisdom of man.” Napoleon said, “The future destiny of the child is always the work of the mother.”

A SOFT HEAD.—A gay young fellow, of a deistical turn, travelling in a stage-coach to London, forced his sentiments on the company by attempting to ridicule the Scriptures. Among other topics he made himself merry with the story of David and Goliath, strongly urging the improbability of a youth like David being able to throw a stone with sufficient force to sink it in the giant's forehead. On this he appealed to the company, and in particular to an elderly Quaker who sat silent in one corner of the carriage. "Indeed, friend," replied he, "I do not think it improbable, if the Philistine's head was as soft as thine is."

EARLY RISING.—It is useless to rise with the lark, if we rise not with her towards heaven.

He that thinks he hath no need of Christ, hath too high thoughts of himself; he that thinks Christ cannot help him, hath too low thoughts of Christ.

RELIGION.

Like snow that falls where waters glide,
Earth's pleasures melt away;
They rest on time's resistless tide,
And cold are, while they stay.
But joys that from religion flow,
Like stars that gild the night,
Amid the darkest gloom of woe,
Shine forth with sweetest light.

Religion's ray no clouds obscure,
But o'er the Christian's soul
It sheds a radiance calm and pure,
Though tempests round him roll.
His heart may break 'neath sorrow's stroke,
But to its latest thrill,
*Like diamonds shining when they're broke,
That ray will light it still.*

THE DEVIL'S MAIL.—It is related in the biography of Rev. Samuel Haynes, the colored preacher, that some of his students having been slandered for their religious activity and zeal, went to him with their complaints, expecting his sympathy and protection. After a pause, Mr. Haynes observed, "I knew all this before." "Why, then," said one, "did you not inform us?" "Because," said he, "it was not worth communicating; and I now tell you plainly, once for all, my young friends, it is best to let the devil carry his own mail, and bear his own expenses."

Mr. Haynes once practised on this principle as follows: An unprincipled man overtook him in the road, and said, "Mr. Haynes, have you heard the scandalous reports that are abroad about you?" He calmly replied, "I have heard nothing." The man proceeded, in profane and abusive language, to give the details and allege that they were true; and that they would ruin his character. Mr. Haynes walked on in silence till he reached his own house, when he turned to the slanderer and said, "Well, Mr. ———, you see what disgrace my conduct has brought upon me, according to your own account. I want you to take warning from me, to forsake your evil course, and save your character from disgrace."

LIFE.

——— Life speeds away
From point to point, though seeming to stand still;
The cunning fugitive is swift by stealth;
Too subtle is the movement to be seen;
Yet soon man's hour is up, and he is gone.—YOUNG.

The earth is covered with its snowy mantle, and the brooks are locked up in icy fetters; but man goes forth with his strong rod, to break these fetters, and open the stream for the thirsty animals. The fowls, too, are furnished with food "convenient" for them, by the careful provision of man. "The Lord is good to all, and his tender mercies are over all his works." "The eyes of all wait upon thee, and thou givest them their meat in due season."

The Legislatures of Mississippi, Michigan, and Texas meet on the first Monday of this month; those of New York, Pennsylvania, and Delaware, on the first Tuesday; Massachusetts on the first Wednesday; Louisiana on the third Monday; and New Jersey on the fourth Tuesday.

"Thou shalt have no other gods before me." Exod. xx: 3.

The hale and sturdy wood-man now goes to the forest, with his axe, and his team. The trees will soon be felled, and prepared for fuel; and during the warm months of spring and summer, it will become dry, and ready for use the next cold winter. Now the long winter evenings should not be wasted in idle chit-chat, for "in the multitude of words there wanteth not sin;" certainly not in amusements, revelry, or mirth, which leave behind them only a sting; but should be employed in reading and treasuring up stores of useful knowledge.

"Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image, or any likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth: thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them: for I the Lord thy God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me; and showing mercy unto thousands of them that love me, and keep my commandments." Exod. 20: 4, 5, 6.

													Sun's decl. 9.

The frozen earth has now yielded to the warm and penetrating rays of the sun ; the ground is again soft, and the ploughman is abroad with a glad heart unpacking and turning up the earth, that it may be ready for the seed scattered by the hand of the sower. Both confide in the promise, “ While the earth remaineth, seed-time and harvest shall not cease.”

“ Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain ; for the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh his name in vain.” Exod. 20 : 7.

It chills my blood to hear the blest Supreme Rudely appealed to on each trivial theme !
Maintain your rank ; vulgarity despise ;
To SWEAR is neither brave, polite, nor wise :
You would not swear upon the bed of death ;
Reflect ! your Maker now could stop your breath !

Washington was once dining with several of his officers, when one of them uttered an oath. He instantly dropped his knife and fork, and in a deep tone, with characteristic dignity and earnestness said, “ I thought we all regarded ourselves as gentlemen !”

The beautiful month of showers has come, when the bow of promise spans the heavens, and pastimes and diversions are sought in the pure air and bright sunshine of the early spring. "Praise ye the Lord: for it is good to sing praises unto our God; for it is pleasant, and praise is comely." "Who covereth the heaven with clouds, who prepareth rain for the earth, who maketh grass to grow upon the mountains. He giveth to the beast his food, and to the young ravens which cry."

"Remember the Sabbath-day to keep it holy. Six days shalt thou labor, and do all thy work; but the seventh day is the Sabbath of the Lord thy God: in it thou shalt not do any work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, thy man-servant, nor thy maid-servant, nor thy cattle, nor thy stranger that is within thy gates: for in six days the Lord made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is, and rested the seventh day: wherefore the Lord blessed the Sabbath-day, and hallowed it." Exod. 20:8-11.

The warm and genial showers, and the rapidly succeeding sunshine have caused the grass to grow luxuriantly ; the cattle are now abundantly fed ; and the blithe and merry dairymaids go home with well filled pails, pausing by the way, to make the ploughman who is returning from his daily toil a participator in their pleasure. “Both young men and maidens, old men and children, let them praise the name of the Lord.”

The Legislature of Rhode Island assembles on the first Tuesday ; that of Connecticut on the first Wednesday of this month.

“Honor thy father and thy mother, that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.” Exod. 20 : 12.

Honor thy parents, those that gave thee birth,
And watched in tenderness thine earliest days,
And trained thee up in youth, and loved in all.
Honor, obey, and love them ; it shall fill

Their souls with holy joy, and shall bring down
God's richest blessing on thee ; and in days
To come, thy children, if they are given,
Shall honor thee, and fill thy life with peace.

Olympia, the mother of Alexander the Great, was so severe toward him, that his deputy, Antipater, wrote him long letters of complaint against her ; to which Alexander returned this answer : “Knowest thou not that one tear of my mother's will blot out a thousand of thy letters of complaint ?”

This is the day for "sheep washing." The villagers have come out to witness the scene, and the innocent, uncomplaining creatures are forced under the stream for reasons of which they are wholly ignorant. They will soon be relieved of their burden.

The Legislature of New Hampshire meets on the first Wednesday, and that of Maine on the second Wednesday of the month.

"Thou shalt not kill." Exod. 20 : 13.

The declaration of God to Noah, "Whoso sheddeth man's blood, by man shall his blood be shed," is, beyond all question, an express law of God ; and so accordant with it is the providence of God, that it has passed into a proverb : "Murder will out." This proverb includes the conviction that it will not only be discovered but avenged. And so the experience of the world declares. "Bloody and deceitful men shall not live out half their days."

The scorching heat reaches me not beneath this thick foliage. The dust from the travelled highway penetrates not these recesses. No voice of man disturbs my meditations. But the joyous melody of this babbling brook shall tune my spirit to song and praise. Here, in this solitude, this sweet retreat, shall my thoughts go forth to that bright and better land, where "the sun shall not smite by day;" for the city will, "have no need of the sun to shine in it." "The Lamb shall be the light thereof."

"Thou shalt not commit adultery." Exod. 20: 14.

"The violation of this commandment," says Dr. Paley, "corrupts and depraves the mind more than any single vice whatever. That ready perception of guilt, that prompt and decisive resolution against it, which constitutes a virtuous character, is seldom found in persons addicted to these indulgences. They prepare an easy admission for every sin; are, in low life, usually the first stage in men's progress to the most desperate villainies; and in high life to that lamented dissoluteness of principle which manifests itself in contempt of the obligations of religion and moral probity."

“Come, and away to the meadows!” The mower is whetting his scythe; the air is perfumed with the sweet breath of the new-made hay, which is tossed about, and thrown open to the warm rays of the sun. There are no clouds in the sky, threatening to break up our work, and destroy our crops. It will soon be dry, then the hay-carts will come into the field, and the exhilarating labor of loading will commence. How joyously does the farmer carry the precious burden to his barn, there to house it for winter!

“Thou shalt not steal.” Exod. 20:15.

Basest and meanest of all sins is theft:
To take thy neighbor's property, or aught
That's his; to practise fraud upon thyself
By idleness or waste; or by deceit,

Concealment, peculation, breach of trust,
To practise it on others. Aim to be In all thy dealings upright. True it is,
“An honest man's the noblest work of God!”

It was a maxim with the Jews, “that he that did not bring up his son to some honest calling, brought him up to be a thief.”

The time for putting in the sickle has come, for the grain is fully ripe. The husbandman now reaps the reward of patient toil; and his wife and little ones come forth to share his delight, and rejoice in the abundant provision for their future wants. Thus, in the great harvest, at the end of the world, the angels will be sent forth to gather the wheat into God's garner. "Then shall the righteous shine forth in the kingdom of their Father." "And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain."

"Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor." Exod. 20:16.

Beware the tongue that's set on fire of hell,
And flames in slander, falsehood, perjury,
In malice, idle talking, thoughtless tales.
Speak not too much—nor without thought; let truth
In all things, small or great, dwell on thy lips.

Remember, God hath said, "He that in word
Offends not, is a perfect man; while he
That bridles not his tongue, deceives himself,
And shows his faith is vain!

The fruits, too, are ripe. How bountifully is the earth stored with food, for both man and beast! Let not the merry group who fill their baskets and their storehouses with the rich fruits of autumn, forget to "give thanks to the Lord, for He is good."

The Legislature of Tennessee meets on the first Monday; that of Vermont, on the second Tuesday; and that of Rhode Island, on the last Monday of the month.

"Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's house, thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife, nor his man-servant, nor his maid-servant, nor his ox, nor his ass, nor any thing that is thy neighbor's." Exod. 20 : 17.

When Fenelon's Library was on fire, "God be praised," said he, "that it is not the dwelling of some poor man."

Dark clouds are driving angrily across the sky. Cold, piercing winds whirl the dry leaves through the air, and moan piteously among the leafless branches. Every thing in nature wears a cheerless, frowning aspect. The herds crowd together for protection from the blast, and look around them as if in search of food. The water-fowl press towards their native element. But the huntsman, sallying forth with dog and gun, turns not aside from his sport, though he feel the peltings of the storm. "O Lord, how manifold are thy works; in wisdom hast thou made them all." "Sing unto the Lord with thanksgiving; sing praise upon the harp unto our God."

The Legislatures of Georgia, Arkansas, Missouri, and Florida, meet on the first Monday; that of North Carolina, on the second Monday; and that of South Carolina, on the fourth Monday of the month.

"Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, with all thy soul, and with all thy mind: this is the first and great commandment. And the second is like unto it: Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets." Matt. 22:37-40. "A new commandment I give unto you, That ye love one another." John 13:34.

Behold winter in its glory, and terror too! The fast-falling snow is filling the road and blinding the eyes, so that to wish the travellers a prosperous journey, would seem to them like mockery. The fur-clad sportsmen heed not the tempests; but cheerfully brave it all, for the pleasures of hunting.—This is the time to reckon and settle with all those with whom you have accounts—pay all your bills, if they were not paid when due, which is the best of all.

And now that the frost of winter shuts you up in your dwelling, let your fireside be a paradise, and let the long evenings be consumed in pleasant conversation, or in the pursuit of useful knowledge, especially of that knowledge which has reference not merely to time, but to eternity.

The Legislatures of Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana, Illinois, and Alabama, meet on the first Monday of the month; and that of Maryland on the last Monday.

“Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God, and keep his commandments; for this is the whole duty of man. For God shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil.”
Eccl. 12: 13, 14.

FAMILY WORSHIP.—It was a saying of the late Rev. Dr. John M. Mason, that a house without family worship, had neither a foundation nor a covering.

DEATH OF THE RIGHTEOUS.—"I once met on the sea-shore," said the eastern poet Sadi, "a pious man who had been attacked by a tiger, and was horribly mutilated. He was dying, and suffering dreadful agonies. Nevertheless his features were calm and serene, and his physical pains seemed to be vanquished by the purity of his soul. 'Great God,' said he, 'I thank thee, that I am only suffering from the fangs of the tiger, and not from remorse.'"

"Time well employed, is Satan's deadliest foe,
It leaves no opening for the lurking fiend!"

EDUCATION SHOULD BE RELIGIOUS.—Knowledge alone is not sufficient. It is, indeed, power; but if unsanctified, power for evil. Knowledge did not teach Charlemagne to sacrifice his own desires to the happiness of any living creature. It neither made Augustus respect the life of Cicero, nor the pupil of Aristotle restrain his passions. Mirabeau, the genius of the French, was a monster of depravity; and Robespierre himself was a man of education. Knowledge, on the contrary, when undirected by virtue, is made the servant of vice, and has in all ages produced most fearful consequences.

THE COUNTRY.

Would you be strong? go follow up the plough;
Would you be thoughtful? study fields and flowers;
Would you be wise? take on yourself a vow,
To go to school in Nature's sunny bowers.
Fly from the city; nothing there can charm—
Seek wisdom, strength, and virtue on a farm.

FORGET YOUR INJURIES.—He is unwise and unhappy, who never forgets the injuries he may have received. They come across the heart like dark shadows, when the sunshine of happiness would bless him, and throw him into a tumult that does not easily subside. The demon of hate reigns in his bosom, and makes him, of all accountable creatures, the most miserable.

Have you been injured in purse or character? Let the smiling angel of forgiveness find repose in your bosom. Study not how you may revenge, but the best way to return good for evil. It was the constant habit of Bishop Boulter to forgive all who injured him, and he always enjoyed peace of mind. After his death, the following lines were written by one of his friends. They are no less beautiful than true.

Some write their wrongs in marble—he, more just,
Stooped down serene, and wrote them in the dust;
Trode under foot, the sport of every wind,
Swept from the earth, and blotted from his mind—
There buried in the dust he bade them lie,
And grieved they could not 'scape the Almighty's eye.

HOPE.—We are never beneath hope while we are above hell; and we are never above hope while we are beneath heaven.

DRESS.—Every person should aim to dress with neatness and taste, with a due regard also to the prevailing fashion, that there may be no appearance of oddity or eccentricity. This is due to ourselves and society at large. So long as this is accomplished, but very few will care whether a person has one solitary dress or five hundred—whether the same neat and becoming dress is worn in company month after month, and year after year, or thrown aside with contempt after being once worn, and replaced with another.

EXAMPLE—LOOK TO IT.—Let every parent look well to his daily and hourly example ; for children, says an able writer, make more use of the eye than the ear ; and the expressions are clearer and stronger from the one than the other—they will not be influenced so much by what you say, as by what you do. In vain do you exhort them to be spiritual, while you are worldly. In vain do you point them to the narrow path which leads to heaven, while you decline to walk in it. In vain do you warn them from carnal indulgences in which you seek your gratification. You must live what you teach ; you must be what you desire them to become. This is the necessary price of a happy state of religion in the family ; and it is, alas, a price many parents decline to pay.

A SHERIFF'S TESTIMONY TO THE VALUE OF THE SABBATH.—An under-sheriff of London mentions the saying of a Puritan divine, "Hem the Sabbath well, and it will not ravel out all the week ;" and he adds, "My office has enabled me to confirm the value of the Sabbath, there being scarcely a criminal, whether for death or minor punishment, who was not daily confessing to me, in Newgate, that he considered his first fall, and subsequent misery, to be owing to the violation of that blessed day."

IMPROVE THE PRESENT.

Arrest the present moment ; stay its flight ;
 Imprint the marks of wisdom on its wings :
 'Tis of more worth than kingdoms ; far more precious
 Than all the richest treasures of the earth !
 O let it not elude thy grasp ; but like
 The good old patriarch of God's holy word,
 Hold the fleet angel fast until he bless thee !

WRITE IT IN GOLD.—"The great comprehensive truths," says President Quincy, "written in letters of living light on every page of our history, are these: Human happiness has no perfect security but freedom ; freedom, none but virtue ; virtue, none but knowledge ; and neither freedom, nor virtue, has any vigor or immortal hope, except in the principles of the Christian faith, and in the sanctions of the Christian religion."

THE PROGRESS OF LIBERAL GOVERNMENT.—Fifteen kingdoms, twenty-three duchies, and eight republics have constitutional governments—in all, forty-six governments which have constitutions. At the epoch of the American Revolution, there were only seven republics and two monarchies which had constitutions.

A GEM FROM FLAVEL.—Christ did much work for God in a very silent manner; he labored diligently, but did not spoil his work, when he had wrought it, by vain ostentation. When he had expressed his charity in acts of mercy and bounty to men, he would humbly seal up the glory of it with this charge, “See ye tell no man.” Matt. 8:4. He affected no popular air. O, imitate your pattern; work hard for God, and let not pride blow upon it when you have done. It is difficult for a man to do much, and not value himself too much for it.

HINTS TO YOUNG MEN.—Always have a book within your reach, which you may catch up at your odd minutes. Resolve to edge in a little reading every day, if it is but a single sentence. If you can give fifteen minutes a day, it will be felt at the end of the year. Regulate your thoughts when not at study. A man is thinking even while at work. Why may he not be thinking about something that is useful? Revolve in your mind what you have last been reading.

The Emperor Constantine said to a man who was heaping up riches here, “Amass all you can—spend your life in pursuit of riches; yet,” said he, pointing to his body, “a little spot of earth of its size, is all you can possess.”

TO SABBATH-SCHOOL TEACHERS.—A punctual and regular teacher will have a punctual and regular class. If you fulfil your parts, you may expect them to fulfil theirs. If they are absent, call on them; if they are sick, visit them: a house-going teacher will have a school-going class. The letter of a teacher to a sick or afflicted child is felt as a kindness; it brings to remembrance the truth, soothes the sufferer, and often is blessed to the family.

PRAYER AND WATCHFULNESS.

Mount upward; heaven is won by prayer!
Be sober, for you are not there!

A CORRECT IDEA OF LIBERTY.—Burke’s idea of liberty is capital. He says, “Men are qualified for civil liberty in exact proportion to their disposition to put chains upon their own appetites; in proportion as their love of justice is above their rapacity; in proportion as their soundness and sobriety of understanding is above their vanity and presumption; in proportion as they are more disposed to listen to the counsels of the wise and good, in preference to the flattery of knaves. Society cannot exist unless a controlling power upon the will and appetite is placed somewhere; and the less of it there is within, the more there must be of it without. It is ordained, in the eternal constitution of things, that men of intemperate minds cannot be free. Passions forge their fetters.”

SELF-EDUCATION.—We all of us have two educations, one of which we receive from others; another, and the most valuable, which we give ourselves. It is this last which fixes our grade in society, and eventually our actual value in this life, and perhaps the color of our fate hereafter. All the professors and teachers in the world would not make you a wise and a good man without your own coöperation; and if such you are determined to be, the want of them will not prevent it.

Randolph to his Nephew.

LITTLE THINGS.

Scorn not the slightest word or deed,
 Nor deem it void of power;
 There's fruit in each wind-wafted seed,
 Waiting its natal hour.
 A whispered word may touch the heart,
 And call it back to life;
 A look of love bid sin depart,
 And still unholy strife.

No act falls fruitless; none can tell
 How vast its power may be,
 Nor what results enfolded dwell
 Within it silently.
 Work, and despair not; give thy mite,
 Nor care how small it be;
 God is with all that serve the right,
 The holy, true, and free!

A RESOURCE IN ADVERSITY.—That a thorough, religious, useful education is the best security against misfortune, disgrace, and poverty, is universally believed and acknowledged; and to this we add the firm conviction, that, when poverty comes—as it sometimes will—upon the prudent, the industrious, and the well-informed, a judicious education is all-powerful in enabling them to endure the evils it cannot always prevent. A mind full of piety and knowledge is always rich: it is a bank that never fails; it yields a perpetual dividend of happiness.

SCANDAL.—Dr. Johnson being once in company with some scandalmongers, one of them having accused an absent friend of resorting to rouge, he observed, “It is, perhaps, after all, much better for a lady to redden her own cheeks, than to blacken other people’s characters.”

PROGRESS OF LIFE.

Here in the body pent,
 Absent from heaven I roam;
Yet nightly pitch my moving tent
A day’s march nearer home!

PRAYING ALWAYS.

For once I sought a time and place,
 For solitude and prayer;
 But now, where’er I find thy face,
I find a closet there!

WELL ANSWERED.—A person who suspected that a minister of his acquaintance was not truly a Calvinist, went to him, and said, “Sir, I am told you are against the perseverance of the saints.” “Not I, indeed,” answered he; “it’s the perseverance of the sinners that I oppose.” “But that is not a satisfactory answer, sir. Do you think that a child of God cannot fall very low, and yet be restored?” He replied, “I think it will be very dangerous to try the experiment!”

LAZINESS.—Laziness grows on people; it begins in cobwebs and ends in iron chains. The more business a man has to do the more he is able to accomplish, for he learns to economize his time.

THE CHANGES OF LIFE.—What a beautiful lesson is taught in these words of Sterne: “So quickly sometimes has the wheel turned round, that many a man has lived to enjoy the benefit of that charity which his own piety projected.”

THE ICE-TRADE.—The American ice-trade is a cause of astonishment to France, for they have found that it yields as much annually as their wine-trade. To give some idea of the importance of this equatorial trade, a Boston house is instanced, which, within a single year, despatched to Asia 101 vessels laden with ice, which produced 17,000,000 florins. This, says the Presse, is almost as large a sum as that which annually accrues from one vintage of the wines of Bordeaux.

BREAST THE WAVE, CHRISTIAN.

Breast the wave, Christian,
 When it is strongest ;
 Watch for day, Christian,
 When the night's longest ;
 Onward, and onward still Be thine endeavor ;
 The rest that remaineth
 Will be for ever.

Fight the fight, Christian,
 Jesus is o'er thee ;
 Run the race, Christian,
 Heaven is before thee :

He who hath promised,
 Flattereth never ;
 The love of eternity
 Flows on forever.

Lift the eye, Christian,
 Just as it closeth ;
 Raise the heart, Christian,
 Ere it reposeth :
 Thee from the love of Christ
 Nothing shall sever ;
 Mount when thy work is done ;
 Praise him forever !

THE DYING NOBLEMAN.—A certain nobleman, as the story goes, had a rude wit in his employ, called a fool. Amused with a remark of his one day, the nobleman gave him his walking-cane, with this injunction: "Take this walking-cane, and keep it until you meet with a greater fool than yourself, and then give it to him." In process of time, his lordship was laid upon a dying bed, and sending for his attendant, bade him "Farewell!" "Where is your lordship going?" said the man. "I am going to my long home," replied the nobleman. "Your long home! How long is your lordship going to stay there?" "O," said the dying nobleman, "I am never to return!" "Never to return!" exclaimed the man, "never to return!" "No," said the nobleman, "I am going to eternity, and am never to return." "Has your lordship made any preparation for your journey?" "No," said he, "I have not." "Then," replied the man, "your lordship will please to take the walking-cane; for with all my folly, never have I been guilty of folly like this!"

PLATO.—Several anecdotes of Plato are preserved, which reflect honor on his moral principles and character. Having raised his hand to correct a servant when in anger, he kept his arm fixed in that posture for a considerable time. To a friend coming in, and inquiring the reason of his singular conduct, he replied, "I am punishing a passionate man!" At another time, he said to one of his slaves, "I would chastise you, if I were not angry." When told that his enemies were circulating reports to his disadvantage, he remarked, "I will so live that no one will believe them." A friend observing his studious habits even in extreme old age, inquired how long he intended to be a scholar. "As long," said he, "as I have need to grow wiser and better."

PRIDE AND HUMILITY.—I never yet found pride in a noble nature, nor humility in an unworthy mind. Of all trees, I observe that God hath chosen the vine—a low plant, that creeps helpless upon a wall. Of all beasts, the soft and patient lamb; of all fowls, the mild and guileless dove. When God appeared to Moses, it was not in a lofty cedar, nor in the sturdy oak, nor the spreading palm, but a bush—an humble, slender, abject bush; as if he would, by these selections, check the arrogance of man. Nothing procureth love like humility; nothing hate, like pride.

Feltham's Resolves.

SIN AND DEATH.—Sin formed the volcano, the earthquake, the hurricane, the pestilence which mows down the population of cities and empires! Sin inflicts every pang! Sin nerves every death-throe! Sin stains and blanches every corpse! Sin weaves every shroud! Sin shapes every coffin! Sin digs every grave! Sin writes every epitaph! Sin sculpts every monument! Sin feeds every worm! The waste and havoc of centuries that are gone, and the waste and havoc of centuries yet to come, all reverberate in one awful voice, “Death hath passed upon all men, for that all have sinned.”

THE HOURS THAT SHINE.—There is a sun-dial in Italy which bears this inscription—

“I MARK ONLY THE HOURS THAT SHINE.”

Aye, that is the secret of a cheerful and grateful heart—to “mark the hours that shine.” He who does this will ordinarily find more hours that shine than that are clouded—more good than ill in his lot; and he shall never be able to say, I have no occasion for thanksgiving.

CANDOR AND DIGNITY.—Several gentlemen in the company of Lord Bolingbroke were speaking of the avarice of the Duke of Marlborough, and they appealed to his lordship for the truth of the instances which they adduced. “He is so great a man,” replied Lord Bolingbroke, “that I have forgotten his vices.” A truly generous answer for a political enemy to make.

EVIL COMPANIONS.—Society is the atmosphere of souls; and we necessarily imbibe from it something which is either infectious or salubrious. The society of virtuous persons is enjoyed beyond their company, while vice carries a sting into solitude. The society or company you keep, is both the indication of your character and the former of it. In vicious society, you will feel your reverence for the dictates of conscience wear off, and that name at which angels bow and devils tremble, you will hear contemned and abused. The Bible will supply materials for unmeaning jest or impious buffoonery: the consequence of this will be a practical deviation from virtue, the principles will become sapped, the fences of conscience broken down; and when debauchery has corrupted the character, a total inversion will take place, and the sinner will glory in his shame.

CONTENTMENT.—A contented mind is the greatest blessing a man can enjoy in this world; and if, in the present life, his happiness arises from the subduing of his desires, it will arise in the next from the gratification of them.

Our conscience is as fire within us, our sins as the fuel; therefore, instead of warming, it will scorch us, unless the fuel be removed, or the heat of it allayed by penitential tears.

Rev. John Mason.

THE LADIES OF VIENNA.—“Among circles of the highest ton, in Vienna,” observes a traveller, in a recent work, “a young lady cannot touch wine of any kind, without materially tarnishing the delicacy of her high breeding thereby.”

THE PRICELESS DIAMOND.—There is no gem or jewel, or richest pearl in all the universe, of such priceless value as the soul. Worlds could not buy it—worlds could not redeem it, if once lost. Such a priceless diamond you carry about with you every day in your bosom, amid the dangers of earth, and where numerous and invisible foes are seeking to rob you of it. Do not delay to place it in the hands of the almighty Saviour, who only can preserve and keep it safely till the final day. Think, O think, how much is at stake: even your own soul, your own precious soul.

Suppose this world were a globe of gold, and each star in yonder firmament a jewel of the first order, and the moon a diamond, and the sun literally a crown of all-created glory; one soul, in value, would outweigh them all. Here is a man standing on board of a vessel at sea, holding his hand over the side of the vessel: he is sporting with a jewel worth a hundred thousand dollars, and which, too, is all his fortune. Playing with his jewel, he throws it up and catches it—throws it up and catches it. A friend noticing the brilliancy of the jewel, warns him of the danger of losing it, and tells him that if it slips through his fingers it goes down to the bottom of the deep, and can be recovered no more. “O, there is no danger; I have been doing this a long time, and you see I have not lost it yet.” Again he throws it up, and—it is gone; past recovery, gone! O, when the man finds that his jewel is indeed lost, and by his own folly lost, who can describe his agony, as he exclaims, “I have lost my jewel, my fortune, my all!” O, sinner, hear me; casketed in your bosom, you have a jewel of infinitely greater value; in idling away your precious time, you are in danger of losing that pearl of price unknown, in danger of being lost forever.

A GOOD RULE.—It is always a good rule, to step in no path, to speak no word, to commit no act, when conscience appears to whisper, Beware. You had better wait a twelvemonth and learn your duty, than take a hasty step and bring tears and repentance to a dying day. How many a lost man might have been saved, had he listened to an inward monitor and resisted the first inclination to deviate from the holy path of rectitude. See, far away before you, and on either side, the ground whitened with the bones and sinews of millions who have perished ignobly in the march of life. They resisted the Spirit of truth, and fell. They trusted to themselves, and sunk at the onset. Take warning by them. Could their bones live, breathe, and speak, how earnestly would they appeal to you. They would compel you, as it were, to pursue a virtuous course, that your end might be joyous and not degraded.

The cure of an evil tongue must be done at the heart. The weights and wheels are there, and the clock strikes according to their motion. A guileful heart makes a guileful tongue and lips. It is the workhouse where is the forge of deceits and slanders; and the tongue is only the outer shop where they are vended, and the door of it. Such ware as is made within, such, and no other, can come out.

Leighton.

A TRIFLE.—One kernel is felt in a hogshead ; one drop of water helps to swell the ocean ; a spark of fire helps to give light to the world. You are a small man ; passing amid the crowd, you are hardly noticed ; but you have a drop, a spark within you, that may be felt through eternity. Do you believe it ? Set that drop in motion ; give wings to that spark, and behold the results. It may renovate the world. None are too small, too feeble, too poor to be of service. Think of this and act. Life is no trifle.

TRIBUTE TO NEW ENGLAND.—Mr. Calhoun, in his letter to the New England Society Committee at Washington, declining an invitation to their dinner on the 22d December, takes occasion to say, “By what causes has so inconsiderable a beginning, under such formidable, and apparently almost insurmountable difficulties resulted, in so brief a period, in such mighty consequences ? They are to be found in the high moral and intellectual qualities of the pilgrims. Their faith, piety, and confident trust in a superintending Providence ; their stern virtues ; their patriotic love of liberty and order ; their devotion to learning ; and their indomitable courage and perseverance. These are the causes which surmounted every obstacle, and which have led to such mighty results.”

CANDIDATES FOR CONSUMPTION.—It is incalculable what an amount of female mortality is owing to wet or damp feet, and unnecessary exposure to the night air, in attending balls and parties. On New Year's we could not but notice, that notwithstanding the sloppy walking, hundreds of fragile young ladies were defying cold and consumption, with no other protection to their feet than light gaiter boots, or shoes, with soles scarcely thicker than wafers. How many of these foolish girls will attain middle age ? Not one in ten. They wear these wretched apologies for winter walking-shoes because they fear that thicker ones would look ugly ; but they ought to know, that nothing can look well which is unseasonable. The remark is frequently made by men, “That girl is proud of her pretty foot, or she wouldn't wear that shoe ;” and if young ladies wish to avoid the imputation of vanity, as well as preserve their beauty, they will wear what is suitable for the season.

MARRIED LIFE.—“A great proportion of the wretchedness which has so often imbittered married life, I am persuaded, has originated in a negligence of trifles. Connubial happiness is a thing of too fine a texture to be handled roughly. It is a sensitive plant, which will not bear even the touch of unkindness ; a delicate flower, which indifference will chill and suspicion blast. It must be watered by the showers of tender affection, expanded by the cheering glow of affection, and guarded by the impregnable barrier of unshaken confidence. Thus matured, it will bloom with fragrance in every season of life, and sweeten even the loneliness of declining years.”

RAVAGES OF INTEMPERANCE.—It is a fact I would not avow were it not substantiated and well sustained by the records laid before Parliament, that EVERY NINE MINUTES, in England and Wales, one being falls a victim to the habit of intoxication, and goes to render an account at the bar of God for suicide. Rev. Dr. Conquest.

COLLEGES IN THE UNITED STATES, JANUARY, 1848.

NOTE.—Colleges marked (B.) are under the direction of Baptists; (E.) Episcopalians; (M.) Methodists; (R. C.) Roman Catholics. In those marked (C.) the prevailing religious influence is Congregationalism, and in those marked (P.) some form of Presbyterianism. By students is meant undergraduates, or members of the four collegiate classes, except in some of the colleges of the Southern and Western States, where the replies to inquiries have included students in preparatory departments. Roman Catholic colleges, however, (which are organized very differently from those that are Protestant;) have attached to them the numbers, respectively, of all their students, corresponding to those in both the collegiate and preparatory departments of Protestant institutions. The column of Libraries, includes the volumes of both college and students' or Society libraries. Where no statistics are given, as in case of some of the colleges, it is because no reply has been received to letters of inquiry which have been sent to all the colleges in the United States.

HYMN FOR NEW YEAR'S DAY.

BY REV. THOS. RAFFLES, D.D., LL.D.

Lo! another year has fled,
All its hours are past and gone,
And the record they have made,
Is before the eternal throne.
In that awful book it lies,
From within whose open'd leaves,
Fraught with human destinies,
Each his final doom receives.

Pause and ponder, O my soul!
For thy name is written there;
And from that unerring scroll
Thou thy last award must hear.
Will it be for weal or wo?
Solemn secret! who can tell?
Tell me whither I shall go—
Rise to Heaven, or sink to Hell?

For no middle state remains—
No alternative beside,
Endless joy, or endless pains,
Each his sentence must abide;
Joy, unspeakable and vast,
Or the pangs that never die,
Ever present—never past—
Boundless as Eternity!

Narrow is the way, I know,
Strait the gate that leads to life,
Hard the work that I must do,
Sharp the conflict, fierce the strife.
Every lust within me bred—
Every appetite—denied,
To the world's allurements dead,
With the Saviour crucified.

But a glorious rest remains,
In that world which is to come;
There the goal the racer gains,
There the pilgrim finds his home.
Lo! amid the radiant host,
Clad in robes of spotless white,
All his sorrow now is lost
In ineffable delight.

Then, afresh, thine armour take,
Gird thee for the race anew,
With the new-born year, awake,
Rise, my soul! thy course pursue.
What should tempt thee to delay?
What should lure thee from the road?
Rise, and urge thy onward way
To the paradise of God!

ECLIPSES IN THE YEAR 1851.

THERE will be two Eclipses of the Sun, and two of the Moon, this year.

I. On the 17th of January there will be an Eclipse of the Moon, at the time of Full Moon, which will be in the morning in the United States, excepting that in the eastern part of Maine it will be in the afternoon. This Eclipse will be invisible here, but may be seen in the opposite regions of the globe. Magnitude, 5.58 digits on the Moon's northern limb.

II. At the time of New Moon, February 1st, in the morning, (January 31st, in the evening, in the States and Territories west of Mississippi river,) there will be an Eclipse of the Sun, invisible in America. The Sun may be seen eclipsed, to a greater or less extent, on the southern limb at Australia, the Cape of Good Hope, and the southern part of Madagascar; and on the northern limb at New-Zealand. This Eclipse will be central and annular on the meridian, in longitude $98^{\circ} 22'$ east from Greenwich, and latitude $58^{\circ} 23'$ south.

III. On the 12th and 13th of July there will be an Eclipse of the Moon in the evening and morning, visible.

At Astoria, in Oregon Territory, this Eclipse will be chiefly visible. The Sun will rise there at 4 h. 40 m. with 7.01 digits eclipsed, and at 4 h. 58 m. it will be 9.18 digits eclipsed. The Eclipse will end at 5 h. 49 m.

At San Francisco the Sun will rise at 5 h. 2 m. with an Eclipse of 6.65 digits diminishing, which will end at 5 h. 43 m.

This Eclipse will be visible, more or less, throughout Europe, and in the northern part of Africa. It will be central and total on the meridian, in longitude $33^{\circ} 43'$ west from Greenwich, and latitude $69^{\circ} 54'$ north.

APOGEE AND PERIGEE OF THE SUN.

The Sun is in Perigee Dec. 31, 1850; distant from the earth, 93,582,000 English m.

" Apogee July 1, 1851; " " " 96,771,000 "

" Perigee Jan. 2, 1852; " " " 93,575,000 "

The Perigee skips over 1851, and occurs twice in 1852.

TO ASCERTAIN THE LENGTH OF THE DAY AND NIGHT at any time of the year, double the time of the sun's rising, which gives the length of the night; and double the time of setting, which gives the length of the day.

EPWORTH CHURCH.

THIS engraving represents a spot which can never be viewed without interest by any member of the Methodist community. Epworth is a market-town in Lincolnshire, Eng., about one hundred and ten miles north-west of London. It is a long, straggling village, lying in a low, flat country, possessing little or no interest, except in its associations with the Wesley family. The Rev. Samuel Wesley, Sen., was presented to the rectory of Epworth in 1693, (ten years before the birth of his son John,) and in this church he proclaimed the word of life for forty years. Here, too, John Wesley, in his early days, often preached; and when, on his occasional visits to Epworth, after his father's death, he was refused the pulpit by the parish clergyman, he several times, standing on his father's tombstone, delivered his message to crowds of eager listeners in the churchyard.

The large tree on the right of the church is a sycamore, which was planted by the hand of old Mr. Wesley. Dr. Clarke, who saw it in 1821, says, "It is a large tree. I measured its girth; it was exactly two fathoms in circumference. The tree is becoming hollow at the root, and is decaying very fast."

CAUSE OF SPIRITUAL DARKNESS.—The moon is never in eclipse but when the earth comes between it and the sun; and it is the world coming between God and his children, that hides the light of his countenance from their souls.—Calamy.

MUCH TRUTH IN FEW WORDS.—The sum and substance of the preparation needed for a coming eternity is, that you believe what the Bible tells you, and do what the Bible bids you.—Dr. Chalmers.

WORLDLY TROUBLES.—I cannot but observe that matters of the world go best with me, when I am least anxious about them.—T. Boston.

RECTORY HOUSE AT EPWORTH.

THIS house was the residence of the Wesley family for about twenty-five years. The old house, which was standing when Mr. Wesley was appointed to the rectory, was an antiquated building, "constructed of timber and mud, and plastered without, and covered with thatch." This was consumed by fire in 1709, an event rendered memorable by the providential escape of John Wesley, then about six years of age. Mr. Samuel Wesley then built a new house, (the one represented in this engraving,) at an expense of £400, which was equal to his entire income for two years. This house still remains, and was visited by Dr. A. Clarke in 1821. He says, "Mr. Nelson (the curate) led us into every room and apartment in the house, up and down. I was greatly delighted. The house is a large, plain mansion, built of brick, canted roof, and tiled. It is a complete, old-fashioned family house, and very well suited for nineteen children. [Samuel Wesley had nineteen children, but they were not all living at one time.] The attic floor is entirely from end to end of the whole building. This floor is terraced, evidently designed for a repository of the tithe corn, and where it would be preserved cool and safe." A further description of the house may be found in the life of Dr. Clarke, pp. 508, 509; and also in the second volume of the Sunday School Advocate.

THE CELESTIAL SABBATH.

THE golden palace of my God,
 Towering above the clouds I see;
 Beyond the cherub's bright abode,
 Higher than angel's thoughts can be.
 How can I in those courts appear,
 Without a wedding garment on?

Conduct me, thou Life-giver, there,
 Conduct me to thy glorious throne!
 And clothe me with thy robes of light,
 And lead me through sin's darksome night,
 My Saviour and my God!

			Gun burst on board the Princeton, 1844

THIS beautiful chateau was the birthplace of Jean Guillaume de la Flechère, better known as the Rev. John William Fletcher, Vicar of Madeley. His father was of noble lineage, and Jean Guillaume was his youngest son.

This paternal residence, still in the possession of the family, was erected about five hundred years ago. It is a fine old mansion, built on an elevation at the extremity of the town of Nyon, Switzerland, fifteen miles north of Geneva. A room which Mr. Fletcher occupied in one of his visits to his fatherland, still retains his venerated name. One of the windows commands a view of a beautiful wood, the favourite haunt of Mr. F. in meditative mood; and beyond, a far-extended landscape, varied with hill and dell, vineyards and pastures, bounded by the dark chain of the Jura mountains. At a few paces from the chateau there is a terrace which overlooks one of the most exquisite prospects in that romantic country. The whole expanse of Lake Lemman is spread out: tracing its margin, so gracefully curved, there are many richly-wooded bays; and at the farthest extremity, on the right, appears Geneva, the cradle of the Reformation and of liberty; on the left Lausanne, and the celebrated castle of Chillon; while the horizon is indented by those Alpine peaks which embosom the hospitable Convent of St. Bernard, and the lovely valley of Chamouny. It is one of those charming scenes which can never be adequately described.

"Come," says Mr. Fletcher in a letter to a friend in England, "come and share a pleasant apartment in the house where I was born, and one of the finest prospects in the world. I design to try this fine air some months longer. This is a delightful country. We have a fine shady wood near the lake, where I can ride in the cool all the day, and enjoy the singing of a multitude of birds. But this, though sweet, does not come up to the singing of my dear friends in England. There I meet them in spirit several hours in the day." At this time Mr. Fletcher was a great invalid: he had long been threatened with consumption, and was compelled to quit his beloved flock in Madeley, to try the effect of a tour in southern Europe.

MADELEY CHURCH and VICARAGE are here represented as they appeared in Mr. Fletcher's time. In the former he faithfully, and with eminent success, preached the word of life for twenty-five years; and, after his last sermon, distributed with dying hand the lone memorials of his dying love, and with almost expiring breath delivered many affectionate exhortations to a people who were deeply affected to see him thus offering up the last languid remains of a life that had been lavishly spent in their service. After struggling through a service of near four hours' continuance, he was supported, with blessings in his mouth, from the altar to his chamber, where he lay for some time in a swoon, and in a few days finished his saintly career. Mrs. Fletcher sat at a window in the vicarage and witnessed his funeral, the spot in which he was buried being so near, that with the window open she could hear the service.

THE PRECIOUS HOPE.

THERE is a hope, a precious hope,
The world can never give;
And when all earthly hopes are fled,
This blessed hope shall live.

This world is not its native place;
'Tis not by mortals given;
It enters that within the veil—
'Tis anchor'd fast in heaven.

'Tis built upon the Saviour's blood,
And on his dying love;
It points the lonely wanderer here
Up to a home above.

It whispers in the sinner's ear
Of crimes and sins forgiven,
And promises his weary soul
A peace and rest in heaven.

Nor time, nor space, nor life, nor death,
Shall e'er this hope remove;
Eternity's unceasing years
Its endless life shall prove.

Long as the Saviour's name is known,
This hope shall still endure;
Long as Jehovah's throne shall stand,
This hope shall be secure.

THIS engraving represents a spot in Arreton, a small village in the Isle of Wight, interesting to the Christian as being the residence of Elizabeth Wallbridge, a member of the Methodist Society, whose precious memory has been immortalized in Legh Richmond's beautiful narrative of the Dairyman's Daughter.* In this humble dwelling she spent the greater part of her pilgrimage; and from one of its lowly chambers her pure spirit, when released from its earthly tabernacle, took its flight to the "house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens."

CHRIST BY THE WELL OF SYCHAR.

BY REV. GEO. W. BETHUNE, D. D.

"My meat is to do the will of Him that sent me."

Upon the well by Sychar's gate,
At burning noon the Saviour sat,
Athirst and hungry from the way
His feet had trod since early day.
The twelve had gone in search of food,
And left him in his solitude.

They come—and spread before him there
With faithful haste the pilgrim fare,
And gently bid him, "Master, eat!"
But God hath sent him better meat,
And there is on his holy brow
Nor weariness nor faintness now.

For while they sought the market-place,
His words had won a soul to grace;
And when he set that sinner free
From bonds of guilt and infamy,
His heart grew strong with joy divine,
More than the strength of bread and wine.

So, Christian, when thy strength grows faint
Amid the toils that throng the saint,
Ask God that thou may'st peace impart
Unto some other human heart;
And thou thy Master's joy shalt share,
E'en while his cross thy shoulders bear.

DANCING.—It was a true and forcible remark, that "if dancing does sometimes make people more graceful, it much more frequently makes them graceless."

* The best and most complete edition of the Dairyman's Daughter is that published by Lane and Scott, which contains, besides Mr. Richmond's entire narrative, much additional information concerning her and her family. It is an 18mo. volume of 176 pages; price only 25 cents, bound in muslin.

INDIAN MOUND IN KENTUCKY.

IN various parts of the West are found mounds of earth, of different sizes ; some very small, and others so large as to be often taken for natural hills. They are the work of the ancient inhabitants of the country, and were constructed many centuries ago. Some of them are grown over with trees of great age. There are various opinions as to the purposes for which they were designed, but it is the general belief that many of them were places of sepulture. It is estimated that there are at least ten thousand of these mounds in Ohio. Near Miamisburg is one 68 feet high and 852 in circumference ; at the mouth of Grave Creek, Va., is one 70 feet high, and 1000 feet in circumference. At Cahokia, Ill., is one 90 feet high and 2000 in circumference ; and another in Mississippi, is estimated to cover six acres of ground. One of the most beautiful and regularly formed of these remains is a circular work in Greenup County, Ky., consisting of an embankment five feet high by thirty feet base, enclosing an area over a hundred feet in diameter, in the centre of which rises a mound eight feet high by forty feet base. The earth to construct them was generally taken from pits, or "dug holes," which are still visible.

A JEWISH PARABLE.

A POOR man was travelling on a hot day, carrying a heavy load upon his back. A rich man passing by in his chariot took pity on him, and invited him to take a seat in his chariot behind. Shortly after, on turning round, the rich man saw the pilgrim still oppressed with the load upon his back, and asked why he did not lay it on the chariot. The poor man said that it was enough that he had been allowed to be himself carried in the chariot, and he could not presume to ask for more. "O, foolish man," was the reply, "if I am willing and able to carry you, am I not able also to carry your burden?"

Oppressed and anxious Christian, do you not see in this man your own unbelief and folly? He who has accepted your person, and is your reconciled Father in Christ Jesus, expects you to cast upon Him all your burden of cares too, and He is able to sustain it.

BUNYAN'S COTTAGE AT ELSTOW.

ELSTOW is a small village about a mile from Bedford. The above view of the cottage in which the immortal dreamer was born, and where he spent many years of his useful life, was copied from a picture taken from an old print.

~~~~~ COMING TO CHRIST.

ONCE more, coming sinner, think of the Saviour who inviteth thee ; full of grace as well as of truth. He complaineth if thou come not ; he is displeased if thou call not upon him ; he can bear with thy weakness ; he can pity thy ignorance ; he can be touched with the feeling of thy infirmities ; he can affectionately forgive thy transgressions ; he can heal thy backslidings, and love thee freely. His compassions fail not ; he will not break the bruised reed, nor quench the smoking flax ; he can pity where no eye pities, and be afflicted in all thy afflictions ; he will bow his ear to thy stammering prayer ; he will accept the weakest offering, if there be in it but thy heart ; he hath strewed all the way from the gate of hell, where thou wast, to the gate of heaven, whither thou art going, with promises.

Behold how the promises, invitations, calls, and encouragements are mixed with the names of mercy, goodness, love, pity, and pardon ! In His book they are fairly written, that thou through patience and comfort of the Scriptures might have hope. Coming sinner, blessed art thou, for "flesh and blood have not revealed this unto thee, but thy Father which is in heaven !"—Bunyan.

THE MEEK.—A missionary in Jamaica was questioning the little black boys on Matthew v, and asked, "Who are the meek?" A boy answered, "Those who give soft answers to rough questions."

THE PROMISES are our legacies, bequeathed to us in the will of our Father, and we are to claim them as we stand in need of any of them.—Alleine.

IN this rude habitation—a cottage in Ballyaherton, near Coleraine, Ireland—Adam Clarke spent most of his boyhood. Our cut is copied from a sketch in the first volume of Everett's biography of the Doctor.

WESLEY AN EXACTER OF DISCIPLINE.

HE was careful to enforce the discipline of Methodism. In a letter to Mr. Benson he says, "We must threaten no longer, but perform. In November last, I told the London Society, 'Our rule is, to meet a class once a week; not once in two or three. I now give you warning: I will give tickets to none in February, but those that have done this.' I have stood to my word. Go you and do likewise, wherever you visit the classes. Promises to meet are now out of date. Those that have not met seven times in the quarter, exclude. Read their names in the Society, and inform them all you will the next quarter exclude all that have not met twelve times; that is, unless they were hindered by distance, sickness, or by some unavoidable business. And I pray, without fear or favour remove the leaders, whether of classes or bands, who do not watch over the souls committed to their care 'as those that must give account.'"—Wesley's Works, vol. vii, p. 76.

THE YOUNG MORE ZEALOUS THAN THE MIDDLE-AGED.

I HAVE been often musing upon this—why the generality of Christians, even those that really are such, are less zealous and active for God, when they are middle aged, than they were when they were young? May we not draw an answer to this question from that declaration of our Lord, (no less than eight times repeated by the Evangelists,) To him that hath (uses what he hath) shall be given; but from him that hath not, shall be taken away that he hath. A measure of zeal and activity is given to every one, when he finds peace with God. If he earnestly and diligently uses this talent, it will surely be increased. But if he ceases (yea, or intermits) to do good, he insensibly loses both the will and the power. So there is no possible way to retain those talents, but to use them to the uttermost.—Rev. J. Wesley.

MR. WESLEY'S CHAPEL IN THE CITY ROAD, LONDON.

ALL who are acquainted with the early history of Methodism are familiar with the name of the Foundry, so called from its being originally a cannon-foundry. Mr. Wesley says, "In November, 1739, two gentlemen, then unknown to me, desired me to preach in a place called the Foundry, near Moorfields. With reluctance I at length complied. I was soon after pressed to take the place into my own hands. Those who were most earnest therein lent me the purchase money, £115; and also delivered me the names of several who offered to pay 4s., 6s., or 10s. a year towards the repayment, and the putting the buildings into repair. This amounted one year to near £200, and another to £140. . . It was applied, first, to the payment of the debt; secondly, repairing (almost rebuilding) that vast, uncouth heap of ruins; thirdly, building galleries; fourthly, enlarging the society-room to near thrice its first bigness."

In 1776, the Foundry and adjoining houses having to be pulled down, it was resolved to build a new chapel, and the city was petitioned for a piece of ground for the purpose, which was granted on condition of its being covered with large houses in front, which, with the chapel, would cost £6,000. August, 1776, Mr. Wesley says, "We made our first subscription for the new chapel, and at this, and two following meetings, above £1,000 were subscribed." April 2, 1777, the foundation was laid. He says, "The rain befriended us much by keeping away thousands who purposed to be there; but still there were such multitudes that it was with great difficulty I got through them to lay the first stone. . . Nov. 1, 1778. The day appointed for opening the new chapel in the City Road. It is perfectly neat, but not fine; and contains far more people than the Foundry. . . I preached on part of Solomon's prayer at the dedication of the temple; and, both in the morning and afternoon, God was eminently present in the midst of the congregation."

In the burial-ground of this chapel lie the remains of Wesley, Benson, Clarke, Watson, and many others.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH IN AMERICA.

THE first Methodist society on this continent was established in the city of New-York in 1766, by a few pious emigrants from Ireland, who had been members of the Methodist society in their native country. One of the number was Philip Embury, a local preacher, who preached in his own house, to a congregation of five persons, the first Methodist sermon in America. A rigging-loft in William-street (which is still standing) was afterward hired and fitted up for public worship, and this place becoming too strait for the increasing numbers who came to hear, some lots were purchased in JOHN-STREET, on which, with great exertion, a church 42 feet wide by 60 in length was erected, and on the 30th of October, 1768, Mr. Embury preached the first sermon in it. Previous to the dedication, one of the members wrote to Mr. Wesley, stating their circumstances; and he sent them £50, and in 1769 two travelling preachers, for until that time they had had none but local preachers.

In 1818 the original John-street church was pulled down, and a much larger and handsomer structure erected; and a few years ago this in its turn gave place to the neat and commodious church which now occupies the site. Although in the midst of the business part of the city, from which the population is rapidly moving to the upper parts, it is still well attended; and we trust that generations will pass away before a spot so memorable in the history of our church is devoted to any other than sacred purposes. Being in the neighbourhood of the principal hotels, it is perhaps more visited by strangers than any other of our churches in the city.

PRAYER.—In the morning, prayer is the key that opens to us the treasury of God's mercies and blessings: in the evening, it is the key that shuts us up under his protection and safeguard.

METHODIST CHURCH AT SACRAMENTO.

THE above is a view of the Church framed in Baltimore for the California mission of the M. E. Church, and now standing in Sacramento City, at the corner of Seventh and L streets, on a lot 80 feet by 160, presented to the society by Captain Sutter. The church is 24 feet by 36, and the location a good one, as it will soon be in the centre of the city. The missionary at this station is the Rev. Mr. Owens, formerly of North Indiana Conference.

TOILING IN ROWING.

“And He saw them toiling in rowing, for the wind was contrary unto them. And about the fourth watch of the night He cometh unto them, walking upon the sea.”

Toiling in rowing! Wind and tide

Our wearied bark oppose,
As oft, with seams that open wide,
Upon her course she goes;
And we have taken nothing yet,
Though still the watch we keep,
Nor fail to cast an empty net
Into the boisterous deep.

Toiling in rowing! Dearest Lord,

We faint amid the strife;
But thou canst vanquish with a word
The stormy surge of life.
And when thou walkest on the sea,
With hand outstretch'd to aid,
O grant us strength to cling to thee,
And not to be afraid.—Sigourney.

KEEP THINE HEART WITH ALL DILIGENCE.—Men are less sensible of heart wickedness, than of open sin: they do not seem to know that the motion of spirits is far swifter than that of bodies. The mind can make a greater progress in wandering from God in one hour, than the body is able to follow in many days.—Leighton.

THE PROMISES.—As fire will not warm unless we tarry at it, and as a bee cannot suck the honey from a flower unless she abide upon it, no more can any child of God receive support and consolation from the promises unless he seriously and solemnly ponder and meditate on them.—Calamy.

AN ILLUSTRATION OF SCRIPTURE.

But Jehoshaphat said, Is there not here a prophet of the Lord, that we may inquire of the Lord by him? And one of the king of Israel's servants answered and said, Here is Elisha, the son of Shaphat, which poured water on the hands of Elijah.—2 Kings iii, 11.

THE account here given of Elisha, and which at first sight appears to us so strange and unmeaning, is easily explained by reference to the eastern mode of washing the hands, which is universally different from that which is practised by us. The water is not previously poured into a basin for this purpose, and the hands then dipped into it; but the hands are held over the basin, the only use of which is to receive the water which has been poured upon the hands from the jug or ewer, which is held above them. This cannot very easily be managed without the aid of a servant, or some other person, who approaches with the ewer in his right hand and the basin in his left, and when the hands have been placed in proper position over the basin, which he continues to hold, he lets fall a stream of water upon them from the ewer, suspending it occasionally to allow the hands to be soaped or rubbed together. The basin has commonly a sort of cover, or rather a kind of false bottom in the centre, and being pierced with holes, allows the water to pass through, thus concealing it after it has been defiled by use. The ewer has a large spout, and a long narrow neck, with a cover, and is not much unlike our coffee-pots in general appearance. As the people of the East use their fingers in eating, instead of a knife, fork, or spoon, they are obliged to wash their hands immediately after as well as before their meals.

The act attributed in the text to Elisha, was so much a part of the regular duty of a servant, that the mere mention of it was sufficient to indicate the relation in which he stood to Elijah. To say that he "poured water on the hands of Elijah," was only another way of calling him the servant or attendant of Elijah; and such, from another passage, we learn that he was, for in 1 Kings xix, 21, it is said that "he went after Elisha and ministered unto him."

GRAY HAIR.—Some time ago, a person who paid a visit to a lunatic asylum in the West of England said to one of the inmates, "Why, Richard, your head is getting gray." "It is only blossoming for the next world," was the beautiful reply.

These numbers do not include the probationers, of whom there are about twenty thousand. The returns of most of the districts in Great Britain for 1850 have been received, from which it appears that there has been an increase of more than nine thousand members during the year.

WESLEYAN MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

THIS Society occupies fields of labour in all the four quarters of the globe, and in the islands of the South Sea. It has under its charge 324 circuits or principal stations; it employs 427 missionaries and assistant missionaries, who supply 2992 chapels and other preaching-places; there are also 781 other paid agents, as catechists, interpreters, day-school teachers, &c.; and 8087 unpaid agents, including local preachers and Sunday-school teachers. The number of persons in full membership on the various missions is 105,392, and there are 4830 on probation. There are 78,548 scholars attending the various day and Sunday schools. The Society also employs eight printing establishments on the foreign stations. The returns of church-members on the foreign missions for the last year exhibit an increase of 5163 over those of the year before. The income for the year ending December 31, 1849, was £111,685; and the expenditure £109,168. There was last year a deficit in the treasury to the amount of £13,568, which is now reduced to £10,841.

Of the receipts for the year 1849, £11,830 were contributed by auxiliary societies in the foreign mission stations, and £6065 were the proceeds of legacies.

PRIMITIVE METHODIST SOCIETY.

THIS is by far the largest body of Methodists in Great Britain, next to the Wesleyans. They originated about the year 1804. In June, 1850, they held their thirty-first annual conference. They had then 295 circuits and stations, (a few of which are in British North America;) 519 travelling preachers, 8524 local preachers; 6126 class-leaders; 103,310 church-members; 1278 Sunday-schools; and 20,114 Sunday-school teachers. The number of chapels belonging to the Society was 1555, besides which there were 3515 rented chapels and preaching-places. The increase of members during the year was 9205.

RELIGION.

LIKE snow that falls where waters glide,
Earth's pleasures fade away;
They melt in Time's destroying tide,
And cold are while they stay!
But joys that from Religion flow,
Like stars that gild the night,
Amidst the darkest gloom of wo,
Smile forth with sweetest light.

Religion's ray no clouds obscure,
But o'er the Christian's soul
It sends its radiance calm and pure,
Though tempests round it roll;
His heart may break with sorrow's stroke,
But to its latest thrill,
Like diamonds shining when they're broke,
Religion lights it still.—Leggett.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL UNION OF THE M. E. CHURCH.

Rev. D. P. KIDDER, Cor. Sec.; S. J. GOODENOUGH, Treas., 200 Mulberry-st., N. Y. THE receipts of the Society for the year 1849 amounted to $4,058 74, and the disbursements to $1,243 45. The funds of the Society are expended in the establishment and support of Sunday schools in connexion with the Methodist Episcopal Church, which is done by grants of books in cases where the schools are not able otherwise to procure them. Nothing is paid to the officers or agents, whose services are entirely gratuitous. The following table exhibits the amounts received from each Conference during the year 1849, and also the amounts of the grants of books made to schools in each Conference during the same time:—

Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light to my path.

The entrance of Thy words giveth light;
it giveth understanding to the simple.

With Thee is the fountain of life; in thy light shall we see light.

O how I love thy law!
it is my meditation
all the day.

How sweet are thy words unto my taste!
yea, sweeter than honey to my mouth.

Thy testimonies have I taken as an heritage for ever; for they are the rejoicing of my heart.

The law of the Lord is perfect, converting the soul: the testimony of the Lord is sure, making wise
the simple.

The statutes of the Lord are right, rejoicing the heart:
the commandment of the Lord is pure, enlightening the eyes.

I hope in Thy word.

AMERICAN BIBLE SOCIETY.

JOSEPH HYDE, Esq, General Agent and Assistant Treasurer; Rev. Drs. BRIGHAM and HOLDICH, Secretaries. Office, 115 Nassau-street, New-York.

THE contributions to this Society for the year ending April, 1850, amounted to $284,614, and the number of Bibles and Testaments issued during the same time was 633,395. Since its organization in 1816, the Society has circulated 6,980,535 volumes of the sacred writings. It also contributed largely to aid missionary and other societies in printing and circulating the Bible in foreign lands.

BRITISH AND FOREIGN BIBLE SOCIETY.

THE last report of this Society states the number of volumes circulated during the year to have been 1,107,518, making a total during the forty-five years of its existence of 30,097,432, in one hundred and forty languages. The receipts for the year were £95,933, and the expenditures £88,831. The Society has 3,217 auxiliary associations in the United Kingdom, and 525 in the British colonies and dependencies.

A PECULIAR BOOK.

A CHRISTIAN convert once said to a missionary in Cassay, Asia, "The word of God is truly wonderful; for I have some new thoughts whenever I look into it. I do not find it so with anything else. But the word of God is like a fountain which sends forth waters every day; they are not the same, but, although they differ, they are all very good. Even the same verse says something new whenever I look into it."

CURIOUS CALCULATIONS.

THREE years, it is said, were spent in making the following calculations of the number of books, chapters, verses, &c., in the Bible:—

Old Testament,	39 books,	929 chapters,	23,214 verses,	592,439 words,	2,728,100 letters.
New Testament,	27 " 260 "	7,959 "	181,258 "	838,380 "
	66 " 1,189 "	31,273 "	773,697 "	3,566,480 "

The middle chapter in the Old Testament is Job xxix; in the New Testament it would be Romans xiii if there were a chapter less, or xiv if there were one more. The middle verse in the Old Testament would be II. Chron. xx, 17, if there were a verse less, and 18, if there were a verse more. The shortest verse in the Old Testament is I. Chron. i, 25; in the New it is John xi, 35. The nineteenth chapter of II. Kings, and the thirty-seventh chapter of Isaiah, are alike. Ezra vii, 21 contains all the letters in the alphabet. The word and occurs 46,227 times; the word Lord, 1,854 times; reverend only once, Psalm cxi, 9; grandmother once, II. Timothy i, 6. There is no word in the Bible of more than six syllables.

Items : Domestic, Agricultural, etc.

FOR WASHING-DAY.—Several preparations and recipes have been extensively advertised, by the use of which, it is said, the greater part of the manual labour of washing can be dispensed with. We give below two recipes, which are said to be as good as the best, and the virtues of which any housekeeper may test with very little trouble or expense.

Dissolve $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. of lime in boiling water, straining twice through a flannel bag : dissolve separately $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. of brown soap and $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. of soda ; then boil the three together. Put six gallons of water into the boiler, and when boiling add the mixture. The linens, which must have been steeped in cold water for twelve hours, are wrung out, and stains rubbed with soap, and put into the boiler, where they must boil for thirty-five minutes. They are then drawn, (the liquor being preserved, as it can be used three times,) placed in a tub, and clear boiling water poured over them. Rub them out, rinse them well in cold water, and they are ready for drying. By this process, two-thirds of the ordinary labour of washing is saved ; the clothes are much cleaner, and are less worn than by the ordinary mode of washing, and the mixture in no way damages the fabric.—Greenock (Scotland) Advertiser.

ANOTHER.—Put one pint of Alcohol, one pint Spts. Turpentine, two ounces Carbonate of Ammonia, and one of Camphor, in a bottle, which should be closely corked.

Manner of using. After shaking the bottle, put three table-spoonfuls of the mixture to one pint of soft soap, or its equivalent of bar soap dissolved in water. This is enough for five gallons. Put the clothes to soak in the water to which you have added the mixture and the soap. Let them soak from twenty to thirty minutes ; then take them out and boil them in pure water, using no more soap. Afterward rinse them, and hang them out to dry. No rubbing is needed. Coloured clothes may be put in the same water in which the white were soaked.

HOW TO MAKE WHITEWASH.—Take a barrel and slake one bushel of freshly burned lime in it, by covering the lime with boiling water. After it is slaked, add cold water enough to bring it to the consistency of good whitewash. Then dissolve in water, and add one pound of white vitriol (sulphate of zinc) and one quart of fine salt. To give this wash a cream colour, add one-half pound of yellow ochre in powder. To give it a fawn colour, add a pound of yellow ochre, and one-fourth pound of Indian red. To make the wash a handsome gray stone colour, add one-half pound of French blue and one-fourth pound of Indian red ; a drab will be made by adding one-half pound of sienna and one-fourth pound of Venetian red. For brick or stone, instead of one bushel of lime take half a bushel of hydraulic cement.

PASTE THAT IS PASTE.—Dissolve an ounce of alum in a quart of warm water ; when cold, add as much flour as will make it the consistence of cream ; then strew into it as much powdered rosin as will stand on a shilling, and two or three cloves ; boil it to a consistence, stirring all the time. It will keep for twelve months, and when dry may be softened with water.

TO PREVENT FLANNEL FROM SHRINKING.—Enclose new flannel in a bag ; put it into a boiler with cold water, heat and boil it. It will never shrink after this operation, and may be immediately made up into garments.

WOOL.—From a document sent to Congress, it appears that the production of wool in this country, during the year 1849, was 79,000,000 pounds, valued at $25,000,000.

CULTURE OF THE PLUM.—"An old digger," in the Horticulturist says:—Plum-trees like a moist soil. I have found that covering the ground four inches deep with old spent tan bark, is a good way of preserving the moisture, and keeping the trees in health. I scatter fresh lime thickly over the surface of the tan every year, as soon as the green fruit begins to fall. This kills every curculio that attempts to enter the ground. The tan prevents the weeds from growing; keeps the roots cool, and ensures me a good crop of plums. I spread it as far as the roots extend, and it wants renewing, or adding to, once in three or four years.

TRANSPLANTING LARGE TREES WITH BALLS.—A mode of removing large evergreen trees with frozen balls of earth, requiring far less labour than the usual way of cutting round them through the hard frozen ground. The ground at the roots is covered in winter a foot deep with evergreen boughs, which keep it from thawing so soon in the spring as the surrounding earth. The tree is then easily removed, roots, frost, and all.—Hovey's Magazine.

TO PREVENT CROWS FROM PULLING CORN.—Soak your seed twelve hours, in a solution of nitrate of potash and sulphate of copper; three ounces of each to one bushel of seed. I have tried this solution two years, with success. Last year my neighbours complained much of the crows pulling their corn, while I saw them walk all over my field, and not a hill was pulled.—C. G. Leavens, Rushford, N. Y.

BEAN MEAL FOR MILCH COWS.—At a late meeting of an English Farmers' Club, it was stated by a member, that nothing was so good for cows in milk, either as regarded the produce of butter or cheese, as bean meal.

TO MAKE PEACH AND OTHER TREES BEAR YOUNG.—To induce early bearing, particularly where trees are luxuriant and barren, clip off the extremities of the branches in July, about one-third of the new growth; this will produce blossom buds the latter part of summer, for a crop the next season. We have found this very successful.—Cultivator.

EFFECTS OF SALTPETRE ON WHEAT.—An experiment was made near Glasgow, in the application of 84 pounds of saltpetre to an acre of wheat. One-half of the salt was sown on the 17th of April, and the other the 6th of May. Unmanured wheat weighed 2,552 pounds; straw, 3,148 pounds. Manured wheat, 3,068 pounds; straw, 4,500 pounds. Difference in weight of wheat, 516 pounds; in straw, 1,352 pounds. These figures demonstrate the interesting fact, that each pound of the salt named gave a gain of six pounds of wheat and sixteen of straw—twenty-two in all.

AMOUNT OF TURNIPS CONSUMED BY STOCK PER DAY.—An ox weighing 560 pounds will eat about 100 pounds of ruta бага or Swedish turnips a day along with straw or chaff. Ten sheep, of 64 pounds each, will eat about two hundred pounds in the field, and rather less in the house.—Agricultural Gazette.

CORN COBS.—We believe there is one-third as much nutriment in a bushel of the cobs, as there is in a bushel of the grain; and we know that cows or oxen, fed upon three pecks of the crushed and steamed cobs, in addition to their usual quantity of hay or fodder, will keep fat.—American Farmer.

HOGS KILLED AT THE WEST.—From a statement prepared by L. Caldwell, of Lafayette, Ind., we copy the following account of the number of Hogs slaughtered at the West for the season of 1849–50:—Ohio, 423,755; Kentucky, 198,090; Indiana, 428,575; Illinois, 208,100; Mississippi river, 252,900; Missouri river, estimated, 75,000; Cumberland river, estimated, 100,000; other small points, 25,000; Total, 1,871,330.

WHEN TO CUT WHEAT.—It is better to cut grain just before it is fully or dead ripe. When the straw immediately below the grain is so ripe that, on twisting it, no juice is expressed, it should be cut, for then there is no circulation of juice in the ear. Every hour that it stands uncut after this stage is attended with loss.

BUTTER-MAKING.—According to Professor Johnstone, the time and frequency of milking have a great influence on the amount of butter yielded by milk. If a cow be milked only once a day, he says the milk will yield a seventh part more butter than an equal quantity of that which is obtained by two milkings a day. When the milk is drawn three times a day, it is more abundant, but still less rich. It has also been remarked, that the morning's milk is of better quality than that obtained in the evening.

THOROUGH AND ENRICHING CULTURE.—Samuel Allen, of Morris, N. J., rented last year a field which had been planted two years in corn, and gave only 24 bushels per acre. He subsoiled it, and applied 200 lbs. of Peruvian guano and 200 lbs. of bone dust, composted with charcoal dust, costing six dollars; and the result has been that he raised at the rate of 72 bushels of shelled corn per acre.—Working Farmer.

DISINFECTING COMPOUND.—A scientific writer recommends pulverized plaster of Paris, well dried, and mixed with rather more than one-fifth its weight of powdered charcoal, as a cheap and most effective mixture for removing the noxious effects of decomposing organic matter. This compound combines with the ammoniacal products which would otherwise escape, and forms a most valuable manure.

FOUL AIR IN WELLS.—It has recently been proved in England, that the foul air of wells and cess-pools, which often leads to the destruction of human life, may be completely driven out by throwing a quantity of unslaked lime into the basin or pool in which it is supposed to be contained.

REMEDY FOR DIARRHŒA.—Parch half a pint of rice until it is perfectly brown; boil it down as is usually done in cooking it, and eat it slowly. It is one of the best remedies known.

DESTROYING PLANT LICE.—Pour one quart of boiling water upon one ounce of shag tobacco; let it stand until cold, and then strain and bottle it for use. It will keep good a year if not wanted. One sprinkling of this will destroy the green fly upon any plant, without the least injury to the plant itself. The best method of applying it, is to take the plant in one hand, and, holding it with its head downwards, with a feather or brush sprinkle the tobacco-water on the under part of the leaves, or, if the plants are not in flower, all over them.—Cultivator.

PRESERVING STRAWBERRIES.—Look them over with care. Weigh a pound of sugar to each pound of fruit. Put a layer of fruit on the bottom of the preserving kettle, then a layer of sugar, and so on till all is in the pan. Boil them about fifteen minutes. Put them in bottles, hot, and seal them. Then put them in a box, and fill it in with dry sand. The flavour of the fruit is preserved more perfectly, by simply packing the fruit and sugar in alternate layers, and sealing the jar, without cooking, but the preserves do not look so well.

RASPBERRY JAM.—Allow a pound of sugar to a pound of fruit. Press them with a spoon, in an earthen dish. Add the sugar, and boil all together fifteen minutes.

TO REMOVE INK-STAINS.—Before the cotton or linen is washed with soap, ink-spots may easily be removed by washing them with salt and water.

NUMBER OF YARDS IN AN ACRE.—An acre contains 4,840 square yards, or 70 yards in length and 69 1-7 in breadth—or 198 feet by 220.

DANGER OF TRUSTING TO DEATH-BED REPENTANCE.

THE Rev. Abraham Booth, an aged Baptist minister in Scotland, says, "I pay more attention to people's lives than to their deaths. In all the visits I have paid to the sick during the course of a long ministry, I never met with one, who was not previously serious, that ever recovered from what he supposed the brink of death, who afterwards performed his vows, and became religious, notwithstanding the very great appearance there was in their favour when they thought they could not recover."

THE FULNESS OF JESUS.

"He was wounded for our transgressions ; He was bruised for our iniquities."—Isa. liii, 5.

I LAY my sins on Jesus,
The spotless Lamb of God ;
He bears them all, and frees us
From the accursed load.

I bring my guilt to Jesus,
To wash my crimson stains
White in his blood most precious,
Till not a spot remains.

I lay my wants on Jesus ;
All fulness dwells in Him ;
He heals all my diseases,
He doth my soul redeem.

I lay my griefs on Jesus,
My burdens and my cares ;
He from them all releases,
He all my sorrows shares.

I rest my soul on Jesus,
This weary soul of mine ;
His right hand me embraces,
I on his breast recline.

I love the name of Jesus,
Immanuel, Christ, the Lord ;
Like fragrance on the breezes,
His name abroad is poured.

I long to be like Jesus,
Meek, loving, lowly, mild ;
I long to be like Jesus,
The Father's holy child.

I long to be with Jesus,
Amid the heavenly throng,
To sing, with saints, His praises,
To learn the angels' song.

THE ALTOGETHER CHRISTIAN.

IT is the altogether Christian who alone can be saved ; the almost Christian will as certainly be condemned as the altogether sinful. You may, as it were, be suspended between heaven and earth while you live ; to-day living for one world, and to-morrow vibrating towards another ; but you cannot be suspended between heaven and hell when you die. To one or other you must assuredly be carried ; in one or other your eternity must be spent.

Think you it is any satisfaction to Judas, amidst his present agonies, to know that he was once as near the Saviour as the beloved John ; that he as often heard the same voice, sat at the same table, partook of the same instructions, and to the eye of all but his Divine Master appeared as entirely a disciple ? Will it be any satisfaction to you, if you finally perish out of Christ, to reflect that there were hours in your life when you sat among the followers of the Lord Jesus Christ, partook of their instructions and their sacrament, and to the eye even of the holiest of men were ranked among them ; that there were moments in your life when you were almost persuaded to cast in your lot with the people of God ? Alas ! So far from satisfaction, will it not add tenfold to your misery and remorse, to think how near you were then to that blessedness from which you are now forever shut out ? O ! my brethren, there is not a soul among you who will be content on that day to be almost saved. Be not then, I beseech you, content to-day with being almost Christians.

CHRISTIANS SHOULD NOT DIE RICH.

MR. JAY, preaching to professed Christians, reminded them that they were stewards, and said it was always a suspicious thing to see stewards grow very wealthy. He said it was a disgrace for Christians to die very rich; and he wished ministers, when they preached funeral sermons for men who died so ingloriously, would say how much money they left, that the world might see with how much sincerity they had been singing for years,—

"All that I am and all I have,
Shall be forever Thine,

Whate'er my duty bids me give My cheerful hands resign."

TO-DAY AND TO-MORROW.

To-day, man lives in pleasure, wealth and
To-morrow, poor, of life itself denied. [pride;
To-day, lays plans for many years to come;
To-morrow, sinks into the silent tomb.
To-day, his food is dress'd in dainty forms;
To-morrow, is himself a feast for worms.

To-day, he's clad in gaudy, rich array;
To-morrow, shrouded for a bed of clay.
To-day, he has delusive dreams of heaven;
To-morrow, cries, 'Too late to be forgiven!'
To-day, he lives on hope as light as air;
To-morrow, dies in anguish and despair.

I LOVE THE PRAYER-MEETING.

1. BECAUSE, after the toils and perplexities of the day, my mind finds a sweet relief from the burdens that have oppressed it. The privilege of praying for others, relieves my own heart. My repinings are lost in anxieties for others—"When I went into the sanctuary, then understood I their end."

2. For the benefits it brings to my social nature. The kind look, the affectionate greeting, makes me feel that I am not alone or uncared for by others, but acknowledged among the brotherhood of saints. "As iron sharpeneth iron," &c.

3. There I often obtain new views of truth. A spark is struck from the word of God that kindles a flame in my heart. A vein, hitherto hidden, is opened. My soul bows to drink the reviving element, and is refreshed.

4. It brings me near to God. It is the place of special promise: "Where two or three," &c. If many are absent, God is always there. I am never disappointed in this. He never stays away. If but "two or three" meet, he condescends to make "one." And what a "ONE" he is! We see him not, but we feel his presence. We hear him not, but something seems to say—"Lo, I am in the midst of you."

5. It brings me near heaven. Like Jacob, we are often constrained to say—"This is the gate of heaven." Here I come to look upon my Saviour, and the glories of my future, eternal home.—Watchman and Reflector.

STEPHEN AND ZACCHEUS.

HAD I been in the streets of Jericho, I think I should have jostled with Zaccheus for the sycamore to see Jesus, and should have blessed my eyes for so happy a prospect. Yet when I consider that many a one saw his face on earth who shall never see his glory in heaven; and when I hear the apostle say, "Though we have known Christ after the flesh, yet now henceforth know we him no more," O for the eyes of a Stephen, that saw the heavens open, and the glory of God! That prospect as much transcended this of Zaccheus as heaven is above earth, or celestial glory above human infirmity. And why should not the eyes of my faith behold the same object which was seen by Stephen's bodily eyes? I see thee, O Saviour, I see thee; as certainly, though not so clearly. Quicken and strengthen these weak eyes of mine, that in thy light I may see light.—Bishop Hall.

ORTHODOXY WITHOUT RELIGION.

A MAN may be orthodox in every point; he may not only espouse right opinions, but zealously defend them against all opposers: he may think justly concerning the incarnation of our Lord, concerning the ever-blessed Trinity, and every other doctrine contained in the oracles of God: he may assent to all the three Creeds,—that called the Apostles', the Nicene, and the Athanasian: and yet it is possible he may have no religion at all, no more than a Jew, Turk, or Pagan. He may be almost as orthodox as—the devil,—though, indeed, not altogether; for every man errs in something; whereas we cannot well conceive him to hold any erroneous opinion—and may, all the while, be as great a stranger as he to the religion of the heart.—South.

"SPEAK NOT TO HIM A BITTER WORD."

Wouldst thou a wanderer reclaim,
A wild and restless spirit tame,—
Check the warm flow of youthful blood,
And lead a lost one back to God?
Pause, if thy spirit's wrath be stirr'd,
Speak not to him a bitter word.
Speak not,—that bitter word may be
The stamp that seals his destiny.

If widely he hath gone astray,
And dark excess has mark'd his way,
'Tis pitiful—but yet beware,
Reform must come from kindly care.
Forbid thy parting lips to move,
But in the gentle tones of love.
Though sadly his young heart hath err'd,
Speak not to him a bitter word.

The lowering frown he will not bear;
The venom'd chidings will not hear;
The ardent spirit will not brook
The stinging tooth of sharp rebuke.
Thou wouldst not goad the restless steed
To calm his fire or check his speed,—
Then let no angry tones be heard,—
Speak not to him a bitter word.

Go kindly to him,—make him feel
Your heart yearns deeply for his weal:
Tell him the dangers thick that lay
Around his "wildly devious way,"—
So shalt thou win him, call him back
From pleasure's smooth, seductive track,
And warnings thou hast mildly given
May guide the wanderer up to Heaven.

FASHIONABLE LIFE.

THERE is not one sentiment I join with you more cordially in, than an utter detestation of all the heartless splendour and ceremony of fashionable life; and I trust that my wife will never suffer herself to be so far seduced by the example of female acquaintances, and advisers, and managers, as to step down from the dignified simplicity of a minister's fireside, and mingle in all the extravagances of parties, and second courses, and splendid drawing-rooms, and the whole tribe of similar abominations.—Dr. Chalmers.

"LET YOUR SPEECH BE SEASONED WITH SALT."—Archbishop Usher and Dr. Preston, two eminently pious and learned men, were very intimate, and often met to converse on learning and general subjects; when it was very common with the good archbishop to say, "Come, doctor, let us say something about Christ before we part."

A SABBATH-KEEPING BOY.—A wicked man said to his son, who attended the Sabbath-school, "Carry this parcel to such a place." "It is the Sabbath," said the boy. "Put it in your pocket," said the father. "God can see into my pocket," the little boy answered.

POLITENESS AT HOME.—Nothing sits so gracefully upon children, and nothing makes them so lovely, as habitual respect and dutiful deportment towards their parents and superiors. It makes the plainest face beautiful, and gives to every common action a nameless but peculiar charm.

Smith's Patriarchal Age.

The Patriarchal Age ; or, the History and Religion of Mankind from the Creation to the Death of Isaac : deduced from the Writings of Moses, and other Inspired Authors, and illustrated by Copious References to the Ancient Records, Traditions, and Mythology of the Heathen World. By GEORGE SMITH, F. S. A., &c., &c. 8vo., pp. 522. Price $2 00.

This is unquestionably the most valuable work that has been for a long time issued from the Methodist press.—Southern Christian Advocate.

We have been much gratified by the union of piety and sober judgment which the author has evinced in the application of history and science to the confirmation of the Mosaic narrative.—Church-of-England Quarterly Review.

A desideratum in sacred literature. We can strongly recommend it to all who are desirous of thoroughly understanding the history of the Bible.—Irish Ecclesiastical Journal.

This is, perhaps, the most valuable work of the present season. It is written with consummate ability, and in an excellent spirit.—Montreal Witness.

Mr. Smith has succeeded in presenting to the Bible student a volume which it would be difficult to surpass in interest and value.—Evangelical Christendom.

Smith's Hebrew People.

The Hebrew People : or, the History and Religion of the Israelites, from the Origin of the Nation to the Time of Christ : deduced from the Writings of Moses and other Inspired Authors ; and illustrated by Copious References to the Ancient Records, Traditions, and Mythology of the Heathen World. By GEORGE SMITH, F. A. S., &c., &c. 8vo., pp. 616. Price $2 00.

The favour with which the author's first volume of "Sacred Annals," comprising "the Patriarchal Age," has been received, has encouraged him to proceed with the execution of his design. Taking the Scriptures for his guide, "it has been his constant aim to admit, maintain, and illustrate the truth of the Sacred Oracles." The work is consequently free from any of those rationalistic mis-explanations and fanciful embellishments of the Sacred History, which impart a dangerous or doubtful tendency to some other works of the same kind. The main points of critical difficulty are briefly treated in a series of notes to each chapter. The author has manifestly bestowed both pains and research upon his work, which will, we doubt not, prove as acceptable as the former volume, and may be recommended as a pleasing and instructive illustration of the Biblical Records respecting God's ancient people.—London Patriot.

Judgment and piety go hand in hand in reconciling the difficulties which have perplexed the wisest and most pious in all ages.—London Literary Gazette.

It is a production of superior excellence. It indicates laborious research, manly independence of thought, meek deference to Divine authority, and profound reverence for sacred things.—Scottish Guardian.

Watson's Dictionary.

A Biblical and Theological Dictionary: explanatory of the History, Manners, and Customs of the Jews and neighbouring Nations. With an Account of the most remarkable Places and Persons mentioned in Scripture; an Exposition of the principal Doctrines of Christianity; and Notices of Jewish and Christian Sects and Heresies. By RICHARD WATSON. With five Maps. Fourteenth Thousand. 8vo., pp. 1007. Sheep. Price $2 75.

This Dictionary is Biblical, Theological, and Ecclesiastical. It is fair in its statements, judicious in its selections, and sufficiently comprehensive in its scope. It is indeed a more complete body of divinity than are many works which have been published under that name.

Watson's Theological Institutes.

Theological Institutes; or, a View of the Evidences, Doctrines, Morals, and Institutions of Christianity. By RICHARD WATSON. Seventh Thousand. With a Copious Analysis, by J. MCCLINTOCK, D. D., and a full Index to the whole work. A new Edition, revised. Two volumes 8vo., pp. 1323. Price $4 50.

While Mr. Wesley's Works constitute a treasury of theological information, the value of which it would not be easy to overrate, and which, in the affectionate estimation of the societies founded by him, will never be suspended, there was still wanted an original work containing a complete course of systematic theology, based on those views of Scripture which Mr. Wesley was led to take, and by preaching which he became the instrument of perhaps the most important revival of religion that has occurred since the days of the apostles. Such a work Mr. Watson has supplied, and we feel justified in saying there is no other from which the persons for whose benefit it is designed may derive so much valuable information. It is a noble monument of sanctified genius.—Wesleyan Methodist Magazine.

The Analysis, heretofore published as a separate work, is now printed in octavo form, and bound up with the Institutes. The want of a sufficient Index has long been felt; and the Publishers now offer one that will, they hope, be found amply sufficient. In this new form, this great work of RICHARD WATSON will be better adapted, it is hoped, both for students and general readers, than ever before.

Watson's Sermons.

Sermons and Sketches of Sermons. By Rev. RICHARD WATSON. Seventh Thousand. 8vo., 2 vols., pp. 959. Price $2 50.

These volumes contain one hundred and twenty-three sermons and sketches, from the pen of one of the most eloquent preachers and able divines the Wesleyan Church has ever produced. Eleven of the sermons were published during the life of the author; the remainder were printed from his manuscripts after his decease. The work deserves a far more extensive circulation than it has yet received: our preachers especially should provide themselves with it.

Lord King's Primitive Church.

An Inquiry into the Constitution, Discipline, Unity, and Worship of the Primitive Church that flourished within the first three hundred Years after Christ, faithfully collected out of the Fathers and Extant Writings of those Ages. By PETER KING, Lord High Chancellor of England. 12mo., pp. 300. Price 70 cents.

Lord King's account of the Primitive Church convinced me, many years ago, in spite of the vehement prejudice of my education, that bishops and presbyters are the same order, and, consequently, have the same right to ordain.—J. Wesley.

Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progress.

The Pilgrim's Progress from this World to that which is to come: delivered under the Similitude of a Dream. By JOHN BUNYAN. With an Introduction, Index, Notes, and a Sketch of the Author's Life, by STEPHEN B. WICKENS. With a Portrait of Bunyan, and several wood-cuts. Twelfth Thousand. 18mo., pp. 473. Price 50 cents. An edition in 12mo., on fine paper. Price 75 cents in muslin, gilt.

Not to have read Bunyan's great allegory, is considered a decided mark of ignorance or want of taste. Dr. Arnold called it "a complete reflection of Scripture, with none of the rubbish of the theologians mixed up with it." Coleridge valued it next to the Bible, and characterized it as "the best summary of evangelical theology ever produced by a writer not miraculously inspired."—Episcopal Recorder.

The Introduction is a judicious critical and historical account of this great work, giving new facts and views on the subject, which will greatly interest the admirers of the allegory. The Notes are eminently practical and instructive. We have seen no edition to which we would more willingly accord the title of a "standard edition."—N. Y. Spectator.

Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progress should be by the side of the Bible in every Christian family: put it especially into the hands of your children; it will fascinate them from dangerous books, and lead them in the way to heaven.—Zion's Herald.

Contemplations on the Mercy of God.

Contemplations on the Mercy of God. By REV. J. W. ETHEREDGE. 18mo., pp. 216. Price 30 cents.

It is eloquent, argumentative, and affectionate; and in many places reminds one of the energy and unction of Baxter's practical treatises.—Wesleyan Magazine.

History of the Vaudois Church.

History of the Vaudois Church, from its Origin, and of the Vaudois of Piedmont, to the Present Day. By ANTOINE MONASTIER, formerly Pastor in the Canton de Vaud, and a Native of the Valley of Piedmont. Translated from the French.

12mo., pp. 396. Price 25 cents.

This is a thrilling and truthful history of a people whose fidelity, devotion, and sufferings in the cause of Christ, through centuries of general defection from the primitive faith, and through frequent and bloody persecutions, are without parallel in the history of Christianity.—Independent.

A work of great interest and value. It is the history of a martyr Church. Their preservation has been a miracle of Providence, and their history, as it is stranger, so it is more thrilling than romance.—Zion's Herald.

Wise's Bridal Greetings.

A Marriage Gift, in which the Mutual Duties of Husband and Wife are familiarly illustrated and enforced. By Rev. D. WISE. 24mo. Muslin, gilt. Price 25 cents.

This neat and tasteful volume is well suited for a gift-book. Many homes would have been far happier had its religious precepts been followed. The character of the work can be seen from its contents: Greetings and Cautions—Avoiding the first Quarrel—On beginning Life religiously—Relations and Friends—Home and its arrangements—On making Home happy—Conformity to Circumstances—Domestic Servants. The author in his preface states that he has aimed to make every sentence profitable to the reader, in doing which he has sought to give interest and vivacity to grave truths by illustrations drawn from real experience.

Clark's Mental Discipline.

Mental Discipline, with Reference to the Acquisition and Communication of Knowledge, and to Education generally. To which is appended a Topical Course of Theological Study. By Rev. DAVIS W. CLARK, M. A. 18mo. Price 45 cents.

This is a work that ought to be studied by every young person, and especially by students in our colleges and academies, by both school and Sunday-school teachers, and by young ministers. Part I. treats on the Acquisition of Knowledge. Part II. Communication of Knowledge. Part III. Characteristics of the Disciplined Mind.

The student who will observe its rules, can scarcely fail to make progress in knowledge, and apply that knowledge usefully.—Presbyterian.

No young man can adopt its counsels, and grow up an ordinary mind.—Rev. A. Stevens. It is decidedly the best book of the kind we have met with.—Richmond Christian Adv.

Fletcher's Letters.

Letters of the Rev. JOHN FLETCHER, Vicar of Madeley. Originally edited by Rev. Melvill Horne, Curate of Madeley. With a Portrait of Mr. Fletcher. Third Thousand. 12mo., pp. 334. Muslin. Price 65 cents.

The six letters on the "Spiritual Manifestation of the Son of God," which begin this volume, are erudite and theological in their character, though they are none the less valuable on that account. But Fletcher's private correspondence, from which the remainder of the volume is compiled, is delightful. Such sweetness and devotion of love; such heavenly unction, and so full of Christ—they are among the most affecting and engaging of devotional writings, and deserve a place with the letters of Doddridge, Cowper, and Newton.—New-York Evangelist.

These letters are full of the spirit of piety. No man can read them, who has a spark of religion in his heart, without feeling his love enkindled to a flame.—Methodist Prot.

Fletcher's Letters are a transcript of his mind—a visible embodiment of his spirit, and cannot be too strongly studied, or too deeply imbibed.—Pittsburgh Christian Advocate.

Ancient and Modern Jerusalem.

History and Description of Ancient and Modern Jerusalem. By JOHN KITTO, D. D., F. S. A. Two vols. in one. 18mo., pp. 375. Price 35 cents bound in muslin, gilt. Beautifully printed, and very cheap. It condenses into a small compass, and convenient form, what has heretofore been contained in large volumes, and sold at a great expense. A person may learn more about Jerusalem from reading this book, than many do by crossing the ocean to visit the spot.

Mason on Self-Knowledge.

A Treatise on Self-Knowledge: showing the Nature, Excellence, and Advantages of this kind of Science; and how it is to be obtained. By JOHN MASON, A. M. With a Brief Memoir of the Author. Fourth Thousand. 18mo., pp. 254. Muslin or sheep. Price 35 cents.

This has now been a standard work for nearly a century, and is one of the best that can be placed in the hands of an intelligent young person, to promote his advancement in knowledge and piety. The book is too well known to need any recommendation.

Edmondson's Self-Government.

A Concise System of Self-Government, in the great Affairs of Life and Godliness. By REV. JONATHAN EDMONDSON, A. M. Second Thousand. 18mo., pp. 300. Muslin or sheep. Price 40 cents.

Mason on Self-Knowledge is well known and much admired; perhaps this book may be considered as a suitable appendage to his treatise, especially when it is understood that self-government is a prudent application of Self-Knowledge.—Preface.

The very neat and perspicuous style in which this work is written, is its least praise. The entire volume is replete with sound practical wisdom, and is particularly adapted to the use of young persons professing godliness.—Wesleyan Magazine.

This is a book of great worth, and should be widely circulated. The subject will commend the book to all sober Christians. And we can assure all, that as an exhibition of good sense and sound philosophy, as well as the principles of true Christian Discipline, it occupies high ground.—Christian Advocate and Journal.

Sketches of Wesleyan Preachers.

Sketches of English Wesleyan Preachers. Revised and enlarged: with several additional Sketches. By ROBERT A. WEST. With a portrait of Dr. Bunting. 12mo., pp. 400. Price 65 cents.

They are exceedingly interesting and instructive; and the only regret we felt in running through them was their brevity.—Lutheran Observer.

All the sketches are pleasing, and some very graphic. The author's descriptive powers are undeniably great; and his opportunities of observation must have been numerous, to gather such a fund of anecdote and history as the volume contains.—N.Y. Evangelist.

The volume has been to us a very pleasant one; and we are indebted to it for some information respecting Methodism which we are glad to possess.—Presbyterian.

We earnestly commend Mr. West's sketches of the English Methodist Preachers to all the clergy of our land.—Alliance and Visitor.

Mr. West possesses great versatility of talent, and has a happy faculty of describing scenes and persons. The work cannot fail to interest all readers.—Christian Union.

Mr. West sketches with great boldness and ease, and possesses the rare art of giving life to his portraits.—Literary Register.

We assure our readers of a real treat in the perusal of this volume.—Zion's Herald.

Smith's Anecdotes.

Anecdotes and Illustrations of the Christian Ministry. By Rev. DANIEL SMITH. With an Introduction by Rev. D. W. CLARK, A. M. 18mo. Price 50 cents.

Anecdotes for the Fireside. By Rev. DANIEL SMITH. With an Introduction by Rev. E. O. Haven, A. M. 18mo. Price 50 cents.

Anecdotes for the Young; or, Principles Illustrated by Facts. Compiled by Rev. DANIEL SMITH. 18mo., pp. 436. Muslin. Price 50 cents.

We like the plan of this compilation exceedingly. A very interesting and valuable book for young people.—New-York Commercial Advertiser.

It is altogether above the common standard, both in its plan and execution.—N.Y. Organ.

Though especially designed for the young, we doubt not that it will prove equally interesting and instructive to those of riper years.—Christian Advocate and Journal.

The selections are of a high order, and reflect great credit upon the industry and discrimination of the compiler.—Southern Christian Advocate.

Companion for the Afflicted.

A Companion for the Afflicted: Designed for the benefit of all who are distressed, whether in Mind, Body, or Estate. By THOMAS H. WALKER. 12mo., pp. 352. Price 65 cents.

This is no ordinary book of its class. The author, a clergyman of the Wesleyan Church in England, has devoted much of his attention to, and has had severe schooling on, the subject of which he treats, and has brought to bear, in this volume, a cultivated intellect, a cheerful piety, and a generous sympathy.—New-York Commercial Advertiser.

A delightful book; one of the best we have ever met with for the consolation and encouragement of the afflicted.—Zion's Herald.

Crane on Dancing.

An Essay on Dancing. By Rev. J. TOWNLEY CRANE, of the New-Jersey Conference. 18mo., pp. 130. Muslin. Price 30 cents.

A very plain, well-digested essay on an important subject. The style is neat and perspicuous; the reasoning clear and forcible. Such a book cannot but do good.—Northern Christian Advocate.

Curiosities of Animal Life.

Curiosities of Animal Life; as developed by the recent Discoveries of the Microscope. Illustrated with numerous engravings. 12mo., pp. 188. Price 40 cents.

The object of the writer is to unfold a few pages of the immense and deeply interesting volume of Natural History, relating to those simple, but wonderful forms of life, of which little, as yet, is known. And as the results of scientific observation are often repulsive to the general reader, from the form in which they are given and their numerous technicalities, he has aimed to render them popular and attractive.

The inspired truth, that "the works of the Lord are great, sought out of all them that have pleasure therein," exerts far too little influence. God has "magnified his word above all his name;" but, as Chalmers has remarked, "it is a most Christian exercise to extract a sentiment of piety from the works and appearances of nature."—Preface.

Life of Bunyan.

The Life of John Bunyan, author of The Pilgrim's Progress. By STEPHEN B.

WICKENS. Sixth Thousand. 18mo., pp. 344. Sheep or muslin. Price 35 cents. A precious little volume. Bunyan's religious exercises, both as a seeker and a professor of religion, are given with remarkable clearness and point, and his whole experience is in the highest degree edifying.—Christian Advocate and Journal.

We have read this life of Bunyan with uncommon interest and pleasure, and regard it, for several reasons, as the best and most satisfactory we have seen.—Lutheran Observer.

Decidedly the best life of "good old Bunyan" that we have seen. The work is distinguished by sound criticism, impartial judgment, and a clear and nervous style.—New-York Spectator.

Walton on Adoption.

The Witness of the Spirit: a Treatise on the Evidence of the Believer's Adoption.

By Rev. DANIEL WALTON. Third Thousand. 18mo., pp. 227. Price 35 cents. We recommend this work as a good production on a practically important subject. It treats on the general operation of the Spirit—Adoption—The witness of the Spirit considered in the direct character of it, and as to the mode in which it is given—The confirmation of the Spirit's testimony by the witness of our own spirit—The witness of the Spirit essential to the Life of God in the Soul—The evidences of adoption, considered in its degrees of clearness—Objections answered—Concluding with an address to the reader.

Finley's Prison Life.

Memorials of Prison Life. By Rev. J. B. FINLEY, D. D., Chaplain to the Ohio State Prison. Edited by Dr. Tefft. 12mo., pp. . Muslin. Price 75 cents.

Larrabee's Evidences.

Lectures on the Scientific Evidences of Natural and Revealed Religion. By WILLIAM C. LARRABEE, A. M., Professor of Mathematics in Indiana Asbury University. 12mo., pp. 395. Price $1 00.

CONTENTS.—Nature and Properties of Matter—Properties and Classification of Organic Bodies—Structure of the Human Body, and the Manifestations of Design therein—Structure, Relations, and Design of the Muscles of Animals—Nervous System of living Beings—Digestive Apparatus, and proofs of design therefrom—Structure and Design of the Heart, Arteries, Capillaries, and Veins—Structure and Adaptations of the Organs of Respiration—Temperature, Covering, Motions, Food, and Transformation of Animals—Evidences of Design from the Structure and Adaptations of the External Senses—Adaptation of the Elements to the Wants of Man—Adaptation of the Metallic and Earthy Minerals to the Wants of Man—Relations and Adaptations of the Earth to the Constitution and Wants of Living Beings—On other Adaptations and Laws of Nature—Being and Attributes of God—Attributes and Relations of Man—Consistency between the Sacred History of the Creation, and the Science of Geology—Evidences of the Deluge—Unity of the Human Race—Miscellaneous Evidences of Revelation, and concluding Suggestions.

Dixon's Tour in America.

Personal Narrative of a Tour through a Part of the United States and Canada.

With Notices of the History and Institutions of Methodism in America. By JAMES DIXON, D. D. With a fine Portrait. 12mo., pp. 431. Price 75 cents.

Also, an edition containing the Fifth Part, heretofore omitted in the American editions. 12mo., pp. 560. Price $1 00.

Dr. Dixon appears in his book as he appeared at Pittsburgh—intelligent, generous, comprehensive. His approval of American institutions is not cold and qualified, like that of some who write of our affairs: he is not studious to write so as not to give offence, nor does he barely utter an opinion dictated by charity rather than by impartial observation. He speaks out in the language of admiration, and gives his reasons for what he says.—Northern Christian Advocate.

Morris's Sermons.

Sermons on Various Subjects. By Rev. THOMAS A. MORRIS, one of the Bishops of the M. E. Church. 12mo., pp. 356. Price 85 cents.

We earnestly commend these Sermons to our preachers and to our people, and indeed to all who are concerned to know the way of salvation. They embrace all the principal doctrines of the Bible, and treat of them in a way that cannot fail to be profitable to all classes of readers.—Christian Advocate and Journal.

The Village Blacksmith.

The Village Blacksmith; or, Piety and Usefulness exemplified, in a Memoir of Samuel Hick, late of Micklefield, Yorkshire, England. By Rev. JAMES EVERETT. Eleventh Thousand. 18mo., pp. 352. Price 45 cents.

Among the pleasing reminiscences of early years, the writer recurs with peculiar delight to a slight personal acquaintance with this singularly good man, the eccentric orator of our village missionary meetings in the East and West Riding of Yorkshire. Even now his image stands forth in the memory of the past, in all the graphic peculiarity of its features, never to be forgotten,—the huge, unwieldy, herculean frame, the comical smile that played so harmlessly over the broad Atlantic of his good-humoured countenance, the shrewd and twinkling glance that darted from his little "blue-gray" eye, or, above all, that transparent sincerity of goodness, that full-hearted enthusiasm of Christian love, which disarmed criticism, and conciliated universal good-will. To all classes of readers this memoir will be a fund of entertainment and instruction. It stands alone. There is nothing like it in ancient or modern biography.—Rev. G. G. Cookman.

The Jewish Nation:

Containing an Account of their Manners and Customs, Rites and Worship, Laws and Polity. With numerous illustrative Engravings. 12mo., pp. 416. Muslin, gilt back. Price 70 cents.

This work will be found a valuable help to the right perception of the signification, beauty, and propriety of the language and allusions of the Holy Scriptures. It is finely printed and profusely illustrated. It will be found an essential help to teachers and members of Bible classes.

Parker's Annals of the Church.

Annals of the Christian Church, in Familiar Conversations for Young Persons. By MRS. PARKER. 18mo., pp. 324. Price 35 cents.

This work was especially composed for the use of the young. Its aim is to convey, in a familiar style, such a view of the chief occurrences in ecclesiastical history as may furnish the youthful mind with a general knowledge of the subject, and prepare the way for more extensive and careful researches.

Wise's Path of Life.

The Path of Life; or, Sketches of the Way to Glory and Immortality. A Help to Young Christians. By REV. DANIEL WISE. Third thousand. 16mo., pp. 246. Muslin, gilt back. Price 50 cents.

This is a most beautifully executed book,—paper, type, embellishments, binding, all in the best style of the art. As to its topics, they are of the most important character: The excellence of religion—Repentance—Difficulties in the way of penitents—Saving faith explained—Operations of faith illustrated—Witness of the Spirit—Temptation—Joining the Church—Formation of religious habits—Evil company—Marriage—Decision of character—Holiness—Apostasy. These topics are discussed in a lively and impressive style, with copious and pleasing illustrations. The book is a most admirable one for young Christians, and is well adapted for usefulness.—Pittsburgh Christian Advocate.

Peck on Christian Perfection.

The Scripture Doctrine of Christian Perfection Stated and Defended, with a Critical and Historical Examination of the Controversy, both Ancient and Modern; also, Practical Illustrations and Advices: in a Series of Lectures. A new and improved edition. By GEORGE PECK, D. D. 12mo., pp. 470. Price 75 cents.

The Scripture Doctrine of Christian Perfection Stated and Defended; with Practical Illustrations and Advices. By Rev. GEORGE PECK, D. D. Abridged from the Author's larger work. Fifth Thousand. 18mo., pp. 332. Price 45 cents.

This work has passed through a thorough revision, and is, we trust, much improved. The principal changes which have been made consist in large retrenchments from the parts which are merely incidental to the general subject, and the addition of two new lectures—one upon the Law, and the other upon the difference between regeneration and entire sanctification. These interesting topics having called forth considerable discussion, particularly since the publication of the first edition of this work, the whole ground has been reviewed, and the present edition gives the results of the examination.

We have read this work with great satisfaction, and recommend it to the public with a hearty good-will. It is thoroughly Wesleyan throughout.—Southern Christian Advocate.

It is an elaborate discussion of the whole subject. The theories of all ages are reviewed, objections answered, the way of its attainment stated, and inducements to it urged.—Zion's Herald.

As a treatise on the great doctrine of entire sanctification, the abridged edition will be found complete in all its parts, being only divested of the scholastic matter which, however important to ministers and students, prevents the general circulation of the original work among the people.

Edwards on the Spirit.

The Work of the Holy Spirit in the Human Heart. By Rev. JONATHAN EDWARDS, M. A., Pastor of the Church of Christ at Northampton, in Connecticut. Being two Tracts on that Subject. Abridged by Rev. JOHN WESLEY, A. M. 18mo., pp. 202. Muslin. Price 35 cents.

Dr. Edwards preached a sermon at New-Haven, September 10, 1741, on "The Distinguishing Marks of a Work of the Spirit of God," from which the first part of this volume is taken. The second part is an abridgment of his "Treatise on the Religious Affections." Both tracts formed part of Mr. Wesley's "Christian Library."

Heart and Church Divisions.

The Causes, Evils, and Cures of Heart and Church Divisions. Extracted from the Works of BURROUGHS and BAXTER. By FRANCIS ASBURY, Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church. 18mo., pp. 217. Price 35 cents.

Our Discipline recommends (Part I., chap. iv, § 16) "a serious perusal of the Causes, Evils, and Cures of Heart and Church Divisions." The work has long been out of print, so that the recommendation could not be complied with. A new edition is now furnished at a low price, with a view to its general circulation.

This is a rare work, which has been for a long time out of print. It was compiled by the venerable bishop from the works of Burroughs and Baxter. It comes out in a cheap and beautiful form, at a providential hour in the history of the Church.—Zion's Herald.

Etheredge's Contemplations.

Contemplations on the Mercy of God. By Rev. J. W. ETHEREDGE. 18mo., pp. 216. Price 30 cents.

It is eloquent, argumentative, and affectionate; and in many places reminds one of the energy and unction of Baxter's practical treatises.—Wesleyan Magazine.

Conversations on Palestine.

Conversations on the Geography, Natural History, &c., of Palestine. By IMOGEN MERCEIN. With numerous illustrations. Fourth thousand. 18mo., pp. 304. Muslin. Price 30 cents.

The intrinsic interest of this subject to every student of the Bible, is beyond exaggeration. The object of this volume is to invest the subject with the additional charms of social communion. The author's plan has enabled her to throw together choice extracts of books written from personal observation in the Holy Land.

Annals of the Poor.

Annals of the Poor: containing the Dairyman's Daughter—The Young Cottager—The Negro Servant—Cottage Conversations—Visit to the Infirmary, and The African Widow. By Rev. LEGH RICHMOND. 18mo., pp. 350. Price 35 cents.

The contents of this volume are "familiar as household words" to a vast proportion of readers of the English language, and are a most delightful and instructive specimen of plain, simple, attractive religious literature. Would that there were more Legh Richmonds in spirit and persevering labour for the spiritual welfare of the poor!

Stevens's Memorials of Methodism.

Memorials of the Introduction of Methodism into the Eastern States; comprising Biographical Notices of its Early Preachers, Sketches of its First Churches, and Reminiscences of its Early Struggles and Successes. By Rev. ABEL STEVENS, A. M. 12mo., pp. 490. Muslin, gilt. Price $1 00.

So valuable a book in so readable a style, cannot fail to find abundance of readers. Mr. Stevens is au fait in sketching pen-and-ink portraits, particularly of men whom he considers heroes; and there are several of them in the picture-gallery of these Memorials.

This volume is a record of almost Herculean labour and unwearied perseverance on the part of itinerant clergymen of the Methodist Episcopal Church. By readers of that denomination it will be perused with eagerness. Nor can these "Memorials" be overlooked by the future religious historian. The introduction of a Church organization, so extensive and influential as that of Methodism, into any part of the Union, must have a prominent importance in the ecclesiastical records of the country.—New-York Spectator.

Methodist Episcopal Pulpit.

The Methodist Episcopal Pulpit. A Collection of Original Sermons. From living Ministers of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Corrected and Revised by Rev. DAVIS W. CLARK, M. A. With a Portrait of Bishop Hedding. Second Thousand. 12mo., pp. 521. Price 90 cents.

It contains sermons by Bishops Hedding, Morris, and Janes; M. Simpson, S. M. Vail, H. J. Clarke, D. W. Clark, J. Floy, J. T. Peck, W. Hunter, F. Merrick, N. Levings, Z. Pad-dock, A. Stevens, C. K. True, O. C. Baker, J. H. Power, S. Luckey, A. M. Osbon, J. V. Watson, E. Bowen, C. Adams, N. Rounds, J. Cummings, F. G. Hibbard, N. Bangs, P. P. Sandford, I. Chamberlayne, B. F. Tefft, D. D. Whedon, G. G. Hapgood, G. Peck, and T. E. Bond.

Life of Luther.

Life of Martin Luther. To which is prefixed an Expository Essay on the Lutheran Reformation. By GEORGE CUBITT. With an Appendix, containing a Chronological Table of the principal Events occurring during the period of Luther's Life. With a Portrait. Sixth Thousand. Muslin or sheep. Price 65 cents.

A spirited performance. The subject is, for its real grandeur, unrivalled among the subjects of merely human history.

Stevens's Church Polity.

An Essay on Church Polity. Comprising an Outline of the Controversy on Ecclesiastical Government, and a Vindication of the Ecclesiastical System of the Methodist Episcopal Church. By Rev. ABEL STEVENS, A. M. 12mo., pp. 206. Muslin or sheep. Price 60 cents.

The first part of this work is an outline of the controversy on Church Government in general, presenting the views of our own Church on the subject, and the authorities which support them. The second contains a discussion of the origin of the Methodist system, both of economy and of Episcopacy; the third is an examination of the structure of that system, explaining and defending its chief features, such as its itinerancy, its episcopacy, and its popular checks.

Treffry on Prayer.

A Treatise on Secret and Social Prayer. By Rev. RICHARD TREFFRY. Fourth Thousand. 18mo., pp. 219. Muslin or sheep. Price 35 cents.

It is emphatically a book for the closet, full of truth and full of feeling: and while it is well calculated to promote both the revival and augmentation of personal piety, the part devoted to "social prayer" is not less adapted to more general usefulness.—Wesleyan Magazine.

Sunday-School Teacher's Guide.

The Sunday-School Teacher's Guide. Compiled by Rev. DANIEL P. KIDDER. 12mo., pp. 416. Price only 50 cents.

It appears to us the very book needed by our Sunday-school teachers. It is a compilation from the best English works of the kind, and enters into all the minutiae of the subject. Superintendents and teachers should procure it immediately.—Zion's Herald.

This work is a valuable offering to Sunday-school teachers who are disposed to use their office well, and to avail themselves of the aids which are furnished by the reflections and experience of others. It discusses a wide range of topics, and abounds in useful suggestions.—New-York Recorder.

THE FAREWELL AND THE GREETING.

THE OLD YEAR AND THE NEW.

BY THE REV. ALEXANDER MEANS, M.D., OXFORD, GEORGIA.

'Tis the silence of midnight! the year's at its goal
In the star-lighted arch of the sky:
And a hemisphere sleeps, from equator to pole,
As the wave-tide of ages sweeps by.

While the earth is in dreams, and the heavens are at rest,
And creation moves on as of yore,
Eternity's offspring falls back on her breast,
And the year Fifty-seven is NO MORE!

As a bubble afloat on a sunlit wave,
Shines a moment in purple and green,
Then breaks on the brow of its ocean grave,
And is lost in the boundless scene,—

So its fleet golden hours have but flashed and fled
O'er the wastes of the ages past;
Not an obelisk marks their oblivious bed,
Not a stone where they breathed their last.

Yet the deeds of men, with their smiles and tears,
In eternal, changeless light,
Shall burn o'er the tombs of departed years,
When the sun is quenched in night.

O the scenes, the scenes! that have just gone by,
In the rush of the rolling year;
To be canvassed again, when a God draws nigh,
And the judgment thrones appear!

For, alas! there are regions of damning crime,
Which send up their stench to Heaven;
Provoking the bolts of its wrath sublime
On the guilt of the year Fifty-seven.

There Lust and Mammon their curses pour
Upon heads, and hearts, and homes;
While Murder and Perjury reek with gore,
And tremble till vengeance comes.

Yet the beauty of Virtue, and glory of Grace,
Bring the Angel of Mercy near;
While Religion and Science, in holy embrace,
Start afresh on their bright career.

But a birth, a birth! from the womb of Night!

Lo! an heir of the Old Year's born;
And the welcoming heavens, all robed in light,
Shall herald the news to the morn.

Old Arcturus smiles from his azure throne,
And pledges a peaceful reign;
And Orion, girt with his starry zone,
Leads on in the royal train.

O'er a waking world, at the opening day,
Loud shouts from the millions ring;
As the Day-god rolls on his cloudless way,
And the birds of song take wing.

Young Hope sits throned on the brow of youth,
And kindles its sparkling eye;
And Piety, girdled and plumed with Truth,
Strikes afresh for her crown on high.

E'en the widow's pale cheek feels a flush of joy
At the blaze of her warm hearthstone,
As she hugs to her bosom her orphan boy,
Nor would barter her cot for a throne.

Yea, the world's busy thousands to new toils spring,
With a bounding, conquering zeal:
Whole cities resound with the whirl and the ring
Of the spindle, the hammer, and wheel.

Then why should our Zion deplore the past,
Or boast of her triumphs won?
Let her warn the world with a trumpet's blast,
And complete her great work, begun.

The nations are roused to the claims of God,
All Christendom lends her aid:
The harvests are white, and the fields now nod
To the stroke of the reaper's blade.

Then away, away on this bright New Year,
With the shout and the song of love;
Fill the courts of God with the boundless cheer,
Till it blends with the hymns above!

And O, when December's last lone star
Shall have paled in the light of the morn,
May the year Fifty-nine catch its glories afar,
And shed them on hosts unborn.

REMARKS AND EXPLANATIONS.

THE calculations of this Almanac are made in Mean Solar, or Clock Time. To adapt them to Apparent Time, add the Equation of Time when the sun is fast, and subtract it when slow. The sun does not come to the meridian at exactly twelve o'clock in Mean or Clock time, but generally a little before or after; and hence, to set a clock or watch by the noon-mark, it must be set slower when the sun is fast, and faster when the sun is slow, by a quantity equal to the Equation of Time.

The rising and setting of the Sun and Moon are given for their centres, allowance being made for the effect of refraction and parallax.

In the column of Miscellaneous, when the evening or morning is not indicated, if the time is greater than 6h., the evening is understood; if not, the morning.

The times of all phenomena which are affected by difference of longitude, except the eclipses of the Sun and Moon, and Moon's Phases, are given in Nashville Time alone. The time of the rising, setting, and southing of Sun, Moon, and Stars, is not materially affected by a difference of longitude, but by a difference of latitude only.

NOTE.—In addition to the above, there have been forty-four Asteroids discovered between the orbits of Mars and Jupiter, viz.: Ceres, Pallas, Juno, Vesta, Astraea, Hebe, Iris, Flora, Metis, Hygeia, Parthenope, Clio, Egeria, Irene, Eunomia, Psyche, Thetis, Melpomene, Manilia, Fortuna, Lutitia, Calliope, Thalia, Themis, Phoebe, Proserpine, Euterpe, Bellona, Amphitrite, Urania, Euphrosyne, Pomona, Polymnia, Circe, Leucothea, Atlanta, Fides, Leda, Letitia, Harmonia, Daphne, Isis, and two others not named.

ECLIPSES IN 1858.

THERE will be four Eclipses this year; two of the Sun and two of the Moon, namely:

I. A partial Eclipse of the Moon, February 27th, at the time of Full Moon. Invisible in the United States, except a few minutes in the eastern part.

II. An Annular Eclipse of the Sun, March 15th, at the time of New Moon. Invisible in the United States, except a very short time after sunrise in the eastern part.

III. A partial Eclipse of the Moon, August 24th, at the time of Full Moon. Invisible in the United States.

IV. A total Eclipse of the Sun, September 7th, at the time of New Moon. Invisible in the United States, except Florida and Texas.

MORNING AND EVENING STARS.

Venus will be morning star until February 11th, then evening star until December 12th, and then morning star to the end of the year.

Mars will be morning star until May 14th, then evening star to the end of the year.

Jupiter will be evening star until May 18th, then morning star until December 6th, and then evening star to the end of the year.

Saturn will be morning star until January 16th, then evening star until July 26th, and then morning star to the end of the year.

EQUINOXES AND SOLSTICES.

VERNAL EQUINOX.—Days and nights equal, March 20d. 3h. 49m., evening.

SUMMER SOLSTICE.—Longest day, June 21d. 0h. 26m., evening.

AUTUMNAL EQUINOX.—Days and nights equal, September 23d. 2h. 38m., morning.

WINTER SOLSTICE.—Shortest day, December 21d. 8h. 25m., evening.

EMBER DAYS.

February 24, 26, and 27; May 26, 28, and 29; September 15, 17, and 18; December 15, 17, and 18.

ROGATION DAYS.

Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday before Ascension Day, May 11, 12, and 13.

MEAN AND APPARENT TIME.

MEAN TIME is the time indicated by a well-regulated clock or watch running without variation, so as to make the day, or twenty-four hours, equal to the Mean Time at which the sun comes to the meridian during the year. Apparent Time is the time which makes the sun come to the meridian every day at 12 o'clock. On account of the ellipticity of the earth's orbit, and its inclination to the equator, the sun does not always come to the meridian in exactly the same time; but in a time which is sometimes a little less, and at other times a little greater than the Mean Time; and hence, Apparent Time is irregular, and either gradually falls behind Mean Time, or gains on it, sometimes to the amount of more than sixteen minutes. When the sun comes to the meridian earlier than the Mean Time, it is said to be fast; but when it comes to it later, it is said to be slow; and the amount by which Apparent Time differs from the Mean Time is called the Equation of Time. It was formerly customary to calculate all almanacs in Apparent Time; but as no timepiece can be made to keep Apparent Time, on account of its irregularity, the best almanacs are now calculated in Mean Time, and may sometimes vary more than sixteen minutes from those calculated for the same latitude and longitude in Apparent Time. In order to set a timepiece according to Mean Time, it is generally necessary to have a dial, or noon-mark; and allowance must always be made for the Equation of Time.

DIRECTIONS TO MAKE A NOON-MARK.

WHEN very great accuracy is not required, a noon-mark may be made most conveniently by tracing a meridian line with a surveyor's compass, so that the edges of the shadow of some perpendicular object will coincide with it when the sun is on the meridian. As the edge of the shadow, however, coincides with the meridian line when the east or west limb of the sun is on the meridian, according as the west or the east edge of an object casts the shadow, an allowance of one minute, according to circumstances, must be made to bring the sun's centre on the meridian. Many persons think that a north and south line, traced by a surveyor's compass, is a true meridian line, and hence they have very erroneous noon-marks. In order to have a true noon-mark, allowance should be made for variation, according to the following

TABLE OF MAGNETIC VARIATION.

| PLACE.             | VARIATION. | PLACE.           | VARIATION. | PLACE.             | VARIATION. |

For intervening places, the approximate variation may be obtained by interpolation.

THE TIDES.

EVERYWHERE upon our sea-coast there is a regular ebbing and flowing of the tides once, on an average, every 12h. 26m. They are produced by the attraction of the Sun and Moon upon the waters of the ocean, but principally by that of the latter. Hence the time of high water is governed by the motion of the Moon, and always occurs a certain number of hours after the Moon crosses the meridian of that place. About the time of New and Full Moon, the influences of the Sun and Moon in producing the tides act in conjunction, and produce larger tides than usual, called Spring Tides; but about the quadratures, these influences act in opposition to each other, and hence there are only small tides, called Neap Tides. If the time given in the second column of the following table be added to the time of high water at Charleston, it will give the time of high water at each of the given stations.

DOMINE DOMINUS NOSTER.

THE FOLLOWING ELEGANT VERSION OF THE EIGHTH PSALM, BY C. WESLEY, IS COPIED FROM THE "WESLEYAN PSALTER."

SOVEREIGN, everlasting Lord,
How excellent thy name!
Held in being by thy word,
Thee all thy works proclaim:
Through this earth thy glories shine,
Through those dazzling worlds above,
All confess the Source Divine,
Th' Almighty God of love!

Thou, the God of power and grace,
Whom highest heavens adore,
Callest babes to sing thy praise,
And manifest thy power:
Lo! they in thy strength go on,
Lo! on all thy foes they tread,
Cast the dire Accuser down,
And bruise the Serpent's head.

Yet, when I survey the skies
And planets as they roll,
Wonder dims my aching eyes,
And swallows up my soul:
Moon and stars so wide display,
Chant their Maker's praise aloud,
Pour insufferable day,
And draw me up to God!

What is man, that thou, O Lord,
Hast such respect to him?
Comes from heaven th' incarnate Word,
His creature to redeem:

Wherefore wouldst thou stoop so low?
Who the mystery shall explain?
God is flesh, and lives below,
And dies for wretched man.

Jesus his Redeemer dies,
The sinner to restore,
Falls that man again may rise,
And stand as heretofore:
Foremost of created things,
Head of all thy works he stood,
Nearest the great King of kings,
And little less than God!

Him with glorious majesty
Thy grace vouchsafed to crown:
Transcript of the One-in-Three,
He in thine image shone:
All thy works for him were made,
All did to his sway submit:
Fishes, birds, and beasts obeyed,
And bowed beneath his feet.

Sovereign, everlasting Lord,
How excellent thy name!
Held in being by thy word,
Thee all thy works proclaim:
Through this earth thy glories shine,
Through those dazzling worlds above,
All confess the Source Divine,
Th' Almighty God of love!

CHURCHES IN THE UNITED STATES.—The last official returns show that there is one church for every 557 free inhabitants in the United States, or for every 646 of the entire population. The average number these churches are found to accommodate is 384, and the average value, $2400. Churches are more numerous in proportion to the population in Indiana, Florida, Delaware, and Ohio; and less numerous in California, Louisiana, and Iowa. Those in Massachusetts are the largest, and have the greatest average value.

THE AMERICAN BIBLE SOCIETY, during the forty-one years of its operations, has issued over 12,000,000 Bibles and Testaments in various languages. The number issued in the year ending April 30, 1857, was over 740,000; receipts for that year, $441,805 57. The office of the Society is located in New York: Hon. THEODORE FRELINGHUYSEN, President; JOHN C. BRIGHAM, D.D., JOSEPH HOLDICH, D.D., Rev. JAMES H. McNEILL, Secretaries.

THE BRITISH AND FOREIGN BIBLE SOCIETY issued last year 1,000,965 copies of the Scriptures. Total issues, 32,381,759. Income last year—for general purposes, £68,381; sales, £69,374; for Chinese New Testament Fund, £993: total, £138,749; expenditures, £138,985.

The annual receipts of the Romish "Society for Propagating the Faith," amount to $650,000. The Romanists of the United States pay $11,000 of this sum, and receive in turn $145,000 from the Society to assist them in rooting out Protestantism in this country.

The receipts of the "London Missionary Society" last year, for ordinary purposes, were £67,297; expenditures, £68,680.

THE CHURCH OF ENGLAND MISSIONARY SOCIETY had a revenue of £123,174 last year.

GOOD BOOKS.—A good book, in the language of the booksellers, is a saleable one; in that of the curious, a scarce one; in that of men of sense, a useful and instructive one.

BAD BOOKS.—A bad book is the worse that it cannot repent. Some books, like the city of London, fare the better for being burnt.

[The transferred preachers are reckoned with those of the Conferences to which they now belong. The six bishops are not counted. Their addition would make the number of efficient travelling preachers 2177. There are also several members in China who are not counted, not being officially reported. The foregoing statistics are taken from the Minutes of 1856-7.]

BRITISH WESLEYAN MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

THE Report presented May 1, 1857, showed that the receipts for the year ending December 31, 1856, amounted to £119,205 8s. 2d.: the disbursements the same. The Society has central and principal stations, called circuits, 458; chapels and other preaching-places, 3624; ministers and assistant missionaries, 633; catechists, interpreters, day-school teachers, etc., 886; unpaid agents, as Sabbath-school teachers, etc., 9833; full and accredited Church members, 114,428; on trial for Church-membership, 4337; scholars in the day and Sabbath schools, 92,619; printing establishments, 8.—The Wesleyan Home Mission raised £1900 last year.

BRITISH WESLEYAN SCHOOLS.

BESIDES the two branches of the Theological Institution at Richmond and Didsbury, the Normal Training Institution at Westminster, New Kingswood and Woodhouse Grove schools, and several collegiate institutions, the Wesleyans have 434 day-schools, with 52,630 scholars, and 4166 Sunday-schools, with 437,814 scholars.

PRIMITIVE METHODISTS. At the thirty-eighth Conference, held in 1857, there were reported 336 stations, 110,683 members, 598 travelling preachers, 10,205 local preachers, 6919 class-leaders, 2010 chapels, 3171 rented rooms, etc., 139,486 Sunday-school scholars, 25,403 teachers.

NEW CONNECTION METHODISTS, (often called Kilhamites.) This society, which originated in 1797, had at the Conference for 1854, in Great Britain, 16,001 members; in Ireland, 674; and in Canada, 4466: making a total of 21,141. The increase reported at the Conference in 1857 was 1047, with 2004 on trial.

WESLEYAN ASSOCIATION. Originated in 1835. At the 22d Annual Assembly, in 1857, the Rev. James Everett being president, the "Wesleyan Reformers" united with them, and "The United Methodist Free Churches" was adopted as the title of the amalgamated societies. The Association numbered before the union, in Great Britain and the Colonies, 93 travelling preachers, and 18,373 members: average attendance, 31,367.

BIBLE CHRISTIANS. This branch of British Methodism has been in existence thirty-seven years. At the Conference of 1853, they reported 148 travelling and 1241 local preachers; 472 chapels; 15,612 Church members; 17,030 scholars in Sunday-schools. These statistics include their missions in Canada and Australia.

THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH IN CANADA has two Conferences—the Niagara and Bay of Quinte; 157 travelling preachers, of whom 16 are superannuated; 13,352 members; Church property, $200,418. They publish a weekly paper—the Canada Christian Advocate—of which the Rev. GIDEON SHEPARD is editor.

* The German Reformed and Lutheran denominations use the same building in many places.

The following table shows the statistics of the principal denominations, according to the latest reports. The numbers of the M. E. Church, North and South, are taken from the Minutes of 1856-7; those of the Baptist Churches from the Baptist Almanac of 1857; those of the Presbyterian Churches, Old and New School, from the reports of the General Assemblies of 1857; those of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church from estimates published in the papers of that denomination, there being no authentic reports of its statistics. Dr. Baird, in "Religion in America," p. 505, says it has about 300 ministers, though, on p. 521, he says 1000. The Rev. Mr. Campbell, a C. P. minister of Nashville, thinks there are between 400 and 500, others say 1000, which perhaps includes the licentiates, who are estimated at 400 or 480. The members of the P. E. Church are taken from the Church Almanac of 1857; those of the other sects from the most recent reliable reports. The 6718 local preachers of the M. E. Church, North, and the 4660 local preachers of the M. E. Church, South, are counted with the members. Licentiates of other Churches, except the Lutheran, are not counted as ministers. The number of communicants in the Roman Catholic Church is not known: high authorities in that Church claim, old and young, from two to four millions of the population of the United States.

Nashville, Tenn.:
PRINTED AT THE SOUTHERN METHODIST PUBLISHING HOUSE.
1857-8.

BUSINESS REGULATIONS.

---

1. THE Agents would respectfully recommend to all who may favor the House with their patronage, the importance of adopting the cash system, as far as practicable, in their future operations; being fully satisfied that, if generally approved and carried into effect, its practical results would greatly promote the interests of all concerned.

2. It will be seen, by reference to Parts I., II., and III. of this Catalogue, that a difference of ten per cent. has been made in favor of the cash system.

3. In conformity with the general rules of trade, the regular credit of the House has been restricted to six months; after which, interest in all cases will be required.

4. When orders are filled on time, notes at six months, in connection with the invoice bills, will be forwarded to purchasers, that they may be duly signed and returned by mail to the Agents. The strict observance of this rule will greatly relieve our clerks, simplify our books, and obviate many of the difficulties with which we have to contend in the adjustment of old, complicated, running accounts.

5. As some of our friends and patrons may not be prepared to adopt the cash system entire, but may perhaps find it convenient to pay in part, either at the time of ordering the books or on the reception of our invoice bills, in such cases the orders will be filled at time rates, and a premium of ten per cent. will be allowed on the amount of such advance payments. The benefits of this rule cannot, however, be extended to payments that may be made on account of our Sunday-school publications. The rates at which we are now selling these issues will not admit of any further reduction.

6. Interest will be allowed on all payments made on notes before maturity.

7. In view of the increased discount hereafter to be made on the books of our own publication, with the very liberal percentage offered for cash on all the books of the General Catalogue, the Agents cannot assume either freight or charges on their future shipments. Purchasers should therefore consider themselves at liberty to provide for these contingent expenses by a prudent adjustment of the prices at which they sell.*

* In appending a scale of retail rates to the issues of the House, the Agents have had no expectation of being able to establish throughout the Connection a uniform standard of selling prices. Their first object has been to settle a fair and proper schedule of retail rates for the Publishing House and its regular Depositories; and, secondly, to furnish a general directory for all who may engage in the circulation and sale of their stock.

The cost of books to those who engage in their distribution depends on a variety of causes and contingencies over which the publishers can have no possible control. The vast difference in the localities to which the books are ordered, with the various modes of transportation by which they are shipped, produces a very material difference in the charges for freight, commissions, etc. These extra expenses, if devolved on the purchasers—as they evidently should be, according to all the well-known and well-established rules of trade—must necessarily enhance the cost of the stock to wholesale dealers; and, of consequence, should authorize and fully justify such a modification in the retail prices as to protect their interests in the sale of the books.

8. The Agents will take the risk of transportation on all bills amounting to twenty-five dollars and upwards, charging insurance at the usual rates. It should, however, be distinctly understood, that in taking the risk of their shipments, they do so on strictly business principles, holding themselves responsible only for losses and damages resulting from the unavoidable hazards of transportation; and not for losses or damages arising from the neglect or mismanagement of shippers or carriers. Against this class of liabilities purchasers are fully protected by their bills of lading, provided carriers be held to their legitimate responsibilities by the consignees. The Agents would, therefore, respectfully recommend to all who order books from the Southern Methodist Publishing House, that they duly instruct their last consignee or agent to be particular in ascertaining that their shipments are in "good order and condition" when received; and if not, that the requisite steps be promptly taken for the immediate recovery of such damages.

9. Missionary Drafts, or Bills on solvent Banks or good Houses, in any of the principal towns and cities of the United States, within thirty days of maturity, will be received as cash. Where paper of this sort cannot be had, the most current Bank Notes may be transmitted to us by mail, at our risk. In all cases, it will be expected of those who remit funds at our risk, that they retain a description of the notes, and that they envelope the same in the presence of some responsible individual.

10. Purchasers will please be particular in designating the routes by which they may desire their books shipped, as well as in furnishing the address of the Houses or individuals to whose care they may wish them consigned; being careful to write the names of persons and places as legibly as possible. The Agents should be promptly notified of any delays or disasters that may befall their shipments, and of any inaccuracies or errors that may be found in their bills. They cannot be held responsible for losses, damages, or errors of which they are not notified in reasonable time.

11. As printed matter can now be transmitted by mail at the rate of one cent per ounce for any distance under, and at two cents per ounce for all distances over, three thousand miles, within the limits of the United States, our friends can therefore furnish themselves by mail with any of the books of our General Catalogue, by transmitting to us the retail price of the books desired. Where Sunday-school and Tract books are ordered by mail, ten per cent. should be added to Catalogue prices, that postage may be prepaid without loss to the Concern.

12. Business letters of every description, orders for books and periodicals, remittances, etc., etc., should invariably be addressed to STEVENSON & OWEN, Agents Nashville, Tenn., and not to the Editors.

13. All persons, and especially all ministers, both travelling and local, in writing to the Agents on business, are earnestly requested to give their respective Post-offices, States, and Conferences. A due regard to this very reasonable request will save us much time, and a vast amount of trouble and perplexity.

14. Finally, the foregoing rules and regulations will be observed in the transaction of business at all the Depositories established by the House and under the control of the Agents.

PART I.,

CONSISTING EXCLUSIVELY OF SOUTHERN METHODIST PUBLICATIONS.

THIRTY-FIVE PER CENT. DISCOUNT FOR CASH—TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT. ON TIME.

ABYSSINIAN BOY. With a Description of Abyssinia and the Gallas. Revised by T. O. Summers, D.D.
18mo, pp. 69. $0 25

The conversion of "Ishmael" illustrates in a striking manner the power of the gospel. The book will be read with interest.

ADVICE TO A YOUNG CONVERT. By L. M.
Lee. 12mo. 0 75

This work has had an extensive circulation, having passed through several editions at New York. To extend its career of usefulness, the Agents have secured an interest in the copyright, and have sent forth a handsome edition.

ALEXANDER THE GREAT, LIFE OF. 18mo,
pp. 177. Gilt muslin. 0 30

The Richmond Christian Advocate says: "This is an admirable work for the young. A well-drawn portrait of a remarkable man, adapted to interest and instruct the youthful mind, and guide it into the greater thoroughfares of history."

ALFRED THE GREAT, LIFE OF. 18mo. 0 30

A very satisfactory biography of one who takes rank among the greatest men that ever swayed a sceptre.

ALLEINE'S ALARM TO UNCONVERTED SIN-NERS. With a Biographical Introduction by T. O. Summers, D.D. 18mo, pp. 175. 0 25

ALLEINE'S ALARM AND BAXTER'S CALL.
In one volume. 18mo. 0 35

ALMANAC, SOUTHERN METHODIST, FOR 1858. 0 15

ANALYSIS OF THE PRINCIPLES OF CHURCH GOVERNMENT; PARTICULARLY THAT OF THE M. E. CHURCH. By M. M. Henkle, D.D. 18mo. 0 40

A new stereotyped edition of this valuable work.

ANCIENT BRITISH CHURCH: Being an Inquiry into the History of Christianity in Britain, previous to the establishment of the Heptarchy. By William Lindsay Alexander, D.D., F.S.A.S. Revised by T. O. Summers, D.D. 18mo. 0 30

This is a work of rare merit: it contains a fine specimen of historical criticism. Dr. Alexander has discussed the vexed questions connected with the early history of Christianity in our mother-isle with the impartiality of a philosopher and the learning of an accomplished archæologist.

ANGLO-SAXONS, LIVES OF EMINENT: Illustrating the Dawn of Christianity and Civilization in Great Britain. Two vols., 18mo. 0 70

These two volumes shed a great deal of light on our Anglo-American laws and literature, and are well adapted to inspire the reader with gratitude for the rich inheritance he has received from the generations of the past.

ANNALS OF SOUTHERN METHODISM. Edited by Rev. Dr. Deems. 1 00

A complete view of all the operations of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in every department. There is hardly any question concerning our movements which is not answered in this work, which the New Orleans Christian Advocate pronounces "an admirable annual." The Southern Christian Advocate says: "It is the log-book record of the latitude and longitude of our ship, and keeping her bearings, thus from year to year, we may know what headway she regularly makes. It is a book that, like old wine, will grow better by age."

The volumes for 1855 and 1856 are sold separately, at one dollar each. The volume for 1857 will be issued early next year.

APOSTASY, ESSAY ON. By William J. Parks, of the Georgia Conference. 18mo. 0 30

Those who are acquainted with the excellent author of this Essay will not be surprised to find that it deals some tremendous blows upon the great error of unconditional perseverance. It is, indeed, unanswerable. The style is plain, forcible, and direct. It should be read with another masterly work on this subject, "Olivers on Perseverance."

APOSTOLICAL SUCCESSION, ESSAY ON. By Powell. With an Introduction by T. O. Summers, D.D. 12mo. 0 65

APOSTOLIC SUCCESSION: Letters addressed to Bishop Green. Revised and enlarged. By Rev. R. Abbey. 12mo. 0 50

A strong, practical view of the subject.

APOSTOLIC SUCCESSION, END OF. A Debate between Messrs. Yerger and Smedes, Editors of the Church Herald, Vicksburg, and the Rev. R. Abbey. In which the High Church Doctrine of a Chain of successive Ordinations is clearly and specifically surrendered. Abridged, revised, and improved. By the Rev. R. Abbey. 18mo, pp. 174. 0 30

APPEAL OF THE SOUTHERN COMMISSIONERS. By Dr. Bascom. 0 25

ARMINIUS, LIFE OF JAMES, DD., Professor of Theology in the University of Leyden, Holland. Translated from the Latin of Casper Brandt, Remonstrant Minister, Amsterdam, by John Guthrie, A.M. With an Introduction by T. O. Summers, D.D. 12mo. 1 00

This masterly work is that alluded to by Mosheim, in his Ecclesiastical History. Speaking of Arminius, he says: "The most ample account we have of this eminent man, is given by Casper Brandt in his Historia Vitæ Jac. Arminiï, published at Leyden in 1724, and the year after by me at Brunswick, with an additional preface and some annotations." Casper Brandt put forth his best efforts to produce a work worthy of his subject, and Mr. Guthrie has successfully endeavored to reproduce it in a faithful idiomatic translation.

AUSTRALIA AND ITS SETTLEMENTS. Edited By T. O. Summers, D.D. 18mo. 0 30

A minute description of this wonderful land of gold.

BALL WE LIVE ON. 18mo. 0 25

An agreeable description of the earth. It is accompanied by six other volumes: the Desert, Prairie, Mountain, Valley, River, and Sea. A nice little geographical library.

BAPTISM: A Treatise on the Nature, Perpetuity, Subjects, Administrator, Mode, and Use of the Initiating Ordinance of the Christian Church. With an Appendix, containing Strictures on Dr. Howell's "Evils of Infant Baptism," plates illustrating the Primitive Mode of Baptism, etc. By T. O. Summers, D.D. 12mo, pp. 252. 0 65

This book is got up in handsome style. A copy ought to be in every library. Competent judges—among them the bishops and editors of the Church—have spoken of this work in unqualified terms of approval. J. McClintock, D.D., late editor of the Methodist Quarterly Review, says: "This volume differs from ordinary books on the subject, in treating at some length of the 'Administrator of Baptism,' and of the 'Use of Baptism,'—points rarely noticed, or if at all, very inadequately discussed, in the current treatises. It differs from them also, and very happily, in the clearness of its arrangement, in the aptness with which the joints of the discussion fit each other, and in the discrimination with which important points are brought out strongly, while minor ones are comparatively thrown into abeyance. We cordially commend this little volume as one of the best summaries of Christian doctrine on the subject of baptism that has come under our notice."

BAPTISM, INFANT: TRACTS FOR THE TIMES
ON. To which is added Questions on the Mode of Baptism.
By Rev. J. L. Chapman. 12mo. 0 50

BAPTISM, INFANT, STRICTURES ON DR. HOWELL'S EVILS OF. By T. O. Summers, D.D. In pamphlet form. 0 10

BAPTISM: NATURE, SUBJECTS, AND MODE OF. By Richard Watson. Pamphlet. 0 15

BAPTISMAL DEMONSTRATIONS. By R. Abbey. Pamphlet. 0 10

BASCOM, D.D., LL.D., LIFE OF HENRY BIDLEMAN, late Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. By Rev. M. M. Henkle, D.D. 12mo, pp. 408. 1 00

BASCOM'S WORKS. In four volumes. 12mo.
Vol. I. Sermons from the Pulpit. 1 00
" II. Lectures on Infidelity, and Addresses on various important topics. 1 00
" III. Lectures and Essays on Moral and Mental Science, Moral and Political Philosophy, Natural Theology, and the Philosophy of Letters. 1 00
" IV. Sermons and Sketches. 1 00

Sold separately, or in sets to suit purchasers.

do. do. Muslin.

0 30

24mo. do. do. Muslin.

0 25

This is an elegant volume. Its contents are adapted to administer comfort to the Jacobs and Rachels who weep for their children because "they are not." They will scarcely "refuse to be comforted" by the consolatory topics so judiciously presented in this excellent work.

BETTER LAND; OR, THE CHRISTIAN EMI-GRANT'S GUIDE TO HEAVEN. Showing the nakedness

of the land of spiritual Egypt, the pleasant journey through this wilderness, and the glorious inheritance of settlers in the celestial Canaan. By Jeremiah Dodsworth. 12mo.

0 80

This is a reprint of a work which has had an extensive circulation in England; and, from its subject-matter and "antique and singular style," bids fair to have a considerable run in this country. It is good to the use of edifying.

BIBLE IN MANY TONGUES. 18mo.

BIBLE, OUR ENGLISH. 18mo.

0 30

These are invaluable works. They ought to be spread broadcast over the country at the present time, to check the progress of infidelity, and to counteract the movements of misguided men, who assume a hostile attitude towards "our English Bible." The mass of biblical information contained in these volumes will astonish as well as profit the reader.

BIBLE GLEANINGS. By Mrs. J. T. H. Cross.

18mo.

A beautiful little book from the gifted pen of Mrs. Cross.

BIBLE EXPOSITOR. Confirmations of the Truth of the Holy Scriptures, from the Observations of recent Travellers; illustrating the Manners, Customs, and Places referred to in the Bible. 18mo, pp. 320.

0 50

This valuable book is reprinted from a volume published under the direction of the Society for the Promotion of Christian Knowledge. Its pertinent observations and numerous engravings constitute a fine commentary on many passages of Scripture, otherwise obscure. It may be of immense service in the Bible-class and Sunday-school.

BIBLE READINGS FOR EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR. Specially designed for Children. Six vols., 196
pp. each. Per set,

2 60

These readings go all through the Bible. The language is remarkable for its beautiful simplicity. The volumes are illustrated by a dozen fine engravings. The set is a capital present to a child.

BIBLE CHRISTIAN: A View of Doctrinal, Experimental, and Practical Religion. By the Rev. Josephus Anderson. Edited by T. O. Summers, D.D. 18mo, pp. 350. 0 50

This book is written on a catholic principle, and in a popular style—especially adapted to the young.

BOATMAN'S DAUGHTER: A Narrative for the Learned and Unlearned. By Alfred Barrett. 18mo, pp. 132. 0 30

Good judges have assigned this book a place with the "Dairyman's Daughter"—a sufficient recommendation. It is adorned with a handsome Frontispiece.

BUDS AND BLOSSOMS. Two vols. 18mo, pp. 194, 198. 0 60

The Richmond Christian Advocate says these "are two admirable volumes for Sabbath-school Libraries, and the little folks generally."

- CATACOMBS, OR, FIRST CHRISTIAN CEMETERIES AT ROME, VISIT TO THE; and a Midnight Visit to Mount Vesuvius. By Selina Bunbury. 18mo, pp. 76. 0 25

A visit to these venerable monuments of primitive times is suggestive of reflections of no ordinary cast, as this book shows.

- CEREMONIES OF MODERN JUDAISM. By Herman Baer. With an Introduction by T. O. Summers, D.D. 0 45

The author—an educated Israelite, though now a Christian—is familiarly acquainted with the ceremonies of modern Judaism: he has described them with accuracy. Some elegant engravings embellish the interesting volume.

- CHAPTERS FOR CHILDREN. By Old Humphrey. 18mo. 0 35

The interesting topics, easy style, and elegant engravings, will make this book popular among the little folks.

- CHARACTERS, SCENES, AND INCIDENTS OF THE REFORMATION. Two vols. 0 60

- CHARITY SUPERIOR TO KNOWLEDGE. A Discourse delivered in the Chapel of Centenary College, of Louisiana, at Commencement, July 27, 1851, and published by request of the Joint Board of Trustees and Visitors. By Rev. Wm. Winans, D.D. 0 10

- CHARLEMAGNE, LIFE AND TIMES OF. 18mo. 0 30

This work contains as much information concerning the great Charlemagne and his times as one might desire.

- CHEERFUL CHAPTERS. By Old Humphrey. 18mo. 0 35

The title of this book is no misnomer. It is embellished with numerous fine engravings.

- CHRISTIANITY IN EARNEST, AS EXEMPLIFIED IN THE LIFE AND LABORS OF THE REV. HODGSON CASSON. By A. Steele. Edited by T. O. Summers, D.D. 18mo, pp. 206. 0 35

This is a charming piece of religious biography. It is full of life and incident, and instinct with the primitive spirit of the gospel—"Christianity in Earnest." Mr. Casson was truly a remarkable man—like Stephen, he was "full of faith and of the Holy Ghost," and like Paul, he was "in labors more abundant." The perusal of his Memoirs can scarcely fail to be interesting to any one, but it will be specially so to all who are engaged in the work of the ministry, and who are studying to become wise in winning souls to Christ.

- CHRISTIAN THEOLOGY. By Adam Clarke, LL.D., F.A.S. Selected from his published and unpublished Writings, and systematically arranged. With a Life of the Author. By Samuel Dunn. 0 75

A carefully revised edition of this great work.

CHRISTIAN LIBERALITY EXPLAINED AND ENFORCED. By J. Harris, D.D. 12mo, pp. 40. 0 10

CHRISTIAN FATHER'S PRESENT TO HIS CHILDREN. By J. A. James. 0 50

This work is written in a graceful style, and is full of excellent suggestions, cautions, and counsels. A few editorial notes and corrections have been made where the author's theological views appeared to be defective, and inconsistent with the general strain of the volume.

CHRISTIAN PERFECTION, PLAIN ACCOUNT OF. By Rev. John Wesley. 18mo, pp. 172. 0 35 do. do. 24mo, pp. 172. 0 25

CHRISTIAN PERFECTION. By Fletcher. 18mo. 0 20

CHRISTIAN HOLINESS. By David Kinnear. 18mo. 0 25

This good little book is brought out in uniform style with those kindred works, Wesley and Fletcher on Perfection, and Summers on Holiness. They are on a vastly important subject, and a dollar will buy all four of them.

CLAREMONT TALES; OR, ILLUSTRATIONS OF THE BEATITUDES. 0 30

These popular tales occupy a high rank in the species of religious literature to which they belong.

COAL-PIT; OR, LIGHT IN DARKNESS. By J. Bridges. 18mo, pp. 72. 0 25

This is an authentic and thrilling account of an accident that occurred to certain miners, by which they were buried in the mine for several days, and of their providential deliverance.

COLUMBUS; OR, THE DISCOVERY OF AMERICA. By George Cubitt. 18mo. 0 35

The author has waded through many large volumes to get the materials out of which this biography is constructed: he has given the most important facts in the life of the great navigator, with such observations as a sound Christian judgment would suggest.

COMMANDMENT WITH PROMISE. 18mo, pp. 285. 0 40

This work is by the author of The Week, which see.

CONVENIENT FOOD. 18mo. 0 20

A narrative for the little folks equally pleasant and profitable.

COOKMAN'S SPEECHES. With a Biographical Introduction by T. O. Summers, D.D. 0 30

The late Rev. George G. Cookman was one of the most eloquent and popular platform speakers in the United States. A little while before his lamented loss in the steamer President, he was prevailed upon to publish some of his speeches: they are found in this capital little work.

COUNTRY STROLLS. By Old Humphrey. 18mo. 0 40

CREED OF ALL MEN. By Rev. R. Abbey. 18mo, pp. 93. 0 25

This book is from a vigorous writer. He meets the absurdity of infidelity on its own ground, and deals it severe blows.

CROSS OF CHRIST: Being a Sermon delivered by H. B. Bascom, D.D., LL.D., before the General Conference, in St. Louis, Mo., previous to his Ordination to the Episcopal office, in May, 1850; together with a brief sketch of the author's illness and death: to which is added the Funeral Discourse delivered on the occasion, by Bishop J. O. Andrew, D.D., before the Louisville Conference at Greensburg, Ky., October, 1850. Beautifully gotten up, in best English cloth. 12mo. 0 50

CRUSADES. 18mo. 0 40

A concise, judicious history of the holy wars.

CYRUS, LIFE OF. 18mo. Q 30

An entertaining and instructive history of the great Persian monarch.

DAIRYMAN'S DAUGHTER. By Rev. L. Richmond. With an Introduction, containing Interesting Notices of the Dairyman, and a further Account of his Daughter, by T. O. Summers, D.D. 0 30

This work is got up in admirable style: it contains a beautiful engraving of the Dairyman's house. The editor of the Richmond Christian Advocate speaks of the Introduction as a "really valuable contribution, heightening the attractions of this incomparable work." Every family and every Sunday-school library should be furnished with it.

DAWN OF MODERN CIVILIZATION; OR, SKETCHES OF THE SOCIAL CONDITION OF EUROPE, FROM THE TWELFTH TO THE SIXTEENTH CENTURY. 0 20

This book is a sequel to "Glimpses of the Dark Ages," and, like it, is full of interest.

DAY-SPRING; OR, LIGHT TO THEM THAT SIT IN DARKNESS. By Mrs. M. Martin. 18mo. 0 25

The author of this biographical volume is the gifted wife of an estimable member of the South Carolina Conference. This book will be found a valuable addition to a Sunday-school or family library.

DISCOURSE CONCERNING THE DIVINE PROVIDENCE. By William Sherlock, D.D. Third American edition. 12mo, pp. 336. 0 75

"This is a neat volume, just placed among the standard works of the Church. It has been carefully edited by Dr. Summers, who has corrected numerous errors which had crept into former editions, and furnished a preface giving a sketch of Dr. Sherlock, and a brief view of the character of the book. This Discourse has the peculiarity of discussing the doctrine of Divine Providence in opposition to the scheme of unconditional predestination, and from the Arminian point of view. It is admirably done. We commend it to the favorable notice of all who wish to disseminate sound and enlightened views on this important subject. The volume is uniform in size with Wesley's Sermons, and should be put into all the Sunday-school and family libraries in the land."—S. C. Advocate.

ECCLESIASTICAL CONSTITUTION: THE ORIGIN AND CHARACTER OF THE CHURCH OF CHRIST AND THE GOSPEL MINISTRY. In Four Parts. Being a complete Refutation of all strange Notions and Sectarian Heresies on the subject of the Church and Ministry. By the Rev. R. Abbey. 12mo. 1 00

A book abounding with strong and original views.

EDINBURGH, OLD. An Historical Sketch of the Ancient Metropolis of Scotland. 18mo, pp. 191. 0 30

EDINBURGH, MODERN. 18mo, pp. 186. 0 30

A brace of books that abound in interest, as the Scottish metropolis has been the theatre of some of the most stirring incidents of modern history.

ETERNAL SONSHIP OF CHRIST. By the Rev. Wm. Beauchamp. 18mo. 0 30

FAMILY GOVERNMENT. By Bishop Andrew. 0 30

This important subject is discussed in the forcible style of the excellent author, whose book ought to be read in every family in the land: it is capable of doing immense good.

FANNY, THE FLOWER-GIRL; AND THE INFANT'S PRAYER. By Selina Bunbury. 0 20FATHER REEVES, THE MODEL CLASS-LEADER. By Edward Corderoy. With an Introduction by T. O. Summers, D.D. 18mo, pp. 143. 0 30

A most interesting and useful volume. The introduction speaks a word to class-leaders, and to their members also. The biography is a beautiful illustration of the value of this institution.

FIELD AND FOLD; OR, A POPULAR EXPOSITION OF THE SCIENCE OF AGRICULTURE. By the Rev. Edwin Sidney, author of "Blights of the Wheat," etc. 18mo, pp. 161. 0 30

This book ought to be widely circulated in the South and South-west, where agriculture is the leading pursuit of the people.

FIFTY BEAUTIFUL BALLADS. 0 40FIFTY FINE POEMS. 0 40

A couple of elegant volumes, containing some of the cream of English poetry. They are adorned with numerous embellishments.

FLECHERE, LIFE OF THE REV. JOHN W. DE LA. Compiled from the Narrative of the Rev. Mr. Wesley; the Biographical Notes of the Rev. Mr. Gilpin; from his own Letters, and other authentic Documents, many of which were never before published. By Joseph Benson. 0 65FLETCHER, LIFE OF MRS. MARY, Consort and Relict of the Rev. John Fletcher, Vicar of Madeley, Salop. Compiled from her Journal, and other authentic Documents. By Henry Moore. 0 70

A cheap and convenient edition of these two Methodist classics.

FLETCHER'S APPEAL TO MATTER OF FACT. 18mo. 0 40FOSTER'S WORKS:*ESSAYS IN A SERIES OF LETTERS. By John Foster. 18mo, pp. 335. 0 50

These letters were written to the lady who afterward became Mr. Foster's wife. "I have read," says Sir James Mackintosh, "with the greatest admiration, the Essays of Foster." Dr. Chalmers says, "There are passages of amazing depth and beauty in his Essays." The Essay "On Decision of Character" ought to be read once a year by every young person.

FOSTER'S WORKS, (Continued:)

LECTURES ON CHRISTIAN MORALS. By John Foster. With an Introduction by T. O. Summers, D.D. 18mo, pp. 334.

0 50

It is enough to say of these Lectures that they were written by the renowned author of the "Essays." A biographical account of this great man is given in the Introduction.

GATHERED FLOWERETS. 18mo. 0 30

These short and simple annals of Sunday-school children, who lived and died Christians, will be read with interest by the young. It is a charming book.

GRANDMAMMA GILBERT. By Old Humphrey. 18mo. 0 30

GREAT COMMISSION; OR, THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH CONSTITUTED AND CHARGED TO CONVEY THE GOSPEL TO THE WORLD. By the Rev. John Harris, D.D. With an Introduction by T. O. Summers, D.D. 12mo. 1 00

This masterly work of the late lamented Dr. Harris needs no recommendation. The Introduction gives a bird's-eye view of the Missionary operations of the Methodist Church among the people of color in our Southern States, partly as an offset to certain passages in the book which are not so well adapted to our meridian and latitude, and partly as a matter of important information. The statistics of the principal missionary societies, noticed by the author, are brought down in the Introduction to the present time, and a revised and enlarged Index has been appended.

GREAT SUPPER NOT CALVINISTIC: Being a Reply to the Rev. Dr. Fairchild's Discourses on the Parable of the Great Supper. By Leroy M. Lee, D.D. 0 50

There is no mincing the matter in this sturdy volume. Even-handed justice is dealt out to Dr. Fairchild, with his aiders and abettors; and the gospel of the grace of God is triumphantly defended from their Calvinistic imputations.

GREEK AND EASTERN CHURCHES: THEIR HISTORY, FAITH, AND WORSHIP. 18mo, pp. 179. 0 30

We have never met with so much reliable information on the Oriental churches, in so short a compass, as is found in this neat volume.

HEADLANDS OF FAITH: A Series of Dissertations on the Cardinal Truths of Christianity. By the Rev. Joseph Cross, D.D. 1 00

The author says, in his Preface, that "the aim of this volume is to develop, in a popular manner, 'the truth as it is in Jesus;' uniting, in due proportion, the credenda and the agenda of Christianity." He has succeeded admirably in his design. The Dissertations are peculiarly eloquent, strictly orthodox, and singularly good to the use of edifying. The work is a body of divinity with a soul in it—a very different affair from the dry anatomies which have almost exclusively usurped that title.

HEART AND CHURCH DIVISIONS, CAUSES, EVILS, AND CURES OF. Extracted from the works of Burroughs and Baxter. By Bishop Asbury. 18mo. 0 40

The Methodist Discipline recommends "a serious perusal" of this work.

HEART BLOSSOMS FOR MY LITTLE DAUGHTERS. By Mrs. J. T. H. Cross. 18mo. 0 25

HEBREW MISSIONARY: Essays, Exegetical and Practical, on the Book of Jonah. By the Rev. Joseph Cross, D.D. 18mo, pp. 242. 0 40

This book is a valuable contribution to our Church literature—it exhibits great research, and abounds in eloquent passages and valuable reflections. The engravings and maps illustrative of Nineveh, as brought to light by Layard and others, add great interest to the work.

HEAVENLY WORLD, SCRIPTURE VIEWS OF. By J. Edmondson, A.M. 18mo, pp. 249. 0 35

A neat edition of a book which takes rank with Baxter's Saints' Rest—to which great work it is in some respects superior.

HEDDING ON DISCIPLINE. New, revised, and enlarged Southern edition. 24mo. 0 25

HESTER ANN ROGERS, LIFE AND CORRESPONDENCE OF, with Corrections and Additions, comprising an Introduction, by T. O. Summers, D.D. 18mo, pp. 372. 0 45

Of this great Methodist classic, it is needless to say any thing, except that it is now arranged in a more orderly manner, and enriched by the insertion of Mr. Wesley's letters to Mrs. Rogers, with an apologetical introduction by the Editor. It is a handsome volume.

HIDDEN LIFE EXEMPLIFIED in the Early Conversion, Pious Life, and Peaceful Death of Mrs. Florilla A. Cummings. By her Husband. 0 40

An interesting and edifying biography. The author is President of Holston Female College, Ashville. N. C. His deceased wife was truly an excellent Christian. It contains a fine portrait of Mrs. C.

HODGSON, MEMOIR OF THE REV. THOMAS LAIDMAN, Wesleyan Missionary in South Africa. With copious Extracts from his Journals. By the Rev. Thornley Smith, author of "South Africa Delineated." 0 35

The trials, sacrifices, patience, zeal, and success of this excellent missionary are narrated in a most satisfactory manner; and the descriptions of life in South Africa are full of interest.

HOME; OR, THE WAY TO MAKE HOME HAPPY. By the Rev. David Hay. With an Introduction by the Rev. Alfred Barrett. 0 30

The author, as well as his endorser, is an estimable Wesleyan minister in England. His treatise ought to be in every home where the English language is spoken.

HOME TRUTHS. By the Rev. J. C. Ryle, B. A. 18mo, pp. 324. 0 40

This book is full of plain, pointed observations, strikingly adapted to elicit serious thought, and to induce holy living.

This masterly essay demolishes the infidel theory of the plurality of our species.

HUSS, MEMOIR OF JOHN. 18mo. 0 30

A brief but satisfactory monograph.

HYMNS FOR INFANT MINDS. Chiefly by the author of "Original Poems," etc. 18mo, pp. 102. 0 30

IMMERSIONISTS AGAINST THE BIBLE; Or,
 the Babel-Builders confounded, in an Exposition of the Origin, Design, Tactics, and Progress of the New Version Movement of Campbellites and other Baptists. By the Rev. N. H. Lee, of the Louisville Conference. 0 40

The author has performed a needed but disagreeable work: he has done it in a candid, charitable spirit; and we are mistaken if his exposure of the rampant sectarianism which is at the head and front of the New Version movement do not produce a salutary effect.

INDIANS, MANNERS AND CUSTOMS OF. By
 Old Humphrey. 18mo. Profusely illustrated. 0 40

INQUISITION. 18mo. 0 35

The materials constituting this account of the diabolical institution are taken from reliable sources, and are combined into a most painfully interesting volume.

IONA, THE DRUID'S ISLE, AND ITS SUCCESSIONAL INHABITANTS. By the Rev. W. Lindsay Alexander, D.D., Fellow of the Society of Scottish Antiquaries. 18mo. 0 35

Dr. Johnson well says, "That man is little to be envied whose patriotism would not gain force upon the plains of Marathon, or whose piety would not grow warmer among the ruins of Iona." The pen of an archæologist, careful, critical, and candid, like the author of "The Ancient British Church," was needed for the preparation of this work.

ITINERANCY, LETTERS ON. By the Rev. W. Beauchamp. 18mo. 0 25

INCIDENTS OF WESTERN TRAVEL. By Bp. Pierce. 1 00

This work abounds with picturesque descriptions, interesting anecdotes, and judicious reflections.

Excellent books, embellished with elegant steel engravings.

JOHNNY M'KAY; OR, THE SOVEREIGN. 0 30

A touching Irish tale, which cannot well be read without a moistened eye. The peculiar traits of Hibernian character are finely developed, and the moral is truly excellent.

JOSEPH BROWN; OR, THE YOUNG TENNESSEEAN, WHOSE LIFE WAS SAVED BY THE POWER OF PRAYER. An Indian Tale. 0 30

This beautiful tale was written by a lady of Tennessee. Her hero is still living in this State—a venerable clergyman. The materials of the narrative were gathered from authentic sources.

 These lectures were originally delivered in Randolph-Macon College, and afterward repeated in various places, before numerous, discriminating, and approving auditories. They everywhere evince the intellectual grasp and logical acumen of the distinguished author.
- LECTURES TO CHILDREN. 18mo. 0 30
 The author of these beautiful Lectures is a lady who has spent many years in the work of imparting religious instruction to the young. This book shows that she knows how to do it.
- LEE, LIFE AND TIMES OF THE REV. JESSE. 1 50
 By L. M. Lee, D.D. 8vo, pp. 517.
 The biography of such a man as the apostle of New England Methodism, from the graphic pen of his nephew, Dr. Lee, can hardly fail to be an interesting work: such is this handsome volume.
- LEILA ADA, THE JEWISH CONVERT. An authentic Memoir. By Osborne W. Trenery Heighway. 0 50
 A most beautiful biography: it has all the fascination of a work of fiction, though we are assured it contains nothing but fact. It is a capital book to put into the hands of a serious Israelite, and no Christian can read it without pleasure and profit.
- LEO THE TENTH, LIFE AND TIMES OF. 0 30
 A magnificent subject, and a competent pen to handle it. The book is a valuable monograph, and takes rank with "The Lives of the Popes," found in our Catalogue.
- LESLIE'S METHOD WITH DEISTS. Pamphlet. 0 10
- LESSONS OF A DISCIPLE: OR, CHAPTERS IN THE LIFE OF A YOUNG LADY. 18mo. 0 30
 The peculiar adaptedness of the spiritual economy of Methodism to promote a rapid and continuous growth in grace is beautifully illustrated in this biography.

LESSONS FROM NATURE: in Six Narratives.

LETTERS TO PARENTS OF SUNDAY-SCHOOL

CHILDREN. By George E. Sargent. 18mo.

0 30

Teachers would do well to supply themselves with copies of this book to circulate it among their scholars. "It may teach thousands of parents the way to make home happy."

LITTLE BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE. 18mo.

0 30

It contains a great deal of knowledge, couched in simple style. The fair author knows how to talk to children.

LIVES OF THE POPES. In Four Volumes. 18mo. 1 40

These excellent volumes contain all that one needs to know of the Papacy. They evince great research, and are written in a candid spirit; and they have been carefully revised by the Editor, who has made some slight additions, bringing the history down to 1855.

LONDON IN THE OLDEN TIME; Or, Sketches of the English Metropolis, from its Origin to the End of the Sixteenth Century.

0 35

LONDON IN MODERN TIMES; Or, Sketches of the great Metropolis during the last two Centuries.

0 35

These are life-like "Sketches"—a couple of sterling volumes. The engravings of the Crystal Palace and London Bridge are elegant.

MAGIC, PRETENDED MIRACLES, AND REMARKABLE NATURAL PHENOMENA. Illustrated with engravings. 0 40

In these days, when necromancy, astrology, and other kindred absurdities and impieties are reviving and gaining currency, the appearance of such a work as the present must be considered opportune. No one who reads this work will have any occasion to wonder at the miracles of either Papists or spirit-rappers.

MAMMON; OR, COVETOUSNESS THE SIN OF THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH. By the Rev. John Harris. With an Introduction by T. O. Summers, D.D. 18mo, pp. 287. 0 40

Of this classical, pungent, powerful book, it is not necessary to say a word, except that this edition is gotten up in handsome style. The introduction contains a defence of some of its principles impugned in one of the Ulster Prize Essays.

METHODISM IN EARNEST. With an Introduction by T. O. Summers, D.D. Tenth edition. 1 00

"It is enriched with a valuable introductory essay by the General Book Editor of the Church. In this Dr. Summers discusses the subject of revivals in connection with such a style of ministry as that of Mr. Caughey. We commend the views he presents to the earnest consideration of the ministry at large, agreeing fully with him that if there be one time more opportune than another for the publication of such a volume as 'Methodism in Earnest,' it is the present time."—Southern Christian Advocate.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, SOUTH, ORGANIZATION OF. By a Committee. 8vo. 0 80

METHODISM IN CHARLESTON. By Rev. F. A. Mood, A.M. 18mo. 0 40

The author is a native of Charleston, and has accordingly written this book con amore. He has made good use of old records, and has consulted old members of the Church, and thus redeemed from oblivion a great deal of reliable and valuable information. The interest of the volume is heightened by engravings of the Methodist churches in Charleston.

METHODISM; OR, CHRISTIANITY IN EARN-EST. By Mrs. M. Martin. 18mo. 0 30

A clever little volume of sketches and poems, illustrative of its great theme.

MISCELLANIES. By Bishop Andrew. 12mo. 0 85

MOHAMMED, LIFE OF. 0 30

A concise, judicious account of the Arabian impostor, and the politico-religious system which originated with him.

MONEY: ITS HISTORY, NATURE, USE, Etc. 18mo. 0 30

This capital essay corresponds with its full and attractive title. Its appearance at the time of the great influx of gold is singularly opportune. Let it be read in connection with "Mammon," by Harris.

MORAL LESSONS. 18mo. 0 30

These lessons are conveyed under the guise of several charming little stories.

MOTHER'S PORTRAIT: Being a Memorial of Filial Affection: with Sketches of Wesleyan Life and of Religious Services: in Letters to a younger Sister. Especially intended for the Youth of Methodism. By the Rev. Frederick J. Jobson. Illustrated by Twenty Engravings, from Original Pictures by J. Smetham and F. J. Jobson. 12mo, pp. 279. 1 00
do. Gilt, extra. 1 50

The author of this beautiful biography was a representative of the British Conference in the late General Conference of the M. E. Church. He is an excellent man, and withal an artist—as is seen not only in the superb engravings, which we have faithfully reproduced in this edition of his work, but in the structure of the work itself. It is a perfect gem. It ought to be in every Methodist house in the world.

NELSON, JOHN, EXTRACT FROM THE JOURNAL OF: Being an Account of God's Dealings with him from his Youth to the Forty-second Year of his Age. With an Introduction by T. O. Summers, D.D. 18mo, pp. 200. 0 35

Nelson's Journal is to be a book while Methodism lasts. Southey says truly, John Nelson had as brave a heart as ever beat in any Englishman. The Introduction gives some additional facts in the eventful career of this noble evangelist.

NETHERTON, FRANK; OR, THE TALISMAN. 0 40

The principal character of this work is beautifully drawn, and in it a boy's religion is charmingly described.

NEWTON, REV. ROBERT, D.D., LIFE OF. By Thomas Jackson. Revised by T. O. Summers, D.D. 1 00

This is a most interesting and profitable biography. It is an exact reprint of the London edition, with the exception of a few errata in the names of persons and places this side the Atlantic—which the Editor has of course corrected—and the addition of a few notes, which were deemed expedient for reasons which will be obvious to the judicious reader. It is a handsome 12mo of 408 pages, adorned with an excellent engraved likeness of Dr. Newton, by Capewell & Kimmel, from a painting by W. Gush, Esq., London.

NEWTON, SIR ISAAC, LIFE OF. 18mo. 0 30

The principal incidents in the life of this great philosopher are brought to view in an interesting and compendious form.

OBJECT AND NATURE OF RELIGIOUS WORSHIP. A Discourse delivered at the Dedication of John Street Church, New York, January 4, 1818, by Joshua Soule. 12mo, pp. 24.

OLD HUMPHREY, MEMOIR OF; with Gleanings from his Portfolio, in Prose and Verse. 18mo, pp. 272.

0 40

The perusal of this beautiful biography will give an interest to the various publications of Mr. Mogridge, not inferior to that thrown around them by the previous incognito of the author. The copy, of which this is a faithful reprint, is one of the new edition of the London Religious Tract Society, in whose service the subject of the Memoir employed, for many years, his ready and prolific pen. The Memoir should accompany our uniform edition of Old Humphrey's Works—a capital series, which should be in every Sunday-school and Family library.

with References to Hymns in the Sunday-school Hymn Book of the M. E. Church, South; and an Introductory Essay on Composition and Delivery. 18mo.

0 30

Every pastor and superintendent ought to have a copy of this book: it is eminently suggestive. It ought to accompany the "Sunday-school Teacher; or, the Catechetical Office."

PALM TRIBES. 18mo. 0 30

A carefully revised edition of a beautiful book, which has had an extensive circulation.

PARIS, ANCIENT AND MODERN. Revised by
T. O. Summers, D.D. 18mo, pp. 188. 0 30

This gay metropolis has been the scene of many a thrilling incident, as this book shows. A well-written volume on such a theme will scarcely put any one to sleep.

PILGRIM'S PROGRESS FROM THIS WORLD
TO THAT WHICH IS TO COME. Delivered under the Similitude of a Dream. By John Bunyan. New edition, with a Biographical Introduction by T. O. Summers, D.D., and handsome illustrations. 18mo. In two Parts. Part I., pp. 272. Part II., pp. 242. 0 60
do. Gilt, extra. 1 00

This Christian classic is presented in a very elegant dress. The two parts are bound in separate volumes, for the convenience of Sunday-school libraries. Price 30 cts. per volume.

PITHY PAPERS. 18mo. 0 40

PLANTS AND TREES OF SCRIPTURE. 18mo. 0 30

In revising this work, the editor has arranged the subjects in alphabetical order, and illustrated the letter-press by a great many elegant engravings, executed expressly for this edition.

PLATFORM OF METHODISM. By M. M. Henkle, D.D. 12mo. 1 00

A valuable work that should be read and studied as well by the membership as the ministry.

POST-OAK CIRCUIT. By a Member of the Red River Conference. 18mo. 0 60

We have several essays on the support of the ministry and kindred topics,—and good ones too,—but Post-Oak Circuit is sui generis. The Advocates speak of it as the very book for the times. The author, who chooses to be unknown, devotes the profits of the sale of the book to a pious and charitable purpose, which bids fair to be very materially aided thereby, as several editions have already been sold.

PRAYER, TREATISE ON SECRET AND SO-
CIAL. By Richard Treffry. 18mo, pp. 215. 0 35

A very serviceable book.

PREACHER'S MANUAL: Including Clavis Biblica, and a Letter to a Methodist Preacher. By A. Clarke, LL.D., F.A.S. Also, Four Discourses on the Duties of a Minister of the Gospel. By T. Coke, LL.D. 18mo. 0 50

Of this excellent work it is not necessary to say any thing, except that the Clavis Biblica will be found of immense service to a lay as well as clerical student of the Bible. Of course no young preacher should be without this book.

PRIMITIVE EPISCOPACY. By M. M. Henkle, D.D. 12mo. 1 00

A new and able work, and one which should be carefully read and thoroughly studied.

PRINTING, ART OF. Edited by T. O. Summers, D.D. 18mo, pp. 185. 0 30

This volume traces the art preservative of all arts from its rude beginnings to its present approximation to perfection. It has engravings representing presses, etc.

PROGRESS: Considered with Particular Reference to the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. By the Rev. W. J. Sasnett, of Emory College. 12mo, pp. 320. 0 80

This is an elegantly printed volume. The Advocates speak of it as a book of no common interest. The Home Circle says: "The work is an earnest plea and practical plan for progress in the Methodist Church; yet, with all our love of the old landmarks and prima facie opposition to any interference with them, we have not met with a sentiment or suggestion that we cannot endorse. We, therefore, express the earnest hope that the book may find immediate access to the entire Church. The sooner we all get our minds fully settled upon the matters of which it treats, the better, and its pages will greatly contribute to such settlement."

QUARTERLY REVIEW, SOUTHERN METHODIST, from 1st to 10th volume, inclusive. Neatly bound in muslin. Per volume, (sold separately.) 2 00

QUESTIONS ON GENESIS: Designed for Bible-classes, Sunday-schools, and Families. By T. O. Summers, D.D. Per dozen, 1 25

"It bears the mark of sound judgment, thorough biblical learning, good taste, and admirable adaptation to the capacities and wants of the young. Of course it will supersede all other books of this sort in the Bible-classes, Sunday-schools, and families of the Southern M. E. Church."—S. C. Advocate.

REFUTATION, FULL, OF THE DOCTRINE OF UNCONDITIONAL PERSEVERANCE, IN A DISCOURSE ON HEBREWS ii. 3. By Thomas Olivers. Edited by T. O. Summers, D.D. 18mo, pp. 171. 0 30

A masterly work: reëdited with care. It corresponds with its title.

REFUTATION OF THE THEOLOGICAL WORKS OF THOMAS PAINE, not noticed by Bishop Watson in his "Apology for the Bible." By T. O. Summers, DD. 18mo, pp. 84. 0 25

The Memphis Christian Advocate speaks of this work as "seasonable"—in view of the revival of infidelity of the Thomas Paine type—and says, "The argument is terse and concise, but satisfactory." The author aimed at saying a great deal in a few words. The "Refutation" is beautifully gotten up. The "Apology" and "Refutation" are also bound together, price 45 cts.

REFORMATION, CHARACTERS, SCENES, AND INCIDENTS OF. Two volumes. 18mo. 0 60

The selections of characters, etc., from this extensive and varied field of ecclesiastical literature are judicious and discriminating, and they are presented in a form which can scarcely fail to please and profit the reader. These volumes are free from the sectarian partialities which disfigure most works of this class.

SEASONS, MONTHS, AND DAYS. By T. O. Summers, D.D. 18mo, pp. 110. 0 25

The design of this book is to make the reader acquainted with the origin and import of the names by which the seasons, months, and days are designated, including some of the historical, mythological, and poetical relations of the subject, and suggesting such moral reflections as may lead the contemplative mind through nature up to nature's God. The embellishments are beautiful and illustrative.

SHORT SERMONS AND TRUE TALES. By Bishop Capers. With an Introductory Notice of the Author. By T. O. Summers, D.D. 18mo, pp. 105. 0 25

A charming volume—a delightful souvenir of our late beloved bishop.

SKETCHES FOR YOUTH. By Cæsar Malan. 18mo. 0 25

One of the author's best juvenile productions.

SONGS OF ZION. A Supplement to the Hymn Book of the M. E. Church, South. Edited by T. O. Summers, D.D. 0 40

This work, so loudly called for, has been received with great favor: the press of the Church pronounces it just the thing that was in demand. It should everywhere accompany the Hymn Book.

STONER, DAVID, MEMOIRS OF: Containing copious Extracts from his Diary and Epistolary Correspondence. Revised by T. O. Summers, D.D. 18mo, pp. 282. 0 40

A very useful biography. Mr. S. was an excellent Methodist minister—of deep experience, slightly tinged with gloom, arising from his natural temperament.

STORIES FOR VILLAGE LADS. By the Author of "Stories of Schoolboys," "Frank Harrison," etc. 0 35

STORIES OF SCHOOLBOYS. By the Author of

SUCCESSFUL MERCHANT: Sketches of the Life of Mr. Samuel Budgett. By William Arthur, A.M. 18mo,
pp. 396. 0 60

A "commercial biography"—truthful and fascinating. The Successful Merchant was no ordinary man: the interesting points of his character are well brought out by Mr. Arthur. The book has had an immense run, and it is entitled to a wider range: it ought to be in the counting-room of every merchant, and on the desk of every clerk—it would do everybody good to read it.

SUCCESSFUL MEN OF MODERN TIMES. 18mo, 0 30
pp. 186.

The incentives and cautions, connected with the examples, presented in this book, are of great value to the young.

SUMMERS ON HOLINESS. 24mo. 0 25

"Ability, perspicuity, precision, characterize his performance. His method and proofs are eminently striking. The work is valuable as a doctrinal treatise, and is a seasonable addition to Methodist theological literature. We commend it to the Church, to all whose views are unsettled on the subject, and especially to those who differ with us concerning it."—Southern Methodist Quarterly.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL TEACHER; OR, THE CATECHETICAL OFFICE. By T. O. Summers, D.D. 18mo, 0 30
pp. 144.

This work discusses the most interesting questions connected with the Catechetical System—the Teacher's Qualifications, Difficulties, and Encouragements. It exhibits the obligations of pastors and teachers to the children of the Church, and shows how they may be discharged.

SWITZERLAND: HISTORICAL AND DESCRIPTIVE. 18mo. 0 30

A concise, satisfactory description of this interesting country.

TALKS, PLEASANT AND PROFITABLE. By
T. O. Summers, D.D. 18mo, pp. 146. 0 30

The topics of these dialogues are Orphans, May-Day, Birds, Temperance, Peter and the Tribute-money, Retribution, Recognition of Friends in Heaven. The style is adapted to the minds of intelligent youth. The engravings are handsome.

THEOLOGICAL COMPEND: Containing a System of Divinity, or a brief View of the Evidences, Doctrines, Morals, and Institutions of Christianity. Designed for the benefit of Families, Bible-classes, and Sunday-schools. By Amos Binney. 18mo. 0 25

The Agents have procured a joint interest in the copyright of this useful book, which has been revised and corrected for the present edition.

THREE SISTERS: A brief Sketch of the Lives and Death of Ann Eliza, Hester Jane, and Laura Washington, Daughters of the Rev. H. J. Perry, of the Kentucky Conference of the M. E. Church, South, who were burned to death in May, 1854. 0 35

A tribute of parental affection to the memory of three lovely daughters, who, in a tragical manner, were hastened from earth to their mansions in heaven.

TOBACCO, USE OF. Pamphlet. 0 05

TONGUE OF FIRE; OR, THE TRUE POWER OF CHRISTIANITY. By William Arthur, A.M., author of the "Successful Merchant," etc. 0 60

A powerful essay on pentecostal Christianity.

TRAVIS, REV. JOSEPH, A.M., AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF, a Member of the Memphis Annual Conference. Embracing a succinct History of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South; particularly in part of Western Virginia, the Carolinas, Georgia, Alabama, and Mississippi. With short Memoirs of several Local Preachers, and an Address to his Friends. Edited by T. O. Summers, D.D. 12mo, pp. 238. 0 75

As its title indicates, this is a most interesting volume. Thousands who are acquainted with the venerable author, or who have heard of him as one of the noble pioneers of Methodism in the Southern States, will peruse his pages with delight and profit. It is written in a colloquial style, suited to the character of the work. An excellent engraved likeness of the author adorns the volume.

TRIAL OF THE WITNESSES OF THE RESURRECTION OF CHRIST. By Bishop Sherlock. With an Introduction by T. O. Summers, D.D. 18mo, pp. 137. 0 30

This masterly work is got up in convenient form and beautiful style. The Introduction contains a brief biography of the illustrious author.

ness Exemplified in a Memoir of the Life of Samuel Hick, late of Micklefield, Yorkshire. By J. Everett. 18mo. 0 50
There are some marvellous statements in this book, but they have been corroborated by many credible witnesses. Samuel Hick certainly was no ordinary character.

VILLAGE SUNDAY-SCHOOL: with brief Sketches of three of its Scholars. By J. C. Symons. 18mo, pp. 84. 0 25
An instructive little book.

VOLCANOES. 18mo. 0 30
A scientific and popular description of some of the most wonderful phenomena of nature.

WATSON'S BIBLICAL AND THEOLOGICAL

DICTIONARY: Explanatory of the History, Manners, and Customs of the Jews and neighboring Nations. With an Account of the most remarkable places and persons mentioned in Sacred Scripture, an Exposition of the principal doctrines of Christianity, and Notices of Jewish and Christian sects and heresies. By Richard Watson. A new edition: revised and enlarged by T. O. Summers, D.D. 8vo, pp. 1113.

In this edition multitudes of typographical and other errors which are found in previous editions have been corrected—additions have been made to many of the articles, and hundreds of original articles have been added. The new matter, which is distinguished by brackets, consists of biblical, theological, and ecclesiastical articles, embodying accounts of the sects which have originated since Mr. Watson's day, and of others overlooked by him, showing the present condition of all denominations as far as possible, and presenting the most available results of the recent explorations in Palestine and other countries mentioned in the Bible. A vast amount of labor has been expended upon the work, which makes a magnificent octavo of 1113 pages, uniform with the Institutes.

WATSON'S INSTITUTES. Theological Institutes; or a View of the Evidences, Doctrines, Morals, and Institutions of Christianity. By Richard Watson. Edited by T. O. Summers, D.D. 8vo, pp. 771.

This new and elegant edition has been brought out with immense labor. Numerous errors, found in previous editions, have been corrected in this: the quotations from Scripture have been verified and corrected: a complete Scriptural Index has been added; also, a very copious Analytical Index, and an Index of Greek terms. The type, though not large, is clear and legible, being leaded, in double columns. The New York Christian Advocate and Journal says: "We acknowledge gratefully the obligation of both the Church and the country to the Southern Book Concern for a new and unique edition of Watson's Institutes. Unique we call it, for the whole of that elaborate work is comprised in one noble octavo. It is in double columns, on excellent paper, and the type, instead of being inconveniently small, is precisely of that medium size and clear impression as to render the volume suitable for almost any eyes. The publishers have certainly hit a capital experiment in getting out this edition, and it cannot but be universally satisfactory. The editor, Dr. Summers, deserves special credit for the scholarly manner in which he has performed his task."

Of these three popular books—productions of the gifted pen of Mrs. Cheap—it is only necessary to say that they have been brought out in a style adapted to make them more serviceable than they have heretofore been in Sunday-school and family libraries. They are also got up in one volume, adorned with eight elegant engravings. Price 50 cts.

It is scarcely necessary to say the "Life" is the most judicious biography of Wesley, and the "Observations" are the most able defence of Wesley and of Methodism ever written. In answering Southey, Mr. Watson answered a thousand smaller men, who are still repeating his misrepresentations. This edition has been carefully revised from the last London edition, and a few editorial notes have been added to fit it more fully to our own country and time.

| WILLIAMS, RICHARD, THE PATAGONIANMISSIONARY, MEMOIR OF. By Dr. Hamilton. | 18mo. | 0 45 |
| A thrilling work.                                                            |       |      |

WILL-FORGERS; OR, THE CHURCH OF ROME. By the Rev. C. B. Tayler. 18mo, pp. 104. 0 25

WILLIAM; OR, THE CONVERTED ROMANIST.
Translated from the French. 18mo, pp. 106. 0 25

These two works are of a kindred character—they are full of interest, and are well adapted to antagonize the proselyting operations of the Church of Rome, for which use they have been carefully revised by the editor.

WINANS'S DISCOURSES ON FUNDAMENTAL RELIGIOUS SUBJECTS; including a Preliminary Discourse on the Divine Revelation of the Holy Scriptures. By the Rev. W. Winans, D.D. Edited by T. O. Summers, D.D. 8vo, pp. 589. 2 00

A magnificent book. It contains a body of divinity, which needs no other recommendation than the name of the author.

WITNESSING CHURCH. By John Harris, D.D. 12mo, pp. 32. 0 05

WORK OF THE HOLY SPIRIT. By Edwards. 18mo. 0 30

WORLD OF WATERS. By Fanny Osborne. With illustrations. Two vols., 18mo, pp. 186, 224. 0 70

A couple of fascinating and instructive volumes. The tales and narratives beguile, like sailors' yarns, the voyage over the world of waters. The descriptions and anecdotes blend the charm of romance with the credibility of truth. The illustrations are superb.

WYCLIFFE, LIFE AND TIMES OF. 18mo. 0 30

A concise and judicious account of the morning-star of the Reformation.

YOUTHFUL CHRISTIANITY: its Characteristics, Dangers, and Excellences. By the Rev. Samuel Martin. 18mo. 0 25

A capital book for the children of the Church.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL CATALOGUE.

Sunday-School Books of our own Publication.

HAVING made a reduction in the prices of our Sunday-school publications equal to the discount hitherto allowed, this portion of our stock will hereafter be sold at the prices annexed. The Church will certainly endorse this modification of our terms, as no one among us can wish to realize profits on Sabbath-school publications.

Young People's Library,

Consisting of over two hundred volumes, 18mo, (to which additions are constantly being made,) bound in uniform style, best English cloth, embossed, gilt backs, ranging in prices at from 17 to 47 cents per vol., net. This is among the most valuable series of Juvenile Books that has ever been issued from the religious press of the country. They are well adapted to the intellectual, moral, and religious improvement of the young and rising generation; and, as such, should be found in all our Sabbath-schools especially. The Agents are prepared to furnish these works at very reduced cash prices, and in numbers to suit purchasers—from ten to one hundred volumes, and upwards. These excellent publications should be largely distributed as Gift or Sunday-school Reward Books. Many of them are adapted to teachers and parents. They are as follows:

BEVERLEY, YORKSHIRE.

THIS engraving is copied from a charming work, issued from the Southern Methodist Publishing House, entitled, "A Mother's Portrait." "This place of her birth," says the author, "is one of the most pleasing towns in the kingdom. It is impossible to pass through its clean streets, to see its quiet mansions and gardens, open spaces and market-place, without discerning the sources of the health and prosperity of its inhabitants. It is a town of true English comfort; and the rich and well-cultivated land around it, with the salubrious air, renders it promotive of longevity. To see Beverley in full advantage, however, it should be viewed from the elevated ground on the west, at some half-mile distant; whence its long line of buildings, with the minster towers and parish church, embosomed in rich sylvan scenery, cannot fail to produce in the mind high gratification and delight. It might be added, that Beverley is not only pleasant and picturesque in situation, but interesting on account of its great antiquity. It is one of those towns which originated with the ancient Britons, by whom it was named Beaverlac, from a lake on its western side where the beaver was hunted; and still bears in its records and relics proofs of having passed through all the changes of Roman, Saxon, Danish, and Norman possession and existence. Above all, its minster, so beautifully chaste and feminine in its proportions and ornaments, its broad massive parish church, and its numerous remains of monasteries and religious houses, attest that it has been a town of ecclesiastical distinction."

PUBLISHED BY DR. J. C. AYER & CO.

LOWELL, MASS., U. S. A.

PUBLISHERS' NOTICE. This calendar of the passing year has been calculated with great care, to insure its accuracy and adapt it to the vast extent of country for which it is designed. In an almanac which is used all the year should be kept such knowledge for the preservation and recovery of health as may be needed any day. In the following pages we have labored to give the best directions we can devise for protection from and cure of the principal diseases that afflict our people. We add also proofs that show these directions are based in the experience of great numbers, and in facts that are substantiated beyond all question. Nor are we unmindful of the responsibility that attaches to this endeavor to furnish the advice on which uncounted thousands will rely in their hours of sickness and anguish. If any thing can hold the heart of man to its rectitude, it is this crushing conviction that unnumbered multitudes will follow the counsels we give in their extremest trials of suffering and distress. Hence we have spared no cost or toil to discover the best means for their cure, and we are perfectly sincere in the conviction that we offer not only the soundest counsels but the surest remedies which can be supplied for their relief. It is not possible to crowd into these limits any considerable portion of the statements of cures we have received from the gratitude of those who have been wrested from dreadful complaints by our preparations. Every certificate we publish is the free-will offering of its writer; not one has been paid for in any way whatever; and all have been given with the humane motive — the noblest that can actuate men — of carrying to others in distress the relief they have themselves enjoyed. This selection is purposely made from every sphere of life: neither the high nor the low are exempt from disease, nor are either insensible to a cure. It is made, too, from every section of this country, and from other countries, in order that every reader might find some familiar acquaintance or well-known name to assure him. That no adequate expression of the sentiments they feel can be given in a written certificate is seen when we meet a patient consumption was dragging downwards to the grave, whom the Cherry Pectoral has cured; or some sufferer whose muscles and bones a foul scrofula was eating away until our medicine drove out the disease. Hear them speak, and what language can express of human gratitude, and human joy, they will tell you. If there is any dependence on what men think of their own cases, or those under their immediate care, — if there is any reliance in the sincere conviction of men who testify without bias to what they believe, — then we cannot escape the conclusion that these remedies have virtues which win more than ordinarily upon the gratitude of those who employ them. And yet surer proof of their excellence is seen in the strong testimony of physicians who use them in their practice. They are never prejudiced in favor of a proprietary medicine, and it must have extraordinary virtues indeed to win their approval. Yet many, very many physicians have, with a liberality that does them credit, frankly certified their belief that these are the best remedies within their knowledge for the disorders they are intended to cure. If these things are true, can they be too widely known? The afflicted should know it; a remedy that cures is priceless to them. The healthy should know it; the same relief may soon be priceless to them. All should know it, for health can be prized to no one. To say that our medicines will cure all diseases, or are infallible in those they generally cure, we cannot; would that we could, or could prepare such as should never fail. But that is beyond our art, and we can only give the best the medical intelligence of our times can devise, and modern skill prepare. Unlike most preparations of their kind, they are expensive compositions of costly material. Still, they are afforded to the public at a low price, and what is more important, of perfectly uniform quality. Let none undervalue the aid of a skilful physician when sick. He is one of the great blessings of civilization. Still, there is room for our remedies to do incalculable good in the world, for not all, or at all times, can have the benefit of medical attendance. The doctor might come too late, when these remedies, from being at hand, would rescue the patient from dangerous or even fatal disease. Our compounds are never secret. The formulæ by which they are made have been published in the principal medical journals of this country and Europe, as well as presented in manuscript to most of the practising physicians of the American States. They have received the unqualified commendation of professors in almost all the medical colleges of both continents, and been recommended by the professors in those colleges to the confidence of the public and of the suffering sick who need remedial aid. Their superiority over all other remedies consists in the extraordinary perfection to which their composition has been carried and is maintained. As a consequence, their remedial effects are more uniformly successful and certain, their cures more rapid and complete. Nothing short of unmistakable benefit conferred on thousands of sufferers could originate and maintain the reputation they enjoy. While many inferior preparations thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, these have gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits upon the afflicted which they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

There will be six ECLIPSES in 1859; four of the Sun and two of the Moon, viz.: —
 I. A Partial Eclipse of the Sun, Feb. 2d. Visible to a small portion of the Southern Ocean.
 II. A Total Eclipse of the Moon, Feb. 17th. In Washington, mean time, the eclipse begins 2h. 53m. morn.; ends, 8h. 17m. Visible to the whole of America, and the eastern part of Asia.
 III. A Partial Eclipse of the Sun, March 4th. Visible to the extreme north-western part of North America.
 IV. A Partial Eclipse of the Sun, July 29th. In Washington, begins 3h. 20m. evening; eclipse ends 6h. 17m. Visible to the eastern part of North America, and the northern part of Asia.
 V. A Total Eclipse of the Moon, Aug. 13th. In Washington, mean time, begins 8h. 18m. morn.; ends 2h. 34m. evening. Visible to the western part of North America, to Asia, and the eastern parts of Europe and Africa.
 VI. A Partial Eclipse of the Sun, Aug. 27th. Vis. to the extreme southern edge of Africa.

A few useful receipts which should be preserved in every family.

Chilblains. — Mix one part of Muriatic acid with seven of water, and rub the feet well with it a few nights on going to bed.

For Burns and Scalds, however severe, the best remedy is a mixture of equal parts of linseed oil and lime water, applied on soft linen or cotton rags. Renew the application daily. Lime water is made by stirring a piece of unslacked lime in soft water; then let it settle, and decant the clear water for use.

Canker and Sore Mouth. — Touch the canker sores with lunar caustic daily, until they are cured.

For moles, cinders, or troublesome specks in the eye, bend a horse hair into a loop and remove them.

At a baptizing in Virginia, the parson, dipping an old negro convert, dropped him. The darkey floundered out, puffing and blowing, sat down on a stump, and remarked, "Some gemman's nigger get killed by dis foolishness yet."

Woman — The morning star of infancy; the day star of manhood; the evening star of age. Bless such stars, may they shine on us until we are sky high.

Some Christians pray on their knees Sunday, and on their neighbors the rest of the week.

An Iowa editor says, "We don't brag of our babies, but they are the most uncommon sure crop."

The hoop question, like many others, has two sides to it.

AYER'S AGUE CURE.

Our wide-spread acquaintance with the diseases of the American people, has a long time shown us the crying want of a safe and sure remedy for FEVER AND AGUE. The well-being of whole communities calls aloud for protection and relief from the distressing disorders which originate in the visceral derangements of bilious countries. Numerous remedies of more or less power to cure have already been found, but unfortunately they are either of feeble efficiency, or, like quinine and arsenic, are injurious in their effects upon the constitution when taken in sufficient quantities to eradicate the disease. Quinine, although the great staple which is relied on for this class of complaints, sometimes produces disastrous effects, and is always, in large quantities, injurious to the constitutional health. Other powerful alteratives, such as arsenic, zinc, copper, bismuth, and iron, are used, and form the basis of many secret remedies. But this is wrong; for even if they cure, they are too liable to inflict permanent injury upon the patient. As a general thing, they only palliate the disease, and do little towards its radical cure. When quinine is taken, it should be prudently used in moderate doses. Among the symptoms of disturbance from its inordinate use are Diarrhœa, Headache, and Congestion of the Brain, Vertigo, or Dizziness, Noise in the Ears, Dulness of the Senses, Blindness, Deafness, Delirium, and Lethargic sleep. It also induces Rheumatic and Neuralgic pains, and other serious affections. Therefore, when either of the above remedies are employed, it should be with prudence and great caution. If nothing safer could be had, it would of course be better to use them than leave to run its course so destructive and dangerous a disease as Intermittent Fever. But we think we offer to the people a remedy which, while it contains neither quinine, nor any mineral or deleterious substance whatever, still invariably cures FEVER AND AGUE, and its kindred complaints.

FEVER AND AGUE, OR INTERMITTENT FEVER, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Bilious Fever, Dumb Ague, and periodical disorders which have their origin in the same cause, all seem to be different varieties of the same complaint. They all have the same origin, and produce like results, only in widely different degrees, the intensity of the producing cause determining their virulence.

THE CAUSE of this whole class of disease is the miasmatic effluvium which exhales from decayed and decaying vegetation in water or moist earth. It is an exceedingly subtle and insidious poison, absorbed through the lungs into the blood, and often accumulates in the system for a long time before it makes itself felt. Its effects are more rapid and violent in hot countries, where the sufferer is often struck with Bilious Fever at once, in its most malignant forms. In cooler climates it takes on more the Remittent type, and in the temperate zones it appears chiefly as the Intermittent, or Fever and Ague, which is the mildest form of disease from paludal miasm, and the form which chiefly prevails in the United States.

The operation of this effluvial poison received through the lungs into the blood, is seen to be, in FEVER AND AGUE, as follows: its intense irritation in the system determines the whole blood in the body to the internal viscera,—the liver, kidneys, pancreas, spleen, stomach and lungs,—some or all of which are much congested with blood, which has left the surface of the body; this makes the chill or cold stage. It seems like an effort of nature to throw off the venom through these internal excretories of the body, which, however, it fails to do. Reaction then brings on the fever, in which the blood leaves the internal viscera, and rushes to the surface, as if in another violent effort to cast out the poison through that other great excretory, the skin. In this effort, also, it fails. Like all great excitements, this is followed by exhaustion, and the instinct of our organism abandons the attempt until after the recovery of strength the hopeless struggle is renewed again another day.

Now it is manifest that any cure for this complaint must either destroy the poison in the blood or expel it therefrom. The remedy which we here offer to the people accomplishes its purpose, when rightly employed, by stimulating the great internal excretories — the liver, spleen and kidneys — to secrete the offending poison from the blood, and expel it from the body.

The SYMPTOMS of this disorder are familiarly known wherever it prevails. Warning of its approach is given by slight feverish indications for a few days before the full development of the fits, accompanied by rapid pulse, white tongue, thirst, lassitude, pain in the back and loins, loss of appetite, high-colored urine, &c.

The fit commences with a creeping chilliness along the spine, languor, weariness, lividity of the nails, and coldness all over; shiverings and tremblings follow, and the teeth chatter; sighing, oppression and anxiety at the pit of the stomach are felt with yawning, difficult breathing, and occasional nausea; vomiting sometimes supervenes, and hastens the next period. The pulse is small, and the mental powers are weakened or overpowered. This is the cold stage, or AGUE. It lasts from one half to three (very rarely four) hours, followed by transient flushes of heat, alternating with rigors. Then come restlessness, great heat of the surface, turgid countenance and skin, rending headache, with pressure and throbbing in the temples, a full, strong pulse, high-colored urine and intense thirst. This is the hot stage, or FEVER. After a time, varying from two to eight hours, (but generally three or four,) perspiration breaks out over the forehead and breast, and soon extends over the whole body. These violent symptoms subside, and leave only a feeling of exhaustion, if no organic disturbance has been induced by the attack. If no adequate remedy for the disease is taken, the fits will continue to repeat themselves with a regularity corresponding to their various types, and with violence in proportion to the intensity of the poison, modified by the resistance (constitutional or remedial) that opposes it. Where the disease is unchecked and runs its own course, it is very likely to produce congestion of one or more of the internal viscera — the liver, spleen, the mesenteric glands, the stomach, and sometimes the lungs. This congestion, when in the liver or spleen, will generally result in permanent enlargement and disease of the organs, which must undermine and destroy the health. Enlargement of the liver may be felt by a gentle application of the hand on the right side, below the ribs, over the seat of that organ, and it is frequently tender or painful to the touch. Enlargement of the spleen may be felt at the pit of the stomach, while the patient is on his back, and is known as Ague Cake.

In protracted cases these organs become the seat of aggravated disease. The liver suppurates; and sometimes, in hot climates, the spleen bursts. But in all cases of this affection, the internal viscera fail in the healthy discharge of their office. Their secretions become vitiated, and their action, as well as their substance, diseased. One of the primary symptoms of FEVER AND AGUE is derangement or inactivity of the liver, by which it fails to secrete the poisonous bile from the blood. This is seen in the yellowish hue of the eyes and on the skin.

DUMB OR MASKED AGUE is caused by the same infection assuming a less distinct form than when it appears in the regular ague fit. Lurking, as it does, in the system, it produces, or shows itself in, a variety of disorders, all of which assume somewhat the remittent type; or, in other words, have periodical paroxysms of activity. Among others of this character which are seen in the malarious districts, are, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Periodical Headache, Blindness, Toothache, Earache, Catarrh, Asthma, Palpitations, Pain in the Spleen, Hysterics, Pain in the Bowels, Dysentery, Colic, Paralysis, Epilepsy and Painful Affections of the Stomach. Congestion of the Stomach, Liver, Spleen, and even of the Lungs. These different affections, originating in the same cause, are each cured alike by its removal. As a cold is felt first in the weakest or most exposed part, so this constitutional derangement, from a latent poison in the circulation, shows itself first in such part or organ as is already predisposed to disease. Hence it will be seen why an actual remedy for Fever and Ague is frequently found to cure disorders widely different from it.

Cuts and Wounds.—Keep off the medicaments which every body is ready to advise. Bring the cut edges together with either stitches or sticking plaster, and then bandage it in the blood, which is the best possible healing application for it. If an artery be cut, find the end and tie it with a thread; if you cannot, apply a compress on the artery above the wound, i. e. towards the heart, until a physician can be obtained. The blood of an artery is known by its bright red color, and it spurts out in jets with each beating of the heart.

Some single females are fearfully and wonderfully maid.

Punch says, "Quousque tandem abutere, Crinolina, patientia nostra?"

The use of ardent spirits is an unmitigated curse upon our people. It undermines our health, our abilities of action, and our prosperity, and plants the most productive seeds of crimes. For all this it renders no adequate return, nor any, except the delusive satisfaction of temporary excitement, to be followed by a corresponding depression of the vital forces.

The Intermittents of the United States are chiefly of the simple form, but they sometimes become complicated, and congestive or pernicious. In these cases the symptoms take on a higher degree of severity; the cold stage is longer, and is followed by a feeblor reaction, with serious congestion of one or more important internal organs. There may be loss of sensation and motion, or involuntary discharges, prostration, a deathly expression of countenance, and extremely languid circulation. These symptoms increase with every paroxysm, and the patient sinks under them, or may linger on for a time, under a chronic affection of the liver, spleen, or other organs, and at length perish from such superinduced disease. A merciful Providence ordains that these severe cases shall be comparatively rare, and the far milder symptoms of common Fever and Ague only prevail, as a general thing, within our borders.

TREATMENT.

Patients feeling the premonitory symptoms of the disease should take the "CURE" at once, for it is far easier to prevent the attack than to eradicate the disorder afterwards. One attack predisposes to another. Nor should it be neglected because apparently slight, or because the paroxysm has been mild, for it is liable to be followed by one much more severe. Even a slight fit may produce almost irremediable mischief in some constitutions, and however mild, its constant return is likely to occasion serious structural derangement of some important organ.

When an ague fit has commenced, a warm bath, or vapor bath, immediately, will serve to break the force of the chill, and render the fever fit less violent. If there be no determination of blood to the head, or tenderness at the pit of the stomach, a warm emetic at the commencement of the chill is serviceable. If there is found to be tenderness and fulness at the stomach, a mustard poultice over it will afford relief, and hasten as well as promote perspiration. After the fit the bowels should be moved by from ten to twenty grains of calomel, or six to eight grains of blue pill, or by a moderate dose of AYER'S PILLS. Indeed, it is well to keep the bowels open by the constant use of these Pills, when they are required, that is, where there is a tendency to constipation.

It must not be supposed the disease is cured when the chill is broken. A cure has only been commenced, and must be persevered in to secure immunity from the disease; otherwise the patient is liable and very likely to suffer a relapse, when a cold or exposure to the miasm shall again aggravate the complaint. But having once cleansed the virus entirely from the blood, having once stimulated the excretories to expel it all, they become habited, educated, so to speak, to continue to expel it as it continues to be absorbed through the lungs. This is what is termed acclimation: the system becomes used to the venomous intrusion, knows how to expel it, and does expel it, as fast as taken in. Hence those who are once completely cured are little likely to be afflicted again, and are sure to be protected from the complaint if they continue the occasional use of this "CURE," to stimulate the liver and assist its secretion of the virus from the blood. Ere long it will become habituated to do it alone. It is this peculiarity of adaptation in man, which enables him, unlike other animals, to exist any where, from the equator to the pole. But it must take time or skill to effect this acclimation to bilious countries. Without skilful aid, one generation will surely perish in the process; the next will suffer less, and the next little, or none at all. Time will educate the excretories to do their office; but, if left to time alone, one or more generations will perish before this lesson to the constitution is learned. This "AGUE CURE" does the work of time, and does it at once, by stimulating the liver to do at once what it would take it a whole lifetime to learn to do. And it should be faithfully taken according to the directions, to accomplish its purpose thoroughly; to remove not only the symptoms, but the disease, and the cause of the disease.

When the SPLEEN and MESENTERIC GLANDS are found to be enlarged, or Ague Cake is felt after recovery, rub the abdomen with a liniment made of aqua ammonia, oil origanum and olive oil, mixed in equal parts, and keep the bowels open with blue pill or AYER'S PILLS. The swelling should soon disappear.

The same treatment should be employed, and with even more care, where the Corns. — Apply lunar caustic from time to time, removing the dead skin it produces over the corn until it is cured. Wild turnip, scraped and bound upon a corn, pared until it is tender, will generally cure it. Saleratus bound on a corn removes it.

Poisons. — A large teaspoonful of made mustard, mixed in warm water and swallowed, is an ever ready emetic that acts safely and surely. It should be given promptly where dangerous poisons have been taken into the stomach to throw them off.

"How much did yees ask for thim buttons?" inquired an Irish customer. "Fifteen cents." "I'll give ye thirty-seven." "I didn't say fifty — I said fifteen," replied the honest dealer. "Bedad, an' I'll give you tin cints, thin."

Who was the greatest chicken butcher, according to Shakspeare? King Claudius, in "Hamlet," who did "murder most foul."

A western editor says of a friend, "He has weak points, but telling the truth is not one of them."

inflammation settles on the lungs. It will be felt by a pain in the side, with quick, labored respiration, oppression on the lungs, and sometimes cough. This is liable to be a dangerous complication of the disease, and should have the best attention.

The diet during the intervals of paroxysm should be light and nourishing, in moderate quantity, and taken not too close upon the fit. If there are symptoms of internal inflammation or congestion, abstain from food, or take it lightly until they subside. Broths and weak soups are most suitable, as also poultry and game. Whilst recovering, continue to pay strict attention to diet, partaking of easily-digestible, light, and palatable food. Keep the bowels open where they are sluggish or incline to be costive, and AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS are an excellent aperient for this purpose. Regular and moderate exercise, especially on horseback, will materially promote recovery. Avoid exposure to the cold, to easterly and northerly winds, to moisture and the night air.

In severe cases, the patient should be removed into a salubrious climate, if he can be; but when this is impracticable, every possible care should be taken, by seclusion from the night air and exposure, to protect him from further contamination.

To eradicate this disorder from the system, take AYER'S AGUE CURE, according to the directions given on the bottle. It is prepared from a newly-discovered substance hitherto unknown, but which is found to be a specific antidote for the miasmatic poison which engenders bilious disease. An extensive trial of its virtues has proven this to be true beyond all question. Hence it will be seen to be a discovery of priceless value to the multitudes who suffer from this afflicting disorder.

The crowning excellence of this remedy, above its certainty to cure, is, that no injurious effects whatever can arise from its use. Unless organic disorder had been induced before the "CURE" was taken, the patient will be left as healthy as if he had never had the disease.

Many of the terrible bilious fevers on the Isthmus and in hot countries, may be avoided by taking this "AGUE CURE" daily as a pleasant tonic bitter, in small quantity, while exposed. They arise from the same miasmatic influence as our intermittents, and the removal of their cause from the system will surely protect from their attacks. We have some flattering reasons to believe it will even prove a preventive of that dreadful scourge in the tropics—the Yellow Fever; but have not yet such indisputable proofs as will warrant us in asserting it as an established fact. It is unnecessary to mention the vast importance to human life which hangs on this question. Suffice it to say that we offer to the people here a remedy which, while it contains neither Quinine nor any mineral, nor any injurious substance whatever, still invariably cures FEVER AND AGUE. That such a remedy must prove a priceless blessing to the sick, will be felt by all who have a spark of sympathy for their suffering fellow-men, and know the prevalence of the afflicting disorders it cures.

¶ We did not design to publish any certificates, although many have been received as grateful acknowledgments from those who have been relieved by this remedy. But the following from an eminent citizen of Auburn, having been dictated by his attending physician, describes so faithfully the effects of our preparation, that we insert it more for the explanation it gives of prevalent symptoms than for its commendation.

Auburn, N. Y., 17th June, 1858.

DR. J. C. AYER, LOWELL, MASS. Dear Sir: I have received so much benefit from your Ague Cure that I cannot refrain from expressing my thanks.

Last month I was suffering from a severe attack of bilious fever. My physician had broken up the run of the fever, but I was weak and without appetite. I had a bad pain in the side, the least exertion put me out of breath, and made me faint. This condition continued without amendment for ten days or more, and grew gradually worse, although my physician was giving me tonics and occasional bilious cathartics meanwhile. Not being himself satisfied with the results of his treatment, he advised me to take your Ague Cure, the composition of which had been made known to him, and he deemed it well adapted to my condition. I began taking a teaspoonful three times a day, and I must say I never took any medicine in my life that acted so much like a charm. In one day I felt like another man. I had large, bilious evacuations, although the doctor told me there was no cathartic ingredient in the medicine. With every evacuation I felt better and stronger, and have rapidly recovered my health, until I am now entirely well. In fact I have never enjoyed better health than at this time, and my physician, as well as myself, attributes it to the curative virtues of your Ague Cure.

Gratefully yours,

EDWARD RATHBUN.

Toothache. — Creosote, or oil of cloves, or laudanum, or a mixture of powdered salt and alum, moistened, put with a bit of cotton in the carious tooth, will stop the pain. For a rue in the face, put on a hot poultice of hops.

Nervous Headache. — Apply a mustard poultice on the back of the neck.

Opodeldœc. — Dissolve  $\frac{1}{4}$  oz. opium,  $\frac{1}{2}$  oz. camphor, and  $\frac{1}{2}$  oz. oil of origanum, in one pint of alcohol, for sprains and bruises.

As we sprinkle the floor to sweep it, so some ladies sprinkle their husbands with tears to sweep the dust out of their pockets.

One gentleman said to another, at a low-in-the-neck-dressed party, "Did you ever see such a glorious sight before?" "No," said he; "never, since I was weaned."

"Say, Pomp, you nigger, where you get dat new hat?" "Why, at de shop, ob course."

"What is de price of such an article as dat?" "I don't know, nigger—I don't know; de shopkeeper wasn't dar!"

Pretty Excuse for a Wife-Beater. — The treasure which we value most we hide.

Toast. — "The Ladies — Sweet-briers in the garden of life."

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS

Are already known to many in this country as one of the most effectual remedies for disease that has ever been supplied to any people any where. They are the product of the accumulated medical knowledge of this age, or, in other words, are the best which the high intelligence of our times can compile. The sciences of medicine and chemistry have contributed all their aid to invent this best — most perfect compound which ever has been, or for many years to come can be, with the present means at our disposal, devised for the mastery of disease. We do not arrogate to ourselves the exclusive knowledge by which they have been designed; on the contrary, we have had the advice and assistance of some of the best physicians and scholars, not only in New England, but the world. The highest attainments in the art of cure have contributed their aid to make a remedy which could be available to all for relief from the afflictions which all more or less suffer. As a consequence of these extraordinary endeavors to make a good medicine, it was reasonable to expect it would be good, and the result is fast making itself known.

We point with unfeigned satisfaction to the evidences which are springing up from the people all around us, nay, all around you, readers! in every township of this Union, to show that these PILLS cure to an unusual extent, and produce results unprecedented among all the remedies that have been known before them. These proofs come from neither the little nor the great alone. They are found among all classes, from the President of these States to the solid yeomanry who people them. In the following pages are given the remarkable cures of public men known to the whole nation, and also of distinguished citizens in different towns scattered through the whole country.

For the promulgation of a public benefit to the people, we are allowed to refer to the high officers of the General Government — to the high functionaries of the British Provincial Government — to the Governors of almost every State, and to a large proportion of the leading Clergymen and Physicians in this country and in the British Possessions. We have also received, for both the CHERRY PECTORAL and PILLS, the flattering commendations of emperors, kings, and princes in foreign countries, who accord these preparations their unqualified praise as articles of public utility. Of course these compliments have only been bestowed after the severest trials and most convincing proofs of the surpassing excellence of these remedies.

The PILLS are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search, and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting. We believe in no magic in medicines, but some cases of cures which these PILLS effect will try the credulity of those who trace the effect from its cause.

Subjoined we give the various disorders this PILL is calculated to cure, and although they have many names, yet but one origin, which is, derangement of the digestive and assimilative apparatus, from which derangement arises an impure or unhealthy state of the blood. Whichever of these be the distemper, this is its origin, and it is this we must cure.

"The life of all flesh is the blood thereof;" and no life or flesh can be healthy while its blood is diseased. If the blood is foul, drawing a part of it does not cleanse the balance. It must be purified at its fountains. The assimilative organism that produces it must be stimulated into healthy action, and the health of the whole system will follow. This is the secret of their usefulness — a secret worth knowing, and which we publish that it may be known.

The whole visceral system is engaged in the manufacture of blood, and derangement in any one of its organs disorders this pabulum of life. In the following pages are given directions to show which one of the internal organs is diseased, and how the remedy should be taken for its cure.

Practical Directions for some Delicate Complaints, from which many suffer rather than make their situation known.

CHLOROSIS, Suppression, or Green Sickness, is variously caused by dysentery, diarrhoea, loss of blood, excessive secretory discharges, severe depression of the spirits from disappointment, home-sickness, or unrequited love, anxieties of all kinds, and frequently from the want of proper exercise or food. The causes which produced it should be first found and removed. Then invigorate the system by every available means; healthy, nourishing food, dancing, riding on horseback, &c., keeping the bowels open and regular. Take from five to twenty grains of carbonate of iron three or four times a day; or take ten drops tinct. muriate of iron three times a day. Wine of iron, made by soaking some wine

HEADACHE. — Nervous Headache and Sick Headache are induced by costiveness, indigestion, foul stomach, or other derangement of the digestive system. Persons suffering from these complaints should avoid coffee, rum, ale, and tobacco, and should keep their bowels open by small doses of the CATHARTIC PILLS, and should be as regular as possible in their habits. Those of sedentary pursuits must take exercise, and those subject to exposure must protect themselves as much as possible; but all must keep the bowels loose. These directions, carefully followed, will rarely fail to remove the difficulty. See their effects.

Sea Side, Gloucester, Mass., August 15, 1854.

SIR: Pardon the liberty I am taking to inform you of the benefit I have received from your PILLS. I came here by the direction of my physician, Dr. Channing, of New York city, to try the effect of sea bathing upon my complaints, which seemed to be general weakness, with sick headache. I thought it did me some good, but was gaining very slowly, if any at all, when I was induced by my friends here to give your PILLS a trial. They acted like magic upon me. My appetite returned. I have recovered my strength, and am well again. Having heard that you are now stopping in Gloucester with your family, permit me to mention that I shall consider it a favor if I may be allowed to call on you and make my acknowledgments in person. The bearer of this will bring back your answer to my request.

Very respectfully,

MRS. J. T. W. LIVINGSTON, of N. Y. City.

DR. AYER. SIR: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have, by a dose or two of your PILLS. If they will cure others as they do me, the fact is worth knowing.

Yours, &c.,

EDWARD W. PREBLE, Clerk of Steamer Clarion, Pittsburg.

Sick Headache is very tedious, as well as difficult to cure. It would hardly be believed if we should state here some of the cases that have been cured by these PILLS; cases that have baffled every variety of treatment, and almost every expedient of medical skill. Some such have been completely cured by the use of these PILLS for a few weeks, and we can only account for it by supposing that as the complaint originates in the stomach, and as these PILLS are very congenial to the stomach, they modify its action into health.

ERYSIPELAS, Rose, or St. Anthony's Fire, is a troublesome inflammation in the skin, which, although not generally dangerous, sometimes produces mortification, or, attacking the vital organs, becomes speedily fatal. The blood should be purified and cooled, to cure it. Nothing that we know of can do this like the CATHARTIC PILLS, taken in moderate doses. If the disease is caused by scrofula, or exists in a scrofulous constitution, take AYER'S COMPOUND EXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA, according to its directions for erysipelas.

Senate Chamber of the Capitol of Georgia, Milledgeville, 15th December, 1855.

DR. AYER, LOWELL, MASS. DEAR SIR: I am happy to inform you of a cure your PILLS have effected in my family. My daughter, eighteen years of age, has several months had Erysipelas on her neck and face, which was, to say the least, very disagreeable. All our endeavors to cure it had proved unavailing. At the suggestion of an honorable senator by my side, who informed me he had known a similar complaint cured by your PILLS, I sent her a box for trial. This was but about three weeks since, and she is now entirely well. You are at liberty to use this declaration as you choose.

Your humble servant,

HENRY D. STELL.

Dr. J. B. Miller, late of the Marine Hospital, says, "Your Cathartic Pills produce effects upon Erysipelas which well deserve the attention of physicians."

☞ We would ask the Doctor whether a medicine like this, that purifies the fountains of the blood, should not produce just the effect he has noticed on a disease arising from impurity of the blood.

COSTIVENESS, or Constipation, is generally cured by the following course:—Take a mild dose, about three PILLS, every night, to produce an evacuation in the morning. When this has been continued daily until the evacuation is established regularly in the morning, decrease the dose: take two, and then one pill a day; but be sure to have the evacuation at the regular time, with or without the inclination. When the regular habit of body is established, discontinue the PILLS: but fail not of the evacuation at the usual time. If the first trial of this course should not accomplish a cure, repeat it. It will leave your health in better condition than the constant use of physic, which many employ. But if you do not succeed, then take the PILLS regularly to procure evacuation.

From the distinguished Prof. Waldron, late Surgeon of the ship Saratoga.

New York, 5th June, 1856.

SIR: Your PILLS are a public benefit if they did nothing but cure costiveness. This seems only a trifling disorder, but it is the parent of others worse than itself, and more people suffer from it than is generally known. They have seldom failed me to afford immediate relief, and I have cured many cases with them that strenuously resisted other eligible remedies.

I concur with you in your belief that your remedies produce more radical effects than we can obtain by those the profession have hitherto employed, and of course I favor their adoption into practice.

Yours,

MIL0 G. WALDRON, M. D.

Fellow soldiers of the pen, if you are troubled with costiveness, the curse which follows so many of sedentary pursuits, take AYER'S PILLS, and you will thank us for the suggestion.—Boston Daily Bee.

on bits of rusty iron, is excellent. Even cider on iron dissolves it enough to make a good remedy in these cases. The preparations of iron in almost any shape are beneficial.

MEVORRHIAGIA, or Flooding, is brought on by many causes, among which are over-exertion, injuries by violence, excitement, debility, &c. The patient must be kept cool, and as quiet as possible; the bowels regulated by a mild cathartic, if required. Give about ten drops muriated tinct. of iron every one or two hours through the day; also, give freely a tonic bitter, like chamomile tea, quinine, gentian, or Peruvian bark. When the case is bad, apply cold, wet cloths for a time.

LEUCORRHEA, or Whites, is very prevalent and afflicting. It is debilitating, and tends to induce serious diseases, such as ulceration or even cancer of the uterus, prolapsus, or falling of the womb, &c. When the disease is local, and unattended by constitutional derangements, inject, with a female syringe, an infusion of nut galls or white oak bark, made by soaking either of them in hot water, and straining the liquor. In a large

PILES are brought on by a variety of causes, foremost among which is habitual costiveness. Aloes and aloetic compounds produce them, and should be avoided by those subject to this complaint. Ice or cold water applied to piles affords great relief, but a cure is best effected by keeping the bowels open with such mild purgatives as do not irritate the piles. Take one, two, or three CATHARTIC PILLS a day, to move the bowels gently. If they still continue, apply an ointment made of one part of white lead to twelve parts of lard, ground finely together. For bleeding piles, add to the same one part of powdered nutgalls. If the PILLS seem to irritate the piles instead of relieving them, which is sometimes the case, discontinue their use. Read the following from an old man 86 years of age:—

Columbia, Georgia, August 21, 1854.

DR. J. C. AYER, LOWELL. SIR: Having been grievously afflicted in my old age with the piles, and having been cured of them by your PILLS, I feel grateful to you for it. It was a disagreeable affliction, which detracted much from the little comfort there is left me in life; but it is gone now, and I bless you for it.

JARED SPEELMAN.

From the Rev. V. L. Conrad, senior editor of the "Evangelical Lutheran," Springfield, Ohio.

DR. AYER. MY DEAR SIR: I have been using your PILLS, and have found them the marvel of a purgative, which they justly claim to be. It is no mystery to me now how you get such certificates for them as you publish. Greater names, if such there are, might be proud to be associated with them and with the good they accomplish. I desire they may have the circulation of the whole wide earth, and I remain, sir, with respect and esteem, your humble servant.

LIVER COMPLAINTS, Bilious Disorders, Jaundice, &c. arise from torpidity of the liver, causing a scanty flow of bile,—inflammation of that organ producing bilious overflow into the stomach and intestines, or from a general derangement of the digestive apparatus, in which the liver is involved. Obstruction of the bile duct crowds the bile back into the blood, with which it then circulates over the whole body, causing disastrous effects upon the health. Indeed, either of the above described derangements of the functions of the liver produces a countless train of evils; the skin becomes dark, or a greasy yellow; the whites of the eyes yellow; the tongue is generally coated white or brown. When the functions of the liver are disordered the food is improperly digested, and the patient will suffer from costiveness or diarrhoea, or both; sometimes he will have a voracious appetite, and sometimes loathe his food; is generally drowsy, languid, and melancholy, but sometimes watchful and sleepless; great weariness and faintness are common symptoms, and also palpitation of the heart. Sometimes the skin breaks out in pimples, tumors, blotches, ulcers, boils, and sores, and at others the patient is afflicted with intolerable itchings, erysipelas, or St. Anthony's fire, and frequently with an intolerable restlessness. The irritation from surcharged bile in the blood often produces a severe dry cough, most troublesome in the night, with a dry, ropy expectoration, often nausea and vomiting.

From the blood the bile passes into the kidneys, producing scalding pain in the urinary passages, pain in the back and side, and darting pains through the body. A soreness is frequently felt in the region of the liver, across the stomach, below the ribs. In some cases abscesses form in the liver, but these are more rare. Many dangerous complaints have their origin in derangement of the liver, such as Indigestion, Costiveness, Intermittent and Remittent Fevers, Bilious Fever, Bilious Colic, Bilious Dysentery and Diarrhoea, Chills, Fevers, &c.

Bilious disorders are most likely to commence in the spring of the year, and can only be cured by restoring the liver to its healthy state and action. To do this, the patient should take, on going to bed, from two to eight AYER'S PILLS, enough to give one or two evacuations in the morning, for several days. Then decrease the dose so as to move the bowels gently, and get the alterative effect of the PILLS. A short continuance of this course should cure the complaint. If it does not, or if the disorder has its origin in scrofula, which is often the case, then take AYER'S COMPOUND EXTRACT OF SASSAPARILLA to eradicate the first cause of your complaint from the system. Yours must be an inveterate case if these two remedies do not cure you. Still there are a few where they do not, and for these we advise mercurial treatment, under the care of a good physician. But even that may not cure, for we are born to die.

The reader may ask, Why not take the mercurial treatment first? To which I answer, it should only be resorted to when other, milder and safer means, which will cure almost all, have failed.

New Bedford, Mass., 16th Dec., 1856.

DR. J. C. AYER, LOWELL. SIR: Having used many thousands of your PILLS in my practice, I feel competent to judge of their merits, and I can unhesitatingly pronounce them the best cathartic in use. Not only as a common purgative have I found excellent effects from them, but in those cases attended with a bilious aspect of the eyes and skin, indicating, and arising from, derangement of the liver, I have found them wonderfully successful. Especially when preceded by a blue pill, they never fail me in clearing the complexion and restoring the health. I cordially wish you, doctor, the eminent success which your inestimable contributions to our best means of cure deserve.

Prescott, C. W., Sept. 21, 1856.

DR. AYER: I feel it impossible to express my gratitude to you for the wonderful cure your PILLS wrought on me. For over two years I have been subject to eruptions on the arms and legs, which became very troublesome and tedious. I tried some good doctors, and a good many things that were recommended to cure, but experienced no relief whatever; at last they said it was impossible to cure it. I then began to try your PILLS, and by the time I had used five boxes, the eruptions had disappeared. This was nine months ago, and now I am as hearty as I ever felt, and no sores on me at all. I know of another case like mine in this town cured entirely by your PILLS. Surely I wish all sick persons could have such a doctor as you are; and with thankfulness to you always, I remain your humble servant, PETER I. HAMPELBY.

P. S. If you think this can influence others for their good you may publish it. I am known in Canada.

Waterford, Maine, 27th June, 1854.

DR. AYER: I can speak with great confidence of the efficacy of your PILLS in bile complaints, as they have brought me from Death's door, owing to a bilious fever running into yellow jaundice. No one thought I should get over the attack, as my system was so debilitated, and large quantities of black bile, mixed with blood, were constantly discharged from my stomach and bowels. Dr. Jamieson, of this place, said your PILLS would help me if any thing could; and my wife gave me no rest till I took a dose, which so encouraged me that I went on until the worst symptoms abated. Having persevered in taking them, I am quite recovered, and strong enough to pursue my trade.

Yours,

AVERY P. MARSHALL.

The venerable Chancellor WARDLAW writes from Baltimore, 15th April, 1854:

DR. J. C. AYER: SIR: I have taken your PILLS with great benefit, for the listlessness, languor, loss of appetite, and bilious headache, which have of late years overtaken me in the spring. A few doses of your PILLS cured me. I have used your CHERRY PECTORAL many years in my family, for coughs and colds, with unfailing success. You make medicines which cure; and I feel it a pleasure to commend you for the good you have done and are doing.

Providence, July 7, 1854.

DR. AYER: Your CATHARTIC PILLS having cured me of a very dangerous fit of the bilious colic, I feel it due to the suffering portion of the public to state my case. When I was attacked, the neighbors thought it was cholera, and gave me brandy and laudanum, which made me worse. Providentially, the Orthodox minister of our town came to see me, and advised your PILLS, which I took, after sixteen hours of intense suffering. In half an hour my bowels were relieved, and the pain subsided. In a short time I had completely recovered, and cannot doubt it was entirely attributable to your PILLS. Yours, with feelings of deep gratitude,

R. R. HEATHFIELD.

Take AYER'S PILLS, ye yellow invalids, whose bile runs through your blood: use AYER'S PILLS, and you will do us some service as well as yourselves. Nothing we meet takes our courage down so much as our green jaundice neighbors, whose forlorn visages would make a comic almanac feel gloomy. So do have pity on us, and cure yourselves for our sake, if not for your own. — Springfield Gazette.

RHEUMATISM AND GOUT generally affect the joints, but the stomach, heart, muscles, and bones are also subject to their attacks. They are caused by vitiated blood, which is produced by derangements of the digestive organs, and that remedy is most successful in curing them which restores those functions to health. The CATHARTIC PILLS should be taken in large or small doses, according to the requirements of each individual case; and that they have been peculiarly efficacious in banishing these tormenting diseases, we leave to be seen by the statements of the sufferers themselves. Where rheumatism and rheumatic pains have a scrofulous origin, cure that affection first, by our COMPOUND EXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA.

South Norwalk, Ct., 7th Jan., 1856.

RESPECTED SIR: Your CATHARTIC PILLS have cured me of rheumatism of four years' standing, for which blessing you may well suppose I feel grateful. I had suffered excruciating pain for a large part of that long period of time. Other medicines and the best of physicians' aid failed to give me relief; but your PILLS did it, and I am well. I do not know how I can more effectually show my gratitude than by distributing a quantity of your Almanacs, and thereby spreading the knowledge that will do good to others. To this end I will surely circulate a few hundred in this neighborhood if you send them, and shall think I am doing a work of charity for the sick. I am a son of the Rev. A. M. Osborn, D. D., of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Mulberry Street, New York, where you can learn, when you are in the city, the full particulars of my case.

Gratefully yours,

B. S. OSBORN.

New York City, November 20, 1853.

DR. AYER. MY DEAR SIR: I have been completely cured by your PILLS from rheumatism, which has afflicted me dreadfully for the last three years. It had settled in my limbs and joints, and almost disabled me. All the medicine I could take, under the counsel of excellent physicians, only gave me temporary relief. I commenced taking your CATHARTIC PILLS by the direction of Dr. Green, of this city, and immediately began to improve in health. They seemed to reach deeper in my system than any other medicine. I could feel the good they were doing me every day while I took them. After three weeks' time I have discontinued their use because I have no further use for them. They have completely cured me; and I feel as sound as ever in my life.

I wish every man afflicted as I have been might be as fortunate in getting cured; and I hope you will be rewarded for the good you do. Your obedient servant, J. S. P. TIRREL.

The subjoined supposititious compliment shows an eminent editor's estimate of the service our preparations render to the public: "Dr. Huntington, the accomplished gentleman who succeeded Dr. J. C. Ayer to the mayoralty of the city of Lowell, has been elected lieutenant governor of the State. It may be remembered that Dr. Ayer declined further election to the office, and the reasons were understood to be, that his entire attention is required in the manufacture of his medicines, where he thinks he can do the public a far greater service than in any administrative post whatever. If his remedies are as useful throughout the whole country as we know them to be in this vicinity, the amount of good accomplished by them must be incalculable, and we cannot but commend the philanthropy of his choice."—Baltimore Patriot.

"Did your fall hurt you?" said Pat to his friend, who fell with his head from a high ladder. "No, Patrick, shure, it was hitting the ground that hurthed me."

Revere House, Boston, October 3, 1853.

DR. J. C. AYER. SIR: It is with feelings of the deepest gratitude I write to tell you what your PILLS have done for me. Last spring I had a severe attack of Acute Inflammatory Rheumatism, which settled in my limbs, and subjected me to excruciating pain. They became swollen and tender to the least touch; so much so that I could scarcely move or be moved. I employed the best physicians and the best remedies to no purpose, until I tried your PILLS. The first dose gave me some relief, and a few more removed the complaint, so that in ten days from my first taking them, I rode out; in less than three weeks could attend to my business, and now am entirely free from the disease.

Yours, with respect, C. G. COFFIN.

Bloomfield, Somerset Co., Penn., July 5, 1854.

DR. AYER. SIR: For years past I have been so afflicted by hereditary Gout that I was a burden to myself and all about me. The slightest cold, or damp feet, invariably brought on an attack, when my knees and ankle joints swelled to a frightful extent, and chalk stones formed in them. The weight even of the bed sheet on my ankles almost drove me crazy. Of medicines prescribed by doctors, and recommended by neighbors, I took plenty, including colchicum, which soon ceased to have any good effect, and operated with dangerous violence on the bowels. When almost despairing of cure on this side the grave, I was visited, six months ago by a colporteur, distributing tracts in this district, who said he knew of a medicine that would cure me, and recommended your CATHARTIC PILLS. As soon as I had taken half a box I found relief; and two boxes effected a perfect cure. I have since been exposed to all weather, but have had no return of the attack, and am as hearty as ever.

JOSEPH OXLEY.

DYSPEPSIA, or Indigestion, arises from loss of tone in the stomach, or more particularly its muscular fibrous coating, which becomes pale and feeble. It is generally accompanied with more or less inflammation of the lining membrane of the stomach, and always with a diseased irritability of the whole organ. This disorder afflicts persons of sedentary pursuits, or is frequently induced by trouble or intense anxiety of mind. Where these are the causes, it cannot be cured while they remain. For Dyspepsia, commence some system of regular exercise; partake, discreetly, of easily digested food. If the stomach is sour, take occasionally a few grains of super-carbonate of soda dissolved in water. Take light doses, from one to three of the Cathartic Pills every morning, to stimulate the stomach into healthy action, which they will generally soon restore. Much, however, may be done for this disease by management, exercise, and diet.

Dyspepsia is often caused by a scrofulous affection of the stomach. You must decide by the general characters we have given above of scrofulous symptoms, whether this is the case, and if it is, that father of disorders must first be cleansed out from the system. No remedy known to us will accomplish that so surely as our Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla, which see.

From the Rev. Dr. McEwen, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Medina, Orleans Co., N. Y.

3d August, 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER: I am happy to state more explicitly the particulars of my case as follows: I had been afflicted with Dyspepsia for several years. It constantly grew worse, and during this year has threatened my life. I had sought the best counsel and assistance every where, but all that could be done for me was of no avail. We felt that there was no relief for me, and I must die. My suffering was greater than I can describe, and constant. My situation was painful and distressing in the extreme. My family having heard your PILLS recommended by persons we much respected, induced me to try them. They acted like a charm upon my complaint, which soon left me altogether. The burning pain in my stomach left me, my appetite returned, and my food digested and nourished me. I now enjoy uninterrupted good health, — never better in my life, — which is unquestionably due to the effect of your PILLS. My oldest son has always been subject to a bilious complaint, which made him weak and puny. After your PILLS cured me, he took them, and they cured him. He, like myself, has since grown robust and strong. These are considered by our neighbors wonderful cures, of which none can doubt you deserve the credit.

With great respect,

J. MCEWEN.

NEURALGIA, or Tic Douloureux, is an excruciatingly painful disorder, arising from urea and uric acid, which the kidneys fail to secrete from the blood.

Various modes of treatment have been adopted. Quinine or Morphine sometimes affords relief, but judiciously-administered purgatives assist to remove the complaint.

From a distinguished divine well known throughout the south-west — the Rev. Dr. Olcott: —

Chartres Street, New Orleans, May 7, 1856.

DEAR DR. AYER: If you could know what I have suffered from Neuralgic pain in my shoulder and side, you might judge of the thankfulness I feel to your skill that has cured me. Pain, torment, anguish, are strong words, but they do not express what I have undergone. The incredible stories my neighbors tell of your cures induced me to try your PILLS. Either they have driven out my disease, or it went of its own accord when I took them; or but a few days have passed, and I am entirely well. Nothing seemed to reach my case until I took your PILLS, which I think cured me, and I pray God to bless you and the means you employ for the relief of human suffering. With Christian regard, yours and truly,

RALPH OLCOTT.

Tell me, the winged winds, that round my pathway stir, do ye not know some quiet spot where hoops are worn no more? Some lone and silent dell, some island or some cave, where women can walk three abreast, along the village pave? The loud winds hissed around my face, and, snickering, whispered, "Nary place."

A pedant said to an old farmer he could not bear a fool, who replied, "Your mother could."

"Do you snore, Betty?" said Mrs. Slap to her new servant. "Don't know marm; I niver laid awake to diskiver."

One seventh of all the children born in large cities die for want of pure, wholesome milk. — Frank Leslie's Magazine.

To make a handsome profit on boarders, furnish them with strong butter and weak tea.

"Show me a glass of whiskey," said Mr. Tipple, "and see me put myself outside of it."

The water cure is neither new nor wonderful. It is as old as the deluge, which, we think, killed more than it cured.

Why is a boot like a squash pie? Because you can put your foot in it.

Albany, 21st October, 1856.

DR. J. C. AYER. SIR: I have used your valuable PILLS, and seen them used, with great success. Two boxes cured me of a dyspepsia and costive habit of six years' standing. A few boxes cured Wm. S. Heron, the publisher of the Hudson River Chronicle, of a neuralgia and scrofulous affection that had together afflicted him for ten years. I have often recommended them to my friends, and used them extensively in my practice, and can say with a thankful heart that I never knew a single dose used without a good effect. Believe me, sir, with great regard, your obedient servant,

T. WILLIAMS, M. D.

SCROFULA, or Kings Evil, is a constitutional disease, a taint, or corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak, and poor. Being in the circulation, it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy.

It is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, or disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it may generally be cured by the right treatment perseveringly followed. The foul infection must be purged out from the system by an alterative medicine. These PILLS are alterative when continuously taken in small doses, and will generally cure the complaint, as is seen in the certificates below. But a still more powerful remedy for this complaint is our COMPOUND EXTRACT OF SASSAPARILLA, which is especially designed for the cure of Scrofula in its worst forms.

From a physician of widely extended practice in the country, whose opinion is held in high regard by the medical profession:—

Olive Branch, Clermont Co., O., January 28, 1856.

BROTHER AYER: It is with satisfaction and pride I confess to you what we are accomplishing with your remedies. Cures follow their use in my practice so soon and so sure as to leave no doubt of the extraordinary powers which you claim for them. Some cases of Scrofula, which had long resisted all our ordinary remedies, yielded rapidly under the use of your PILLS. I have also found effects from them in other diseases that show their direct action in the purification of the blood. None who have given them a fair trial can dispute that you furnish us the best purgative as well as expectorant that we possess.

Accept the congratulations of a brother, who wishes you every success in your pursuit for the relief of human suffering.

W. M. INGALLS, M. D.

See the following case of a distinguished civil engineer:—

Chicago, Ill., 15th March, 1856.

DR. AYER. SIR: I was attacked with a troublesome humor, which began by an eruption on my side, and in spite of every effort to remove it, increased until my side became entirely raw. In this miserable condition I began taking your CATHARTIC PILLS, under the direction of Dr. Marshall. In a short time the wide sore on my body commenced to heal, and in a few weeks, to the astonishment of my friends and even my physician, I was entirely cured; nor has the troublesome disorder shown any symptoms of a return. Yours with respect, EDWARD COGGESHALL, Assistant Engineer of the Central R. R.

TETTER, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCURVY, &c. ULCEROUS AND CUTANEOUS DISEASES are caused by humors in the system, and a foul state of the blood, without purifying which they cannot be cured. These PILLS are of signal benefit in those complaints, as they purge out the foul humors, and replace the vitiated secretions with rich, healthy blood. They cleanse the vital fluids, and restore to vigorous, healthy action parts that were rotted with disease. The various eruptive disorders that attack children are speedily banished by these PILLS, and no family should be without them. Where they alone do not produce sufficient effect, the patient should be treated with an alterative as for the cure of Scrofula, which see.

From the well-known captain of the ill-fated Steamer Franklin:—

Louisville, Ky., 23d April, 1855.

DR. AYER. SIR: Your agents here have desired me to report to you the case of my wife, who has been cured by your PILLS. She had been troubled with Salt Rheum, more or less, for many years, and it had grown worse lately than ever before. By the advice of her brother, the governor of our state, who had heard them highly spoken of for similar complaints, (and who is, by the way, a great admirer of your CHERRY PECTORAL,) she began the trial of your PILLS. How many and how long she took them I cannot exactly say; but this I know, that she did take them, and they cured her. If it might be counted in money, I could not name the sum that would be an equivalent for the change that has been effected in her health by a few twenty-five cent boxes of your excellent PILLS. Yours, with great respect,

CAPT J. S. CALVERT.

Our neighbors will be glad to learn that the little son of Mr. Talbot, who keeps the toll gate, has been cured of his loathsome disease, which none who pass there can have failed to notice. The painful, sickening affection on his arm and face was called Salt Rheum by the doctor, who could name but could not cure it. His father tells us it has finally been entirely cured by AYER'S PILLS. Surely that AYER is a trump in medicine. We thought it glory enough for one man to cure consumption, but he masters, one after another, the worst forms of hereditary disease that afflict mankind. — Newport Whig & Chronicle.

From the high Sheriff of Prince Edward's Island : —

Charlottetown, Dec. 2, 1857.

VENERABLE SIR : I feel it a duty I owe to the sick as well as yourself, to state the inestimable benefit I have received from your PILLS. Their marvellous efficacy has not only astonished me, but all who knew my situation. In August I was seized with a severe attack of Scurey, accompanied with bleeding piles. My teeth became loose, my skin bloated and burst in several places. Under the advice of my excellent physician, Dr. Hilcoat, I dieted strictly on mush and milk, and took a variety of medicines, skilful, doubtless, but all to no purpose. My suffering became extreme, and at times I was in such agony as to wish for death. At length I was induced to take your blessed PILLS, and they soon cured me. My case is well known in the city, and indeed all over the island ; and you are at liberty to refer to me any inquiries others in distress may wish to make concerning it. I wish it were in my power to do you some service to compare with what your skill has done for me.

Yours with every regard,

PETER CLARK.

DYSENTERY AND DIARRHOEA are sometimes cured by a congenial cathartic. Take light doses, from one to three PILLS. If one or two doses do not cure, leave off taking them, and take a teaspoonful of chalk mixture with six drops of laudanum three times a day. If that does not cure, call a physician.

From a highly respectable merchant of Georgetown, D. C., 9th October, 1856.

DEAR SIR : Please send me by steam a large stock of PILLS, for I cannot keep enough to supply the demand. We have at length begun to find out their value here, and all classes use them more and more. Baron Stockel, the Russian minister, buys them of me. I have sold them for use in the president's house, and to many of the families of the high officials of our government, secretaries, senators, congressmen, &c., as well as some foreign ministers and secretaries of legation. These facts will convince you, as they have me, that your preparations are not confined to the ignorant and credulous ; that the most intelligent can find no better medicines. The Dysentery has been prevailing amongst us for several weeks, and has proved severe with many of our citizens. I have heard several speak with unbounded praise of the effects of your PILLS upon this complaint, which it is said they frequently cure.

Your obedient servant,

O. M. LINTHICUM.

DROPSY should generally be treated by medicines that increase the flow of the urine, such as spirits of nitre, uva ursi, &c., to stimulate the secretion which Nature designed to carry off the surplus fluid and azotized matters of the body. Still, a powerful assistant, and even sometimes superior remedy, is found in drastic purges. When excipients of the kidneys have failed, or when they effect but a partial cure, take large and frequent doses, from five to eight of these PILLS, to produce copious liquid discharges from the bowels, and thus void the accumulated water from the system.

We have received several certificates of cures, but all too lengthy for publication. Patients in reporting their remarkable cures will confer a favor by giving the facts as short and distinct as possible.

Our venerable friend, Mr. Green, of the Union Mill, whose affliction with Dropsy has engaged the active sympathies of our citizens, reports himself much better. He feels confident he is now getting the better of his complaint, and attributes the change to the effect of AYER'S PILLS, which he has been taking freely. We know our neighbors join us in the hope he will realize his present expectations of a cure. — Putnam County Observer.

WORMS are sometimes expelled in large quantities by these PILLS ; but if they are not entirely destroyed, take an infusion of wormseed, or of pinkroot, (spigelia), or a few drops of wormseed oil on sugar, to be followed by a strong dose of these PILLS, and they will generally disappear. Intestinal worms undermine the health of many, especially children. Their presence is indicated by symptoms which every mother knows, and the little sufferers ought to be freed from them, as they so surely can be, without much trouble.

From a northern lady married in the South, formerly preceptress in the Normal School : —

Marengo, Ala., June 5, 1856.

DEAR DR. AYER : Allow a mother to tell you what your PILLS have done for her children and if you think it worth while, you can make it known to others. My own children have always been troubled with Worms, and so have some of my servants, and children of the field hands on our plantation. We have of late used your PILLS altogether as a common purgative, knowing them to be the best there is. Our physician advised us to try them for worms, and the result has shown their entire success. My little son has been feeble for a year — made so by worms, which we could not remove. A few strong doses of your PILLS have brought them away, and you can scarcely believe the improvement in his health. You would not know him for the same child. We have used them in several cases, and they have cured them all—some where we could get nothing else to do it. We all know you make the best medicines in the world, and I want every body should know what a cure your PILLS are for worms.

With a high regard for your skill and your usefulness, I am, sir, respectfully, MRS. JANE W. ESTELL.

We have found AYER'S PILLS one of the very best remedies for Worms in children. They are a mild but searching and successful antidote for them. — Gansel's Medical Expositor, N. Y. City.

AS A DINNER PILL, this is both agreeable and useful. No pill can be made more pleasant to take, and certainly none has been made more effectual for the purpose for which a dinner pill is employed. Persons of bilious habit find great comfort from their occasional use in small doses, after eating or drinking too freely. They stimulate the stomach and aid digestion, thus obviating the nausea, heartburn, and pain which follow from eating too heartily. They should be taken in small doses of from one to three PILLS after eating.

From the celebrated professor of Music: —

J. C. AYER, M. D. SIR: Among the other valuable properties of your PILLS, not the least is its value as a Dinner Pill. Such PILLS are much used in the old countries, and are useful here. Yours I have found to be about the best adapted to this use of any I have ever found, and I commend them as such.

Baltimore, June 6, 1856.

JAMES T. AUDUBON.

Deafness, Partial Blindness, Fits, Paralysis, or Palsy, St. Vitus's Dance, Suppression, and other complaints it would not be supposed they could reach, have been cured by the renovating action of these PILLS upon the whole system, and the resuscitation they afford to the general health. Their virtues penetrate to the fountains of the blood, and thus effect cures which could not be believed if they had not been proven. All who use them can see they have curative properties equalled by nothing which has been known before, and are astonished to find a medicine of such wonderful power over disease, which is harmless — perfectly harmless, even to infants. One great cause of their safety is, they are purely vegetable.

Almost all the physical pills in market contain mercury and other minerals, but it is inhuman to make medicine of such ingredients for popular use. The unsuspecting take them without caution, and suffer consequences the most calamitous and distressing. Their health and vigor are undermined by the very remedies they take for protection, and they contract incurable disease through the very means employed for cure. Some lose their teeth and hair, some the use of their limbs, and thousands their health through the incautious use of medicines containing calomel. For this reason we make these PILLS of vegetables only, that can harm nobody. They contain not one particle of any mineral substance whatever, or any thing that can injure even a child.

The foregoing truly wonderful cures have not been effected by any mysterious virtue of the medicine, but simply by its searching activity which penetrates to every organ of the body, stimulating it to healthy energy, and removing the obstructions which are the first causes of disease.

Probably no PILL ever has been, or for many years will be, perfected to the extent of this. It is first water-proofed by a chemical composition that the fluids of the mouth or stomach readily dissolve, but that water will not. This is to protect it from deterioration by time, climate, or exposure. It is then SUGAR COATED, to make it perfectly palatable, and even agreeable to be taken.

It is impracticable to give within our space here, any considerable portion of the certificates we have received of remarkable cures. But we will add some few of the many commendations of eminent men, distinguished authors, and celebrated chemists, who certify to the remarkable virtues and extraordinary usefulness of these PILLS.

See the report of the eminently learned chemist of the West, Dr. Locke, to whom Congress awarded $10,000 for his discovery of the Astronomical Clock: —

DR. J. C. AYER. My Dear Sir: I have made a thorough chemical examination of your PILLS, and find them agree with your formula for their preparation. They contain no mineral substance — a fact which will recommend them to the many who discard mineral remedies. Your successful use of the active principle of the castor bean is new and very valuable. Physicians will, doubtless, appreciate its virtues. My experiments

The following statement from James R. Chilton, M. D., of New York city, after a thorough examination of the subject, leaves no doubt in any reasonable mind of the intrinsic virtues of my preparation, or its value as a reliable medicine. Dr. Chilton is known throughout the whole country as one of the oldest and best analytical chemists it contains; and his high character, both as a chemist and a man, is certified by distinguished persons, who are known to the people every where.

J. C. AYER, M. D., LOWELL, MASS. DEAR SIR: I have examined your CATHARTIC PILLS, and become thoroughly acquainted with their composition. It is a new and judicious combination of materials possessing points of excellence which, I believe, have not been obtained before.

As a Cathartic for general use, they are far superior to any which have hitherto fallen under my notice. They do not contain any mineral substance whatever; and, consequently, all objections urged against such ingredients are obviated.

The skillful method of separating the active principles of which these PILLS are composed from the inert vegetable matter is meritorious, and should command special attention, and win for the PILLS the liberal patronage of the public.

JAMES R. CHILTON, Chemist.

We have known Dr. J. R. Chilton for many years as a gentleman of the highest respectability, and a chemist in whom we have the utmost confidence.

We fully concur in the above statements.

DR. J. C. AYER, LOWELL, MASS., U. S. A. SIR: In compliance with the request of your agent, I have the pleasure to state that having used your CATHARTIC PILLS in my family, I have found them superior in their remedial effects to any other purgative we have ever employed. It is within my knowledge that your PILLS and PECTORAL are recommended by some of the distinguished surgeons and physicians of this metropolis, (London.)

Your obedient servant,

RICHARD DEAN BOYLE, Ex-Ass't Cashier.

From His Excellency W. L. Greenly, the Governor of Michigan: —

"I have contemplated with growing satisfaction the effects which your wonderful remedies show among my people. They prove that science has the skill to combat the diseases from which we suffer; and I cannot but commend the use you make of it to relieve the distress of my fellow-countrymen."

From a late Surgeon of the Imperial Marine in France.

Paris, France, 5th August, 1856.

MONS. LE DOCTEUR J. C. AYER: I have given frequent employment in my practice to the PECTORAL and PILLS you so kindly sent me for trial, and I am happy to inform you that in no case has either failed to give the best indications I could desire. That they are admirable compositions for the treatment of disease is manifest from the formulae you send me, and is also perfectly apparent in their effects upon my patients. Any supply of them designed for the army at large should be sent to the Department of War. Accept, sir, the assurance of my high consideration.

JULES CLAUDE LEGOUPIL, M. D.

The widely-celebrated Dr. Torrey, the learned Professor of Chemistry and Materia Medica in the Institute of the city of New York, has thoroughly investigated one of the components of these PILLS, and reports as follows: —

College of Physicians and Surgeons, City of New York, December 23, 1853.

DR. J. C. AYER. MY DEAR SIR: After a careful examination of your "Ricinine," I find that it contains the therapeutic virtues of the castor bean in a highly concentrated state, and I concur in the opinion of my valued friend, Dr. A. A. Hayes, that it is more sure and efficacious in its operation, although similar in its effects, to the castor oil. It has great advantages in the smallness of its bulk and the facility with which it can be compounded with other cathartics, to increase or modify its operation.

These specific qualities will commend it to the attention of judicious practitioners, who will discover its valuable properties on trial.

From a celebrated Philanthropist whose works of mercy make his name the watchword of benevolence in the Atlantic States:—

Institution of the Deaf, Dumb, and Blind, Raleigh, N. C., April 26, 1856.

Having used Dr. Ayer's preparations in my own family and in the "Institution" in this city for a series of years, I feel entire confidence in recommending them to the public as the very best of remedies. Both their composition (which is known to me) and their effects prove their superiority over the medicines in common use.

W. D. COOK, M. D.,

President North Carolina Institution for the Deaf, Dumb, and Blind.

From an eminent Divine:—

St. Clairsville, Bedford County, Pa., May 9, 1856.

J. C. AYER, M. D. SIR: All need friends, and especially the sick need them. Such have your remedies proved themselves to me and my family for years, and not only to my family, but also to my parishioners and friends. Their virtues have been thoroughly tested in this section, and never, to my knowledge, known to fail. A great many within my acquaintance have reason for devout thanks for the benefits conferred by your inestimable medicines, and not a few owe to them their restoration from dangerous sickness. Trusting that both your medicines will continue to deserve the golden opinions they have won, I remain, with sentiments of esteem for your usefulness to the afflicted,

Yours, &c.,

N. E. GILDS,

Pastor German Reformed Church, St. Clairsville, Pa.

From the distinguished Chief Engineer of the Great Western Railroad:—

American House, Buffalo, N. Y., June 11, 1856.

MY VENERABLE FRIEND: It is with unfeigned pleasure that I contribute my humble testimony to the extraordinary virtues of your Cathartic Pills. Never before have I seen a medicine that I would publicly praise; but these deserve it, and I shall not decline. Cases of cure by them are personally known to me, about which there can be no dispute, and which are truly remarkable. My own use of them has convinced me that they possess an extraordinary power for the renovation of the blood, and for the expulsion of disease.

It is said you have spent a whole lifetime in perfecting the two remedies you make; and their effects surely show that it has not been spent in vain. That years of usefulness may yet remain to you is the sincere wish of,

Yours,

HAMILTON FOLLETT.

House of Representatives, Washington, D. C., 2d July, 1856.

DR. J. C. AYER, LOWELL, MASS.: I have the honor to acknowledge your compliments of the 25th ultimo, and in answer to your request for a report of my case, have the pleasure to say: I have long been afflicted with a bilious complaint that had deranged and almost destroyed my health. It began in costiveness and headache; indigestion followed, and became an intolerable affliction. I was subject to racking pains in and about my stomach, with a burning sensation in it after eating. I could eat but little, although sometimes possessed with a ravenous appetite. I lost my flesh and vigor, if not somewhat of my mental faculties. It is needless to say that I tried all advice and medicine, for as you say, "the sick try every thing." But nothing gave me any relief from the growing aggravation of my complaints. I was at length induced by a distinguished Senator (whom I understand to be your personal friend) to try your Pills. He assured me they had virtues superior to other medicines, and I have found it true. I had taken them about two weeks according to your directions for liver complaints before they produced much benefit. In less than five weeks they had cured me. I have now been well and strong for several months, with no symptoms of a return of my disorder.

Be assured, sir, I should not make you this acknowledgment for publication if I did not feel that the extraordinary virtues of your remedies ought to be made known. I have the honor to be, sir,

Your humble servant,

GEO. S. CLINGMAN.

TO PHYSICIANS.—These remedies were originally designed for practitioners' use, and were employed by them chiefly until the public demand could be no longer resisted. We still endeavor to afford to physicians every facility for supply, and to hospitals we furnish the articles at net cost, or, where it is desired as a charity, without cost.

My compounds are never secret. The formulæ by which they are made have been published in the principal medical journals of this country and Europe, as well as presented personally to most of the practising physicians of the American States. They have received the unqualified commendation of professors in almost all the medical colleges of both continents, and been presented by them to their classes as worthy their especial attention. The medical journals speak in high praise of their effects. Physicians who have not received my formulæ may do so on application by mail.

The Diplomas of the Massachusetts Mechanics' Association, Boston, the Ohio Institute, Cincinnati, the New York Institute, Syracuse, and the National Agricultural Union, Washington, have been given to these preparations at their several Fairs, and also the Medallion Awards of the three great Institutes of Art in this country.

These remedies have been presented by the American embassies at those courts to the Emperors of Russia, China, and Brazil; to the Kings of Norway, Denmark, Portugal, and Siam; to the Presidents of Chili, New Grenada, and Peru; to the Shah of Persia, the Sultan of Turkey, the Imam of Muscat, and many Governors, Princes, Viceroy, &c., from some of whom highly gratifying acknowledgments have been received, and from some no answer yet.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

Disorders of the pulmonary organs are so prevalent and so fatal in our ever-changing climate, that a reliable antidote has been long and anxiously sought for by the whole community. The indispensable qualities of such a remedy for popular use must be, certainty of healthy operation, absence of danger from accidental over-doses, and adaptation to every patient of any age or either sex. These conditions have been realized in this preparation, which, while it reaches to the foundations of disease and acts with unflinching certainty, is still harmless to the most delicate invalid or tender infant. A trial of many years has proved to the world that it is efficacious in curing pulmonary complaints, beyond any remedy hitherto known to mankind. As time makes these facts wider and better known, this medicine has gradually become a staple necessity, from the log cabin of the American peasant to the palaces of European kings. Throughout this entire country, in every state, city, and indeed almost every hamlet it contains, the CHERRY PECTORAL is known by its works. Each has living evidence of its unrivalled usefulness, in some recovered victim, or victims, from the threatening symptoms of consumption. Although this is not true to so great an extent abroad, still the article is well understood, in many foreign countries, to be the best medicine extant for distempers of the respiratory organs, and in several of them it is extensively used by their most intelligent physicians. In Great Britain, France, and Germany, where the medical sciences have reached their highest perfection, CHERRY PECTORAL is introduced, and in constant use in the armies, hospitals, almshouses, public institutions, and in domestic practice, as the surest remedy their attending physicians can employ for the more dangerous affections of the lungs. Thousands of cases of pulmonary disease, which had baffled every expedient of human skill, have been permanently cured by the CHERRY PECTORAL, and these cures speak convincingly to all who know them.

Annexed we give minute directions for its use, in the several varieties of pulmonary complaints it is designed to cure, with some few of the many hundreds of testimonials that overflowing gratitude has brought us.

FOR A COLD AND COUGH, take from 20 to 40 drops for an adult, morning, noon, and evening, according to directions on the bottle. Make the dose largest at evening, and smallest at noon, before eating. Carefully avoid exposures. If your cold is accompanied with Headache and Soreness of the Body, take about five CATHARTIC PILLS, which will probably remove that difficulty. Persevere with the CHERRY PECTORAL until it stops the cough also.

None would long suffer with these complaints, if they knew how easily they are cured. By the timely use of these remedies, many — nay, almost all such attacks — may be arrested, and thus is checked in its commencement the scourge that sweeps from our midst thousands and thousands every year. Persons afflicted with a seated cough, which breaks them of their rest at night, will find, by taking the CHERRY PECTORAL on going to bed, they may be sure of sound, unbroken sleep, and consequent refreshing rest.

From the brilliant and widely esteemed Editor of the "Lynchburg Virginian": —

March 3, 1856.

DR. AYER. SIR: In a case of prolonged, obstinate, and most annoying cough following a cold, I experienced immediate and entire relief, from the use of your CHERRY PECTORAL, and therefore take pleasure in recommending it to the similarly afflicted. J. McDONALD.

Dr. F. Scheley, an eminent physician of Frederick, Maryland, writes: —

October 2, 1856.

I conscientiously recommend your CHERRY PECTORAL in most of our lung diseases, deeming it the best remedy we possess for them. In cases of an acute character or catarrhal origin, I have found its properties invaluable.

INFLUENZA is an epidemic not only troublesome in itself, but liable to induce much more serious complaints, such as rheumatism, fevers, derangement of the visceral system, and affections of the pulmonary organs. It is best cured in its commencement by a dose of CATHARTIC PILLS, and sufficient doses of CHERRY PECTORAL to keep the lungs free, and subdue the cough that usually accompanies this disorder.

From the popular Captain of the Steamer George Washington, who resides in Dutchess Co., N. Y. : —

NEW YORK CITY, July 2, 1856.

DR. AYER. SIR: I can with pleasure accede to the request of your Agent in this city, and report to you my experience with your CHERRY PECTORAL. During the prevalence of Influenza in my neighborhood, (Dutchess Co.,) some of my family suffered severely with it, and all were attacked with the disorder. I carried some of your Pectoral home with me, and had it taken by the whole family, all of whom were cured by it in a few days, except my oldest daughter, who had had it so long and so severely, that it fastened a Bronchitis upon her, from which she has not yet entirely recovered. I then gave and recommended it to my neighbors, who found that it cured them also.

I have always lately kept both your PECTORAL and PILLS on the boat, for our sick there, and have seldom found either to fail me in any case where they could consistently be taken. Indeed, Doctor, the opinion every where held of you is true — that you make great medicines.

Your obedient servant,

CHARLES N. VANDERBILT.

We are told the Influenza, which has had a run here for the last three weeks, is found to yield, in almost all cases where it is taken, to AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. Some, who have had it the worst, report a speedy cure upon trial of the PECTORAL; others, who have taken it on the first symptoms of attack, find the disease averted altogether. These facts come to us so direct, and on such unquestionable authority, that we publish them with confidence, for the benefit of those who are still suffering in the dark. — Christian Mirror, Portland.

WHOOPIING COUGH, however severe, may be alleviated and quite cured by the use of the CHERRY PECTORAL, given three or four times a day. It allays the irritation, prevents inflammation from extending to the substance of the lungs, and subdues any tendency to consumption. As it is palatable, the youngest children take it without difficulty. See its effects: —

We take pleasure in calling attention to the card of Mr. Glover. It is really a great satisfaction to think something can be found to relieve so much distress as is now pervading our city among the little ones. — Nashville (Tenn.) True Whig.

NASHVILLE, TENN., June 26, 1851.

SIR: I have repeatedly used your CHERRY PECTORAL for Whooping Cough and Influenza, and have no hesitation in pronouncing it a complete remedy. Four of my children have been dreadfully afflicted with these diseases, and the free use of the PECTORAL afforded almost instant relief.

JAMES GLOVER.

We attest the truth of the above statement.

M. MCGINTY, Editor of Nashville Whig.
J. M. ZIMMERMAN, Druggist.

The widely-renowned Dr. Jackson, of New York city, writes: —

NEW YORK, March 6, 1853.

I have used the CHERRY PECTORAL for some years in my practice, and recommend it very generally for children. I have always found it afford more relief in cases of WHOOPIING COUGH than any other medicine.

The distinguished Dr. Brainard, of Shelby, Tennessee, says: —

I have seen more bad cases of Whooping Cough cured by the CHERRY PECTORAL than by any other remedy. I use it for my own children, as well as my patients, and always place reliance on its operation.

CAPITOL, WASHINGTON, D. C., March 1, 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER. SIR: I take pleasure in bearing testimony to the efficacy of your CHERRY PECTORAL as a Cough remedy. I have used it frequently, and with invariable success, for troublesome coughs which had resisted all other remedies. A small dose, taken at night on retiring, has always proved sufficient to cure the most irritating cough; in the morning, after using the PECTORAL, the troublesome visitor was nowhere.

Yours respectfully,

A. J. GLOSSBRENNER,

Sergeant at Arms of the House of Representatives of the United States.

CROUP should have immediate relief when discovered, or it will soon become incurable, and prove inevitably fatal. It is caused by the formation of a false membrane across the windpipe, which must be either prevented, absorbed, or ejected, else suffocation is sure to ensue. As soon as the peculiar rattle in the throat is heard, an emetic should be given, (antimony, if convenient,) and when that has operated, frequent doses of the CHERRY PECTORAL will subdue the disease. If no emetic is at hand, the PECTORAL will generally cure without it; but the treatment is safer with an emetic, in severe cases. Wherever there are children, the CHERRY PECTORAL should be kept on hand, as the time lost while procuring it may prove fatal to the darling infant of your home.

From a Country Physician of large experience :—

FRANKLIN, N. C., April 10, 1854.

SIR: In this section the prevalent diseases are those of the throat and respiratory organs. After much experience and a thorough trial of all the remedies we possess, I must say your CHERRY PECTORAL is the surest and the best for the various affections of the throat and lungs. Accordingly I prescribe it for my patients in preference to any other. In no instance has it failed to give speedy and permanent relief: and so manageable is it that the youngest infant takes it without trouble. In several cases of croup it saved lives which must have been sacrificed, had it not been at hand at the critical moment. In view of this special disease attacking children at a distance from my office, I have invariably recommended my friends to keep a supply of it in the house. I conscientiously believe it to afford a great protection to the members of all families who take my advice. Yours fraternally,

JOHN D. WAYLAND, M. D.

*Read a Parent's sentiments :—

NORTHAMPTON, June 16, 1856.

DEAR DR. AYER: It is not an unwelcome task to inform you what your CHERRY PECTORAL has done in our family. My children are all liable to croup, for which I have found, to my great relief, your medicine is a certain cure. Having lost my oldest girl by it, I am in constant fear of it, or rather had been, until I found your medicine would cure it. Parents who can feel as safe on this point as your PECTORAL now makes me, will find themselves relieved of a great anxiety. You are at liberty to make this public, if you think it can do good to others.

ANNA WADE WENTWORTH.

P. S. My husband, who keeps a store here, advises me to mention that your PECTORAL has cured one of his customers of a hard cough, nearly two years' standing.

Colonel Cass, of Sandusky, Ohio, a brother of the distinguished Secretary of State, General Lewis Cass, states :—

I have found your CHERRY PECTORAL invaluable as a family medicine in all cases of colds, croups, whooping cough, &c. I could not suffer my family to be without it.

This figure represents the distribution of the bronchia, a a, b b b, to the lungs, c c c c, and also the size and shape of the human lungs. The two bronchia, a a, unite to form the trachea, or windpipe, and are also divided into innumerable small tubes, which convey the air we breathe to the cellular tissue of the lungs, c c c c.

ASTHMA, or Phthisic, is a spasmodic affection of the trachea, (Fig. 3 on the next page, and of the bronchial tubes, a a, b b b, on this.) These become dry for want of their natural moisture to lubricate their surface, and often contracted by spasmodic action to one third their usual size. This dryness spreads on to the substance of the lungs, c c c c, and prevents their thorough aërication of the blood, so that the process of respiration can be but partially performed. The air pipes also become clogged with, or rather covered by, a dry, tenacious phlegm; and these several causes obstruct the free passage of the breath to the lungs, rendering respiration exceedingly laborious and distressing. This complaint is generally hereditary, but is sometimes produced by a cold. It often seems to threaten suffocation; is always tedious and exceedingly disagreeable, as well as sometimes dangerous. Take the CHERRY PECTORAL in small and frequent doses during the paroxysm and after it until it subdues the disease.

MONTREAL, CANADA, June 5, 1854.

DR. J. C. AYER. SIR: I have been afflicted with asthma (in my case hereditary) for more than twenty years, and often have not been able to lie down for months together. I had quite despaired of ever being better; but, to my great joy, after I had been induced to try a bottle of your CHERRY PECTORAL, the expectoration became easy, and I enjoyed refreshing sleep in bed. The neighbors consider my recovery almost a miracle, and I shall always feel gratitude to you for the relief experienced. I consider myself completely cured by your wonderful medicine.

Your obedient servant,

EDWARD J. CHEEVER.

PATENT OFFICE OF THE UNITED STATES, WASHINGTON, D. C., 2d March, 1855.

DEAR FRIEND: Without knowing the anguish and distress of asthma, you cannot fully know what your CHERRY PECTORAL has done for me in curing me. For several years have been obliged to sleep in my chair a part of the time. When I lay down it seemed I must suffocate. My lungs felt as dry as paper, and I could scarcely get breath enough through them to live. I tried celebrated physicians and many remedies to little purpose. Nothing helped me much. Having seen the certificate of a gentleman whom I knew, recommending your PECTORAL "to the public confidence," I commenced taking it, as you direct—twenty or thirty drops at a time, during the paroxysm. It broke up my disease in a little while, and has freed me from it entirely. If your medicines do for others as this has done for me, you are truly a "benefactor of mankind."

With a lively admiration of your skill, I am, sir, yours truly,

HENRY SHIELDS.

Fig. 3 shows the minute ramifications of the bronchial tubes, 4, 5, and 6, into the substance of the lungs, by which the air is distributed to the air cells of the lungs.

BRONCHITIS is an irritation of the bronchial tubes, (Figs. 3, 4, and 5,) which carry the air we breathe into the lungs. It arises from a cold settled in the throat, from scrofulous affections, and from severe use of the voice. The irritation from this latter cause commences in the larynx and glottis, (1, 2,) which are the organs of the voice, and, extending downwards, produces sore throat, hoarseness, coughing, and spitting of mucous matter, sometimes mixed with blood. It is chiefly dangerous from its tendency to spread into the lungs, becoming settled, fatal consumption. Those afflicted with it should avoid the irritating causes which have brought it on, such as too much use of the voice, inhalation of irritating substances, or colds which settle in the throat. If the disease arises from scrofula, that should be cured by our Sarsaparilla, which see. When these producing causes are avoided, the Bronchitis is generally soon cured by small but frequent doses of the CHERRY PECTORAL. Take 20, 30, or 40 drops five or six times a day, and the disease will rapidly disappear. Subjoined are some statements which show its effect in individual cases.

From an accomplished lady resident at 60 BALTIC ST., BROOKLYN, N. Y., Dec. 15, 1856.

DEAR DR. AYER: Will you please inform me who is Agent for the sale of your CHERRY PECTORAL in London, England. I have great pleasure in stating that I have received so much benefit from taking it in Bronchitis, (it quite restored me to health,) that I am anxious a brother, who lives in London, should try it for Asthma, from which he suffers much. I should send it from here, but presume he can find it there as well, when I tell him where.

I am, sir, with great respect,

MRS. S. C. PURR.

The following testimonial, from the physician of Lord Palmerston, the Prime Minister of England, is a distinguished compliment from high quarters:—

DR. J. C. AYER, LOWELL, MASS., U. S. A. SIR: I have much pleasure to inform you that the CHERRY PECTORAL and CATHARTIC PILLS were duly received, and that I have used them in several important cases with peculiarly beneficial results. The Earl of E——— had been afflicted with a tedious bronchial affection, which did not yield to the usual remedies, (having heard your CHERRY PECTORAL mentioned favorably by his friends in America, he yielded to my suggestion, and gave it a trial, which, I am happy to inform you, was followed with complete success. Another patient, who had suffered from an inveterate affection of the bronchia and trachea, was relieved at once, and finally cured, by my administration of your admirable compound. The PILLS have been repeatedly used, and I unhesitatingly pronounce them an excellent cathartic. I do not doubt that your preparations will be appreciated in this country; and I cordially wish them the success they so richly deserve.

Your obedient servant,

GILBERT ELLIOTSON, M. D.

From an eminent divine of HUNTSVILLE, ALA., Aug. 11, 1854.

DEAR DR. AYER: Last winter I contracted, by exposure, a severe cold, which was protracted until the present summer, and terminated in Bronchitis, so fatal to ministers and public speakers. I was confined to my room with a general debility of the whole system, and harassed by a distressing cough. I had anxious forebodings of the future, and expected, without some material change in my symptoms, to be cut down by the fell destroyer, Consumption. I tried the best physicians, but got from them no relief. I then tried several nostrums, which I believed had been puffed into notoriety without any merit of their own, for they did me no good. I finally procured two bottles of your CHERRY PECTORAL from your excellent agent here, and to my overwhelming joy, found they were curing me. In a few weeks I was completely restored, and have now uninterrupted good health.

Your medicines speak for themselves, and need no praise, but I should feel ungrateful if I did not tell you what they have done for me.

E. M. FITZ.

UNITED STATES HOTEL, SARATOGA SPRINGS, 5th July, 1849.

DR. J. C. AYER. SIR: I have been afflicted with a threatening affection of the lungs and all the symptoms of settled consumption for more than a year. I could find no medicine that would reach my case until I commenced the use of your CHERRY PECTORAL, which gave me gradual relief, and I have been steadily gaining my strength till my health is well nigh restored.

While using your medicine I had the gratification of curing my reverend friend, Mr. Truman, of Sumpter District, who had been suspended from his parochial duties by a severe attack of Bronchitis.

I have pleasure in certifying these facts to you, and am, sir,

Yours respectfully

J. F. CALHOUN, of South Carolina.

Take AYER'S PECTORAL and stop Bronchitis before it runs into Consumption that you cannot stop. — Philadelphia Ledger.

CONSUMPTION of the Lungs is so distressing and so fatal in its results, that those afflicted with its premonitory symptoms should have the earliest and best assistance for the recovery of their health, which it is possible to procure. This appalling devastator of the present races of men will still be uncontrollable enough, and fatal enough, after all that can be done by human skill to arrest it. Consumptive patients generally think lightly of their cases, and often trifle with them until it is too late. From this perhaps more than any other one cause arises the general and fatal prevalence of a disease which shows its track in astounding numbers on the bills of mortality. In view of these facts, we would warn our readers to seek early the best and surest relief they can find for colds and coughs that settle on the lungs. Do not allow them to become chronic, if you can by any means prevent it; and you generally can. Do not neglect a cough because it seems to be but little troublesome now. Now is the time it should be cured, and now is, we hope, not yet the time when all care and all human skill must be lavished upon you in vain. A cough neglected becomes chronic, and leads to the formation of tubercles in the lungs. These are accompanied with night sweats and decline, which soon carry their victim beyond the reach of human aid, where a lingering but inevitable death closes the scene. Experience shows that the CHERRY PECTORAL, seasonably taken, seldom fails to remove these complaints, and almost every community has numerous cures from it, to which they can turn for proof. It should be freely taken, according to directions on the bottle, whenever the first attacks of cough, hoarseness, sore throat, or pain in the side are felt, and should be repeated until the difficulty is removed. When the disease is farther advanced, it should be taken under the advice of an intelligent physician, if possible, and every precaution favorable to the patient should be observed. Take abundant nourishing food, and healthy, but not violent exercise. Avoid exposure to the night air and to additional colds. If troubled with tedious coughing at night, take a large dose of CHERRY PECTORAL on going to bed. It will generally stop it, and afford sound, refreshing sleep. The consumptive invalid should wear warm woollen clothing, flannel shirts and drawers next the skin, with warm and always dry stockings. Rub the body morning and evening with a flesh brush or coarse cloth. When the appetite and health begin to return, relax none of the treatment which has brought them until you are entirely well. Never attempt to force an appetite. Avoid salt meats, pastries, and condiments; and take your meals at equal, regular intervals. Shun the practice of eating little and often; for in disease the stomach partakes of the debility of the body, and requires rest. Fresh meats, game, poultry, and fresh fish, with plain vegetables, rice, bread, milk, and weak tea or coffee, should make up the diet of the consumptive invalid. Good porter is a spur to digestion, and rarely disagrees with the stomach. Leave the appetite to roam over the whole range of healthy food for its selection, but deny the indulgence of its morbid cravings for what is injurious. Exercise should be taken daily in the open air, as far as the strength will permit. Avoid strong currents of air and facing the wind; but, above all, avoid getting chilled. While following carefully these directions, take the CHERRY PECTORAL in such doses as shall be found adapted to the system; and we hope, with you, that a complete cure will be the result.

Constitutional SCROFULA is often the real cause of Consumption, through its deposition of tubercles in the lungs. These cases may be determined by careful study of our remarks on Sarsaparilla, wherein the symptoms of Scrofula are given. In scrofulous Consumption the CHERRY PECTORAL can only palliate, but not cure. To effect a cure, the Scrofula must be eradicated from the system, and this can best be done by our COMPOUND EXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA, which has been designed for that especial purpose.

Parents who have in charge the health of their children cannot be too watchful of the insidious enemy which fastens itself upon them ere its symptoms are considered serious. Lives that are priceless to you are sacrificed through neglect to employ suitable remedies and proper care in due season. True, there are cases which no care or skill can control; but they are comparatively few. The number is much greater of those whose health could have been saved by early attention. Nor should implicit confidence be placed in any remedy alone. Careful treatment and avoidance of exposure are as important as a good medicine. Indeed, the best of medicines must fail if these points are neglected. Another block, over which thousands stumble into a premature grave, is dependence on worthless remedies. They trust a broken reed until the time for their relief has passed. One of the purposes of this little annual is to make known what we think the best of all remedies, and some of the reasons for thinking so. Read the following certificates, and see if we have not well-founded ground for belief that the CHERRY PECTORAL is a priceless remedy to the unfortunates who are haunted by the preliminary symptoms of this dreadful disease.

DR. J. C. AYER. SIR: I have on two different occasions been taken down with a very severe cough, so much so that my friends and myself became alarmed about me. Both times I was cured by less than a bottle of your CHERRY PECTORAL. Both times there was reason to fear I could not be cured at all, my symptoms were so severe and alarming. Hence you can see the feeling of obligation I entertain to your medicine, and with it the wish that I too might do something for the relief of others. The most effectual way I can think of doing this, in my humble sphere, is to distribute your Almanacs, which will spread abroad the knowledge that has been invaluable to me; and I write this to say, if you will send me a few hundred I will undertake to circulate them faithfully in as many families. Had it been my lot in the world, I should like to possess the conviction of doing as much good as you must know you are doing.

Yours,

T. BEEMAN.

"Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's."

BRADDOCK'S MILLS, 15th May, 1856.

BROTHER AYER: I am indebted to you for such a cure as it would be ungenerous to withhold. A hacking cough, induced by a cold from night riding, had fastened upon me the dangerous symptoms of consumption. All the orthodox remedies failed to give any more than temporary relief, and, notwithstanding my constant application of the best of them, my case grew alarmingly worse. I had colligative night sweats and much dangerous coughing, with expectoration of pieces of the lungs. These symptoms alarmed my family, who induced me, by the request of some of my patients, to try your excellent preparation. It certainly has curative properties which surpass our ordinary remedies. The first few doses gave me immediate relief, and a few weeks' use of it has cured me. Since my recovery, I find many of my brother physicians in this section use both your PECTORAL and PILLS—a practice in which I was behind the times.

With much esteem and a high regard for your professional skill,

I am, sir, fraternally yours,

Q. A. BRADDOCK, M. D.

From a distinguished Clergyman of the Baptist Church:—

PORT JARVIS, ORANGE CO., N. Y., July 9, 1852.

DR. AYER, LOWELL. DEAR SIR: I have for some time past thought it no more than my duty to write to you in relation to a young man, a member of my church in this place, who was last winter and in the early part of the spring so far gone with consumption that it was our sober thought that he could not survive the spring months. One morning I found him very feeble, and evidently failing fast; and after a conversation with him and his widowed mother, who, as you may suppose, was in deep affliction, I resolved to call upon the druggist, N. L. Mendon, Esq., and obtain a bottle of your CHERRY PECTORAL. I did so, and my young friend, at my request, commenced using it. He almost immediately began to recover, and, after taking four or five bottles, was so well as to be seen, to the joy of the whole village, again walking about the streets. He has now so far regained his health that he has been able to enter into business, and has opened a store on Pike Street, and is doing well.

Yours most affectionately and truly,

ISAAC LAWTON, Pastor of the Baptist Church.

P. S.—You are at liberty to use this as shall best promote the interests of suffering humanity.

PITTSBURG, PA., Feb. 25, 1851.

DEAR SIR: For three years I have been afflicted with a cough, so distressing that I frequently despaired of recovery; much of the time I was obliged to sit up all night in my chair, as my cough would suffocate me when I lay down. Having used many remedies without much relief, I at last tried the CHERRY PECTORAL, which, under Providence, has cured me altogether. I have now used but two bottles and a half, and I firmly believe if it had not relieved me I must have been in my grave before another year. You are at liberty to publish this statement for the good of others. I am, with gratitude, yours, JAMES M'CANDLESS.

WATERTRACE DEPOT, BEDFORD CO., TENN., February 10, 1853.

DR. J. C. AYER: For six years past I have been afflicted with weak lungs. During the greater part of that time I had a most distressing cough. At length, having been reduced to very great feebleness, I resolved to consult a physician. He gave me medicine, but did me no good. About this time I began to discover many of the alarming symptoms of consumption, and my physicians all told me that a death by consumption would be my fate. They told me, however, that I might take something to alleviate my cough, and was recommended by them to try your CHERRY PECTORAL. I did so about five months ago, for the first time. Its effect on my worn and diseased system was like magic. I am now enjoying such health as I have not known for years. I keep the PECTORAL by me constantly, and am certain, through its influence, that I shall regain all my wasted strength. Yours respectfully, W. C. GATES.

RICHMOND, VA., March 29, 1850.

DR. J. C. AYER. DEAR SIR: It is but justice to you and the public that I should certify what your CHERRY PECTORAL has done for me. Having had a cold which settled on my lungs, I became seriously affected with pain in my breast and side, which seemed to threaten the most alarming consequences. A severe cough and wheezing set in, which reduced my strength and brought me down daily lower, with the unmistakable symptoms of consumption. In this state I commenced using your CHERRY PECTORAL, which in four or five days relieved the pain and stopped my dreadful hollow cough, and soon cured me.

I cannot hesitate to recommend your medicine to those afflicted as I was. With feelings of gratitude, I am yours respectfully, JOHN H. SHOOK.

Kings, Emperors, Governors, Statesmen, and the Great certify to the virtues of Ayer's Remedies. They may well praise them, for they are worth praising.—New York Times.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

That so many men, of high intelligence, from every section of the country, should concur in the sentiments here expressed, can only arise from a vast multitude of remarkable cures that have forced upon them these convictions. They are the faithful echo of patients, communities, and the deep-seated sentiments of the people. If any one thing, more than all others, repays the labor of our lives, it is to have won the approbation of wise and good men.

Whatever others may think, we sincerely believe no one modern discovery contributes more to the health of the nation, and through its health to its comfort and well-being, than Dr. Ayer's chemical concentration of medicines for popular use. They furnish to the people reliable articles of primary necessity, and such as were nowhere to be had before. None will pretend to believe that any other remedies we have, or ever have had, can compare with his in the skill of their composition or in their effects upon disease. He has brought the highest attainments of scientific research to subserve the wants of every-day life. — Pike Co. Gaz.

During our visit to Lowell we were shown through the Laboratory of our celebrated countryman, Dr. J. C. Ayer. Scarcely could we have believed what is seen there without proof beyond disputing.

They consume a barrel of solid Pills, about 50,000 doses, and 3 barrels of Cherry Pectoral, 120,000 doses, per diem. To what an inconceivable amount of human suffering does this point! 170,000 doses a day!! Fifty millions of doses per year!!! What acres and thousands of acres of sick beds does this spread before the imagination! And what sympathies and woe! True, not all of this is taken by the very sick, but alas, much of it is. This Cherry Drop and this Sugared Pill are to be the companion of pain and anguish, and sinking sorrow — the inheritance our mother Eve bequeathed to the whole family of man. Here the infant darling has been touched too early by the blight that withers half our race. Its little lungs are affected, and only watching and waiting shall tell which way its breath shall turn. This red drop on its table is the talisman on which its life shall hang. There the blossom of the world just bursting into womanhood is stricken also. Affection's most assiduous care skills not; she is still fading away. The wan messenger comes nearer and nearer every week. This little medicament shall go there, their last, perhaps their only hope. The strong man has, planted in his vitals, this same disease. This red drop by his side is helping him wrestle with the inexorable enemy; the wife of his bosom and the cherubs of his heart are waiting in sick sorrow and fear lest the aid on which they lean in this world be broken.

O Doctor! spare no skill, nor cost, nor toil to give the perishing sick the best that human art can give. — Galveston, Texas, News.

The discoveries of the age furnish us many valuable facilities for living, moving, and curing, which could not be had in the olden times. Once we must ride a hard horse under the saddle or go on foot, instead of railroad; wear cloth spun by the fingers instead of steam; and take gin and molasses for a cough, with salts, senna, oil, and all the galls of bitterness for a physic. But now modern invention offers us a delicious sugar ball, called Ayer's Cathartic Pills, for a purge, and the Cherry Pectoral, which vies with honey in its flavor, to silence coughs and colds as water quenches fire. "Ars crescit enundo." — St. Louis Republican.

There is a deep-seated prejudice in the public mind against patent medicines, arising from the worthless nostrums and cheats that have been palmed off upon the community, and beguiled the sick not only of their money, but the relief which good remedies should have afforded. We heartily join in execration of the detestable mixtures with which mercenary ignorance floods the country, and would warn our readers to shun them as they should stale fish or bad meat. But at the same time we do not forget the great convenience and the immense usefulness of good medicines, which can be kept in every family always ready for emergencies. Foremost among those known to be such are Dr. Ayer's remedies. They were invented by a chemist of mature learning and great experience, and are made in the most thorough manner, as their appearance shows; we have tried them in our neighborhood and in our own family, not only enough to know that they are valuable, but that they are invaluable. Hence we advertise them not alone for the money which it pays us, but thinking to render our readers some service as well as our selves. — Boston Daily Bee.

We happen to know that Dr. Ayer makes good medicines, and shall proclaim it because we do know it. We confidently believe there is a vast amount of relief from suffering for our afflicted fellow-men wrapped up in these skillful preparations, and we shall freely use our little influence to make them known to those who need them. — Philadelphia Sunday Times.

That the American people are appreciative of any substantial service rendered them, is seen in the result of Dr. Ayer's enterprise. It was something of a venture for a chemist of his splendid reputation among the literati of the world, to risk it in the production of Cough Drops and Pills. But he boldly threw himself into the gap where his talents could best subserve the public weal, and it is now easy to see that he did not misjudge the temper of his countrymen. Throughout this nation and some foreign lands, his name is foremost at the bedside of sickness — while in the good he scatters, he is second to no living man. He wins the brightest laurels man can wear, and enjoys in untold measure the luxury of doing good. — Observer, Dubuque, Iowa.

We are rejoiced to find that the renowned Chemist of New England, DR. AYER, has at length turned his attention to the disorder which hangs like a blight on our community. Our section is as healthy as any other, with one single exception, and that is the Fever and Ague, which haunts us on every side. But his remedy does cure, as we should know it must if he made it. Cast out this baleful distemper from among us, and ours is one of the loveliest spots in the west. — Sentinel, Fairfield, Iowa.

Sufferers from Scrofula and Scrofulous affections, clean up! Why wear your Pimples, Blotches, Ulcers, Sores? Why have the life twisted out of you by Dyspepsia, Rheumatism and Gout? Why suffer Syphilitic and Mercurial diseases to rot the bones in your body, or the flesh off your bones? Why let your sluggish blood drag and scatter its distempers through your veins? AYER'S COMPOUND EXTRACT OF SASSAPARILLA cures these complaints, and cleanses them out of the system. Use it faithfully and you bring to society a healthier, cleaner, and far more acceptable member. — Democrat, Baltimore, Md.

Modern skill has culminated in Ayer's Pills. Invention did its best in this production. A masterly art has combined the subtle essences of remedials into a compound that penetrates to the foundations of disease, and expels the very seeds of disorder from the blood. Such a remedy was needed, and since we have it we want our readers to know what it is. — Christian Ambassador, New York City.

PRESENTS TO KINGS. — We have had the pleasure to examine some beautiful boxes of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL and CATHARTIC PILLS he has prepared for several of the leading SOVEREIGNS of the world. One for the Czar of Russia, arrayed in princely style, contains several bushels of Pills, and is destined for the use of his army. We understand the Doctor has also furnished them to the allied armies, intending that the sick shall have relief, wherever they are. His parcels for the Emperors of China and Japan equal the showy presents our squadron carried them, and will doubtless be found more beneficial. — Lowell Courier.

In this mammon worshipping age it is rare to find a man place his usefulness to the public before his interest. During a late visit to the "City of Spindles," we were presented by a professional friend to the celebrated chemist, Dr. J. C. Ayer, whose name is now, perhaps, more familiar than any other at the bedside of sickness in this country. Knowing the unprecedented popularity of his medicines, and the immense sale of them, we had expected to find him a millionaire, and rolling in wealth. But no; we found him in his laboratory, busy with his laborers, among his crucibles, alembics, and retorts — giving his best personal care to the compounds, on the virtues of which thousands hang for health. We learned that, notwithstanding his vast business, and its prompt returns in cash, the Doctor is not rich. The reason assigned is, that the material is costly, and he persists in making his preparations so expensively that the net profit is small. — American Farmer, Phil.

We all have duties to ourselves, and he who, in face of the evidence of what Ayer's medicines are doing, allows a cough to settle on his lungs without trying the Pectoral, or foul blood to disorder the channels of life without purifying it by the Pills, neglects the "means which God and Nature have put into our hands." — Christian Evangelist, New York City.

We see by the Court Records, that the two counterfeiters, White of Buffalo, and Lawrence of Epping, N. H., have been placed under ten thousand dollar bonds each, for making and selling imitations of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. This is right. If the law should protect men from imposition at all, it should certainly protect them from being imposed upon by a worthless counterfeit of such a medicine as this. We can only complain that the punishment is not half enough. The villain who would for paltry gain deliberately trifle with the health of his fellow-men, by taking from their lips the cup of hope when they are sinking, and substituting a falsehood, an utter delusion, should be punished at least as severely as he who counterfeits the coin of his country. — Green County Banner, Carrollton, Ill.

"A Subscriber" (whom we suspect to be some narrow-minded Leech) asks us why we advertise Dr. Ayer's Pills, and we will give him our seven reasons for so doing. The first, second, and third are, that we are paid for it. The fourth is, we know them by experience to be good. The fifth is, that Dr. Ayer's preparations being recommended by better men than we — by physicians of the highest talent and the deepest learning in the land — we are well sustained in our own convictions of their value. The sixth is, that they are cheap as well as useful. The last, but not least, is, that they have done and are doing an amount of good in this community which our old foggy friend, if he could repeat himself ten thousand times, might never hope to equal; and we trust by making them known to render some service to our readers as well as ourselves. — Christian Advocate.

The statistical tables of mortality show a reduction in this country of the proportion of deaths from pulmonary diseases. Dr. Ayer attributes this result to the effect of his CHERRY PECTORAL. He also asserts that the cures from his CATHARTIC PILLS give reason to believe they will, as they come into more general use, materially reduce the mortality from those particular diseases for which they are designed. From what we know of his preparations, we think he has grounds for his claims, and if he has, it is an attainment of which an emperor might be proud. Rarely is it permitted any one to know that his skill is bestowing health and life to the masses of his fellow-men. Such a reflection is worth working for, even though he had only the reflection for his reward. — Springfield Daily Courier.

LETTERS FROM EXALTED PERSONAGES,

"On whose brows climb
The crowns o' the world."

From the President of Mexico.

City of Mexico, 5th Jan., 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER, LOWELL, MASS, U. S.

A. SIR: I am instructed by the President to acknowledge the receipt of your commodities, (CHERRY PECTORAL and CATHARTIC PILLS,) forwarded to him through Vera Cruz. They have arrived safely here.

The President directs me to assure you of his high regard for such inventions as tend to ameliorate human suffering. Believing your chemical compounds to be of this character, he has ordered them to be employed in the Hospitals of the government, and by the eminent physicians in Mexico. When they have had a longer trial, the President intends you shall be further advised of their success in this country.

Permit me to avail myself of this opportunity to assure you, venerable sir, of my high consideration.

DON JUAN PEÑAS DEL ADRAEDE, Ass't Sec. of Foreign Relations.

From the American Minister at the Court of the Sultan.

Office of the American Legation, Constantinople, Turkey, August 1, 1854.

DR. J. C. AYER: I am pleased to inform you that your CHERRY PECTORAL has made a reputation for itself here. It is seen in all the apothecary shops, and is highly spoken of by all who have used it. Your PILLS also are becoming popular in Constantinople, and, I am authorized to inform you, have been favorably received by the surgeons of the allied army. Both the PECTORAL and PILLS have been used in my family with much benefit; and we shall not fail to employ them whenever we have occasion for such remedies.

I have the honor to be, dear sir, your humble servant,

JOHN P. BROWN.

From the Brother of the Ex-President of the United States.

Hillsboro', N. H., August 29, 1854.

DR. J. C. AYER, LOWELL, MASS. MY DEAR SIR: I am free to state my conviction that you excel all others in making good medicines for the people; and I cordially commend you to the success which your accomplished learning and the persevering efforts of your skill so richly deserve. Your CHERRY PECTORAL has already won for you green laurels among the afflicted; and your CATHARTIC PILLS are winning more. They have been extensively used among my neighbors and friends, who invariably extol them as an admirable purgative medicine.

Your friend truly,

HENRY D. PIERCE.

From the King of Siam.

Kingdom of Siam, September 24, 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER, LOWELL, MASS., U. S. A. SIR: I have the pleasure to inform you that your present of PECTORAL and PILLS, for his Royal Majesty SOMDEI PURA PHRAMEND MAHA MONGKUT, the King of Siam, has been presented by me to His Majesty in person at his palace. Nothing could have gratified His Majesty more than such an attention from my distant countryman. The enclosed letter of acknowledgment he has written you with his own hand in such broken English as he can write and speak. He has also consulted me to know in what more substantial manner he can return your compliment, which he designs to do. His own letter informs you of the cures they have effected among his people—cures that are not lightly regarded here. It is my privilege to tender you, with my own, the thanks of my coadjutors here, and remain,

Sincerely yours,

SAMUEL R. HOUSE, M. D., of the Siamese Mission.

From His Grace the venerable Archbishop of Brazil.

Rio Janeiro, 8th October, 1856.

DR. AYER, LOWELL, MASS.: I am instructed by his grace, the archbishop of this realm, to acknowledge the receipt of a welcome present from you of your medicines.

The parcel which came with it for his imperial majesty, the Emperor of Brazil, has been delivered to him in person at his royal palace in this city, from which you will doubtless be officially in due season.

I am further instructed to say, your medicines have been employed under the directions of his grace in his charities and among his friends, where they have proved of signal benefit in many complaints. The PILLS are found an excellent purgative, and highly successful remedies for the bilious disorders that prevail in this country. The CHERRY PECTORAL has, in frequent trials, proved efficacious for the cure of pulmonary affections.

His grace directs me to tender you his thanks, with the assurance of his prayers for your temporal and spiritual welfare. Permit me to add the high consideration of

Your humble servant,

FELIPPE FIGANIERE,

Vicar General of the Arch-Episcopal See of Brazil.

Unmeasured commendations for these remedies as articles of great public utility have been received from the usurping Emperor of China, the Kings of Denmark and of Sweden, the Queen of Spain, the Grand Duke of Tuscany, the Dukes of Parma and Modena, the Princes of Waldeck, Baden, and Monaco, and many others of the rulers of the earth, which we have not here the space to enumerate.

THE foregoing cases of cure, and the high commendations we publish, bespeak remedies of no common virtue. They indisputably prove what is known to those who have used our medicines, that they contain properties and effects upon disease which have never been obtained before. Through a trial of years, and over an extent of country, and indeed countries, never equalled by medicine before, they have not only maintained their reputation, but grown stronger and stronger in the public confidence, until they have become the staple dependence of tens of thousands of families and millions of men.

These compounds make available to the people the higher attainments of medical skill, and more efficient remedial aid than has hitherto been within their reach. To some learned chemists have known that remedies could be composed by the proper employ of combining the ultimate proximate principles in purity, which we possess great power over disease. But this knowledge has been little practised, surely never been brought to the service of the people at large, except in these remedies. And now, when the immense importance of its results has become known, we hope the field of labor it opens for doing good will be occupied by abler men. The production of effectual remedies for the many diseases we do not treat. What we have undertaken we shall faithfully do. Vividly alive to the responsibility of the remedies on which so many sick depend for health, we are determined they shall not reap disappointment through our neglect. To insure this we take unwearied pains to make every box and every bottle perfect, and trust, by great care in preparing with chemical accuracy of uniform strength, to supply remedies which shall merit themselves in the unflinching confidence of this whole nation and of all nations.

PREPARED BY
DR. JAMES C. AYER,
PRACTICAL AND ANALYTICAL CHEMIST,
LOWELL, MASS., U. S. A.

Sold at wholesale by Druggists in the principal Cities, and retailed by all respectable Druggists and Apothecaries throughout the United States, the British American Provinces, Mexico, Guatemala, and the Independent Republics of South America. Sold generally by the licensed Apothecaries in the Empires, Kingdoms, and Principalities of Europe, and also sold by Dealers in Medicine in the Ports of the East and West Indies, China, Turkey, and the Barbary States.

CAUTION. Beware of worthless compounds that are palmed off upon the public under a similarity of name to ours.

Orders by mail and applications for consignment, accompanied by reliable references, will receive prompt attention. All persons ordering our goods are requested to write their address plain and in full, with explicit forwarding directions.

Merchants in foreign countries, where no agency is established, wishing for consignments, must send their applications accredited by the nearest resident American consul.

All our medicines are prepared to keep in any climate; but in tropical and damp countries, or on the sea coast, the Pills should be kept in glass jars, secluded from the air. The pure sugar with which they are coated, dissolves in an accumulation of moisture. Parties ordering these articles for export, should mention the fact, that they may be properly packed for that purpose.

MEDICAL ADVICE. I should be personally gratified to answer all letters asking for medical advice; but when their number is considered, it will at once be seen to be impossible. The circulation of my remedies is not confined to this country, nor the wish for further advice than our books and directions give to our twenty-nine millions of people. If one in fourteen thousand of these seeks my counsel once in a year, it brings me two thousand letters a year. My assistants can answer letters of business, but letters of advice they cannot. To superintend the careful preparation of my remedies requires all my time; consequently I am compelled to relinquish this opportunity (than which none can be more grateful to a feeling heart) of serving my distressed and suffering fellow-men. Not the will, but the ability, fails me to do more than I am doing, by the faithful production of these remedies as they are. Let me advise, then, those who would write me, — those who require aid my medicines do not afford, — to apply to some intelligent, well educated physician for such information as they desire, which my publications do not give. If, as is frequently the case, you have been imposed upon by ignorant pretenders, and failed to find a competent physician, ask the resident clergyman of your place; he generally knows enough and is honest enough to help you find the right man. When you are sick, the best advice and the best medicine is poor enough. Do not allow your health to be trifled with by Indian Doctors, Steam Doctors, Herb Doctors, or Itinerants of any sort. Their pretensions are generally false, and will bring you to bitter disappointment. The sick should have the best of skill and the best aid which the heavenly science of medicine can render.

To those who consult me on questions of chemical analysis, I must make the same answer: my time does not permit the investigation of questions of private, individual interest.

• HOW STARTLING ARE THE RAVAGES OF DISEASE! — How small a proportion of mankind live in perpetual health and die of old age! Disease, the insidious destroyer of our race, ever steals upon the anchorage of life to cut it from its moorings. Censelessly it gnaws at the vitals of existence, like a worm in the bud, which undisturbed must bring it to decay. With these melancholy facts in view, can we over-estimate the importance of such labors as look to the discomfiture of our common enemy? Knowing that we cannot, we feel warranted in extolling to our readers the enterprise of our distinguished fellow citizens, Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co.

Few, if any, individual interests in the State are larger than this, and surely none compares with it in the vast extent of its operations and the immense importance of them to the well being of multitudes of men. Their life-long labor has been, to devise means of cure for the prevailing disorders of the American people, and their endeavors are known to have the coöperation of the best medical intelligence and skill this age affords. That they have done much for the cure of disease, no fair-minded man will deny; and that the laudable aim of their ambition is to accomplish still more in this work of philanthropy, is justly an object of pride to us, their fellow-townsmen, as well as of congratulation with the suffering sick all around us, and all over the world. — Lowell Advertiser.

Dominical Letter.

IN many Almanacs, and also in this, Sunday is marked with one of the first letters of the alphabet, the reason for which is thus explained. The First day of January is made to correspond to the first letter of the alphabet; the second to B; the third to C and so on; and whatever letter corresponds to the first Sunday, is called the Dominical Letter for that year. The common year containing fifty-two weeks and one day, the first and last days of the year will be the same day of the week; and the first day of the next or following year will consequently be the next day of the week in order that the preceding year commenced on. Thus, as 1857 commenced on Thursday, 1858 commenced on Friday, and 1859 on Saturday, and 1860 will commence on Sunday;—but 1861 will not commence on Monday, because 1860 will be leap year, and have 366 days, and leap over Monday and commence on Tuesday. And for the reason that February, 1860 will contain 29 days, the extra day being thrown in at the end of February, after which day, there will be a new Dominical Letter, (G,) as though the year had commenced on Monday, and the first Sunday stands the 7th day of the week, because the letter G stands 7th in the alphabet. To find the Dominical Letter;—RULE.—Add the fourth part of the year to the year, rejecting fractions; divide the sum by 7, and subtract the remainder from 8;—that last remainder corresponds to the Dominical Letter. EXAMPLE.—To find the Dominical Letter for 1861. Divide by 4, which gives 465; which added to 1861, gives 2326; divide now by 7, and you get 332, and 2 left. Subtract this 2 from 8, and you get 6: therefore the Dominical Letter for 1861 stands 6th in the alphabet, which is F, that is, the first Sunday is the 6th day; Saturday must be the 5th; Friday the 4th; Thursday the 3d; Wednesday the 2d, and Tuesday the 1st day of January, 1860, or New Years' day. Do you think you understand it?

The Golden Number, or Cycle of the Moon.

It was discovered many years before Christ that 19 solar years contained 235 mean new moons, so that the mean new and full moons fall on the same day of the month that they occurred on nineteen years before, or as they will nineteen years after. This period of time is called the "Cycle of the Moon," and in old Almanacs the current year of that cycle was written in letters of gold, on those days of the month on which the new moons fell; and hence it was called more popularly "the Golden Number." RULE to find the Golden Number:—Add one to the given year, and divide the sum by 19; the quotient is the number of cycles which have elapsed since the Christian era; and the remainder is the Golden Number for that year; if 0 remains, the Golden Number is 19. Let us test this by inquiring the Golden Number for 1860. Add 1, and you get 1861, divide by 19, and you get 97 for the quotient, and the remainder, 18, for the Golden Number; that is, there have elapsed 97 cycles of the moon since the birth of Christ, and 1860 will be the 18th year of the 98th cycle.

EPACT.

The Epact of any year is the moon's age on the first day of January, or the number of days that have elapsed since the last new moon.

To find the Epact for any year in the 19th century—RULE:—First find the Golden Number for the required year—multiply that number by 11, and divide the product by 30; then subtract 11 from the remainder, and you get the Epact. If the remainder be less than 11, add 30 to it, and subtract 11 from the sum; and the last remainder will be the Epact. Take, for example, to find the Epact for 1860—the Golden Number previously found is 18, which multiplied by 11, gives 198, which being divided by 30, gives 6 as a quotient and 18 as remainder; subtract 11, and you get 7 for the Epact: that is, the moon will be 7 days old on the first of January, 1860.

COUNTERFEITS.

If a man would attempt to pass a counterfeit dollar on you, he would be arrested and sent to the penitentiary for it. What difference is there in the morality of the thing, to pass off as genuine a counterfeit article of any other kind? Both are frauds, both are cheats, both are swindling operations. There is a wicked bogus concern in St. Louis, using and profiting by the reputation which my mustard (usually called "Burrowes' Lexington Mustard,") has obtained; and the proprietors have started a mustard factory there, and falsely assert on their labels and to individuals, that it is "the same as made at Lexington, Ky." These bad men, not content with fraudulently attempting to make the people believe they are making my mustard, I am told, are trying to keep me from getting seed,

CHEMÉTERIES.

One of the best signs of the refinement of a community is the care and attention paid to the resting places of its dead. He who will wantonly disturb their ashes, or mar and wilfully deface any of the ornaments which affection has placed near the graves of friends, loved in life, and whose memories are still loved in death; has nothing in his character akin to decency. I have seen some thoughtless people, carelessly and heartlessly trampling graves under foot; making seats of them; lolling on the posts, or swinging on the chains and bars forming enclosures; pulling the flowers which bloomed near; and doing other things calculated to wound the more tender feelings of the living friends. You might just as well punch a hole in the coffin with your knife; jump astride of the box inclosing it; pull away the cloth that encircles the head and face of the dead; tear a piece from the shroud, or snatch a ring from the finger, as to do the others; yet your heart would revolt with horror at seeing this outrage done—much more at doing it yourself. All these things belong to the dead; they are theirs in fee simple, given to them forever; and you have not even half the decent right to injure the property of the dead, that you have to injure or deface the property of the living, for the living can have some redress, but the dead, none.

Teach your children to respect with a feeling bordering on awe, the broken heart of the living mourning for some lost friend; and whether the sorrow is expressed by a splendid monument, a shell, a plaything, a sweet rose or honey-suckle planted near the grave; respect the grief and leave both the one and the other untouched. The poor have no means to raise other monument than a simple stone or a sweet flower; and the tear which moistens the flower, is wrung from a heart as deeply crushed, as is that which falls at the base of a magnificent mausoleum!

M.

“Plant the green sod with the crimson rose,
Let my friends rejoice o’er my calm repose;
Let my memory be like the odors they shed,
My hope, like their promise of early red;
Let strangers, too, share in their breath and their bloom;
Plant ye bright roses over my tomb.”

MEMORANDA FOR 1864.

There will be two eclipses of the sun this year, and none of the moon.

1. An annular eclipse of the sun, May 5th, invisible in Kentucky, but may be seen in the western portions of the United States, a little before sunset. Owing to the augmentation of the moon's semi diameter, in those places in the line of its centre, viz : portions of the North Pacific Ocean, the sun, for a few seconds, will be totally eclipsed.

2. An annular eclipse of the sun, Sunday, October 30th, invisible in Ky., but can be seen in portions of Mexico, and in parts of lower California.

MORNING AND EVENING STARS.

♀ VENUS will be morning star till July 17, then evening star the remainder of the year.

♂ MARS will be morning star till Nov. 31, then evening star the remainder of the year.

♃ JUPITER will be morning star till May 13, then evening star till November 30, then morning star the remainder of the year.

♄ SATURN will be morning star till April 4, then evening star till October 13, then morning star the remainder of the year.

Chronological Events.

Ascension Day, May 1.
Trinity Sunday, May 22.
Christmas, Dec. 25.

Golden Number, 3.      Epact, 22      Solar Cycle, 25.
Dominical Letter, C, till Feb. 29, then B, remainder of year.

DOMINICAL LETTER.

In many Almanacs, Sunday is marked with one of the first seven letters of the alphabet. The letter A always stands for the first day of the year. If the letter A be the Dominical or Sunday letter, then Sunday will be the 1st day of the year. If the letter B, be the Dominical letter, then as B stands 2d in the alphabet, the first Sunday is the 2d day of the year, and Saturday will be the first day. If E is the Dominical letter, E is the 5th letter, which shows that the first Sunday was the 5th day. If G be the Dominical letter, G standing 7th in the alphabet, shows that the first Sunday was the 7th day of January. But in leap year there are always two Dominical letters, one lasting till February 28, the other the remainder of the year. Thus, 1864 has C for its first Dominical letter until February 28, showing that the first Sunday is the 3d of the month; and after February 28, then the letter before C, which is B, will be used the remainder of the year, to find the day of the month. Suppose you wanted to find the day of the week which February commenced on, C being the Dominical letter, the first Sunday in Jan. will be the 3d day of the week, consequently January began the 3d day before Sunday, which is Friday. Then, Friday will be the 1st, 8th, 15th, 22d and 29th of January. Saturday the 30th and Sunday the 31st, therefore, the 1st day of February will be Monday; and this rule would hold good all the year, if 1864 was not leap year; but February having 29 days instead of 28, the letter B comes in, showing you that if you wish to find any day of any month after the 28th of February, you must calculate as though B was the Dominical letter, and as though the first Sunday was the 2d day of the year, instead of the third.

TO FIND THE DOMINICAL LETTER FOR ANY YEAR AFTER 1799.

To the given year add its fourth part, throwing away fractions; divide the sum by 7, and subtract the remainder from 8, the last remainder is the Dominical letter. Example: What is the Dominical letter for 1863:

$$\begin{array}{r} 4) 1863 \\ \quad 465 \\ \hline 7) 2328 \end{array}$$

$$332-4 \text{ and } 8-4=4.$$

4 is the number which the Dominical letter stands in the alphabet, which is D. The Dominical letter for 1866 will be G, that is, as G is 7th in the alphabet, the first Sunday in 1866 will be the 7th day.

TO FIND THE DAY OF THE WEEK THAT ANY DAY OF THE MONTH WILL FALL ON.

To assist the memory, you had better learn the following couplet:

|        |         |        |        |        |          |
|--------|---------|--------|--------|--------|----------|
| AT     | DOVER   | DWELT  | GEORGE | BROWN, | ESQUIRE, |
| Jan'y. | Feb.    | March. | April. | May.   | June.    |
| GOOD   | CHARLEY | FRENCH | AND    | DAVID  | PRIAR.   |
| July.  | Aug.    | Sept.  | Oct.   | Nov.   | Dec.     |

Those twelve words correspond to the twelve months in the year, but the initials of those words correspond to the various seven Dominical letters. To find what day of the week the first day of June, 1864, will be, remember that B is the Dominical letter after February 28, and you will have to suppose that the 1st Sunday in January was the 2nd day, and that therefore, the first day of January was Saturday. June then corresponds to Esquire. E, its initial, stands 5th in the alphabet; therefore commence with Saturday, (which we assume to be the 1st day of January,) and count 5 days thus; Saturday 1st, Sunday 2d, Monday 3d, Tuesday 4th, Wednesday 5th; therefore, Wednesday will be the first day of June. But for fear the two Dominical letters may confuse you, let us take 1865 which will be a common year. The first day of January, 1865, will be Sunday, (the Dominical letter being A). Now find the first day of November. DAVID corresponds to November, and D is the initial letter, and stands 4th in the alphabet, which shows that November will begin with that day of the week, the fourth removed from the first day of January. Now begin with Sunday, including it, and count four days, viz: Sunday 1, Monday 2, Tuesday 3, Wednesday 4. Therefore, Wednesday will be the first day of November, and also the first day of those months having D for its initial letter—Dover, Dwelt and David—February, March and November. In the same way, April and July will begin on Saturday. September and December will begin on Friday. August alone will begin on Tuesday. These facts will hold good for the common years: in the leap years, you must assume that the year began the day before, after the 28th of Feb.

THE GOLDEN NUMBER:

A great many years ago, it was discovered that nineteen solar years contained 235 mean new moons, so that the New and Full moons fall on the same day of the month that they did 19 years before, or as they will 19 years after; this period of time is called the "Cycle of the Moon," and in old almanacs the current year of that Cycle was written in letters of gold on those days of the month on which the New Moons fell; hence, it was called the Golden Number.

To find the golden number, add 1 to the given year, and divide the sum by 19; the quotient is the number of Cycles elapsed since the beginning of the Christian era, and the remainder is the golden number for that year. If nothing remains, the golden number is 19. Example, what is the golden number for, 1864:

$$\begin{array}{r}
 1864 \\
 1 \\
 \hline
 19 \overline{)1865} 98 \\
 \underline{171} \\
 155 \\
 \underline{152} \\
 \end{array}$$

THE EPACT.

The Epact of any year is the age of the Moon on the first day of January, or the number of days elapsed since the last new moon. To find the Epact for any year less than 1900—first find the golden number for the required year, multiply it by 11, and divide the product by 30, then subtract 11 from the remainder, and the epact will be known. If the remainder is less than 11, add 30 to it, and subtract 11 from the sum, and the last remainder is the epact. Example. What is the epact for 1864? The golden number already found is 3, multiply by 11, and we get 33, divide by 30 and 3 remains. The remainder [3] being less than 11, add 30 to it, and subtract 11, and we get 22 for the epact.

$$\begin{array}{r}
 3\text{—golden number.} \\ 11 \\
 \hline
 30 \overline{) 33} 1 \\
 \underline{30} \\
 3 \\
 +30 \\
 \hline
 33 \\
 -11 \\
 \hline
 22\text{—epact.}
 \end{array}$$

that is, the moon was 22 days old the first of January, 1864. The mean length of a lunar month is 29 days, 12 hours, 44 minutes, 3 seconds—[say 30 days in round number] and subtract the epact from it, and you get 8 days, at which, astronomically, the next new moon in January will be. You can multiply these examples at pleasure.

Two beggars traveling along ; one blind, the other lame,
 Pick'd up an oyster on the way, to which they both laid claim ;
 The matter rose so high, that they resolved to go to law,
 As often, richer fools, have done, who quarrel for a straw,
 A lawyer took it straight in hand, who knew his business was,
 To mind nor one nor 'tother side, but make the best o' th' cause ;
 As always in the law's the case ; so he his judgment gave
 And lawyer like, he thus resolved what each of them should have,
Blind plaintiff, lame defendant, share the law's impartial care,
A shell for him, a shell for thee ;—THE MIDDLE IS THE LAWYER'S FEE !

LEAP YEAR.

Years are either Common or Bissextile. A common year consists of 365 days, whilst a solar year exceeds that time by about six hours; this continued for four years, makes 4 times 6 or 24 hours, or one whole day; which is added to February every fourth year, giving it 29 days, and the year, 366 days, which is then called Bissextile or Leap Year. To find Leap Year divide the given year by 4, and if there is no remainder, it is Leap Year; but if 1, 2 or 3 remain, it is the 1st, 2d or 3d year after.

Example:—1864 divided by 4 gives no remainder; it is consequently Leap Year. 1865, 1866 and 1867 divided by 4, will leave respectively 1, 2 and 3 remainder, those years will therefore be the 1st, 2d and 3d years after the last Leap Year. Remember however, this exception, that 1900, although it can be divided by 4 without a remainder, will not be a leap year, for this reason, the exact difference between the common and tropical year is not 6 hours, but 5 hours, 48 minutes, 48 seconds, which makes 11 minutes, 12 seconds too much, which is added every year, when we add a quarter of a day. In 4 years therefore, when we add 1 day or 24 hours to February 28, we add too much by 4 times 11 minutes 12 seconds, (44 min. 48 sec.,) and, which, in 100 years would amount to 100 times 11 min. 12 seconds, being 18 hours, 40 minutes. To keep the years, therefore, as near each other as possible, 1900 will be a common year, because although it can be divided by 4 without a remainder, it cannot be divided by 400 without a remainder. Here are the general rules for leap-year.

1. Every year which can be divided by 4, but not by 100, without a remainder, is leap-year, or should have 366 days.

2. Every year which can be divided by 100 but not by 400, without a remainder, to be a common year, and have but 365 days. 1700, 1800, 1900 examples.

3. Every year which could be divided by 400 without a remainder, to be leap year, and have 366 days, examples, 2000, 2400, 3600, &c.

Visits should be short like a winter's day.

A house without a woman or firelight is like a body without soul.

Caution and care are the parents of safety.

The first drink makes the drunkard.

Never take a wife until thou hast a house and a fire to put her in.

Nothing more like a fool than a drunken man.

Take counsel in wine, but resolve afterward in water.

He that drink fast pays slow.

A taught horse, a woman to teach, and teachers practicing what they preach

He is ill clothed who is bare of virtue.

He's gone and forgot nothing but to say farewell to his creditors.

A rich rogue is like a fat hog who never does good until dead as a log.

Many estates are spent in getting, since women, for tea, forsook spinning and knitting.

He that lies down with dogs shall rise up with fleas.

Distrust and caution are the parents of security.

God works wonders now and then; behold! a lawyer an honest man!

He that lives carnally won't live eternally.

Keep your mouth wet, feet dry.

As most of the Female Academies will close next month, we would inform our friends that by ordering, about this time, PIANOS direct from the Factory, we can get a splendid New Piano at a saving of about 50 Dollars.

She that will eat her breakfast in her bed,
And spend the morn in dressing of her head,
And sit at dinner like a maiden bride,
And talk of nothing all day but of pride;
God in his mercy may do much to save her:—
But what a case is he in, that shall have her!

Get not your friends by love compliments, but by giving them sensible tokens of your love. It is well worth while to learn how to win the heart of a man the right way. Force is of no use to make or preserve our friends. Excite them by your civilities, and show them that you desire nothing more than their happiness; oblige with all your soul that friend who has made you a present of his own.

Eat to live ;—do not live to eat.

The favor of the great is no inheritance.

Fools make feasts and wise men eat them.

Beware of the young doctor and the old barber.

A hog upon trust grunts until he is paid for, even in the pork barrel.

There is neither honor or gain in dealing with a villain.

If you want your children to have bristles marry a hog

Anoint a villian and he'll stab you : stab him, and he'll anoint you.

The old man has given all to his son : O fool, to undress thyself before thou art going to bed.

A fine genius in his own country, is like gold in the mine. A similar but more forcible expression, for the same thought is "a prophet is not without honor save in his own country."

AN OLD HOUSE BY A NEW HAND!

Death is a fisherman, the world we see— the fish pond is, and we the fishes be.

The poor have little, beggars none, the rich too much; enough not one.

After three days men grow weary of a trench, a guest and the weather dreary.

Hunger never saw bad bread.

He is the best physician who knows the worthlessness of a good medicine.
